PRESS SILENT ON BIG GRAFT
IN MILWAUKEE

Old Party Alderman Belts
Meeting When Questioned on Subject.

BY E. H. THOMAS,
Socialist State Secretary of Wisconsin,
Special Correspondence.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 6.—The smashing of the paving trust by the Milwaukee Socialist administration was the subject of debate before the West Side Neighborhood Club last week. The meeting was held in the West Side High School, and the anti-Socialist aldermen who were present were asked some hard questions.

In Awkward Position
The anti-Socialist alderman who, under the last administration had been chairman of the committee of streets and alleys, was in an especially awkward position when the discussion touched the point of where the money went that Milwaukee formerly spent for paving.

The evening under the Socialist administration, amounting to $1.05 per square yard, what became of this big graft under the former administration? This alderman thought the best way to answer this inconvenient query was to bolt the meeting with his crowd—consisting mostly of boys and newspaper reporters.

Now here is the curious part of this story. Next morning the capitalist papers reported that the "meeting broke up in a row"—and severely censured the club for unfair treatment of the bolting alderman. But they said not one word about the smashing of the paving graft!

News Is Suppressed
And yet this is one of the biggest events and one of the most interesting pieces of news that they could give the people of Milwaukee.
But to mention it would have been to give credit to the Socialists. The capitalist press would suppress the most important news rather than admit the splendid efficiency of the Milwaukee Socialist administration.
The Milwaukee City Council at its next meeting will take up the business of establishing a municipal electric lighting plant. The injunction which barred the inauguration of this much-talked-of plant is no longer in the way. Immediate steps will now be taken towards its inception.

HUGE PROTEST ON KIDNAPING

St. Louis Socialists Get Pres. Ryan to Speak at Meeting.

Special Correspondence.

St. Louis, Mo., June 6.—The Socialists of this city have arranged a protest meeting against the kidnaping of J. J. and J. W. McNamara, which will be held on June 17, the day before a similar meeting in Chicago.

Handbills Are Distributed
One hundred thousand handbills are being scattered all over the city announcing speakers. Frank M. Ryan, International president of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers; John Dryden, president of the Structural Iron Workers, local 18; J. O. Bentall, secretary of the Socialist party of Illinois; Edmund T. Melms, Socialist president of the Milwaukee city council and member of the executive board of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor; M. E. Kirkpatrick, Socialist mayor of Granite City, Ill.; George W. Boswell, Socialist alderman of Maplewood, Mo.; and Mrs. Kate Richards O'Hara.

Unions Help Out
Local labor organizations are taking hold of the project, and in addition the Central Trades and Labor Council will arrange a protest to be held later.

Funds have been sent from this city for the defense of the accused iron workers.

ASK TRAINMEN TO GIVE REASONS FOR NOT STRIKING

Special Correspondence.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 6.—The strikers' grievance committee of the shopmen of the Pennsylvania Railroad has issued a challenge for a debate as to why the trainmen should not go on strike to aid the transportation department employees at Pittsburg and other shops in the Pittsburg district.

This marks the widening of the breach between the trainmen and the American Federation of Labor. The striking shopmen are quiet and peaceable. The trainmen so far have refused to join the strike as a body, although here and there one has walked out.

SCARLET FEVER ATTACKS TOTS; CITY IN DELAY

Council Grants Free Water for Army Display; Children Wait.

Efforts of the Chicago Association of Commerce to have city funds expended for the benefit of the military display to be held on the lake front July 23 to 30 met with favor at the meeting of the city council when a request was granted for free garbage removal from the proposed lake front camp. Free water facilities were also granted and the use of a fire engine was promised to keep the depressed portion of the arena free from rain water.

Sick Children Wait
This action was approved just before Alderman Jacob Hey stated that there is an epidemic of scarlet fever among the children in the congested districts and that there is a "scarlet fever waiting list" at the county hospital.

The matter was referred to the finance committee, with instructions to see if funds for a hospital to care for such children could be obtained. Alderman Emerson's motion that the city inspect and supervise private bathing beaches along the lake shore so that accidents to swimmers could be prevented was lost.

Alderman Has Joke
Alderman Melzerney solemnly moved that "it be referred to the insane asylum committee."

An attack on the automatic telephone service was launched when Alderman Long's resolution for an investigation of the Illinois Tunnel company to see if it had the required 20,000 telephone subscribers before June 1 of this year. If it is found not to have had such a number, as required by its ordinance, its franchise will be forfeited. Long wants to consolidate it with the Chicago Telephone company. The investigation was referred to the gas, oil and electric light committee.

Gets Money From Oil
The first report to be made by an oil inspector was made to the council by James Quinn, who reported a little over $3,000 due the city and collected by his office as fees and turned over to the city.

Heretofore the oil inspector has retained such fees.
In that office Bobby Bourke became famous.

Probe Arnold Payments
On a motion by Alderman Carr, the city comptroller was instructed to investigate the payment to Bion J. Arnold, city subway engineer, of large sums of money outside of his regular salary, which runs $37,000 a year for his services on the board of supervising traction engineers.

Two amendments relative to the carrying of baggage on taxi cabs were presented, but the consideration of the whole ordinance was postponed till the next meeting, which was set for June 19.

FOX TO SPEAK
William M. Fox will address the Fellowship Club of the Third Unitarian church, Kedzie avenue and Monroe street, on "The Ethics of Economics."

Unions Help Out
Local labor organizations are taking hold of the project, and in addition the Central Trades and Labor Council will arrange a protest to be held later.

Funds have been sent from this city for the defense of the accused iron workers.

THREE DEMANDS UP TO PUBLIC

Public Servants Also Will Be Met With Needs of Unemployed.

"Our next move here in the city of Chicago," said Chairman William Kent of the Conference for Unemployment today, "is to get at our public servants and at the general public simultaneously with three initial demands, provided that we first get the necessary number of individuals and organizations to give this unemployed movement the moral and financial backing it absolutely needs."

Three Demands
"The three demands we shall make upon our public servants in city, state and nation are:

1. The immediate taking of a census of the unemployed and of the partly employed.
2. Providing immediate measures of relief for the at present unemployed men and women.
3. Taking precautionary measures to provide work for the tens of thousands of people that will be thrown out of their jobs in Chicago and elsewhere next winter.

Won't Suppress News
"Let us once get into the position to make these demands, and we will make them in such a way that even our 'friends' in the capitalist press will not be able to suppress the news of this movement."

HOPE FOR RESCUE OF AVIATOR ABANDONED

By United Press.
Nice, France, June 6.—Hope for the rescue of Lieutenant Bague, the army aviator who probably fell into the sea while attempting to fly from this city to the island of Corsica, was practically abandoned today when the six torpedo boats that have been searching for him reported that they had found no trace of man or machine.

ERICSON TALKS ON CAR SUBWAY

Single Level Bore and Elevated Lines Favored by Engineer.

A plan for transportation in Chicago, radically different in many points from anything so far presented to the council committee on local transportation, was laid before that body yesterday by City Engineer John Ericson.

What Ericson Wants
The Ericson scheme provides for subways of the single deck type, double deck at intersections of east and west with north and south lines for the congested districts. Outside of such districts the plan provides for elevated roads built of steel and concrete as cheaper than subway construction.

Ericson displayed some bitterness, because after five months spent by the subway bureau under his direction, and after a study of underground Chicago, in which six thousand maps were drawn, the actual planning of a subway system was turned over to Bion J. Arnold.

Arnold Makes Plans
Arnold, it will be recalled, was the first man to be called before the council committee for the initial hearing of the present series.

For the reason given, Ericson has no finished and detailed plans for an entire subway system which could be developed step by step from a nucleus built in the present congested business section.

Ericson discussed mainly the $31,000,000 subway report printed in 1906, when it could be used to help Milton J. Foreman, then chairman of the transportation committee, coming up for re-election to the council.

Report Is Exhaustive
Ericson explained that the report covered every block in the territory between Wabash avenue and Halsted street, Chicago avenue and 23d street, including 410 blocks.

Water, gas, sewer, telephone, electric light and similar utility maps were made of each block. Then a map for each utility of the whole section was made.

Over six thousand maps, carefully drawn to scale, were prepared before the report was ready.

Utilities Cared For
Ericson declared that his plan allows for a four-track subway on wide streets. Such a subway to be on one level with public utility galleries below the level of the bore for the cars. Under the Arnold plan such galleries are at the sides of the car bore, in the Jackson plan, above space allotted for running cars. Ericson's initial subway plan involved a north and south subway between Chicago avenue and 33d street to cost $12,100,000. The same construction built only as far south as 15th street would cost, he said, $9,300,000.

Gives Detailed Cost
He submitted detailed figures for the cost of various kinds of excavation per square yard and figures for construction cost by the same unit of space. An east and west subway was planned, he said, could be built concurrently with that north and south.

FALL IN LINE!

SPIES INFEST LABOR UNIONS

Attack on Pacific Coast Workers Shown in Latest Arrests.

Special Correspondence.

Los Angeles, June 6.—Convinced that the labor unions of the coast have been filled with spies with a view to a series of alleged disclosures of crimes which should be used as the basis of a campaign to destroy the organizations, local labor men have retained counsel to defend Connors, Maple and Bender, accused of having placed dynamite under the Hall of Records.

Oall Parks Informer
Parks, a man who has "confessed," "implicating" the men under arrest, is looked on by the labor men as the employee of a detective agency, planted in the union to create trouble.

Attorney Job Harriman, Socialist candidate for mayor of this city, has been retained to defend the accused men, who are likely to be brought to trial before the McNamara brothers.

The trial of the McNamaras has been delayed because of the continuance which the defense procured until July 6 when the plea of not guilty will be entered and motions argued to quash the indictments against them.

Two Cases Separate
The Hall of Records case will be kept distinct from the Times case, but the same lawyers interested in the McNamara defense will take part in preparing the case which Harriman will defend.

George Gurney, a trustee of the iron workers and secretary of the strike committee in this city, has taken charge of the fund which will be used to defend the men accused in the Hall of Records case.

It is not too much to ask the public to suspend judgment until the courts have heard the evidence and the verdict has been rendered," said Gurney in discussing the case.

MILWAUKEE TAKES UP PROBLEM OF SANE FOURTH

Milwaukee, Wis., June 6.—A permanent organization for the promotion of a sane Fourth of July celebration was formed at a meeting of representatives of civic organizations.

Socialist Alderman E. T. Melms, president of the city council, was elected president of the permanent organization and told of the possibilities of a sane Fourth in a brief talk.

"In some cities," he said, "thousands of persons have been brought down town to witness parades and other forms of celebration, and it has resulted in a congestion of the downtown streets."

"Our purpose, in conforming with the practice in vogue in many other cities, is to attract the people into parks in the neighborhood of their own homes. Thus we would have 150,000 people in the ten or twelve larger parks and a smaller number in the breathing spots, more limited in area."

NEW SOCIALIST MAJOR AT DEXTER, KANSAS

Dexter, Kan., June 6.—Dexter has a Socialist mayor, not by election, but by the fact that the man elected a few months ago has become converted to Socialist principles, and has followed up his convictions by becoming a member of the Dexter local.

TURKS DEMAND $75,000 RANSOM FOR RICHTER

By United Press.
Salonika, June 6.—A $75,000 ransom was demanded today by the Turkish bandits who last week kidnaped Prof. Richter, the German explorer, and are now holding him on Mount Olympus, on the Thessaly border.

With the demand came a letter written by Richter, in which he implores either the Turkish government or his friends to meet the bandits' demands.

FIVE THOUSAND MEN GO ON STRIKE AT VANCOUVER

"LAME DUCK" CLUB

James McLachlan.

James McLachlan, former congressman from the Los Angeles (California) district, a complaisant tool of Speaker Cannon, political tool of the Southern Pacific railroad, finally repudiated by his constituents, is now rewarded with appointment to the monetary commission at a salary of $7,500 a year with nothing to do.

RODRIGUEZ UP FOR SECRETARY

Interest in the election being held by the union painters of Chicago for secretary-treasurer and business agents for the coming year centers in the contest for the former position.

The candidates for that office are William E. Rodriguez, local 180; James Root, local 147; August Olson, local 87; and Gabriel Hanson, local 101.

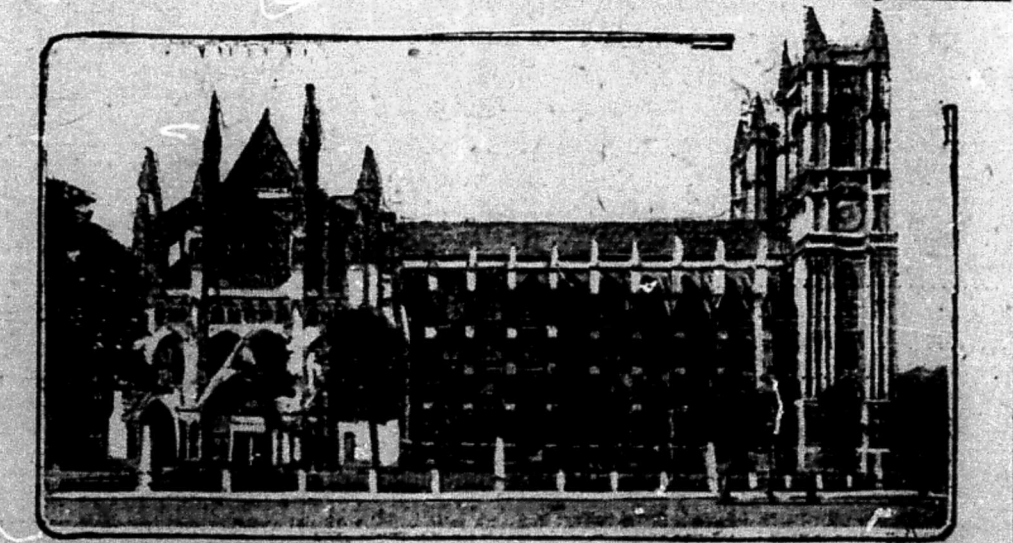

Rodriguez is well known to the union painters of Chicago, having served as a business agent of the district council for the past year and being a delegate to the Chicago Federation of Labor.

He has a clean record in the labor movement in Chicago, in which he has been active for several years.
Friday locals 23 and 54 will hold elections on Saturday and Sunday, locals 180, 27, 87, 194 and 521 will cast their ballots.

Considering the above facts, is this the time to let The Daily Socialist die?

THE HOME OF "THE DAILY"

207 West Washington Street.

The Chicago Daily Socialist was born October 25, 1906, and for a time was edited and set up in the "loop" district and printed in a shop on the North Side, nearly a mile distant.

It is the first Socialist daily newspaper to be published in the English language. Previous to October 25, 1906, it was published as a weekly.

After nearly five years of effort it has established a plant at 207 West Washington-street, which as a going concern is conservatively worth $100,000.

The building which it occupies is situated in the downtown district of Chicago. Hundreds of thousands of people pass it daily. The Madison street and Milwaukee avenue cars, carrying thousands of workers back and forth from their daily toil, pass the doors.

It is situated in the favorable newspaper district, a short distance from all of the railway depots and the postoffice.

The building, with its various activities, is similar to those maintained by the Socialists in nearly every European city of 100,000 inhabitants or over.

No Socialist in Denmark, Germany, Sweden, Norway, Austria, Bohemia or the other countries of Europe would allow his paper to be jeopardized for the want of $10,000, which, including the picnic receipts, must be in the treasury of the paper before June 19 if the paper is to continue.

STATEMENT OF OBLIGATIONS REQUIRING IMMEDIATE SETTLEMENT.

These debts must be met over and above current expenses within two weeks:

Wages . . . . .	$ 1,331.00
Paper bills now due . . . . .	1,557.00
Rent . . . . .	4,166.00
Gas and electricity . . . . .	423.00
News service . . . . .	560.00
Miscellaneous bills and notes . . . . .	2,500.00
	$10,537.00

The present stringency is caused by the failure of the realization of the $25,000 fund which was launched to save the paper.

Obligations which it was expected would be more than covered by the receipts from that fund are now pressing and must be met.

The loan of $10,000 which J. O. Bentall expected to procure for the paper fell through, due to circumstances beyond his control.

The Situation in a Nutshell

The Chicago Daily Socialist, caught by obligations which it cannot meet from its own ordinary income, will be forced to suspend publication unless its friends come to its aid.

One thousand dollars in cash, delivered into the Daily Socialist office before 10 o'clock (banking hour) tomorrow morning, will enable us to go on for a few days, but about $10,000 additional will be needed within the next two weeks to prevent the immediate recurrence of an acute crisis.

This situation is the outgrowth of the failure of our friends to respond to our call for $25,000. Less than $5,000 in actual cash was received under that call. These contributions, spread over a period of five months, were little more than enough to meet the ordinary deficit.

The ten thousand dollar loan which J. O. Bentall expected to make fell through, due to circumstances beyond his control.

The result is that we are confronted with the necessity of meeting, not only the current deficiency of about $1,000 per month, but an accumulation of old debts in addition.

Chief among these claims is that of the landlord, who has been exceedingly lenient with us, so much so that he has allowed us to become indebted to him in the course of four years to the extent of $4,166, though our rent, deducting what we receive from sub-tenants, amounts to only $160 per month—a very low rental, considering the fact that we are located within one block from the Chicago City Hall and Cook County Court House.

This is not a begging appeal. The Daily Socialist is your paper. YOU are the OWNERS, and it is up to you to finance the paper or discontinue it.

Before you make your decision read the figures printed above, which show the monthly deficit has decreased from $3,605, the average for the first business year, to $1,000, the average for the present year, and that with a paper enlarged from a four-page issue daily to six and eight pages. Also consider in that connection that our circulation shows a net increase of 75 per cent during the last eight months, and that our advertising receipts on an average run at least 25 per cent higher than last year.

Weigh well the fact that if the Daily Socialist is put out of business now, it will take a HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS to resurrect it, and that even will probably have to run for years until a deficit heavier than the one it is running under now before it is really on its feet.

And what a consolation it would be to our capitalist friends to see the Daily Socialist go out of business.

Again consider the figures printed above, and notice that we are now receiving every month about $10,000 in due course of business, and that we are within TEN PER CENT of receiving all that we need to pay current expenses.

Are the Socialists of the Great American West and of Chicago going to be QUITTERS WITHIN EASY REACH OF THE GOAL?

Are they going to let their property go to ruin when it is approaching a paying basis?

At least 100,000 of our readers are able to contribute to the maintenance of the paper.

Are they going to abandon their efforts on the eve of the greatest presidential campaign they have ever fought—with the party membership more than double of what it was when the paper started?

Will this call be the last one if it is met in full?

Hardly, unless the membership rallies with more vigor, especially in Chicago, and systematically organizes a perpetual subscription campaign and at once joins in the efforts of the Sustainers' League in the direction of a permanent sustaining fund. The Board of Directors cannot be expected to perform the trick of meeting expenses with an article which it has to sell below the cost of production.

The paper has its faults—it is to be expected when its financial efforts are tied and tangled through the inability to hire the expensive editorial help that is procured on other papers, BUT YOU MUST ADMIT THAT IT HAS IMPROVED CONSIDERABLY SINCE THE FIRST OF THE YEAR. The gain in city and country circulation proves that.

It could and should be better—but remember that you will not have a chance to improve the paper if you let it go down.

Our FIRST duty in the present exigency is to keep the paper going.

This is what must be done:

BY 12 O'CLOCK TONIGHT EVERY SOCIALIST IS EXPECTED TO BRING OR MAIL A CONTRIBUTION OF ONE DOLLAR OR MORE TO THE OFFICE OF THE CHICAGO DAILY SOCIALIST, 207 W. WASHINGTON STREET.

If your contribution does not reach us by the first mail tomorrow morning YOU will know why you do not get the Daily Socialist tomorrow evening.

When you walk by the news-stand, or when you ask your wife for the paper, or when the children ask to see Osgar und Adolf, you will know who is to blame.

When the capitalist newspaper trust of Chicago flaunts its lies on labor and Socialism from every news-stand and no Daily Socialist is there to defend our cause, YOU WILL KNOW WHO IS OR IS NOT TO BLAME.

If you are actually without a dollar, go out and borrow one (some of the employes of the Daily Socialist have had to do it for weeks).

IT IS THE COMRADES WHO PUT THINGS OFF WHO WILL BE RESPONSIBLE FOR THIS FAILURE IF THE DAILY SOCIALIST DOES NOT RESUME PUBLICATION.

The office will be open until after midnight.

If the others don't come across it won't be your fault that the paper goes down! If they don't contribute it will be the last YOU will be called upon to make.

You know the value of the paper. There is no need to discuss the work it HAS DONE or CAN DO. ACTION is what is needed, and every Socialist should be stirred by this situation as never before.

Every Thin Man and Woman Here

EVERY PERSON IN CHICAGO AND VICINITY TO GET FAT AT OUR EXPENSE.

This is an invitation that no thin man or woman can afford to ignore. We'll tell you why. We are going to give you a wonderful discovery that helps digest the foods you eat, that puts good, solid flesh on people who are thin and underweight, no matter what the cause may be. It makes brain in five hours and blood in four—that puts the red corpuscles in the blood which carry the life-giving oxygen to every cell of your body. How can we do this? We will tell you. Science has discovered a remarkable concentrated treatment which increases cell growth, the very substance of which our bodies are made—a treatment that makes indigestion and other stomach troubles disappear as if by magic and makes an old dyspeptic or a sufferer from weak nerves or lack of vitality feel like a two-year-old. This new treatment, which has proved a boon to every thin person, is called Sargol. Don't forget the name—SARGOL. Nothing like it has ever been produced before. It is a revelation to women who have never been able to appear stylish in anything they wore because of their thinness. It is a godsend to every man who is under weight or is lacking in nerve force or energy. If you want a beautiful and well-rounded figure of symmetrical proportions, of which you can feel justly proud—if you want a body full of throbbing life and energy, write The Sargol Company, 220-J Herald Bldg., Binghamton, N. Y. today and we will send you absolutely free, a 50c box of Sargol that will prove all we claim. Take one with every meal, and in five minutes after you take the first concentrated tablet of this precious product it will commence to unfold its virtues and it has by actual demonstration, increased the weight at the rate of one pound a day. REV. GEORGE W. DAVIS says:
"I have made a faithful trial of the Sargol tablets and must say it has done for me new life and vigor. I have gained twenty pounds and now weigh 170—and what is better, I have gained ten days of my boyhood. It is the turning point of my life. My health is now fine. I don't want to take any medicine at all and never want to again."

MRS. A. L. HENDENHEISER writes:
"I have gained immensely since I took Sargol, for I only weighed about 100 pounds when I began using it and now I weigh 130 pounds. So really this makes twenty-four pounds. I feel stronger and am looking better than ever before, and now I carry rosy cheeks, which is something I could never say before."

CLAY JOHNSON says:
"Please send me another ten-day treatment. I am well pleased with Sargol. It has been the light of my life. I am getting back to my proper weight again. When I began to take Sargol I only weighed 135 pounds and now, four weeks later, I am weighing 155 pounds and feel like a new man. I don't have that stupid feeling every morning that I used to have. I feel good all the time. I want to put on about five pounds of flesh and that will be all I want."

F. GAGNON writes:
"Here is my report since taking the Sargol treatment. I am a man 47 years of age and was all run down to the very bottom. I had to quit work, as I was no longer able to do anything and was not able to eat. I gained 22 pounds with 28 days' treatment. I cannot tell you how happy I feel. All my clothes are getting too tight. My face has a good color and I never was so happy in my life."

MRS. VERNIE ROUSE says:
"Sargol is certainly the grandest treatment I ever used. It has helped me greatly. I could hardly get anything and was not able to sit up three days out of a week with head and stomach trouble. I took only two boxes of Sargol and was able to eat and it didn't hurt me, and I have no more headache. My weight was 120 pounds and now weighs 140 and feel better than I have for five years. I am now as fresh as I want to be and shall certainly recommend Sargol, for it does just exactly what you say it will do."

Los Angeles bakers are winning their battle for shorter hours. On May 1 a demand was made for a reduction of hours of labor. A nine-hour day was the stand taken by the men, and nearly every bakery of importance has signed the agreement. A strike is on in the shop of the Meek Baking company and one other large establishment. Socialists of Los Angeles and vicinity are exerting every effort to assist the strikers and their work among the grocers is hourly having a good effect in bringing the employers to time.

Over a thousand carpenters went on strike in Los Angeles May 1 demanding $4 a day, the minimum scale in other cities on the Pacific coast. The strike has proved successful and all except about 150 men have returned to work at the increased schedule.

An amended vestibule bill providing for extension of protection to both mormen and conductors and for summer protection to mormen passed by the Ohio legislative was vetoed by Governor Judson Harmon.

In Memory of My Friend, Henry E. Allen

WILLIAM E. CLARK.

(From an address at his funeral.) Our philosophy teaches us that death is as necessary to life as birth, and, when properly understood, maybe we will call it beautiful and good. We know it must come.

That takes away part of the sting; but no matter how all-inclusive our thought of things may be, the hour of parting is a time of sorrow.

Since the flower of love first blossomed in the human heart the day of separation from those we love has seen our cheeks bathed in tears.

So when we come to this hour, no matter what our thoughts of the future may be, there is formed within our hearts an aching void which only love can fill.

Man began to invent tools—simple, rude and uncouth at first, but still they gave him a tremendous advantage.

With the general development of the race the personal element became more and more marked. The stoniest man seized the best tools, the best hut, and held them as his own.

Man saw that to own tools, houses, lands, mines, education, knowledge, was to be powerful—means freedom from want and the fear of it.

Man is no longer ignorant, he is no longer helpless, he is no longer alone. The instinct to seize and hold, personally, which grew into the "mania of owning things," has served its purpose.

look into the silent chamber and begin to treasure all the pleasant moments given to us by the dear one who is dead.

It is a mother who has answered the august command of death, we gaze upon her sweet and placid face and think of all the kind and tender words and deeds she said and did.

Or if it is a father whose body must be returned to the primal elements, because it has grown tired and laid down to rest and rise no more, we cherish all he said and did for us or for the country in which he lived and died.

And as the relatives and friends of Henry E. Allen gather round the quiet form of this once active man, each will cherish in his memory some word or deed that could only come from him.

To me, his was one of the rare spirits whose friendships make life worth while. Realizing that we pass this way but once, he wanted to leave every thing touched a little better than it was when he found it.

And yet, as soon as the first echo of the dreadful shock has spent itself, we "worker" is only a "hired hand" and will not do his best.

What retards human advancement? Undue respect for the established order. In every age and nation of the world there have always been a party of progress and a party of order.

was constant. He did not believe it necessary to wait until the sun had reached high noon in the co-operative commonwealth before learning to speak kindly of a fellow being whose mind did not act precisely as his own.

He had rounded out almost three-score years; and had he been interested wholly in himself, he might have finished out another score and ten.

Possessed of an active, clear thinking mind, he might have become a capitalist, and certainly could have acquired sufficient wealth to inspire columns of eulogy in the daily press.

And as we gather here to bid him a last goodbye, it seems out of place to recount the material activities by which he acquired some of the world's wealth.

Speaking for myself, I want to remember his quiet, unassuming manner; his unobtrusive perseverance in the quest of a sane economic basis of society; his relentless war against what he considered wrong; and his sweet-tempered nature that would not let him become vindictive or abusive in the waging of that war.

Before closing, let me say that I have one deep regret: I never told Comrade Allen how much he had helped me by the manner and spirit of what he said and did. We are inclined to be selfish. We will accept benefits from others and never think of acknowledging the source of that help.

We are the products of a sordid social system, but here and there a spirit like his will cast a ray of sunshine that grows in magnitude as the years roll on, but which can only find full fruition in the co-operative commonwealth for which he lived.

Although his unassuming lips are now forever dumb, yet the message of his life is a part of the eternal forces that are working in the lives of men.

We say one word to Mother Nature: We do not know all thy secrets, but we are only here to consign to thee the body of our dear comrade. We claim his spirit as our own; and when we follow him, let the silent halls of death, our own spirits, inspired by his, will be left with those we love and thus we, too, will live on to bless the world.

The Telegraphers Getting Wise

BY J. O. BENTALL.

The eighteenth regular and eighth biennial session of the Grand Division of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers took place in Toronto recently.

There were 356 regular delegates registered. Of these, at least one hundred were Socialists.

At the session two years ago there were less than a dozen Socialists.

The meeting two years from now will be at Baltimore. If the Socialists increase as fast as they have done during the last year or two there will be less than a dozen non-Socialists at that session.

The fact is that the telegraphers are getting wise. They take too many messages over the wires to remain in ignorance of the system.

Socialism is spreading among the rank and file. The boys at the keys are wide awake and alert. Their duties require that they be fairly intelligent and therein lies the secret.

The worker who is compelled to be intelligent is the greatest menace to capitalism. Only the ignorant hang back.

The boys at the keys are forging ahead in spite of the opposition of the leaders in their union. For, as in almost all other labor organizations, some of the leaders try to help the bosses keep the men from getting next.

Now these leaders are getting into a bad trap. They must either move forward with the men toward Socialism or be thrown out on the scrapheap of the has-beens in labor circles.

The telegraphers are about ready to make their officials move forward or move out. And, as a matter of fact, they are moving forward.

The president of the order is friendly toward Socialism and will within a short time come out in open advocacy of it.

The time seems to be past when organized labor can walk in a presentable manner on one fairly good leg, with the other made of decaying basswood.

The telegraphers are showing good sense. Are the printers and carpenters and shoeworkers and coal diggers and railroad men and other organized workers going to follow or lag far behind?

Step lively or you'll get lost.

The author of this volume has given us nothing new or vital. He approaches the subject from the standpoint of the reformer, and not with the idea of doing away with child labor entirely.

He asks: "Why should these children work? We are already creating enough wealth for all."

As with the case of most reformers, the writer has either overlooked or ignored the real causes of child labor.

His strongest plea is made for the use of the maturity test rather than the age limit in passing laws regulating child labor.

The author says: "With the development of modern machinery the nation piles up year by year a greater and greater mass of wealth in the form of social surplus."

Instead of going to those who produce it, this surplus goes to the owners of mills and factories, so that the working class receives no benefit from the advances that civilization has made.

The author gives very few statistics in regard to child labor, but devotes considerable space to quoting scattered portions of the book.

"The Coming, Last and Most Terrible War—117" By W. Lee Needham. Published by the author at 208 Chestnut street, Chicago, Ill. Paper, eight pages. Price 10 cents.

Comrade Needham has prepared an interesting bit of propaganda in this little pamphlet. While many will not agree with his picture of the future, all will unite on the merits of the song and music, "Song of the Brotherhood of Man," which is contained in the little booklet.

From a Socialist Leader H. M. Hyndman, the veteran British Socialist, is preparing a volume of reminiscences. It deals with Mr. Hyndman's career down to 1890 or thereabouts, and has something to say about Italy, France, Australia, Polynesia, and a good deal about Socialism.

The "United States Constitution," by John W. Slayton. Published by the author, Box 173, McKeesport, Pa. Paper, 64 pages. One to ten copies, 10 cents each.

Colonel at regimental races (enterprising some farmers)—Well, what will you all have?

Spokesman—There'll be three whiskeys, yer honor, and the other two's tay-to-ways; they'll just be takin' a shot of wine—Punch.

The dear old lady again Mrs. Kowler—I suppose, Mrs. Blunderly, you see quite a good deal of your new neighbor.

Mrs. Blunderly—Oh, yes, indeed. I find her very convivial company.—Boston Transcript.

In black and white "I believe that competition is doomed. The trust, whose single object is to abolish competition, has proved that we are better without than with it."

At the moment corporations control the supply of any product they combine. What the Socialist desires is that the corporation of humanity should control all production.

Beloved comrades, this is the frictionless way; it is the higher way; it eliminates the motives for a selfish life; it enacts into our every-day living the ethics of Christ's gospel.

Nothing else will do it; nothing else can bring the glad day of universal brotherhood.

What I were young again, and it would have my life! It is God's way out of the wilderness and into the promised land. It is the very marrow of Christ's gospel. It is a Christianity applied."

"The Fight Will Still Go On"

The Socialist press is very much pleased over the recent decision of the Supreme Court. Socialists declare that it is another demonstration of their doctrine of "economic determinism."

They declare that competition cannot be restored and they are supported by many papers that are not Socialistic. The statement in the Chicago Socialist is:

"Economic conditions demanded a broader scope than the Populists of 1890 gave the law, and the Supreme Court bends to the law of 'economic determinism.'"

The Chicago Tribune says: "Whoever view is right, the law of economic tendency has been working in silent, majestic indifference to laws and lawmakers."

Combination and concentration have gone forward, and the transformation which was viewed with such alarm in the late eighties has been completed."

The London Pall Mall Gazette says: "The forces of concentration and alliance are irresistible, and the practical question is how they may be used for the public benefit."

Many more such statements can be found in newspapers of this class, but if they are harboring the thought that the men who began the fight against monopoly twenty years ago are going to give up the fight they are very badly mistaken.

The vast revenues were swallowed up in vaster expenses. The hired superintendent is not the equal of the man who manages his own business.

The interested individual is superior to the corporation manager. The theory of the massing of capital does not work out in practice to lower prices.

The fight against the concentration of wealth in a few hands will go on. Although monopolists and the Socialists may unite their forces, that gives no assurance that individual initiative and competition will be destroyed.

Private monopoly is only a transition from private competition to collective ownership of the means of production.

The World-Herald is right in saying, "The interested individual is superior to the corporation manager," but under private ownership, even if chipped up into innumerable concerns, the Socialism and private monopoly are diametrically opposed. Socialists have been able to predict the course of events because they understand the law of economic determinism, but that does not bind them to stop at the present incoherent condition of things.

FRANCIS WILLARD AND SOCIALISM.

In an editorial in the Daily a short time ago we read the following lines: "Men and women drink not because they are 'bad,' but because they are driven to it by circumstances which they cannot successfully resist."

Quite frequently Miss Willard is misquoted regarding an utterance concerning poverty and intemperance. I here record what she really did say on this subject:

"Much criticism has been expended on me for declaring in my third biennial address before the World's W. C. T. U. in June last, that as temperance people we had been in error in not recognizing the relation of poverty to intemperance, and because I stated that, while from the first I had maintained that intemperance caused poverty, I was now ready not only to reiterate that cardinal doctrine, but to add that poverty causes intemperance. By that declaration I am ready to stand or fall. It is an axiom and will be admitted by every reasonable person; as temperance people we have not been in the habit of saying it, but everybody knows it is true. I did not say that poverty causes intemperance in the same degree that intemperance causes poverty; nor do I think it does, but as we have not been wont to recognize poverty as one among the procuring causes of intemperance, it seems to me high time that we did so."

Furthermore, Mrs. Stevens in a letter to me commenting on Miss Willard's attitude towards temperance writes: "To the end of her great life on earth Frances Willard was a strong advocate of total abstinence and prohibition."

We see then that this great woman realized true her convictions, her life work was not a failure.

The temperance people were the first ones to acknowledge that "men and women do not drink because they are 'bad.'"

They know that they drink because Society keeps up and legalizes the custom of drinking poisonous beverages, and because the constant use of these beverages injures the cell system of the human body and like all other poisons produces a continual craving for more.

Therefore, their judgment does not fall on the victims of drink, but on a society that submits to a traffic that is so destructive to the human race. —MARIE RUUD.

We quite agree with the writer of the foregoing, where she states in the last paragraph that judgement should not "fall on the victims of drink, but on a society that submits to a traffic that is so destructive to the human race."

It is in answer to her criticism that we have misquoted or misquoted Miss Willard's words, we publish the following, taken from her address at the National W. C. T. U. convention at Buffalo in 1897.

"Look about you; the products of labor are on every hand; you could not maintain for a moment a well-ordered life without them; every object in your room has in it, for discerning eyes, the mark of ingenious tools and the pressure of labor's hands. But is it not the cruellest injustice for the wealthy, whose lives are surrounded and embellished by labor's work, to have a superabundance of the money which represents the aggregate of labor in any country, while the laborer himself is kept so steady at work that he has no time to acquire the education and refinements of life that would make him and his family agreeable companions to the rich and cultured? The reason why I am a Socialist comes in just here:

"I would take, not by force, but by the slow process of lawful acquisition through better legislation as the outcome of a wiser ballot in the hands of men and women, the entire plant that we call civilization, all that has been achieved on this continent in the four hundred years since Columbus wended his way thither and made it the common property of all the people, regulating all to work enough with their hands to give them the finest physical development, but not to become burdensome in any case, and permitting all to share alike the advantages of education and refinement. I believe this to be perfectly practical, indeed, that any other method is simply a relic of barbarism."

"I believe that competition is doomed. The trust, whose single object is to abolish competition, has proved that we are better without than with it, and the moment corporations control the supply of any product they combine. What the Socialist desires is that the corporation of humanity should control all production. Beloved comrades, this is the frictionless way; it is the higher way; it eliminates the motives for a selfish life; it enacts into our every-day living the ethics of Christ's gospel. The Mania for Owning Things

There was a time when man was naked, unarmed, without tools. He was helpless in a world of which he knew nothing. The cold froze him and the heat scorched him.

Want and fear were man's constant companions for ages. Want and fear are the creatures of ignorance and man was ignorant, inconceivably ignorant and weak.

Slowly man learned many things. He learned how to fight together, hunt together, live together and work together. The first trust was formed in those dim, pre-historic days among the wild ancestors of modern man.

Man began to invent tools—simple, rude and uncouth at first, but still they gave him a tremendous advantage. He built huts and stockades, protection against climate, wild animals and other wild men.

With the general development of the race the personal element became more and more marked. The stoniest man seized the best tools, the best hut, and held them as his own.

Individualism became the incentive of development, the spur of progress. The age of great men and great women had dawned. They sprang from soil enriched by the sweat and blood of the masses who served and toiled and fought for their superiors.

Man saw that to own tools, houses, lands, mines, education, knowledge, was to be powerful—means freedom from want and the fear of it.
