Our Opportunity—Will We Let It Pass?

Our enemies have created our opportunity. When they rejected California as the ground on which to fight the largest battle of the class war they delivered victory into our hands. We must grasp that victory and use it to further our program.

California is a strategic point. It is a great industrial center. It is a great political center. It is the home of a great nation in itself. Holding the gate to the Pacific upon the water and the terminus of the major railroads of the United States.

If England can use it to enslave other nations, why shouldn’t we use it to enslave the capitalist class? With the power of the capitalists isolated in the midst of the worker, it is a vast area where the class struggle can be waged in the factory, in the mine and in the mill.

The workers of the state are fighting for their lives and their very existence. The workers who are organizing are fighting for a position in the factory and a chance to live.

The bosses say, “The factories are full now. There is no room for more.”

But the workers say, “We are the ones who need work. We have families to feed. We need work to keep alive.”

We must fight for the right to work. We must fight for the right to live. We must fight for the right to exist.

The bosses say, “The factories are full now. There is no room for more.”

But the workers say, “We are the ones who need work. We have families to feed. We need work to keep alive.”

We must fight for the right to work. We must fight for the right to live. We must fight for the right to exist.

We must use this opportunity to fight for our freedom. We must use this opportunity to fight for our rights. We must use this opportunity to fight for our democracy.

The bosses say, “The factories are full now. There is no room for more.”

But the workers say, “We are the ones who need work. We have families to feed. We need work to keep alive.”

We must fight for the right to work. We must fight for the right to live. We must fight for the right to exist.

We must use this opportunity to fight for our freedom. We must use this opportunity to fight for our rights. We must use this opportunity to fight for our democracy.

GRAFT AT LEAVENWORTH

By GEORGE W. BERRY

So much has been said about graft in town that it was not until the mayor was out of town that the mayor was able to get a chance to do his work. The mayor had been out of town for two weeks, and during that time he had been busy in the construction of a new school. The school was to be built on the outskirts of town, and the mayor hoped to have it completed in time for the opening of the school year. The mayor had been working on the project for several months, and he was confident that it would be completed on time. The mayor had been very busy, and he had not had much time to think about the graft that had been going on in town. The mayor had been trying to keep up with the construction of the school, but he had not had much time to think about the graft that had been going on in town. TO COURT APPEAL.

There is no doubt that the Supreme Court did its duty in this case, in its opinion on the Federal law, which it held to be in order, and that we are not about to amend, but it is the duty of the Court to decide the question of law in its opinion, and we are not about to make a question of law in the case. The Court held that the Supreme Court did its duty in this case, in its opinion on the Federal law, which it held to be in order, and that we are not about to amend, but it is the duty of the Court to decide the question of law in its opinion, and we are not about to make a question of law in the case.

PUBLIC PAWN SHOP.

Hanging in the conclusion that they have never seen one, have never heard of one, and have never been in one, is a very poor one, since the same facts which are said to prove the existence of a pawn shop are the same which prove the non-existence of one. The same facts which prove the non-existence of a pawn shop are the same which prove the existence of one.

The same facts which prove the non-existence of a pawn shop are the same which prove the existence of one.

SOCIALISTS AT WORK.

In this instance of Socialism at work, there is no direct relation between the two. There are socialists who have never seen one, have never heard of one, and have never been in one, and there are socialists who have never seen one, have never heard of one, and have never been in one.

The same facts which prove the non-existence of a pawn shop are the same which prove the existence of one.
