The Battle Line-Up: Who Wins?

THAT air raid alert on which this issue of the Appeal to Reason was to be sent on the morning of May 3rd, when we hereafter print the statement made by men high in the responsible positions, will be published later. The Appeal to Reason, however, will continue to publish these statements in our other papers that dare speak in opposition to the present system of robbery and graft. First, a few words about recent events:

President William Howard Taft

President Taft is issuing the following: "I have not been a part of the executive and legislative effort to instigate stealing美. Let us say that its president and publications." This statement is not intended as an attack on the president, but merely as a statement that he is not a part of the executive and legislative effort to instigate stealing.

Harrison Gray Otis' Blood-Thirsty Threat

In an interview with the Los Angeles Times, Harrison Gray Otis, a former California governor, said: "If the people of this country will not stand up for their rights, they will be destroyed by the people of the government. The people of this country will not be destroyed by the government. The government will be destroyed by the people."

John Dalesky, Corporation Head and Political Boss

John Dalesky, who is alleged to be the head of the Nationalist party, has written to newspapermen urging them to support the Appeal to Reason against the United Press of America. He said: "The Appeal to Reason is a vile and blameworthy publication that is doing the work of the government. It is a disgrace to the country."

Fenianity As Long As He Ought To Be

The Appeal to Reason is a vile and blameworthy publication that is doing the work of the government. It is a disgrace to the country.

Buchanan and Tapp

James Buchanan was for forty years a leading citizen of this city. He died on April 14. Mr. Tapp, a prominent lawyer, is also deceased.

Will You?

As the years go by, and the adoration of the new generation, the time will come when the· old generation will die out. The present generation of young people will then take over. Will you be prepared to take your place in the future?

Notes on Various Topics

CLARISSA: Dear Dearie, whenever I think about the fact that is going on at the present time, I feel as if I were being crushed by the weight of it. It is true that the old generation is gone, but the new generation is not ready to take their place. We must prepare them for the future.

In the present generation, there are many who are not prepared to take their place in the future. They must be prepared to take their place in the future.

Dropping the Mark

In conclusion, we must realize that the old generation is gone, but the new generation is not ready to take their place. We must prepare them for the future.
