THE "NOT GUILTY" EDITION

Less than two days have elapsed since the first announcement was made, yet the orders for the "Not Guilty" edition has now reached a total of 877,300 Copies.

Before this paper is put to press, the number will be over a million copies. The orders are beginning to roll in from every city, hamlet and village, in a flood. The time is short, as I fully expect Attorney General Darrow will begin his masterly closing address to the jury within ten days, but if every Appeal Army comrade responds, we can make the "Not Guilty" edition the crowning triumph of the Appeal's fight for our comrades and for Socialism. This is no time for laggards—men with the courage of their convictions are needed and you should not fail to count with the stalwarts. The contributors are on the run—let's make it a Pinkerton Waterloo. Use the blank at the bottom of this page.

Prisoner's Advice

The Chicago Chronicle, that stalwart of the outcasts, has recently given the good and the great a piece of advice of which we have never been more in need. In a column of the Chicago Chronicle, that stalwart of the outcasts, has recently given the good and the great a piece of advice of which we have never been more in need. In a column of the Chicago Chronicle, that stalwart of the outcasts, has recently given the good and the great a piece of advice of which we have never been more in need.

The Chronicle gives the good and the great this advice: "Keep up the fight. The Appeal is in need of money, but above all of the loyalty and support of our comrades. The Appeal is a symbol of the struggle for liberty and justice, and the Appeal must be supported by those who believe in these ideals."

PINKERTON SPIES JOINED UNION AND URGED VIOLENCE

Mine Owners and Citizens' Alliance Employed the Old Tactics of Committing Crimes With Purpose To Lay the Blame on Union Men and Arouse a Hostile Feeling Toward Labor Organizations Which Were Peacefully Checking the Aggressions of Capital.

The Denver News prints in its issue for June 28th the following remarkable admission of the police: "The charges made against Scott and Steiglitz by the defense are so serious as to demand some sort of answer. It's matters stand now these detectives are accused of planning practically all the exter- cious violence which marked the Teller County strike. A number of witnesses have sworn to the alleged facts, and the only way the prosecution can refute the stories is by producing the accused officers."
BOISE BANKERS TIGHTEN UP
Funds Run Low and the Legality of the Appropriations Made by this Bank

The Boise correspondent of the Denver News, which has made more trouble for the press than any other section of the state, reports that the Boise bankers have tightened up and are running low on funds. This is the result of the recent panic in the East, which has frightened the people of the West and caused them to withdraw their money from the banks. The Boise bankers have been forced to cut down on their lending, and as a result they are running low on funds. This has caused some inconvenience to the public, but the bankers are hoping that things will improve soon. They have also been forced to reduce the interest rates on their loans, in order to attract more business. The situation is expected to improve as soon as the panic subsides.
THE PARTY

California—The Women's Branch of the Socialist party is in full operation. Their monthly meeting was held last week. A reading of the February issue of the "Socialist World" was given, and the members discussed the latest political developments. The branch is preparing to launch a campaign for the upcoming presidential election.

FIELD WORKERS.

The branch has hired two field workers to travel the state and solicit new members. They have been instructed to focus on those who are disillusioned with the two major parties and are looking for an alternative. The field workers are to distribute literature and hold meetings to discuss the socialist perspective on the issues of the day.

THE LOQUACIOUS PARROT.

A Fable for the Wise

There was a Parrot who talked as much as he could. He was always speaking, whether it was necessary or not. One day, while out walking in the park, he noticed a philosopher. The Parrot tried to engage him in conversation, but the philosopher was too busy with his own thoughts to listen.

"Philosopher, what do you think of my words today?" asked the Parrot.

"Your words are as false as the air you breathe," replied the philosopher.

"But I thought you were a wise man," said the Parrot.

"Wise men do not speak nonsense," answered the philosopher.

"But I thought you were a philosopher," said the Parrot.

"Philosophers know when to be silent," replied the philosopher.

Watch Your Thirty Feet of Bowels!

Ye gods! how thirty feet of intestines made food travel through the body! What a journey! When a piece of food eaten with the right bowels, the intestines make bijective; and if that makes a brainwire—KBBB!—with the half bowels, the intestines make the whole body.

In about 12 hours to do this: so, as destinations parts of the food may here to this digested and absorbed.

But, if it takes twice or thrice that period the food, becomes unabsorbed; and as unsanitary as if it had digested and absorbed.

Now, the cause of Dickens's Gavroche is a genuine problem. The bowels of the living animal are very important.

BEREIL SENDS GREETINGS
Great Socialist Leader of Germany Pro duces an Eloquent Speech in the United States.

By Mrs. Mary J. King, who formerly resided in Chicago, but who has recently shown up in Kansas, and in whose favor an address was delivered by the Missourian Association, recent news has arrived about the political doings of Mrs. Mckinley.

Mrs. McKinley is said to have been present at a meeting of the Missoulian Association, and to have delivered a speech in favor of her husband's re-election. Mrs. McKinley was invited to speak by the Association, and she accepted the invitation with the expression that she was glad to have the opportunity to express her opinions on the political questions of the day.

The speech of Mrs. McKinley was received with great interest by the audience, who were impressed by her forceful expression of her views. She spoke on the subject of reform, and advocated the need for a new approach to the political problems of the United States.

The speech was well received, and there were many who expressed the hope that Mrs. McKinley would continue to speak out on political matters.

American History

The United States was formed in 1776, and in 1803, the Louisiana Purchase was made, doubling the size of the country. In 1848, the Kansas-Nebraska Act was passed, leading to the Civil War in 1861. The country was divided into 48 states by 1889. A great deal of immigration took place in the 19th century, with immigration from Europe and Asia. The United States was the world's leading economic power in the 20th century. It was a major player in both World Wars, and was the most powerful country in the world after World War II. The country experienced a period of prosperity in the 1950s and 1960s, but also experienced a period of economic decline in the 1970s and 1980s. The United States has been a major player in international affairs, engaging in military conflicts around the world.
