BETRAYED TO THE ROMAN HIERARCHY

How the Filipinos were bought from the Pope and then given Back to Him for Favors to the Roman Machine.

THE ANSWER OF THE ALLIES.
Considerable space in this number of the Appeal is devoted to the clerical ally of capitalism—the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church. That the facts set forth in these articles cannot be explained away, even by the capable and cunning capitalist contributors to the Catholic press, is evidenced by the very men who are not under the spell of their influence.

The thinly veiled attempt will be made to discredit the Appeal with the usual assertion that we are "attacking religion." The same old subterfuge that has so often served as an antidote to exposures of those in the high places of both church and state will be the weapon of the Roman hierarchy to prevent the realization of the facts here stated.

For that reason you, into whose hands this paper falls, are urged to carefully read every word of this indictment. However, you can, as simple words or evidence that attacks any religion whatever. We recognize the fact that your religious faith is a private matter which may be of concern to you but is none of our business. We are interested in the organization of the Roman Hierarchy and its alliance with capitalist buccaneers to keep the working class, Catholic workers included, the best tool of the exploiters, is of general concern and is properly a subject for investigation.

The facts herein presented are supported and substantiated by the statements of no less a person than William H. Taft, by official records and by documents of the church which these conspirators would prostitute to the purposes of politicians and capitalist monied men. We have merely placed these facts before you in your proper order and relations so that you who read may form an estimate of the amazing political compact entered into between the Roman Catholic party and the Republican Party and the church.

In the foreground are the placent prelates, treasurers to the country to which they profess allegiance and arch traitors to the Catholic workers whom they are in duty bound to protect, but whom they betray to perpetual enmity of the working man and his financiers—that "Oligarchy of Wealth" referred to by Taft in his Boston speech.

The matter contained in this paper is of more importance to the Socialist movement in the United States than any other document we have ever printed. An edition of 1,000,000 copies will be issued at once, and others editions will follow to supply the enormous demand to which you must exist in its distribution, that the truth may be known and the hostility of the pope and his American agents toward Socialism be understood.

Mr. Taft said: As soon as a constitution was established in the Philippines, a tax was levied on the Catholic Church which he considered an unfair burden.

Mr. Taft said: As soon as a constitution was established in the Philippines, a tax was levied on the Catholic Church which he considered an unfair burden. To obtain the necessary funds from the non-Catholic population, the government adopted a policy of favoring the Catholic Church over other religious denominations. This policy was carried out in a variety of ways, including the allocation of funds for religious education and the construction of Catholic churches.

The Catholic Church in the Philippines has enjoyed significant influence over politics and society, and its leaders have been active in political matters. The hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church has also been involved in efforts to establish and maintain traditional social values and cultural practices. The church has been involved in the education system, and its influence has been felt in a variety of other ways. The Roman Catholic Church's role in society has been a controversial issue, and there have been debates over whether the church should be allowed to exert such influence or whether it should be more focused on spiritual matters.
Wanted—More Catholic Priests

Mr. Tuff: The need for more Catholic priests in the Philippines has never been more urgent than it is today. The Church's mission to spread the Gospel among the Filipino people is facing numerous challenges, and the lack of priests is one of the major obstacles. With the rapid growth of the population, the demand for priests to provide spiritual guidance and religious education is increasing. Theological institutes in the Philippines are working hard to train more priests, but the number of students entering these institutions is not keeping pace with the demand. Many of the young people who have the potential to become priests are unable to pursue their studies due to financial constraints. It is crucial for the Church to continue its efforts in Catholic education and to seek ways to support the training of future priests.
TAFT AND THE HIERARCHY

September 12, 1908

The Tribune has had its day. Now we have to the Holy Ghost. It has had its theocracy, and now it is up to us to have our democracy. This is a time for the people to take the helm and steer the ship of state. We have been given a chance to show that we can rule as wisely as the Church, and we must not fail to prove it.

The election of the President is no laughing matter. It is a serious business, and we must not take it lightly. The candidates are not to be trifled with, for they are the ones who will hold the reins of power in our country for the next four years.

Endorsement of Taft.
