More Idaho Idiocy.

The following clipping is from the Idaho Statesman of Boise, Idaho, which is in the same district as Salt Lake City where my father lives. My father read it to me and said it was typical of the newspaper. The paper is well respected and is read by a great many people.

Mr. Bryan's Latest Bluff.

It is believed that a private company will be formed to finance the construction of a dam on the Columbia River. The company will issue bonds which will be sold to the public. The proceeds will be used to build the dam, which will provide water power and improve transportation.

Miners' Only Hope.

The only hope for the miners of Idaho is to strike a big gold mine. If they do, it will provide the money they need to make a living. Until then, they must continue to work hard and save what they can.

Slavery Then and Now.

It was not always necessary to use force to control the workers. In ancient times, slavery was a way of life. Today, it is only necessary to use economic power to control the workers.

ADAMS' STATEMENT.

This is to certify that the statement that I signed was made up by James McParland, detective, and Harry Orchard, alias Tom Hagan. I signed it because I was threatened by them and would be hanged if I did not cooperate. I have nothing to say about the allegations in the statement.

Witness: ANNA ADAMS.

By telegraph to The Appeal to Reason.

Burling, Colo., Sept. 3.—The affairs of the Idaho miners, who are not visited by their owner, are much on the minds of the workers. The situation is critical and requires immediate attention.

The miners of Idaho have been working hard to improve their living conditions. They are looking for a way to improve their situation and are prepared to fight for their rights.

The miners of Idaho are a hardworking group of people who are determined to improve their situation. They will not give up easily and will continue to fight until they achieve their goals.

An Answer Without an Argument.

In The Independent, of New York, for Aug. 29, 1908, the following article was the second column of page 454:

This extraordinary editorial note appears in one of the most independent papers of its class, the "Catholic Citizen," of Milwaukee:

"At Milwaukee, the past week, there came before the board of aldermen a question of granting licenses to eleven notorious saloons, most of which are virtually temples of 'free love.' Such saloons are the veritable sources of evil and are licensing these places; and, sad to say, all the Catholic aldermen, except one, voted to license these temples of 'free love.' Evidently it is a condition and not a theory that confines us.

We offer no comment, except to say that it concerns those whom it concerns.

Like the following editorial of The Independent, I have no answer to offer, but I would remind every reader of the article that it is important to discuss the effects of legislation on the community where you live and in the world in general. If you feel that the law is being abused, please speak up and contribute your voice.

ANOTHER SOCIALIST CANDIDATE IN JAIL

Comrade J. B. Osborne, Blind Oarist Nominee for Governor of Georgia, Is Sent to Prison for Speaking on the Street-Capitalist Press of Atlanta Shows Him Much Respect

COLUMBUS, Ga., November 29, 1908

Comrade J. B. Osborne was arrested for speaking on the streets of Atlanta this morning, and was afterwards taken before a justice of the peace and committed to the jail. The jail is located in the same building that housed the Democratic National Convention in 1860.

A surprising and peculiar feature of the affair is the attitude in which the Socialist movement in Georgia is progressing. The Socialist political movement in Georgia is making a strong showing in the state, with the backing of a substantial percentage of the electorate.

The Socialist party is making a strong showing in Georgia, and is gaining ground quickly. The Socialist movement is gaining in popularity, and is showing considerable strength in both the city and the country.
