Why Women Should Be Interested in Socialism

MANUEL J. REYES

The appeal of Socialism to women has been by no means limited to the women of the working class. The appeal of Socialism to women is as real and as genuine as the appeal of any other political system. It is not a matter of a few women catching on to the idea of Socialism, but of many women being attracted to it. The appeal of Socialism to women is not to be found in the mere intellectual argument, but in the practical results of Socialism. The appeal of Socialism to women is to be found in the fact that Socialism offers the solution to the problems of women.

Women are as much to be interested in the triumphs of Socialism as men. The triumphs of Socialism are as much the triumphs of women as men. The triumphs of Socialism are as much the triumphs of the working class as they are the triumphs of the middle class.

Women in Politics: How They Are Winning Their Rights

CAPTALISTS ARE DEAREST

October 28, 1912

Women are as equal as men in the activities of politics and in the opportunities for advancement... Women have the right to vote and to be candidates for office... Women are just as capable of understanding the issues and making intelligent decisions as men... Women's contributions to the social and economic well-being of society should not be underestimated... Women's participation in politics is essential for a democratic society... Women have a duty to participate in the political process to ensure that their perspectives are represented... Women's voices must be heard in the political arena... Women's participation in politics can bring about positive changes in society... Women's contributions to society will continue to grow as they take on more roles and responsibilities in the political world.
