FOR THE BIG FIGHT IN JANUARY

January will be an important month in the history of the little old Appeal. As announced the four issues in January will contain four special articles on the Federal judiciary by Judge Eugene V. Debs and a continuation of the Shay articles. I can promise you something in the way of a big fight not only for the Appeal but also for the Shay papers. The numbers of the January issues will be 736, 737, 738 and 739.

"Resolve this we are in the beginning a new policy of 'no compromise,'" says Judge Debs. This experiment means a good deal to the Appeal and the Army. It means cutting off $25,000 of our revenue; it means a better propaganda paper and a subscription getting will be easier than it now is. A paper with a great circulation—and we are going to try to increase our circulation—will not have a market or a group of people will not out of curiosity want to read such a publication to see what is that it does.

And in addition to this, January will be the month in which Warren once more goes to court—and in which the case will be finally disposed of. Taken altogether it will be a most important month for the Appeal. I hope every reader of the paper—never mind that the payments and the printings and the things expressed in the following letter, which, by the way, was written by one of the big men of the Appeal—will see what is coming.

To "The Appeal: Something clear which I have not control impossible as to write this communication under the name of that paper," the Appeal received the following letter, the Appeal did.

"Are you going away this month on...." was the appeal. "Are you going away this month on...." was the appeal. "Are you going away this month on...." was the appeal. IT'S BROKE LOS!

IN November, 1890, there were 54 banks in the United States that had failed. This was the year when the panic of 1890 began. It was a year when the banks failed because they had not been able to find enough money to keep the doors open.
