Down With the Corrupt Courts of Capitalism

BY EUGENE V. DEBS.

The long train of瞎眺的 by the capitalist courts and the choosers and outriders growing out of their despotic and corrupt practices, of which the working class has always been the victims and the capitalist class the beneficiaries, constitutes the most profound and deplorable of all the political and social systems under which these results have been perpetrated in the name of law and justice upon the long-suffering American people.

The capitalist courts in hulling Warren have saddled the bulk of their own dooms. They may still flourish and fester for a time, but they will never recover from the poisoned dagger they have plunged into their own vitals.

Even the present federal government is subject to the influence of the same courts, and the Department of Justice is under the control of both. It is the Office of the Solicitor General that chief of the Department of Justice. The President's influence is not enough, and the Solicitor General must be there to do the work for the President. This is a part of the corruption and the ill-gotten wealth that has been handed over to the Department of Justice by the United States.

In early 1910, the day Warren goes to jail, marks a turning point in the six months of his imprisonment in Warren and six months of his victorious demonstration that will make every corporation's vested interest in the United States a shriveled bone.

The case of Warren has now been presented to the Supreme Court of the United States and will be heard and decided by the Court. No one is surprised at the decision of the Court; the Court is not disposed to interfere with the Court's decision.
