The press announces that John Kenneth Turner, Appeal and Coming Nation representative, and author of the articles on "Barbarous Mexico" that helped to overthrow Porfirio Diaz, is in the hands of Felix Diaz, nephew of Porfirio, in Mexico City, and has three times been lined up against the wall for execution. He was not shot because Felix Diaz feared the act would lead to American intervention. But he is not yet out of danger, being still a prisoner.

HELEN KELLER

This is the first time Helen Keller, the blind and deaf woman who has traveled extensively in Europe and the Americas, has appeared in the press. Her appearance has received widespread coverage and she is now considered a prominent figure in the social and political movements of her time. She is shown here with a group of her supporters, including the famous inventor Thomas Edison. Helen Keller is one of the leading figures in the campaign for women's rights and is a strong advocate for the disabled.

REVOLUTION IN MEXICO

The revolution in Mexico is one of the most significant events of the 20th century. In 1910, Porfirio Diaz, the long-time president of Mexico, was overthrown by a group of rebels led by Francisco I. Madero. This event marked the beginning of the Mexican Revolution, which lasted for more than a decade and resulted in significant social and political changes.

THE RIGHT TO STRIKE

The right to strike is a fundamental right of workers. It allows workers to engage in collective action to improve their working conditions and to negotiate with employers. The right to strike is protected by law in many countries around the world. However, the use of strike action can also lead to conflict and unrest.

LIFE AND PROPERTY.

Every citizen has the right to life, liberty, and property. The government has a duty to protect these rights and to ensure that they are not violated. However, there are times when individuals may violate these rights, and the government must act to protect the rights of others. This is the case in the situation described in "Direct Action."
Survey of Kansas City, Mo.

Kansas City was never intended to be a workable city. People who lived there for years never had any idea that it was going to be a city. It is now one of the greatest cities in the United States. It is not only the largest city in the state, but one of the largest cities in the world. It has a population of over 250,000 people, and is the home of one of the most prosperous businesses in the world.

Theodore Roosevelt was a native of Kansas City. He was a great man, and was known as the "odoreus." He was a good friend of the people, and was always ready to help them. He was a great orator, and was always ready to tell the people what was right and what was wrong. He was a great leader, and was always ready to lead the people.

Kansas City is the home of the famous Kansas City Chiefs. They are a great football team, and are always ready to play a good game. They are a great team, and are always ready to win.

The Appeal Workers in Kansas City are doing a great work. They are working hard, and are always ready to help the people. They are a great team, and are always ready to win.

TAFT AND THE TRUSTS

IKE is something central as well as necessary at the last moment. It is hard to say what will happen. The President will have the support of the House and Senate, but there is the possibility that the Senate may be divided on the question. The President will have absolute control of log rolls and may try to pack the Senate with supporters. There are those who say that the democratic party as well as the Republican party is in danger of being packed with its worst enemies. The President will have the support of the President pro tempore, Mr. Bryan, Secretary of the Navy, and many other members of the party who are opposed to the policy of Mr. Taft.

Constructive Robbery.

The honest men in the House and Senate are alarmed at the policy of the President. They are afraid that if Mr. Taft is re-elected, the trusts will again become powerful.

When you go home tonight make a search for unused envelopes and send the facts to your friends with the names and addresses of those who ought to have the Appeal. Then send in order for some more cards.

STICKING TO THE JOB

The Act of 1912 was passed after long and hard work. There were many setbacks, but we stuck to the job. When we feel as if we had reached the limit of our strength, we begin to think of the next step. We must continue to work hard.

BRYAN AND MONOPOLY

The other day we stepped into the office of Mr. Bryan and found him hard at work. He was surrounded by a group of people who were discussing the Monopoly Bill. Mr. Bryan is the author of the Bill and he has done much for it. He is a strong advocate of the policy and he will do all in his power to make it a success.
