The Revolution of Nineteen Twelve

TWO years before the history of this country has the present era divided into two periods; the pre-revolution period and the post-revolution period. The revolution has changed the face of politics, the outlook of business, the attitude of labor, and the whole character of American life. It appears that Bryan and Ryan and their followers have been swept aside.

Wage earners have been organized in an unprecedented way. The labor movement has become a reality, and the working class is no longer a passive element in the social system. The railway strike of 1919 was a signal event in labor history. It was a strike for higher wages, shorter hours, and better working conditions. The strike was supported by the Socialist party, and it was a victory for the working class. The strike proved that the working class was capable of organizing and fighting for its rights.

The revolution has also had an impact on politics. The Republican party has been weakened, and the Democratic party has been strengthened. The revolution has brought about a new era in American politics. The old two-party system has been replaced by a multi-party system.

The revolution has also had an impact on business. The trusts have been broken up, and the small businessman has been given a fair chance to compete. The revolution has brought about a new era in American business. The old monopoly system has been replaced by a system of free competition.

The revolution has also had an impact on the international scene. The United States has become a world power, and it has taken an active part in world affairs. The revolution has brought about a new era in American foreign policy. The old isolationist policy has been replaced by a policy of intervention.

"A Year Supreme with Possibilities"

The democratic platform in the long run is the best or any other political platform and there are no exceptions to this rule. The democratic party is not a party of the masses, it is a party of the people. The democratic party is not a party of the rich, it is a party of the poor. The democratic party is not a party of the ignorant, it is a party of the intelligent. The democratic party is not a party of the weak, it is a party of the strong. The democratic party is not a party of the divided, it is a party of the united. The democratic party is not a party of the temporary, it is a party of the permanent. The democratic party is not a party of the small, it is a party of the large. The democratic party is not a party of the selfish, it is a party of the selfless. The democratic party is not a party of the past, it is a party of the future. The democratic party is not a party of the old, it is a party of the new. The democratic party is not a party of the dead, it is a party of the living. The democratic party is not a party of the present, it is a party of the future. The democratic party is not a party of the yesterday, it is a party of the tomorrow. The democratic party is not a party of the past, it is a party of the present. The democratic party is not a party of the yesterday, it is a party of the today. The democratic party is not a party of the present, it is a party of the future. The democratic party is not a party of the yesterday, it is a party of the today.
