TO THE RESCUE! BY EUGENE V. DEBS.

There is no power without justice.—Napoleon Bonaparte.
It seems to me that in such a land there must be, on this question of slavery, a rebellion to be awakened, as well as a logic to be convulsed. Many more, we very clearly, the first of the last. There are more hearts to be quenched, thus confused intellects to be cleared up—more dumb to be made to speak—than disabling conscience to be enlightened. We have done, then, something, for something vilest argument.—William Peck.
I am sure that many object to the severity of my language but it is not cause for concern. I will be as harsb as truth, and as uncompromising as justice. I am earnest;—I will not equivocate;—I will not excuse;—I will not retreat a single inch,—and I will be heard.—William Lloyd Garrison.

Let them proceed with their hell—plot and we will make it the political issue of the nation and dare them to face us before an outraged working class.

Let the mass meetings be convened and all join in them, regard-sless of past differences.

Let no man dare divide the forces at this critical hour, lest he be looked upon as an emissary of the enemy.

Let one meeting be followed by another, and still another, increasing in numbers, intensifying in determination, and swelling the volume of protest and indignation until its roar is heard across the continent.

New York and California! Minnesota and Texas!
When you workers shake hands you shake the nation.

You need not assault Goings’ jail in which our heroes are confined, you need not open your eyes, my friends, to see that you are,
and fix your gaze upon the culprits and they will shiver and swell in the dust at your feet.

Let the warning note sound and repeated! Let the workers be aroused as by an alarm bells at midnight.

Come forth ye toiling masses, from mill and mine, from shop and store, from farm and factory, from land and lake! Come forth ye organized and unorganized! Come forth ye men and women and children who are oppressed and heavy laden! Come forth ye people, who all honor good men and true, and who love the right and dare defend it.

Crowd all the halls and streets and commons everywhere.
You are the people.
Parade the streets and bear aloft your flags and banners!

Let unnumbered voices rise and ring in warning protest.
The cause is just; it must prevail.

Let woman’s voice be also heard and woman’s influence felt.
The wives of our imprisoned comrades have suffered more than we shall ever know, and their children cry to us to save their fathers.

Be not deceived by any seeming hull in the Gettysburg program.
The tide of protest must rise higher day by day.
The burning resolutions must be made to pour in a blazing torrent upon the heads of the conspirators.

Every dollar that can be raised at every meeting must be gathered and put to work.

A million dollars may be needed to trail the serpent, unearth
the reptile and lay bare the vile conspiracy.

Duly authorised representatives of organized labor must attend the trial from the opening hour, a dozen at least, to bear the evidence and keep an eye on the proceedings.

Every national union should send a delegate; every large city a representative.

The cost would be but a trifle; the effect incalculable.

Such a representation could absolutely bar chicanery, compel a fair trial and thus win vindication.

Through such a medium, in case of emergency, the whole nation could be aroused.

Labor now has its own press that reaches the millions, and the results are already cheeringly apparent.

Labor has its own correspondents on the scene and their words are being sent to the press.

In this connection the work of the Apal and of Sefal, its special representative, cannot be too highly commended. It has had a real magnetic influence, and in this crisis every nervous should be made to exert its influence and to circulate it million copies.

The fight is on. It has been forced upon us. We are not responsible for it.

We are not favoring violence, but resisting it.

We are seeking, not to commit, but to prevent murder.

We are not belching, we are not belching.

Hear that, Gooding and MacDonald?

Beware! A promised senatorial bogey may yet turn into prison stripes.

Beware the wrath of an outraged and avenging people!

"I never could believe that Providence had sent a few men into the world ready booted and spurred to ride, and millions ready saddled and bridled to be ridden."

---Richard Rumbold, on the scaffold, 1865.

PROSECUTION IS DRIVEN TO DESPAIR

Pinkerton Thugs and Outlaw Mine Owners May Be Expected to Resort to Any Extremes to Secure Conviction of Federation Officials.

A Message to the Mine Owners

Has anyone ever been able to compute the value of a human life? It is beyond the capabilities of our society to place a dollar value on the loss of a life. Yet, in this case, the loss of lives is being measured in the millions. The lives of the Federation officials are at stake, and the prosecution is being driven to despair.

DUNDEE to Despair by the grid of the Pinkerton Thugs and Outlaw Mine Owners, the prosecution is being driven to despair. The Mine Owners' association has been formed to protect their interests, and they are using their resources to prevent the prosecution of their officials.

The story of the laxity of the authorities is told of the Mine Owners. The Mine Owners' association has a history of corruption and crime, and they have used their power to suppress information and obstruct justice.

The Pinkerton Thugs and Outlaw Mine Owners are using their power to prevent the prosecution of Federation officials. This is a clear violation of the law and a threat to justice.

The prosecution is being driven to despair, and it is time for the authorities to take action and bring these officials to justice.

LET THE COMRADES REMEMBER!

WHEN, in the course of the struggle against the mine owners, the Federation officials have been arrested and charged with various crimes, the authorities have been slow to act. The authorities have been content to allow the Pinkerton Thugs and Outlaw Mine Owners to go unpunished.

The authorities have been slow to act, and the Federation officials have been left at the mercy of the mine owners. This is a clear violation of the law and a threat to justice.

The authorities must take action and bring these officials to justice. The Federation officials are at risk, and the authorities must act quickly to protect them.

A WARNING TO THE ENEMY!

It is a time of crisis, and the authorities must take action to protect the Federation officials. The authorities must not allow the Pinkerton Thugs and Outlaw Mine Owners to go unpunished.

The authorities must take action and bring these officials to justice. The Federation officials are at risk, and the authorities must act quickly to protect them.
