Warring Vice in a Great City

It en, it comes to this, that in this place of weak, and what is worse, it may be under the domination of a power who is using moral suasion to bring down the power of the law and the will of the people. The social workers are left with the task of dealing with this situation. It is only through the combined efforts of all who work in the field of combating vice that we can hope to make progress.

The saloon keeper is not the only person who is responsible for the vice rampant in the city. The saloon board is equally to blame. They are the ones who profit by the vice. They are the ones who keep the saloon open, who keep the liquor flowing, who keep the women and children in their midst. They are the ones who are responsible for the spread of vice in the city.

Efforts have been made in the past to combat vice, but they have not been successful. The saloon board has always been too strong. They have always been able to defeat any efforts that have been made to close down the saloons. It is only through the combined efforts of all who work in the field of combating vice that we can hope to make progress.
