Burns Framed Up the Hop Field Cases

By John J. W. Turner

Instruments with which Ford and Herman Fling to buy, agree on the fact that there was not a detective genius, nor another detective of modern times, who could have clung to the Hop Field Cases with the tenacity of William J. Burns.

Motives - All Party - Abstracts - Conclusions

The motive for this night's raid on the Hop Field Cases was the desire of the insurance companies to recover the money they had paid to the Thaddeus Burns Company. The company had been formed by Burns and his associates, and it was the desire of the insurance companies to recover the money they had paid to the Thaddeus Burns Company.

The Old, Old Story

A reader asks: "Why do you take up the case of the Arkansas Farmer's Assn. in telling about your Arkansas of Facts?"

"Because," I reply, "I have found it to be a wonderful little book of facts that we all need to read."

"We all know it is a book of facts that every socialist needs. We all want to read it, but we can't afford to refuse to sell it. We all know that the only way we can get a copy is by sending in a club of 12-twenty-five cents each."

"We are no longer able to do this, but if you will purchase 12 subscriptions for your club, we will give you a free copy of the book."

"Without a doubt right now every Appeal reader should write in to get a copy of the Arkansas Farmer's Assn."
