ATTORNEY GENERAL BONAPARTE VS. APPEAL

Roosevelt's Attorney General Personally Orders Criminal Proceedings Against the Appeal.

Stung into Frenzy by Its Scathing Indictments the Washington D.C. Prosecution Seizes on Thursday Afternoon for Another Attempt to Suppress the Appeal, This Time Through the Federal Court.

Attorney General Bonsaparte has transferred the United States district and court in Washington, D.C., to the United States district court in the Third Circuit Court of Appeals in New York. The order was given in response to a motion filed by the United States government requesting a stay of the appeal in order to allow the government to file a new appeal in the Third Circuit Court of Appeals.

The government claims that the appeal in the Third Circuit Court of Appeals is not final and can be overturned by the Supreme Court.

The appeal was filed on October 16, 1907, by the United States government against the decision of the Third Circuit Court of Appeals in the case of United States v. Gompers, in which the court had ruled in favor of the trade unionists.

The government contends that the court's decision is contrary to the law and that the judge who rendered the decision was biased.

The appeal is being heard in the Third Circuit Court of Appeals in New York, which is a federal court of appeals for the Eastern District of New York, the Southern District of New York, and the Western District of New York.

The government's motion for a stay of the appeal was denied by the court on October 16, 1907, and the appeal proceeded to the Supreme Court.

COMPLETING THE ALTON DEAL

The above statement by the Wall Street Journal was made on Sunday, when the American railroad strike was in progress and the Wall Street Journal was not in circulation. The statement was made by a well-known railroad expert, who said that the strike was likely to be settled, but that the settlement would not be satisfactory to the workers.

The Wall Street Journal has been in existence for many years, and has been a leader in the field of railroad news. Its reporters are well-known for their accuracy and fairness, and its editorial board is composed of men who have been in the railroad business for many years.

The newspaper is read by thousands of people, and its influence is great. Its statements are taken as gospel by many, and its editorials are often quoted as authority.
