CAPITAL VS. LABOR ISSUE IN M'NAMARA TRIAL

SAYS OTIS HELPS MAKE SOCIALISTS

Prof. Hoxie of Chicago University Analyzes Party's Successes.

SOME REASONS

"It is the Otises, the Pests and the Carrys, the Van Cleaves and the Kirbys who are most active in raising revolutionary Socialism in this country.
"It is in the boss-ruled, corporation-ridden, tax-burdened city, with its poorly paved, ill-lighted, dirty streets, its insufficient water supply and air-filled gas mains, its industrial firetraps, its graft-protected vice district, its fat politicians, untaxed wealth, crooked contracts and wasted resources that Socialism finds its best object lessons and has wen its most significant, if not its most numerous successes.

has wen its most significant, if not its most numerous successes.

"The average Socialist recruit begins as a theoretical impossibilist and develops gradually into a constructive opportunist. It is the same with the movement. These Socialist successes in general are, therefore, a training school of constructive democracy."

Such, in summary, are the reason which Professor Robert R. Hoxie, members of the economics department of the University of Chicago, gives in the current number of The Journal of Political Economy for the "Rising Tide of Socialism."

Conclusions Reached As the result of research which in volved the sending of set questions to men of all political creeds in cities towns and villages where Socialists have been elected to office, Hoxie con cluded that:

There are 435 Socialists in public of fice in the United States. They come from thirty-three states and 160 municipalities.

Pure and simple doctrinaire Socialism presented as the campaign issue won in the small communities, especially those strongly rural in which Socialists were the small communities, especially those strongly rural in which Socialists were elected.

Intense struggles between capital and abor and the the attitude of the Socialist party on the side of labor was a big factor in larger cities.

Municipal corruption practiced by both parties turned a large sympathetic vote to the Socialist candiates.

Greatest Successes

The greatest successes were won where the Socialists, using their philosophy as an ultimate thing, tackled the local problems and convinced the voters of their honesty and competence. Domination of citles by corporations, especially where one great mining or public utility corporation dominated the team or city, and people searchly the town or city, and people generally knew about it, had an important bear-

No one general explanation which will fit all the Socialist victories can he made.

The minors' unions showed a strong Socialist tendency in the west.

In cities like Flint and Milwaukee. Butte and Granite City, union labor support was a big factor.

Gives Detailed Discussion

These general conclusions are reached after a detailed discussion of the lo-calities in which Socialists have been elected to effice. Some according to Hoxie's analysis, have been elected through more or less lucky accident. Others, according to his notion, have been elected because of a sporadic pro-test. Still others have been elected as the result of strong party organization built up through a series of years. The middle west and thence to the Rockies, Hozie regards as the present stronghold of Socialism, so far as he admits that such a thing exists. He as-serts that the position of Socialism as a big political factor has not yet been attained, but that there is strong promattained, but that ise that it will be.

Aid the Toller

He points out that Socialists in office have worked to remove the burden of taxation from the poor man, who has borne an excessive burden, and shift that burden to untaxed or undertaxed property of the wealthy.

Having been informed that the term of office of Winfield R. Gaylord, as state senator from Wisconsin, expires before the next session of the legisla-ture, Hoxie gives the number of So-icalists in office as follows:

Socialists in Office

Congressman, 1: state senator, 1; state representatives, 16; mayors, etc., 25; city commissioners, 3; aldermen, etc., 167; city and township clerks, 11; recorders, 2; city, village and township treasurers, 11; comptrollers, 2; city and district attempts, 4; secondary, 12; list. transurers, 11; comptrollers, 2; city and district attorneys, 4; assessors, 13; list-srs, 2; judges and police magistrates, 34; clerk of court, 1; inspectors and judges of election, 4; constables and publis, 25; sheriff, 1; coroners, 6; school officers, 62; county commission-er, 1; supervisors, 21; surveyor, 1; park commissioners, 2; street and road offic-

AGAINST WAR

"August Bebel declared at the convention of the German Socialists at OREGON CHILL willing to engage in war if Germany were invaded and German culture and civilization were threatened with destruction. "They would not engage in a war for quest with a view to opening up to Germany the opportunity to become supreme in the foreign markets of the world. Such a war is the dream of the emperor and the commercial and bank, jng interests of Germany," said Dr. Francis Soukup, former Socialist mem-of the Austrian parliament, who has reached Chicago, where he will remain till November, when he will begin a tour of the western states.

Press Misrepresented Dr. Soukup asserted that the press accounts of the German Socialists at-titude on the threatened war over Mo-rocco has been misrepresented. He attended the convention of the German Socialists at Jena, when delegates gathered representing a dues-paying membership of $36,000 and a voting strength of nearly 4,000,000. "August Bebel," said Dr. Soukup, "was against the passage of a resolu-tion calling for a general strike in case

Castle, who has been active in labo affeirs throughout the state for several years, held a meeting at Carbondale at which he showed how the powers of government are now used against workers when on strike.

This speech was well received by miners and strikers in the audience and encouraged the strikers to stand firmer than ever for the recognition of the system federation. The effect of his speech was evidently displeasing the railroad.

Castle has been billed to speak at 31st street and Calumet avenue, in the Second ward, where he will talk in the interests of the Socialist Judicial can-

Eleven veniremen were locked up to day while careful canvasses by both sides developed that all of them are obnoxious to one side or the other. It is certain that not a man now detaine pending final decision will remain after the right of peremptory challenge has been exercised,

The attorneys for the defense are jubilant over Judge Bordwell's ruling that prejudice against members of labor unions is just cause for dismissal from the jury. The defense had not expect-ed such a ruling and predicts that it is certain to help their side before a jury is completed.

Now that the trial is actually in progress feeling is growing more in-tense here, and there is a strong fear that it will affect all incoming venires. The examination of the prospective jurous resulted in the prosecution tendering W. A. Spalding, a stockholder

Strike Brenkers Come North

Special Correspondence.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. IL—Two carloads of strike breakers passed through Memphis this morning on their way back north

The scabs in the Memphis shops have struck against the action of a special agent of the company, who had used his club on one of the strike breakers. The strike breakers tried to lynch him, but Master Mechanic Brown rushed him to safe keeping before he was harmed.

Refused satisfaction for the beatings they had received, many of the scabs demanded to be allowed to return to the north.

The Yazoo & Mississippi Valley sys-tem from Gwin to Memphis is com-pletely blocked with ears, many of which are filled with such highly pershable goods as meats and fruits. Passenger trains can get through only by moving with the utmost caution.

Empty cars are being run out of Memphis for the purpose of decelving the public into believing that traffic has not been injured by the strike. Yesterday a train of twenty cars was taken out of the yards to Lake View, Miss., and back, leading some to believe the road had sent out and brought in the road had sent out and two trains during the day.

THE OPENING LECTURE of the now famous Sociology course will be delivered at the Carrick Theater by Arthur M. Lewis next Sunday afternoon. This course of eight lectures will surpass all the previous offerings of the Carrick lectures. Doors open at 2 o'clock. Meeting will begin at 2:30. Read below.

Subject: The Origin and Position of the Science of Sociology

All Previous Records Eclipsed.

TO THIS DATE. Practically every Socialist in Chicago with the student bent of mind and every earnest thinker on great social questions will gather at the grand opening lecture of the Sociology course next Sunday afternoon. The advance course-ticket sale even now has passed anything ever achieved in course-lectures in the annals of the Socialist movement of this country, and it is doubtful if anything equal to it has ever been accomplished in any other country. Seven hundred course-tickets, enough to take the entire seating capacity of the main floor, have already been sold, and tickets are now being sold every day at the box-office of the Garrick Theater and at the main floor office of this paper.

SINGLE ADMISSIONS. A ticket admitting to one lecture will be sold at the Garrick box-office for 10 cents. It must be understood, however, that this ticket will not carry the book privilege of the course-ticket. As to book privilege read next paragraph. Even the 10-cent ticket must not be given up at the door next Sunday, as its value will not be exhausted by admission to the opening lecture. Lewis will explain why from the stage.

BOOK PRIVILEGE. Read this paragraph carefully and think what a magnificent offer this is. The course-ticket for the eight lectures costs one dollar and will admit to every lecture. In addition every course-ticket holder must keep his ticket even at the closing lecture, because this course will be published in book form in a handsome dollar book and the course-ticket entitles the owner to one copy of this book. The book will be entitled: "Twentieth Century Sociology." The contract has already been placed with the publisher, and a really worth-while volume is stipulated in every detail.

WRITE PLAINLY. The course-ticket is perforated across the middle for tearing in two. One-half is an admission ticket. The other half is a postal card. Please write your name and address very plainly on the place provided and mail. This book is to be a co-operative production of audience and lecturer, and as the lecturer's name will appear as author on the title page a special department will contain the names of every course-ticket holder. If for any reason you do not wish your name to be made public in this way make a note of it on the postal card and only your initials will be given.

NATURE OF THE LECTURES. The Science of Sociology has developed most amazingly during the last dozen years. It has already risen to the highest place in the whole range of the sciences. It has opened a new and vastly important field in human research. It is a scientific treatment of the phenomena of society and as such is brought face to face with our great social pdoblems. This course will expound and interpret and analyze the great systems and theories of such intellectual masters as Comte. Spencer, Ward, Ratzenhofer, Small, Giddings, Ross, etc. The course the great staircase of human knowledge." will be a liberal education in this science, described by Lester F. SPECIAL NOTICE

The Chicago representatives of the Shubert theatrical interests have always made it a pleasure for our society to transact business with them. Our every wish has always been courteously attended with a promptness which is a model of business efficiency, and all readers of this paper who, having an evening for the theater, look first at the bills of the Shubert theaters are only returning a consideration which is highly deserved from us. These theaters are the Garrick, Lyric and Princess, three of the finest and best equipped theaters in our city.

We are notified that because of the incoming of a special company at the Garrick our meeting must be held in the Lyric the last Sunday of the month—two weeks from next Sunday—Oct. 29.

This entails no hardship, as we know well in advance, and is one of the things we must expect in changing our meeting from morning to afternoon. The Garrick bookings show that this change will probably be precessary about twice during the coming season.

RACIAL VARIATION IT'S SIGNIFICANCE IN THE CLASS STRUGGLE BY ERNEST UNTERMANN

The report of the United States Immigration Commission, recently published in forty-three volumes, contains an investigation of the changes produced in the typical race marks of immigrants by a shorter or longer residence in the congested cities of eastern America.

America.

The material is very meager. It does not include Mulattoes, Chinese, Japanese, Hindoos, Koreans, nor those Europeans of the "old limmigration" who arrived here before 1882.

Only the first and second generation of the "new himmigration" from Europe after 1882 are "considered," and even these to such a small extent that the startling conclusions of the commission and of its anthropological experts seem very unjustified. very unjustified.

The leading expert of the commission on this field was Professor Franz Boas

Columbia University. He set to of Columbia University. He set to himself the task of answering the fol-lowing questions:

1. Is there a change in the type of development of the immigrant and his descendants, due to his transfer from his home surroundings to the congested parts of New York? 2. Is there a change in the type of the adult descendant of the immigrant born in this country as compared to the born in this country as compared to the adult immigrant arriving on the shores of our continent?

In order to answer these questions be studied the stature, weight, length of head, width of head and color of hair of the following races: Bohemians

Slovaks, Hungariaus, Poles, Jews, Stell-lans, Neapolitaus and Scotch. From a study of a few hundred in-dividuals of each race he draws the wild conclusion that not even those wild concussion that not even those characteristics of a race which have proved to be the most permanent in their old home, such as the relation between the width and the length of the head, remain the same under the new surroundings.

He feels himself compelled to conclude that when these features of the body change, the whole bodily and mental make-up of the immigrants may chauge. This is speculation with a vengeance

This is speculation with a vengeance. It is by no means a peculiarity of European immigrants to America to undergo structural changes as a result of changing environment. Race marks change in Europe as well as in Amer-reaching conclusions concerning the variability of racial marks under a charged environment.

In fact, the typical racial traits of Bohemians, Jews, Slovaks, etc., were not altered within the brief period observed. Boas. The facial angle, the color of the skin, the texture of the hair, the outline of nose and mouth, must be studied in connection with the cephafic index (the width of the head expressed in percentages of its length) before we can get any foundation for such conclusions as Boas has attempted to draw. Had he observed this method, he would not have come to such startling conclusions. Nothing in the statistical tables pre sented by the Commission warrants the characteristics do not survive der the new social and climatic envi-ronment of America."

For the investigation shows that all marks which are considered as typical race characteristics were not al-tered. The cephalic index by itself, o only in connection with such non-com-mittal features as stature, weight, etc. offers no reliable data concerning race offers no reliable data concerning race variation, because such changes in the lindex as Boast has observed occur also regularly within each race.

Boas immediately proceeds to contradict himself. He admits that his material is very scant. He also confesses that racial marks of Anglo-Saxons, Spaniards and Dutch have remained untouched in tropical countries and in America. He even grants that race variations produced by the influence of environment without intermarriage are limited to small fluctuations.

To make the inconsistency complete, Boas admits that "although the long-headed Sicilian becomes more roundheaded, the approach to a uniform type cannot be established, because we do not know yet how long the changes continue and whether they would all lead to the same result. I confress I do not consider such a result as likely, because the proof of plasticity of type does not imply that the plasticity is unlimited."

He finally admits the inconclusiveness of his researches and confesses: "It would be saying too much to claim that all distinct European types become the same in America, without mixture, solely by the action of the new environ-In this way he himself overthrows his first sweeping assertion. He might have added that even by intermarriage no uniform type will be produced out of the different racial types. It is struct. Indeed, that "we have ev-or the different racial types.

It'is write. Indeed, that "we have every reason to believe that a number of mother's race, so that no durable new distinct types are developing in America." But Boas should know that the same is true of Europe, Asia, Africa and Australia. Everywhere on the globe new types of man are developing under the combined action of charged on the combined action of charged in the type of horself we for the combined action of charged in the type of horself we for the combined action of charged in the type of horself we for the combined action of charged in the type of horself we for the combined action of charged in the combined action of the combined action o new types of man are developing un-der the combined action of changed environments and intermarriage.

But the crucial point in this inquiry is that no material has been discovered so far which would prove that any of these new types are producing a new durable race clearly differentiated from any of the older races.

From a sociological point of view it would also be valuable to ascertain the effect of thousands of years of class environment upon the formation of races. The Commission's report does races. The Commission's report does not touch upon this. The existing races have been developed during an evolution covering hun-dreds of thousands of years. In comparison with those periods the materia of Boas appears infinitesimal.

Furthermore, since we have learned to understand the significance of an accumulation of small changes for the laws of mutation, we are facing the open question whether we should not first stury the laws of mutation in their relation to race development before we venture to draw sweeping conclusions. senture to draw sweeping conclusions. So far as hereditary transmission of race marks by intermarriage is concerned, many anthropologists of the present day claim that race mixture has not produced a single new and durable race. Heredity, so they say, decrees that mixed races shall consist of individuals who for the greater products.

crees that mixed races shall consist of individuals who for the greater part vary in the direction of either the father or the mother race. The same law is also said to hold good in children begotten by parents of the same race. Just as children vary either in accord with the dominant qualities of the father's line or in ac-cord with those of the mother's line, so mixed races are said to vary in ac-that the type of heredity in intermar-riages in the same race is that of al-ternating heredity.

"Children do not form a blend between their parents, but revert either to one type or to the other." Surely this law will hold even more strictly in the hereditary transmission of such incisive and permanent differences as racial marks, which have been formed under the influence of geographical and ethnological conditions of hundreds of

He also confesses that racial marks of Anglo-Saxons, Spaniards and Dutch have remained untouched in tropical countries and in America. He even grants that race variations produced by the influence of environment without intermarriage are limited to small fluctuations. It is well known that the racial characteristics of the Negro have not been materially altered by generations of living under an American environment, and that even intermarriage with other races has not cut very deeply into these characteristics.

RUSHING INTO LINES

The Whirlwind

A Sthe M'Namara's goes to trial new subscriptions are hurled in by the hundreds. More than eight hundred new readers were put on the list in the last two days. Such widespread publicity will play an important part in freeing the McNamaras. It shows, too, the vital necessity of maintaining The Daily and making it secure. Keep up the fire.

LANDLORD'S FIVE DAY NOTICE.

YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED, that there is now due - ME _____ the sum of THIRTY EIGHT HUNDRED & TWELVE Dollars and - 89 _____ Cents, being rent for the premises situated in the City of Chicago, in Cook County, in the State of Illinois, and known and described as follows, viz: THE FOUR STORY & BASE MENT _____ BRICK & STUNE BUILDING NUMBER 207 WEST WASHINGTON STREET (OLD NUMBERS 180 & 182 EAST WASHINGTON SI)

And you are further notified, that payment of said sum, so due, has been and is hereby demanded of you, and that unless payment thereof is made on or before the TENTH (10 TE) day of OCTOBER —— A. D. 1911. your Lease of said premises will be terminated.

ROBERT L. NORTH. is hereby authorized to receive said rent so due, for ME.

Dated this FIFTH (5TH) day of OCTOBER - 19/1

John M. Bostwick By Robert L. broth & C. agents.

The Ultimatum

THE accompanying illustration is a facsimile of the original Landlord's Five Day Notice. This expired Oct. 10th, but by making a partial payment we have been able to have this extended until Oct. 16th, but we were obliged to guarantee that the full amount would be paid by that time. This, then, is our last stand. Fight for your life.

From the Firing Line

"Please find inclosed 50 cents for the special rent fund. I hope you will not get shipwrecked on the rocks."—F. J. Curry, Peorla, Ill.

"Inclosed please find $1. No use to debate the question. We can't make bread without dough. We can not get along without The Daily Socialist."—Frank Newlund, Altoona, Ia.

"Inclosed you will find $1 to help beat that sheriff in his race to put our paper out of business. Comrades, it would be a crime to let The Chicago Daily Socialist go under just at this time.

"We have made sacrifices before; let us make them again, and until our press is on a firm footing. If every comrade would contribute, let it be much or littie, we could meet that sheriff with the full amount and have a nice surplus to help somewhere else."—Ciarence C. Chadwick, Hedrick, Iowa.

"Find inclosed money order for $5 to apply on rent fund. Don't give up the Daily."—William Scott, Villisea, In.

"Inclosed find $1 to apply on rent bill, We must not let the Daily sink."—H. F. Powell, Battle Creek, Mich.

"Inclosed please find postoffice money order for $6 that I just collected to help you out. Hold the fort."—Robert F. Clark, Vicksburg, Mich.

"Inclosed is a draft for $10, which is the amount I collected as soon as I heard you call for funds. There ought to be 3,800 Socialists that would give one dollar and keep the paper alive."—Peter Major, Lyons, Kan.

"Keep up the fight. We can't afford to be downed now. Long live The Daily Socialist of Chicago. "Don't pull down the fiag-paint it more red."—C. E. Shaver, Lansing,

"Here is another dollar to help scare off the rent man. I hope the rest gets in on time."—H. Glimore, Elgin, Ill.

NEARING THE END

Every day that passes by brings us UP CLOSER to the finish and makes the heat of battle more intense. The struggle becomes keener and more important.

Every day brings us nearer to victory—if it will be victory. Every day brings us nearer to defeat—IF YOU DO NOT WANT TO WIN!

You realize what it would mean to lose the Daily now, after having put your efforts into it. All the work of building up a paper would have to be done over again—and it would be just as hard and perhaps even harder than it has been.

Oh! the days we worked, the nights we toiled! How we worried about this paper. The dreams we dreamed. And now to have all this shattered for the want of a little effort? It must not be,

But even that is not all. This VERY PRESENT fight is almost won. Three thousand eight hundred and twelve dollars were due the landlord. More than half of that has already been raised and pledged. To hang back now—to fail to do our utmost NOW, will mean that the splendid efforts made in the last few days will have been made in vain.

Then, too, some of the amounts given and pledged have been given on condition that the total amount be raised. That is a challenge to your loyalty—a challenge to your sincerity—a challenge to your ability.

We must make good. From the east, the west, the south, the north, the echo comes ringing back: "We must make good."

A POOR MAN'S FIGHT.

This great struggle to save the Daily is like every other Socialist struggle. IT IS A POOR MAN'S FIGHT. It is to be won, not by the big contributions of the few, but by the smaller contributions of a great number.

We agree with you that it is unfortunate that it is necessary to issue a call like this for assistance, but after all it only goes to prove what has always been claimed, and what we always have been proud of—THAT THE CHICAGO DAILY SOCIALIST IS A WORKINGMAN'S PAPER. It is published for workingmen. It is supported by workingmen. A time like this shows vividly that workingmen support it and that only workingmen can be depended on to support it.

That is, as it should be.

And another thing which an emergency like the present shows is the power of Socialism as an organized movement. Success in this fight depends upon collective effort.

What we may say is neither here nor there. It's what we DO —what we do THIS VERY MINUTE—that will shape our future destiny.

Never did loyalty count for as much as it counts now. Never was there more urgent need for YOUR ACTION than there is to-day. It is but necessary that you add your assistance to those who have already responded. Those who have come to the rescue ARE NOT STRONG ENOUGH TO DO IT ALL ALONE. They need YOU. They know that it requires collective effort. They have realized that it was necessary for THEM to take their place in line. They have the same faith in you—they depend upon you, just as you depend upon them, and it isn't fair to them, it isn't fair to yourself, it isn't fair to the movement to stand aside without working shoulder to shoulder WITH them.

You know the situation and you know what must be done. You know how soon it must be done. Oct. 16th is the last day of grace. It is the time for "Minute Men" to "leave their plows in the field" and come to the defense.

From the Firing Line

"Inclosed find draft for $100 to be applied on the rent in case you succeed in getting enough to save you."—T. J. Smith, Bentley, Kan.

"I inclose $1 for your rent fund. The Daily Socialist is read here more eagerly than any paper since the big strike." —C. E. Phillip, Alliance, Neb.

"I am sending you $2 to apply on the rent fund. Let 7,000 comrades give 50 cents each and the trick is done."—A. B. Atkinson, South Braintree, Mass.

"The cause is so good and you are making such a noble fight that I feel as if I must squeeze out II, as I know you ought to have it."—J. H. Gallagher, Quincy, Ill.

"I hope I am not late with my contribution. I have had a five-day landlord notice myself. Nevertheless, I managed to get the dollar for the Dally, and will always get it to keep her going."—W. Eberhart, Chicaro.

"I inclose $5 to go on the special rent fund.....I hope all the necessary funds will come on time to have the Daily, as the paper is needed badly."—Charles Rick, Minneapolis, Minn.

"Inclosed find $1 for your rent fund."

The Undesirable Policeman, New York.

"Inclosed find $2. Whatever you do, pay the rent."—William Swarat, Crawtordsville, Ind.

"Here are $2 for the rent fund. Send the sheriff to the back woods."—Emil B. Kuhn, Cincinnati, Ö.

"I am sending you $1.50, which I collected. I hope you will make it all O. K. I am going to route the town and see how much I can take up, both in denations and subscriptions."—R. T. Warren, Weston, Neb.

"A time like this demands strong arms, true faith and ready hands"

Loans

There is no doubt but that the money necessary to pay the rent will be raised. You have done bigger things than that. But it is a question of TIME. We must do it QUICK. In order to insure our ability to make payment by Oct. 16th, and so make good on guarantee, make a loan to your paper for as much and for such time as you can afford.

Wanted, Men Not Afraid to Die

The Socialist Movement Needs Them to Live for the Cause.

The Socialist movement needs men who are not afraid to die. It does not want them to die for its principles-it wants them to live for them

Still they must be of that unflinching material of which were made those martyrs who died at the stake and on the gallows for the sake of humanity.

The Socialist movement does not expect men to die for it. Its demands are greater than that. It needs men who will stand in situations where death would be the easier way and still say: "I will live and bear these burdens for the Cause."

Martyrdom in death is inadequate to the needs of the Socialist movement. Martyrdom in life is necessary.

To carry out this martyrdom in life there is needed the tremendous self-control of the old martyr who would give his life rather than recant.

That is why we need men who would not be afraid to die if the necessity existed. It must not be the fearlessness that comes from the rush of hot blood through the veins. It must be the fearlessness that comes from sober conviction of what is right and what must be done.

The "Mcn Who Are Not Afraid to Die" must not be afraid to face the jeers of friends and enemies. They must not be afraid to face want in order to serve the cause. They must not be afraid to give service when they know that their deeds will be unheralded,

They must be unflinching in all things where they are needed. They must be masters of themselves so that they will never hesitate when the choice lies between personal comfort and work or sacrifice for the Cause.

To them will be denied the glory of the martyr who dies for his

They must be strong, determined men of the highest type the world has ever produced, AND THERE MUST BE THOUSANDS OF THEM.

J. J. Hill's Prediction

A Hard Winter Because Workingmen Have Worked Too Much.

"There will be more idle men this winter than ever before," says James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern railroad.

Our capacity for production along industrial lines has grown faster than our consumption along the same lines.

"Some years ago the farmer had to raise enough to feed himself and another man in the cities; now he must raise enough for himself and two other men.

Business is sound, but no new enterprises are being started. The politicians and newspapers are to blame. There is too much political ghost dancing. The people are not given the facts. There is uncertainty as to the future on this account, rather than on account of the Supreme Court decisions."

The system works out so that the more the workers produce the less they have. The farmer must now support two workers. That means he can buy only half the clothes and other things that he used to buy. That means less orders for the factory and more men out of work. That means fewer orders for the farmer's products, and so on around the circle. That is the way panics come unless a diversion is started by creating new or wasteful industries. Some of the workingmen may be put to work making things to satisfy the ex-travagant tastes of the rich. Some of them may be put to work building new factories, which will eventually increase the overproduction still more. That is borrowing from the future. If there is 'confidence" business men will borrow in this way from the future, but if there is "political ghost dancing" they are afraid to do it.

When no man has to produce enough to support two men, and thereby deprive some other worker of an opportunity to exchange the product of his toil with one of them, then the danger of panics and overproduction will be gone.

A Columbus Day Thought

Why Cannot America Support the Small Popus lation It Has?

Columbus opened up the western hemisphere to the civilized nations 419 years ago today. America then was capable of furnishing the means of life to several hundred million people. It had the natural resources. All that was needed was the intelligent applica-tion of man's skill and energy to the natural resources and no man in America would be in want as yet.

Only a small portion of the hundreds of millions this land could ings. support have arrived and we have thousands upon thousands of them unemployed and hundreds of thousands underfed and in want.

Manifestly human intelligence and energy have not been properly applied to America's resources.

Increasing intelligence of human beings has given them tools with which to convert natural resources into life's necessities and into the will of God. He feels that vircomforts with remarkable rapidity, and that has not helped. Somebody got America, and somebody got the tools with which the resources are exploited, and they are crowding the others out. It behooves those who do not own, either America or the tools

There is food for thought in this contrast of America in 1492 and now, and every workingman should make it the subject of his Columbus Day meditations.

Don't Frighten the Wealthy

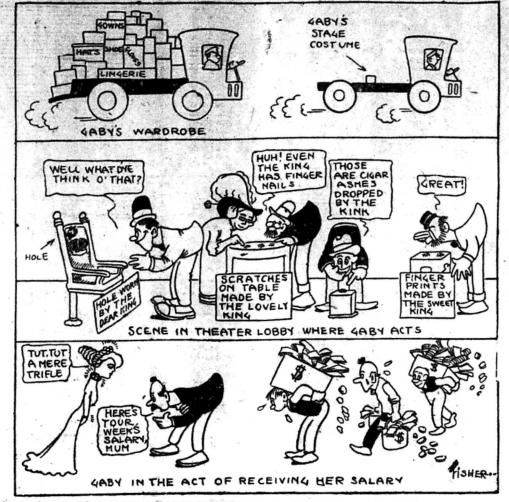

How the propertied classes are loved by capitalist minded editors! There has been some agitation for a change in the manner of running the affairs of the City of Washington, D. C., which is now controlled by a committee appointed by Congress. The Washington Herald views with alarm the mere suggestion that a change be made. It says:

"It is extremely unfortunate, at a time when Washington is entering upon a prosperous fall season, and when the advantages of the city as a residence are appealing more and more to the wealthy and the cultured, that stress should be laid upon the danger that its progress is to be checked." Yes, we have noticed that Washington appeals more and more to the wealthy. They just cannot keep their hands off it, especially the United States Senate, the House of Representatives and the White House. Nice little snob that edits the Washington Herald.

He just can't bear those common folk rubbing elbows with him, and wealthy people must not be frightened away from the city. He needs company-he wants more boots to lick.

Evidently John Wood did not exag-gerate when he wrote, in 1802, that Dayton, the late speaker of Congress, Dayton, the late speaker of Congress, "is notorious from Boston to Georgia. The deeds of other members of Congress were scarcely known beyond the circle of their respective states, but the speculations of this man have ruing through the western world" (95). But Dayton's actions were far from being exceptional; that he was chosen speaker is a sufficient commentary upon the character of the majority electing him. The senate also was ruled y such men as Robert Morris, Charles Carroll, Oliver Elisworth, James Gunn, Gallatin, iver Ellsworth, James Gunn, Gallatin, Sedgwick, Hillhouse and others who had voted for Hamilton's refunding plan after some had themselves made onsiderable purchases in the certifi-

Nearly all of these men were at the same time manipulating State legislatures to grant them great area of land, bank charters, and charters for canal, bridge and turnpike companies. Thus,
Charles Carrol was one of the incorporators of the "proprietors of the Susquehanna Canal" chartered with a capital of 18,500 pounds (current money of Maryland) in 1784, by the Maryland leglisiature (96). Galiatin had got a large Islature (96). Gallatin had got a large area of land in Virginia; Morris was becoming a colossal land holder, and of the corrupt land transactions of Gunn and others we shall have more to say hereafter.

What a vague and cloudy idea our author has of "organization." He sees purely the surface and refuses to fathom its depths, and then suddenly he conveys the thought of idealistic anarchy. Somewhat inconsistent.

In each and every cassy we find room for criticism, but time and space does not permit to discuss matters minutely, however one may see that the author endeavors to bring to mind the fact that the rules of morality are depending upon a belief in divine laws, pending upon a belief in divine laws, supernaturally revealed. Hamilton Plans Further Big Land Seizures

Popular protests, however, counted for nothing. The very next year, on July 20, 1790, Alexander Hamilton, as secretary of the treasury, submitted to Congress a plan for disposing of to Congress a plan for disposing of the public lands. These lands were the enormous area owned by the na-tional government. Part of the areas originally owned by certain of the original states were still under the complete jurisdiction of those states. Hamilton's plan fully revealed the na-ture of further schemes under way on the part of leading capitalist politicians

SEIDEL SPEAKS AT OPENING OF TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL

Milwaukee, Wis.—Emil Seidel, the Socialist mayor of this city, spoke at the opening of the Socialist Workers' Sanitorium, the first convalescent institution for tuberculosis in America.

Mayor Seidel, in opening his talk, startled his audience by informing them that on two occasions he had been given up as past recovery from tuberculosis.

"Once, when I was a boy of 10; none other than the renowed Dr. Nicholas Senn told me there was no hope for me," said the mayor. "Not over ten years ago I was again told that there was no hope for my recovery. But I am still, a pretty lively corpse," he exclaimed, throwing back his robust shoulders and smilling upon his audience. "I tell you that the time has gone when victims of tuberculosis must give the western was a contraction of tuberculosis must give when victims of tuberculosis must give themselves up as lost. At the first big rally held in Temple Auditorium 3,500 persons attended and a collection of $1,400 was taken after Job Harriman had made a strong speach. Labor is standing solid for possession.

Job Harriman had made a strong speech. Labor is standing solid for po-litical action through the Socialist par-ty, and it is believed Harriman and members of the council will be elected. The primary election comes on Oct. 31, at which it is hoped Harriman may be elected by virtue of having a majority of all votes cast. Every candidate for council is a So-cialist of several years' standing, and all but one of them has a record as a union labor man.

The solidarity of the line-up has sent alarm through the ranks of the so-called good government group, which is now in power, and a large amount of money is being spent to keep the Socialist ticket from sweeping the field.

EDITOR SPEAKS TO BIG CROWD DESPITE POLICE

Lorain, Ohio.—After defying the po-lice to are: him, W. Harry Spears, editor of t. Findiay Call and other papers published by the Co-operative Publishing House of Findlay, Ohio, spoke to more 1,000 people on the street

Immediately after Spears started to speak officers appeared and told him that he would have to cease speaking. as he was not talking religion. Spears asked him to produce his warrant and refused to cease speaking.

He took a vote of the crowd on whether he should stop the meeting and all voted no. The officer reported the affair to the chief of police, who consulted with the mayor and city at-torney, whereupon they decided to let the meeting continue. Spears spoke at Elyna the following night.

It is thought that the Socialists will succeed in putting several men into of-fice at the coming election.

SOCIALIST WOMAN DIES

Margaret McDonald, wife of J. Ramsay McDonald, chairman of the Labor Party of England, and one of the most-active of Enguish Socialist women, is

She was the daughter of Prof. John Hall Gladstone, a noted educator. She entered charitable work in her early days. What she experienced in that work made her a Socialist and she joined the Independent Labor Party.

Mrs. McDonald made a deep study of industrial conditions among women and wrote a great deal on the subject. She also made a great study of woman and child labor.

child labor.

With her husband she attended the International Socialist Congresses at Stuttgart and Copenhagen. She had also visited the United States, India,
