750,000 Irish Workers and Peasants Starve

WORST FAMINE SINCE "BLACK '47" HITS IRISH COAST FROM DONEGAL TO CORK, CROPS AND FUEL FAIL

(Special to the Daily Worker)
DUBLIN, Ireland, Feb. 13.—The most disastrous famine since the great tragedy of '47, has struck Ireland. From Donegal in the north to Cork in the south on the west coast, 750,000 workers and peasants are threatened with death from starvation.

Cold as well as hunger has the unfortunate people in its clutches. The continual rains have destroyed the fuel supply as well as the potato crop. The potatoes rotting in the ground and the past bores were so flooded that the tart could not be cut or dried.

In addition to the calamitous visitation of nature, the British traders have destroyed the fishing industry on the west coast. Fishing is the principal means of livelihood of the poorer fishermen of the west.

W. I. R. To The Rescue
The Workers' International Aid has organized a "British Relief" committee in Dublin and from now on the work of relief will be speeded up.

The Free State government tried to blame the famine on the British but the excess of their efforts to such proportions that the horror could no longer be hidden. Unless relief is given, thousands of people will die of hunger and malnutrition. The death rate among the children is even now very high.

Appeal To America
The republican party opposition has tried to minimize the famine. They are collecting funds for election campaigns and do not want to have any family relief activities interfere with the success of their efforts.

The Workers' International Aid is appealing to the workers of America to come to the assistance of their stricken brothers and sisters in Ireland.

Their trouble arose when the government moved for great sums of money for David's visit to Argentina and additional $100,000 to extend his trip to Uruguay. From which country he had also received an invitation. There is oil, or iron, or some other thing in Uruguay.

AS WE SEE IT
BY T. J. O'FALBERTY

DAVID KIRKWOOD is not a Communist, but as a certain labor leader would say, he "likes to blow the hat off" every Communist. Like Jack Jones, another labor leader, who denies his leisure hours between playing the Red Flag and presenting the queen's daughter with roses. However, Kirkwood began to talk and the bossier he talked the more he got over his dignity and his caution. He thought it was a shame that the price should be brought up as a social water and be sent around the world to act the role of clown.

SHOUTS and cries of disapproval from the tens of thousands of workers' remarks. The Clyde was having its jangle, even the David is careful not to let the business get beyond the danger point. The Scotch laborer suggested that the price take a trip around his own country first and he would see things that would shock an Australian bushman. He would see indications of poverty that he never even dreamt of. But the prices and the capitalists who own the printer, have other use for him besides the role of social worker.

COMMENTING on the recent statement of the socialist Ethel Snowden, that the royal family showed themselves to the British working class as the cause of their misery, Snowden Henderson and Thomas Kirkwood did not seem to realize that this courtesy was thereby appreciated by the I. P. workers. "My class of work is hard for small wages," said Kirkwood. "Then what wages do you think the prince of Wales gets from his duties in Cornwall? He gets about $100,000 from that alone. I call shame on you who are responsible for the awful conditions under which the class from which I spring live and have their being."

THIS was the kind of language the prince did not like to hear and they were bawling with rage. Then another labor member, G. Buchanan began to run more into the Tory wounds. "I have not any use for royalty at all," he shouted. "I consider them grown away from the world as good as the prince of Wales is living to provide for his thousands." Buchanan has told the boys that 750,000 Irish workers and peasants, who are the prince's father, are lying in a state of actual starvation. Yet money is found to send

NEW RUHR REJECTS

(Special to the Daily Worker)
BERLIN, Feb. 13.—Ominous with anger, the Ruhr miners threaten violent revolt to avenge the murder of the estimated 180 fellow workers who, dying in a great mine explosion in the Steinn mine at Dortmund Wednesday night, are blasted by Communists through-out all Germany as victims of the Dawes plan of enslavement of German labor to allied and, chiefly, American banks.

In the Ruhr, spontaneous revolutionary meetings are gathering tens of thousands into threatening masses, menacing the lives of the mine owners, while the horror of the disaster, one of the greatest in the mining history of Germany, is sweeping the whole working class and forecasts an upheaval led by Communist agents.

Dawes plan, which miners prove has laid such tribute upon German labor that they are speeded and driven to work in the most dangerous working conditions at starvation wages.

Spontaneous Mass Strike
Automatically and without any union order, a great strike has taken place. Miners simply stopped work.

At the Steinn mine, red-eyed and desperate miners frantically stormed the pit head demanding their dead husbands and sons, whose charred and crushed bodies came to the surface in great carts. Behind them, a crowd of living victims great crowds of striking miners gathered, threatening death to the mine owners, General Dawes, the social democratic government of Ebert which accepted the Dawes plan, and scornfully waving their wage cards.

Dawes Gives Them An Issue
Rashed and haggard miners, bleated from the pits, pressed menacingly against any government official who appeared, showing their weariness from seven to nine dollars a week.

The government is alarmed at the spread of the class rage for the victims of General Dawes' plans, when President Hoover's state said in a speech yesterday: "You've got to give the people an issue." The Communist Party in the Ruhr is carrying on a "Red Flag" campaign. German labor has given the Dawes plan an issue, the burned bodies of the Dortmund miners.

While President Ebert has sent conciliators, and Chancellor Luther has called the Ruhr miners, while in the meantime the members were asked to raise in tribute to the dead while the president of the chamber delivered an oration to the Ruhr miners saying "I have no doubt but that the government is throwing redwheat troops into the Ruhr to crush with force and revolt of the workers."

Williamson County Grand Jury Indicts Fifty-Seven Persons
MARIION, Ill., Feb. 13.— Acting Sheriff Randall Parks and his deputies today were serving warrants on 57 indictments returned by the Williamson county grand jury when it adjourned after ten days' deliberations. No indictments were returned in connection with the S. Oren Younger or Thomas killings at Herrin, it was understood.

The majority of the indictments charged violations of prohibition laws, burglary and larceny. Three charged

EXPEDITION LEAVES PEKING IN HUNT FOR BIRTHPLACE OF MAN
PEKING, Feb. 13.—Roy Chapman Andrews, leader of the third Aladdin expedition, left Peking for Kalgan today to start his camel caravan of 150 animals on its 1,000 mile trek across the Gobi desert with supplies for himself and party.

And his party in quest of the birth place of man will leave by motor a month later.
All those who wish to help in this work are requested to contribute to the secretary of the Irish Workers' and Peasants' Famine Relief Committee, affiliated with the International Workers Aid at 19 South Lincoln street, Chicago, Ill. It is of the utmost importance that as many Irish workers as possible are enlisted in this work. The need is urgent.

FREE HOSPITAL CLOSED TO SICK CITY WORKERS

The board of county commissioners has imperiled the lives of Chicago's sick workers. Cook county hospital officials reveal that the city council, and Mayor Dever have without protest allowed the Cook county hospital to drift into a condition that the head of the hospital staff admitted "is dangerously acute." Although the Cook county hospital is directly controlled by the county board of commissioners, it is the only public institution able to accommodate Chicago's sick workers.
The hospital is so crowded that no more children, no matter how desperate their plight or serious their injury, are to be admitted to the children's ward of the hospital, by order

RUM AND FILE SUPPORT OF COMMUNISTS FORCES FAKERS ON COAST TO HASTY RETREAT

(Special to the Daily Worker)
SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 13.—The Seattle Central Labor Council at its last meeting gave approval to a resolution that it has no doubts to inaugurate a policy of strike and disruption of the local labor movement, at least not for the present.

Also it did refuse to rescind its action of previous week favoring the expulsion of Communist delegates by a vote of 10 to 8, notwithstanding the strong determination stand taken by several of the largest unions such as the bakers, machinists and others, who in unmistakable terms in their resolution showed the council that its action is one of disruption and strife and demanding that it rescind it and attend to its business, brought the council back to its senses.

President Apologizes for Action
The president of the council Joseph McKelvey, after the vote taken on the resolutions of the bakers and machinists apologized for his unfairness and discrimination against the Communists and militant delegates during the previous week and stated he did so in fear of the Communist.

COMMUNISTS WILL NOT BULWARK CAPITALIST RULE

Refuse to Pledge Not to Fight for Labor

(Special to The Daily Worker)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 13.—The Minneapolis Trades and Labor Assembly took its first action in installing all Communists from seats as delegates at its regular meeting today. On motion of Charles Hines of the Typographical Union, a former member of the Communist Party, the assembly asked special A. F. of L. Representative Smith to obligate every delegate in accordance with the new bylaws adopted at the last meeting.

Smith took the floor and stated that the executive council of the A. F. of L. had made a decision that the Workers (Communist) Party was a dual and revolutionary organization and no member of such organization could be a delegate in a trade union. He further reiterated his former statements that all Communists better get out and stay out.

Skoglund Leads Party Defense.

When the credentials of Comrade Carl Skoglund were read as a delegate from Comrade's Union No. 289, a question was asked as to whether he was a member of the Workers Party. Comrade Skoglund stood up and stated that he was a member of the Workers (Communist) Party, that the Workers Party was actually a party fighting for the class interests of the workers, and finally that he would refuse to take the pledge before the assembly so long as it contained a provision pledging support to the present strikebreaking capitalist government.

He proceeded to read a statement setting forth his position as Communist. This statement was listened to attentively by the overwhelming number of delegates and many gave expression to the thought that the right was going too far in their attack. The floor and the speaker were almost completely deserted. Skoglund raised a point of order, charging that the speaker was expressing Communist propaganda. The objection was sustained by Chairman Anderson. Comrade Skoglund was ordered off the floor and asked to leave the hall.

Left Wing Walks Out.

Immediately following this, Smith called on all delegates to take the obligation. J. O. Johnson, L. A. Roseland, Walter Frank, Robert W. Peterson, George Thornton and William March, together with several delegates who are not yet members of the Workers, stated that they would not take the obligation, that they would continue their efforts to build strength and unify the trade union movement by working in their locals, and then left the hall.

The left wing groups announced that they are going to launch an immediate campaign to carry out a strike of the rank and file workers of Minneapolis. An extensive program of constructive activity has been mapped out, which provides for the holding of two large mass meetings.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 13.—The Standard Oil Company, here today announced that it had raised the price of a barrel of Standard Oil medium and Somerset light oil to 30 cents a barrel.

LOW WAGES FORCE FAMILIES TO STINT SELVES ON MILK WITH THE CHILDREN AS WORST SUFFERERS

(Federated Press Staff Correspondent)

How low wages force workers' families to stint themselves on milk is shown in a survey of milk consumption in Philadelphia by the United States department of agriculture.

The department found that members of families with very limited income consumed an average of only 31 of a pint a day. Families in which the husband made fairly good wages consumed 40 of a pint a day. Families of salaried and professional men with good incomes averaged 73 of a pint a day per person.

I. W. W. ELECTION PUZZLE FINALLY SHOWS RESULTS

But Discussion Is Just Beginning

After two weeks of intensive labor the ballot committee to count the votes in the I. W. W. election ball put out by the I. W. W. after its sixteenth general convention which closed last November, has issued its task of counting a total of 1,800 ballots. These are all who voted out of about 30,000 members.

The result was delayed and is still the subject of much discussion which is shrouded into the internal and little read General Office Bulletin, conflict enveloping within the committee and spreading a general excitement. After the question of counting votes from Ashland, Ohio, which would have a vote of 100, the new general secretary-treasurer, Arthur Coleman who, with J. Turner, stood for the office, that the official organ of the I. W. W., cryptically stated that 573 votes were counted by Turner and 847 for Coleman.

"Hell as Maria" Dawes may be the next president of the United States after Hiram C. Hoagland to back at nine o'clock with an lamp to guide his footsteps. Then again he may not. The cutting anarchist general may never go down to history as a great cause of his connection with the famous plan that forced the German workers to pay the allied reparations at the expense of long hours of overwork and less than a living than they had previously enjoyed.

Rumbblings of Soviet Recognition Heard On Eve of Cal's Inaugural

By J. LOUIS ENDOHAHL

TODAY, the question of American recognition of Soviet Russia continues to furnish the underlying rumbbling in Washington as preparations proceed for the inauguration on March 4, of "Cal" Coolidge as president for four years more of these United States.

The biggest event of March 4 will not be the Coolidge inauguration but rather the retirement of Charles Evans Hughes as secretary of state. Not until Hughes has been put into the discard will the drive toward recognition and trade relations with the Workers' Republic take on real life.

Thus the propaganda sent out from Washington becomes daily of increasing importance. Especially so when it comes from the typewriter of Norman Haggood, formerly editor of several magazines, then American minister to Denmark, but now a hack writer for the Hearst publications, who is Washington's big stamping grounds.

Haggood may be said to have the ear of the Coolidge administration, writing what is really going on behind the scenes, rather than taking his information from the stereotyped declarations that are often handed to the press. For instance Haggood confesses that, "In spite of what has been given out, the approaching retirement of Secretary Hughes DOES MEAN a change in our policy toward Russia."

Capellini Is Now Charged by Miners With Grave Offense

Stalin is charged with being a "narrow-minded bigot." For a Communist this charge, coming from a capitalist writer, is a compliment. Translated into the language of the working class it means that the secretary of the Russian Communist Party is a "bigot" against the workers of Russia, is unwavering in his loyalty to Communist principles.
