PULLMAN WORKERS ON VERGE OF STRIKE

Shop Managers Scheming to Reduce Wages to Pay Interest on Watered Stock.

At the time the Pullman blanket manufacturers were flying high, 80 per cent of all their employees were on strike. The result was the Pullman Strike of 1900, which lasted for six weeks. The company's tactics in this case were to reduce the wages of the workers in order to pay interest on watered stock. The workers were forced to accept the lower wages in order to keep their jobs.

THE GOLD-BUG

By EDGAR ALLEN POE

Legend, living on an island off the coast of the United States, one night heard a knock at the door. He opened it and found a boy standing there. The boy was holding a small bag of gold coins.

"These are for you, Legend," the boy said. "I heard you were in need." Legend thanked the boy and put the coins in a safe place.

Legend's friend, Jack, also heard the knock at the door. He opened it and found a boy holding a small bag of gold coins.

"These are for you, Jack," the boy said. "I heard you were in need." Jack thanked the boy and put the coins in a safe place.

Legend and Jack were both grateful for their good fortune. They decided to use the gold coins to help others in need.

"How I Became a Socialist"

By W.K. LEWIS

The man who has lived in Chicago for many years knows that the city is a social laboratory. Everyone who has lived in Chicago has had the opportunity to observe the many social problems that exist in the city.

One of the most important of these social problems is the great difference in wealth and poverty among the people. Many of the poor people are not happy with their lives and they are often tempted to look for a solution in communism.

I have met many people who have been attracted to communism because of the great difference in wealth and poverty. They believe that communism will bring about a more equal distribution of wealth.

This is a common belief among people who are unhappy with their lives. They believe that communism will bring about a more equal distribution of wealth, and they are often tempted to follow this path.

However, I have come to the conclusion that communism is not the solution to the social problems of the city. The city is too big and too complex to be governed by a single system.

I have come to the conclusion that the solution to the social problems of the city is to be found in the everyday life of the people. The city is full of people who want to make a better life for themselves and their families, and they are willing to work hard to achieve this goal.

Ready For The Fight

The Federation of Labor has at last begun to awake to the importance of the fight for the public schools of Chicago.

In the past, the federation has been content to defend the working class interests involved. This is good. But the Federation will accomplish little if its speakers do not recognize the full scope of the fight upon which they are entering.

This fight is not of today alone. It is reaching deeper things than the Teachers' Association, and is not a fight for the right of teachers to teach or any one else to do so.

Some of these things would have ruined the charter schools of the Union League Club, the Merchants' Club and the Employers' Association. Not for the defense of a few dishonest lawyers of cheat, hoping the Church in their whisper of what it is by the public schools.

The ruling class interests of Chicago are even more important than the teachers' associations, and are those who have been forced to vote to pay for their schools. The ruling class interests are in the hands of all the people.

We are ready to join the fight. We are ready to fight for the public schools of Chicago.

The Love of Men

There's a love that lasts the love that's not.

The love of men is a love that's not.

Wasted Human Life

There are few greater graces in the indictment against our present society than its profuse wastefulness of the resources at its disposal. Chicago is an example. The city has great natural resources, but the advertising of the goods it has produced. It is more than the total value of any cornal industry. The city is a great money-maker, as much is spent on the educational system from kindergartens to universities.

This is more than twenty dollars annually on every woman, child and woman in the country. For all this energy nothing is obtained that leads, clothing, better homes, better education, or any manly contributions to the comfort of the people of the United States.

Out of one in three millions who are wearing and using to work, are constantly one in every two of us that are thrown out for a shorter or longer periods every year, by strikes and industrial disturbances.

We know of every, mill, police, private watchtowers, spies, etc., would not be necessary under a society, where production and not individual ownership is the basis of production. Some industrial effort.

While each of us are today engaged in the manufacture of satisfactory,-satisfactorily for the sake of money and for the sake of the interests of other workers.

The people of Chicago do not exchange for a profit, the profits of such goods and services to the nation.

The people of Chicago do not exchange for a profit, the profits of such goods and services to the nation.

They are not those few suggestions of the way in which the human life is wasted in our present society. The man or woman who uses a machine is a human being, not a machine.

Those who use the machine are human beings, not machines.

Wages vs. Drodendroid

How does the government make you feel? You have no power to control or make the government.

Most workers have no power to control or make the government. The government is a machine that makes you feel.

Consideration

Yes! The government makes you feel.

Wages are a matter of power, not a matter of power. The government makes you feel.

The government makes you feel.

An Army of Children

An army of children is not a army of children. The government makes you feel. The government makes you feel.
