HOE COMPANY LOSES PROFITS THRU STRIKE OF UNION MACHINISTS

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—The Wall Street Journal announces that the R. Hoe and Co., manufacturers of printing presses, did not earn dividends on class "A" stock this year. The principal reason for the falling off in profits was the mechanical strike which tied up the plant, declares the Wall Street Journal, resulting in the "loss of skilled personnel."

ENGLAND GETS READY TO WAR UPON TURKEY

Use Arms, as Usual, to Use Other Nations
PARIS, Dec. 23.—The "hand of friendship" which the British premier, Stanley Baldwin, first extended to Turkey, evidently has an automatic concealed in the palm and a mechanical spring lurking up the sleeve, if the story released by a news agency today is true.

A. F. OF S. SEEKS RELIEF FOR THE COAL STRIKERS

Green Asks All Local Unions to Help
Gittow, when he started to speak, was enthusiastically greeted by a gigantic demonstration which lasted over several minutes, ending with mass singing of the International by the entire audience.

It is called attention to the fact that leaders of the working class are not only in touch with the workers in Moscow, Detroit, Tom Money and the work places in California and others. Referring to the coal strike, he showed that John L. Lewis, by allowing the maintenance men to stay at work, has prevented the strike from being as effective as it should be.

MY WORD!—WHO WOULD 'ER THINK IT

SHUT BALKANS OUT

The Balkan nations countries were counted out as allies, because, although they were in the league of nations, there is not stuff left to go around and there would be quarreling and may be war if the communists in Turkey included all the Balkan states.

Italy has been busy of late establishing a naval base and fortifying the island of Rhodes off the Turkish coast. All these facts point to the truth of the report that England is going to have somebody else to give up fighting if Turkey refuses to discontinue its policy.

THE Austrian National Bank announced on Nov. 28 that in the future it will handle Austrian bills of exchange on Russia within its limits or foreign currency. The report Vienna states quite frankly that the Austrians have been trying to do this for a long time but without success from the British foreign office.

THE present league of nations is a financial adviser to Austria was former minister of the league of nations and has been at loggerheads with the bank of England. Finally the British decided to withdraw their support from the league of nations.

THREE of the murderers of the Italian socialist Deputy Matteotti are now being granted immunity from the newspapers on the grounds of factitious crime.

THE Italian socialist Deputy Matteotti was murdered in Rome, Italy, on May 10, 1924. The man paid by them to go to Matteotti's office and kill him because Matteotti objected to his forced journey, they killed him. The organizers of the crime were not at all responsible, according to the court.

SOVIET UNION HEAD REACHES FIFTIETH YEAR

Kalinin has Lived Thru Three Revolutions
Michael Ivanovich Kalinin, president of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, has passed his fifty milestone, of which 27 of his best years were spent in revolutionary activity among workers and peasants.

Three Revolutions. Kalinin has passed thru three revolutions as well as the black years of reaction, the victory of the October revolution, the civil war and the enormous progress in the building of the Soviet state. In him there is embodied the historical advanced section of the working class of our country and an extraordinarily comprehensive experience in struggle and in constructive work.

During the trying days of the struggle and counter-offensive of the Red Army and Soviet Comrade Kalinin more than once in his fighting ranks on all occasions of the building of our party is not for nothing an honorary member of the Red Army.

PATERSON TEXTILE UNIONS MAKE A UNITED FRONT TO STRIKE FOR THE EIGHT-HOUR DAY JANUARY 4

By ART SHIELDS, (Federated Press Staff Correspondent) NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—Paterson silk unions are setting a January example in the south when the United Textile Workers, A. F. of L., and the Associated Silk Workers, Independent, are making for January 4 against all firms in the silk capital that refuse the eight-hour day. This is the first united campaign these rival movements have ever conducted. The date for the walk-out comes at the end of a 3-month series of joint meetings for the orthodox workday.

Both the Associated and the A. F. of L. employ the same machinery. The operation the two unions have been giving each other these days has been covering up thousands of workers who had worked past five.

The employers on the other hand do not appear to be united yet. There is no general strike policy. In fact 75 to 85 thousand silk workers in Paterson, of whom the greater part are said to be Irish-Americans, in fact the ribbon and haberdashery workers generally have the eight hour day and the fight will center in the broadloom industry where perhaps half the workers of the total 90,000 have to go in the compulsory overtime that means nine and more hours a day of toil.

There are about 60 broadloom shops of the employers who are running plants over the town. Some have promised that they will come along with the demands January 4. The unions make a good show of strength. But those that hold out for the archaic workday policy are promised facilities for the purchase of machinery from the two organizations. The Associated has its strength largely among the weavers, but some smaller single group of craftsmen follow the A. F. of L. hooks are with both.

SCHWAB WELCOME THE NEW SPIRIT IN U. S. INDUSTRY

Class Collaboration Policy Hot Stuff (Special to The Daily Worker) NEW YORK CITY, Dec. 23.—Chas. M. Schwab, steel trust leader, said following members of the Federated Society in New York at their annual dinner at the Waldorf Saturday night that "the American people ought to be the happiest people in the world," because unprecedented prosperity was here and the future bright.

Relations With Employers. "Not the least important element of the realization of these satisfactory relations was the volume of satisfactory relations which exist in this country between employers and employees, relatively, than the number of wage earners employed, and the nevertheless wage earners were enjoying steady employment with high wages."

The American employer believes in high wages and high profits. He believes that he gets it. In the United States cooperation between capital and labor is not a new doctrine. It is a doctrine that there is a necessary complement of interests does prevail.

"PEACE ON EARTH, GOOD WILL TO MEN."

(As seen by an Advertising Distributor.) By HENRY GEORGE WEISS.

All yesterday, in mad career, I published far and wide the cheer Of Christmas gads that could be bought— For cash, of course!

By God, the rot. The papers print of Santa Claus. The Christmas "spirit" such like love. Old, and the bunk, this hundred years, And drowned 'neath the bitter tears

The hopeless look of misery, Some poor mother's pallid face When to her side the address came With that false angel, each saying out. "Look, Mama, look! Write me a note, And tell dear Santa Claus that he Can bring them better presents to me!"

No fame stalks thru this wide land. Nood, plenty lies on every hand; The windows, bare in red and white To draw eyes and claim your share. So that you cannot help but see The wealth of gifts and luxury. That's getting 'er—'er that that day. To eat and give on Christmas Day, For your own sake when they will awake And for your wives and children—'taste!

AMERICAN BANKERS SEE CHANCE FOR ENORMOUS RATES OF PROFIT IN UNDEVELOPED CHINESE NATION

Greater opportunity to exploit Chinese labor in competition with workers of other capitalist powers is the economic motive in America's apparent "conquest" toward Chinese national aspirations. Tariff autonomy for China will help American business almost as much as it will hurt British and Japanese producers of textile products.

China and Tientsin has already begun. Prior to the war most of the textile machinery came from Great Britain, but the war gave American firms a chance to do it.

Cheap Labor Power, Attraction. Good labor at bargain rates is China's chief attraction to foreign capital. It is made more attractive by the department of China's great resources, by long odds, its vast power. No country has so vast a population of workers habituated to industry, but without foreign capital little industrial progress in China would have been made.

By WILLIAM F. DUNNE.

Difficult Proze Delegation.
THE objective of the left wing strove to reach in the convention a new platform, consolidation of the left wing forces on the basis of the left wing program. For this purpose not only was there an attempt to give the left wing a more definite and definite character of the left wing program, but it was also necessary that the left wing be put forward in a more definite and consistent manner in order to show to the membership the true method by which unity could be achieved. This was accomplished by the adoption of a left wing program including the minimum requirements of the reorganization of the union on the shop delegate system, a struggle for the emancipation of all the poorer trade unions, abolition of all discrimination against and persecution for political opinions, amnesty for all members punished by the burcaucrats during the internal dissension, proportional representation on all trade union boards and the abandonment of all class collaborationist policies, the abolishing of the union's political machine for the workers.

The left wing machine had shown its lack of will and ability to carry out any section of this program. alliance would not have obtained a majority in the convention for the left bloc. There could have been no such a thing as a left wing machine because it would have been a united front from above in its cruel and unscrupulous manner. The left wing had no mass following, only the nucleus of such a following as it had in the left wing. The Chicago Inquisition

From all reports available there is no doubt that the Chicago inquisition is being conducted by the police department in a way which passes without any accusation of police brutality appearing in the press. Capitalist newspapers justify this sort of thing by pleading that something must be done to arrest the crime wave that arises every winter. But a slight acquaintance with the science of criminology is sufficient to explode the fallacy that torture methods are efficacious in detecting crime.

Most of the metropolitan police bureaus of the United States are not particularly concerned about the solution of criminal acts. They hold their jobs by grace of standing in with some political machine. In order that the administration of a city may go before the voters for reelection it is essential that the police force should be a revealed machine. The same holds true of prosecuting attorneys, so the two "arms" of the law work hand in hand. The police exert all their energy toward fastening the crime upon some hapless creature they happen to get in their clutches. Deliberately ignoring any circumstances that may tend to prove the innocence of the accused they go out of their way to neglect or circumvent all evidence that will exonerate him. The frame-up is supplemented by third degree methods in order to obtain a forced confession. With confessions thus obtained the prosecutors go into court and then are equipped and intimidated juries secure convictions, even tho they know the defendant to be innocent.

The present form of the Chicago inquisition is a method of murder in a more than the professional exterminators of crime, particularly that self-appointed body of megalomaniacs, the Chicago crime commission. It seems the parole board, in releasing a prisoner, took into consideration the charge that a confession was extorted by police terrorism. The head of the police force indignantly denied that any such thing ever happened. There came a staggering charge from Judge C. H. Jenkins, state director of public welfare, who replied to Chief of Police Collins:

"All I have to say is Chief of Police Collins is to state that prisoners from Chicago, when they arrive at a state prison, can always be found in the Chicago inquisition."

Such extortion of confessions has nothing in common with scientific procedure. As long ago as the close of the eighteenth century the classic school of criminology arose to combat torture of suspected persons. That school has been superseded by the positive and that scientific method of criminology, which is based on scientific advancement separates the science of criminology from police and legal practice today.

Protesting against the bestiality of such methods will not avail. The only way to overcome such a condition is for the workers to reach such a stage of political understanding that city, state and national governments will be dominated by the workers. In the first place, most of the crimes committed are crimes against property and poverty is the one and only cause. Remove poverty then assuring every worker an opportunity to earn a living and periodic "hot beds" of crime will be a thing of the past.

Meantime we as Communists, expose the system of police inquisition as having its roots deep in the slime of the capitalist political system. The capitalist newspapers support such terror because they know such methods, even in vain, are effective means of fighting working class movements.

Political Rewards for Traitors to Labor

The association of railway executives in session in Chicago has gone on record in favor of legislation abolishing the railroad labor board and advocating as a substitute the governmental establishment of boards of conciliation and adjustment. The railroad labor board had been a failure. It should be abolished. But there is something worse than the abolition of the board and the establishment of a new board.
