Liberty in Puerto Rico.

The army of occupation, led by General Mills, was once again in the field of operations on the island, as the troops have been ordered to restore order and to protect the civil government. The soldiers have been well received by the people, and the situation in Puerto Rico is now much more stable than it was before the recent disturbances.

The Governor, General Mills, has declared that the situation is under control and that the army will remain in the island until the government is completely restored. The troops are expected to be withdrawn as soon as possible, and the people of Puerto Rico are looking forward to a return to normalcy.

On the Way to Socialism.

The scientific American illustrates and describes the progress of socialism in the United States, where a very small number of very wealthy individuals control the assets of forty-five acres of land in the United States.

A new law, named the National Social Campaign, with a capital of $13,000,000, has been organized by the most prominent socialist leaders in the United States.

The Canadian government manufactures goods to promote the social cause by forming a big coalition.

Thoughts of a Barber.

Editor's ADVANCE

In this issue of your paper, and upon your request for items from distant parts, I desire to make a few observations on certain facts and things as they are, and as we could have them.

Reform of evils can only be accomplished by the people themselves, starting with their own means, and organizing political methods, and by the political action of the people at the polls.

When the hair-cutting came into use, the cutters of hair, commonly converted into a sort of barbers, became a very important group in society.

Barbers, great scott! Barbers—working all the time, we are not paid properly and have no price for a shave. Talk to them of politics! They won't listen; they think they are good enough, and those all-around barbers, straight unions, college barbers—barbers turn out by the hundreds—by the day, week, and month.

What have barbers drifted to? When a boy could command $90 a month, to-day I command a very meager existence, viewed from the eight-hour standpoint.

The first Sunday law in California was passed in 1863. The unionists in 1863 secured the maintenance of the law up to 1870, when riots of the Social Democracy and, joining hands, to win the day. Long live the anarchists and all the fools of society!

[IN A BARBER]

Haircutters are a queer breed. They have been analyzed by the Federal government, and they have been found to be a people who work in every way, anywhere, and seem to be happy everywhere they go. They are a strange species, and are not easily classified.

One thing is certain: they will be with us for some time to come, and we had better be prepared to meet them.

For the benefit of all who wish to know the latest news of the world, I shall be pleased to give you a brief account of what is going on in the world.

We have been told that the government of the United States is going to declare war on England, and that the President has been authorized to issue an order for the mobilization of the army.

I trust that our government will take the necessary steps to meet this emergency, and that we will be able to maintain our position in the world.

The war will be fought on the high seas, and the fate of the United States will depend on the success of our navy.

I am sure that our government will do everything in its power to maintain our honor and our rights, and that our navy will be able to do its duty.

The war will be a costly one, and the country will have to pay a heavy price for it. But we must be prepared to meet the emergency, and we must not be afraid to face the facts.

The war will not be easy, but we must be ready to meet it, and we must be prepared to give our country all the support it needs.

It is a very round-about way to vote for what you don't want in order to get what you do want.

W. B. Conkly, a notorious soak-far, claims that Chicago, not New York, is the financial capital of the country. Look at the Federal Reserve Board.

Johnson, Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, says that the miner has no voice in politics, that he takes no part in politics this fall—six.

 предприятиене майоритета, in the proposed State Democratic party, is printing a paper by W. B. Conkly, president of the United Mine Workers. His speech is interesting, and I think that he is workingman that he forgets to ask about the union label.

Byrnes and Bryan delivered a "wonderful labor speech" in Chicago on last Labor day, in which they described the condition of organized labor and the importance of the mass movement of the workingmen in the large cities. They branded the bigoted trade union men cried themselves hoarse, but to no purpose.
