

$75,000 FIRE DOWN TOWN

Fire gutted the five-story brick building at Randolph and Dearborn streets shortly before noon Thursday. The first floor was occupied by Edward Miller & Co., electrical supplies; second floor, A. J. Hussey, leaf tobacco; third floor, L. P. Sutter Bros., also tobacco; while the fourth and fifth floors were unoccupied.

CHECK BOYS AND GIRLS STRIKE

The check boys and check girls employed on the ninth floor of the Western Union building to the number of 100 struck at 9:45 o'clock this morning. The signal was given promptly and the moment the whistle sounded the boys fled down stairs and ran out into the street. The girls passed to the next floor, where they got their wraps, then joined the boys. All went over to the Omaha building, room 304, where they were addressed by Frank Oswald, Capt. J. McLaughlin, Frank Oswald, Luke Hayer and Henry Fulton of company 4 carried many to places of safety.

LIKES SPEAKS TO CHECKERS

In his talk to the check boys and girls in the Omaha building this morning Chairman Likes of the telegraphers' committee, informed them that the operators would insist that their wages be raised and that from now on they would return to work until all the check boys and girls who desire their positions back are reinstated.

BOYS AND GIRLS MAKE SPEECHES

An enthusiastic meeting was held at Brand's hall at 10:30 this morning of the striking check girls of the Western Union Telegraph company, at which plans were outlined and committees elected to formulate demands for better wages and working conditions.

CLOSED SHOP MUST COME

G. Dal Jones of the local executive board at noon today stated that some of the broker companies of this city are objecting to signing contracts providing a closed shop.

I AM THE $10 READER

This is my latest, hitherto unpublished photograph. Study this picture carefully, and when you enter the park and see me hold this paper in your hand and ask me this question: "ARE YOU A READER OF THE CHICAGO DAILY SOCIALIST?" Of course, I will not tell you I am the Ten Dollar Reader.

Now, don't think that finding me is going to be an easy task. I will play hide and seek with you all day and night until I am caught. I will enter the park about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. This is the time of day that the wigwags will arrive with the last edition of the Chicago Daily Socialist.

After this performance is over I will visit some shows on the Bowery, and then visit the "Big Otis" animal show. I will shoot the chutes several times during the day and also ride the "scenic" and roller coaster.

Now, some one is going to catch me unless I am caught during the day and will stand in the crowd for some time in front of the "Train Robbery" after supper.

GENERAL STRIKE NOW ON; COMPANIES DECEIVE

President Small Makes Walkout Official; In the Fight to Finish; 2,000,000 to Give Strike Funds

The general strike has arrived. With the coming of President S. J. Small of the Commercial Telegraphers' union to Chicago at 6:30 last evening the hoped-for happened. A general strike order calling all union telegraphers not working under a union agreement was signed by Small and sent to all commercial operators now at work.

A COMPLETE TIE-UP. This order will completely tie up the nation's telegraph business. It includes not only employees of commercial companies, but Associated Press and other news agencies, all private and leased wire operators, packing house telegraphers in all parts of the United States not having agreements.

WELCOMED BY A. P. The general strike order calling out operators employed by the Associated Press will be welcomed by telegraphers in the employ of the news agency. They have a long bill of grievances against the A. P., not least of which is a resolution rescinding a new order giving operators two weeks' vacation with pay.

INTERNATIONAL. International complications may yet result from the general strike order. Canada has a compulsory arbitration act similar to that of New Zealand. Under this law neither employer nor employee can cease the regular discharge of their duties until the disputed point has been passed upon by the government arbitration board.

William Randolph Hearst has notified the Commercial Telegraphers' union that his news service has not and does not intend to serve Associated Press papers with news.

CABLE BROKEN; ELECTRICIANS MAY STRIKE

An extremely important development in the strike situation took place at 11:30 today, when Charles Wilson and Harry Chapman, foremen in the employ of the Postal Telegraph company and members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers were discharged by Superintendent Capen for refusing to repair a cable which was broken in the vicinity of Clark and Randolph streets.

The officials of the Electrical Workers' union had issued instructions to their members to refuse to do work of this nature and declared that a strike of linemen would be declared if the companies insisted.

This cable is the main route of the Postal from Chicago to St. Louis, Kansas City, San Francisco and the entire southwest and will greatly handicap them in their attempts to handle business.

$5,000 FOR A SHAMELESS MAN

Who wants $5,000? It's stolen money. It's money originally intended to buy the honor of a man. More than that, through its use it was intended to squand labor that would have saved a little children would suffer, many thousands of dollars worth of lower wages and reduced standard of living.

SOCIETY WOMAN STUDIES LABOR

Chairman Frank Likes of the local executive board today received a letter from a leading society woman of Chicago, who is also a member of one of the wealthiest families in the city, and who, to learn the true condition of working men and women in the employ of large corporations, spent several weeks in the clerical department of the Western Union Telegraph company.

She describes the conditions at the Western Union offices as below the standard of present day civilization, and declares: "The fact is the company does not provide its employees a pig on which to hang hats (charging $1 for such accommodation is not, in my mind, providing). But thirty minutes is allowed for lunch, and in many cases the salary is so low that lunch must be carried from home. There is no room in which half a dozen can sit down in comfort."

Girls are not on picket line. G. Dal Jones, who has charge of the pickets, stated this morning that the story carried in today's American in regard to striking girls acting as pickets is so low that lunch must be carried from home.

Notice for readers. By request of striking telegraphers here we ask all of our out-of-town readers to place this copy and all future copies of this paper received during the present telegraph strike in the hands of some striking telegrapher in their city as soon after reading as possible.

WIRE MEN GET POORER; COMPANIES MAKE MILLIONS

Wages Lower Than 25 Years Ago; Work Harder; Cost of Living Higher; Operators Sink Into Poverty.

The telegraph companies and their agents are using every effort to turn public opinion against the striking operators. They declare that the men have been receiving good pay and fair treatment, and are now being misled by radical agitators.

A Veteran Talks. One of the oldest operators on the Postal lines spoke as follows: "I began work for the Western Union late in the '60s in New York city, and for three years was paid $5 a month."

New Expense. "Since 1889 I have used a typewriter which I had to provide myself. The work has increased greatly and is now 30 per cent heavier than it was twenty years ago."

A Young Man's Story. "A younger operator told the following: "I started in 1896 as a messenger at $18 a month. After two years I became a check clerk at $40 a week. My wage was gradually raised to $9 a week, which I got for two and a half years."

Low Wages. "Next I got a place at Omaha at $55, stayed for one month and then moved to Chicago to take a situation at $75 a month. Soon after, I moved to New Orleans where I was paid $75 a month. Four months after I reached New Orleans we had the strike of 1882. After the strike my wages were reduced to $70. By moving to New York I was enabled to get $75 a month for the next eight years."

He Starts. "About 1887 I started in at commercial telegraphy with a salary of $45 a month. After four years I was getting $80. But my salary was raised to that point only after a continual kicking. In 1892 I went to Omaha at $29 a week and began to use the typewriter. For family reasons I returned to Chicago in 1897 and took a place with the Western Union at $75 a month, providing my own typewriter."

Have the Names. The Daily Socialist has in its possession the names of all the above operators, who stand ready to verify the truth of their statements. These cases, which are not unusual, show how the telegraph companies have been treating their men in spite of the fact that the cost of living has been increased from 30 to 40 per cent, wages are lower than they were twenty-five years ago.

Following are published the directors and big stockholders of the telegraph companies. All are well-known millionaires. They spend millions for personal expenses each year.

- WESTERN UNION. R. H. HARRIMAN, THOMAS H. HUBBARD, JAMES H. HYDE, MORRIS K. JESUP, CHARLES LANIER, JOHN J. MITCHELL, J. FIERBENT MORGAN, RUSSELL SAGE (dead), JACOB H. SCHIFF, C. GIBNEY SHERBARD, SAMUEL SLOAN, SAMUEL SPENCER (dead), JAMES STILLMAN, JOHN T. TERRY.

- POSTAL. WILLIAM H. BAKER, E. O. BRADLEY, A. B. CHANDLER, GEORGE CLAPPERTON, JAMES W. ELSWORTH, CHARLES R. HOSMER, CLARENCE H. MACKAY, EDW. C. PLATT, SIR WM. C. VAN HORNE, GEORGE G. WARD.

RESUME B. OF T. BIZ; EVERYONE LAUGHED

When the gong sounded at the opening of the board of trade this morning eleven telegraph operators, seven at the Western Union and four at the Postal, were sitting at the wires, with no messengers to deliver the telegrams. These were probably taken away from other wires at the main offices and the wires closed because of no one to relieve them.

STRIKE NEWS BY BULLETINS. Wesley Russell gave out an official statement at noon today declaring that 95 per cent of the working forces of the Western Union, Postal and Associated-Press companies are out.

DAILY NEWS AS SCAB AGENCY. Following are two advertisements from the Daily News. One is for children to work in glass factories and the other for men to break the strike of ore diggers in Minnesota.

STOCKS TAKE A TUMBLE. (By United Press Association.) New York, Aug. 15.—Wall street interests today manifested the greatest uneasiness shown since the pending slump in stocks began. Yesterday it was predicted before the market opened that the market would receive substantial support. This failed to materialize at today's opening.

"LOYAL" A. P. AS BREAKERS OF WALKOUT. The following is an authentic list of "loyal" workers who are strike breakers at the Associated Press: John Boughan, manager, Arthur Copp, east wire editor, Claude Powell, day chief operator, Dave Grant, all-night editor, John Rushoff, foreman, Paul Loeffel, Frank Howe, Fred Danver.

Great Train Robbery tickets will be given away to all present at Riverview Friday. These tickets should be deposited at box office of show and all such tickets so deposited will give a benefit to the Daily. Be sure to have a supply before you purchase tickets of admission.

FLASHES FROM PICKET LINE

Telegraph officials are excusing their inability to furnish telegraph service by saying the railroad operators would not allow them to do anything. Yesterday the American Steel & Wire company called upon the Western Union for a wire. General Superintendent Cook replied that he could furnish no wire, as the railroad operators would not allow the wires to be worked.

STRIKE BREAKERS TO THE FAR WEST

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 16.—Thirty-five strikebreakers were at the union passenger station. They were en route from St. Louis to Denver, where they will be distributed over the Colorado and Southern railway, to replace striking brakemen and switchmen.

FLASHES FROM PICKET LINE

Everyone with experience knows that to handle a switchboard successfully requires an unusual amount of intelligence and constant attendance at the board. Even an experienced wire man would be at sea after a week's absence from this work.

Meetings will continue to be held at Brand's hall daily from 4 to 6 p. m.

A painter told yesterday how the painters won their fight for 44 cents an hour in March, while the snow was three feet deep and the strikers had not worked since the previous November.

Weiss, as has been told repeatedly in this paper, represented to Baglogh that he was an attorney, and for $25 settled Bag's claim against the railroad company, after Baglogh had been severely injured. Later, when the deception and the fact of Weiss' status became known, the Northwestern company said it would pay him $125, and he was to do as he pleased.

NEWS FROM THE TALL GRASS

A telegraph operator from Sioux City, Ia., showed up at strike headquarters early this morning and reports Sioux City about as isolated as a place could be.

Western Union, Postal and Associated Press operators are out to a man. At the Western Union, he says, there are two operators with previous experience and the attempt made in that office to break the strike almost breaks his pity for the local Sioux City officials.

He says the Postal operators late Monday night had not yet decided to strike, but after a little persuasion from him the entire force went out.

Yesterday he saw the manager of the Postal office, who had been at work for twenty-one hours without rest, and said he would soon have to quit.

This operator says the Associated Press is sending reports to its papers, though the superintendent of the Postal managers to get a very little sent on the wire occasionally when the "graduate" at the other end happens to be in his best working trim.

The owner of the Sioux City Tribune reports that it is costing him more to get enough news by telephone to make a showing than the full Associated Press report costs.
