ROOSEVELT, while president of the United States, ordered his Department of Justice to prosecute the Appeal. "We have no case," replied Dis- trict Attorney Bone of Topeka. "Make one," snapped Roosevelt. For two years the federal officials have been trying to "make a case against the Little Old Appeal. To defend ourselves against the trumped up charge, the Appeal has cost thousands of dollars. This attempt to kill the Appeal failed. Roosevelt, smarting under the Appeal's exposure of his connection with the Alton State, takes up the work personally. He hurls his thunder-bolt against Socialism and the Appeal." "The Appeal is a fighter," he said. "It has never struck its colors. Kegs, potentiometers, presidents, capitalists, hoboes, all look alike to it. We therefore cheerfully accept Roosevelt's challenge. "Our Reply" will be printed in the next issue. The Appeal is doing God's work. We're hearing from the Army and Navy and all the replies are in, the whole world will be astonished! Every man, every woman, who resents Roosevelt's unscrupulous attack on Socialism will assist us in this work. Will YOU?

SOCIALISM LOOMING

At a special election to fill a vacancy for a member of parliament for St. John's-Pingone, a Socialistic candidate, Mr. W. Gordon, received 1,670 votes. Interviewed afterward, Mr. Gordon said: "It is a step in the right direction."

THE INHERITANCE TAX

"The inheritance tax is not a novel idea. It is a very old idea. The most important thing is to see that it is properly administered."

TRUSTS ARE GOOD

"The trusts are good. They are not bad. They are not immoral. They are not unnatural. They are not unholy. They are not unprofitable."

TRAFFIC IN GIRLS

"We are not going to have any traffic in girls. We are going to have a traffic in girls."

Good Reasons for Revolt.

While the Anglo-Saxon is supreme in the political, social, and intellectual life of the nation, he dominates in the economic life as well. He has built up an economic system which is based on his own interests and to which he is bound by ties of custom and law. In this system, the worker is a mere slave, bound to labor for wages that are insufficient to maintain life. The worker is not free to determine the terms of his labor, but must accept the conditions imposed by his employer. He is not free to determine the hours of his labor, but must work as long as his employer requires. He is not free to determine the place of his labor, but must work where his employer requires. He is not free to determine the price of his labor, but must sell his labor at the price the employer is willing to pay. He is not free to determine his mode of labor, but must work in the manner prescribed by his employer. He is not free to determine the conditions of his labor, but must work under the conditions prescribed by his employer. He is not free to determine the result of his labor, but must accept the result as determined by his employer.
