"AN EYE FOR AN EYE" by C. S. Darrow

The Story of a Condemned Man's Last Night on Earth.

RIGHTS OF REPUBLICATION
KNIGHT ACQUIRED BY FOSTER.

Jim Jackson, who had been condemned to death for the murder of an old friend, Frank Casey, was to die tonight in the electric chair. The horror of the crime seemed to chill the blood of the spectators. The court house was crowded with people, all waiting for the execution to begin.

But there was something else that had been on everyone's mind. The execution was to be witnessed by the legislatures. They felt it was their duty to see that justice was done, regardless of the outcome. The trial had been long and tedious, and many people wondered if the death penalty was still necessary.

"Dear family and friends, I am about to leave this earth. I have no regrets, only one thing I want you to know. You are all I have, and I love you all. I only wish I could have been a better man."

The execution was performed with great solemnity and dignity. The spectators were moved to tears by the touching farewell of the condemned man. It was a moment that would be remembered for a lifetime.

Socialism and the Catholic Church

Who says the Roman Catholic Church exerts hostility to socialism?

The question is an interesting one and perhaps an answer can be given.

The Roman Catholic Church has a propaganda international in its scope. So has socialism. The two propaganda offices clash.

The Roman Catholic Church insists that the things of the world are comparatively and importantly, that it is the news of the new world which counts; that, therefore, the worker, who finds himself out of work with a wife and child, should treat the situation with resignation, since he is to find his reward in the life to come.

Socialism, on the other hand, says that the working man should endeavor to make his own life and the life of his fellow workers better, that is, make his own life a real thing by itself.

The Revolution Church has found upon the principle of authority: God is all wise. His earthly representative is the Pope, who has from time to time instructed and warned the worker in his attitude toward socialism. The Pope, through the bishops and priests, has given the worker the weapons with which to fight against socialism.

Socialism, on the other hand, says that the working man should make his own life and the life of his fellow workers better, that is, make his own life a real thing by itself.
