Was It a Square Deal?

CERTAIN of the capital-minded men of the Ohio State Senate a few years ago were very earnest in their arguments that the so-called "Square Deal" was a fraud. They claimed that it was a great advantage to the State and to the people of Ohio. As a matter of fact, they were correct in thinking that it was a great advantage. But it is not the Square Deal that I am going to speak about. I am going to speak about the Square Deal as it affects the people of Ohio.

The Square Deal is a good deal for the people of Ohio. It is a good deal for the farmers, for the laboring men, for the railway men, for the business men, for the people of every walk of life. It is a good deal for the State and for the country.

The Square Deal is a good deal because it guarantees fair dealing in all matters of business. It guarantees fair dealing in the manufacture of goods, in the sale of goods, in the transportation of goods, in the distribution of goods, in the consumption of goods. It guarantees fair dealing in every possible way.

The Square Deal is a good deal because it guarantees fair treatment to all classes of people. It guarantees fair treatment to the poor, to the rich, to the sick, to the healthy, to the old, to the young, to the strong, to the weak, to the black, to the white, to the red, to the yellow.

The Square Deal is a good deal because it guarantees fair treatment to all classes of people, and because it guarantees fair treatment to all classes of people.

HAYWOOD TO CHICAGO WORKINGMEN

"It was not the intention of the Mine Owners' association, the government of the State of Idaho, the government of the State of Montana and the United States government to make any wrong move or anything that would injure the union..."

THE WESTERN FEDERATION. The last nine monthly reports of the organization of the Western Federation of Miners were published in the New York Tribune, and one of them in the New York Times. They were all blank except those of the Western Federation of Miners, which they sent to the United States government.

"There is as much about the mines today as there is in San Francisco and the interests are about the same. The mining companies in this country, so that they can get the best labor and the best water and the best coal, are doing everything possible to prevent the formation of the Western Federation of Miners."

"UPHOLDING PRINCIPLES. Federation of Miners have been bought!" the Federation of Miners have been bought! We are in a position to organize industrially, and we are determined to do so, but we have been bought. We are not in a position to organize industrially, but we are determined to do so. We have been bought, and we are determined to do so.

"We have not had the money that we needed, but we have had the money that we needed. We have not had the money that we needed, but we have had the money that we needed.

"THE WORKERS ARE NOT BEING MOUNTED TO SYSTEM. The workers are not being mounted to system. They are not being mounted to system. They are not being mounted to system.

"A portion of the Western Federation of Miners, that was made by the government, was made by the government, was made by the government.

"We declare that in the experience of our members, that in the experience of our members, that in the experience of our members.
