SIX MORE WORKERS FACE ELECTROCUTION IN GEORGIA

Businessmen and Foremen Jurors, "In Name of God" Convict Communist of Sedition

Patriots and Political Prisoners

NEVER, we believe, have the starry skies looked down upon a rottener bunch of "patriots" than are responsible for the railroading of the Unemployed Committee, Foster, Minor, Amter and Raymond, to the penitentiary.

An obscure herchman of Tammany's unspeakable machine, a certain Mr. Cooley, head of the Parole Bureau, which will make the final decision that our working class fighters be given the limit of three years' imprisonment, is unable to hide any longer his thievery of public funds by the rather ancient device of padding his payroll.

Is Mr. Cooley in prison? Perish the thought! Of course he is not! But Foster, Minor, Amter and Raymond are!

The papers are full of the numberless crimes of a certain Judge Vause, as a sort of sequel to the malodorous story of Judge Vitale.

Judge Vause is charged with nearly every crime in the calendar, bribery, using the mails to defraud, perjury, swindling, larceny and what not. Judge Vause is of the same rank (and is probably no ranker) as Judge Ford who denied the representatives of the unemployed, the Committee heading the "Work or Wages" movement, a jury trial. Judge Vause is of the same judicial authority on the Supreme Court of New York as Judge Gavegan, who denied the working class fighters for the unemployed bail while their appeal is pending.

Is Judge Vause hustled off to the penitentiary without chance of bail or jury? Most decidedly he is not! Such treatment is reserved under capitalist "democracy" for leaders of the working class!

Nor must we forget the matter of the infamous forgeries! It was under the hue and cry of the "Bolshevik menace" deliberately stirred up by the scoundrel Whalen, and his side-kicks, Easley and Mattie Woll, that the Unemployed Committee was railroaded to the penitentiary for three years. The "documents" produced are proven forgeries. But is Whalen even questioned about it? No! Is he prosecuted for this outrage? Not at all! He is banqueted by New York's banking and commercial leaders and given a $100,000 a year job at Wanamakers!

And about Messrs. Easley and Woll: It is proven that these shady characters had these documents before Whalen did. These documents, by the way, bear the ear-marks of Sir Henry Deterding, British imperialist director of anti-Soviet plots and one interested in turning trade from America to Great Britain, which would be the effect of these "documents" of Easley, Woll, Whalen & Co. Woll and Easley, great "patriots" of course, do the work of British imperialists by urging, according to Congressman Snell, an "investigation" based upon these imfamous forgeries.

We will not ask if Sir Henry Deterding might have made it remunerative for these stinking "patriots." But are Easley and Woll asked anything at all? Is any capitalist government authority even suggesting that such dealers in political forgeries ought to be locked up? By no means!

The whole tribe of scoundrels, Cooley, Vause, Easley, Woll and Whalen are free. But the leaders of 8,000,000 unemployed workers, the Committee who demanded in their name that starving men, women and children of the workers be fed, these are sitting in prison as living examples of the fact that the government is a class government, the watch-dog of the capitalists, which must be overthrown to obtain justice for the working class.

It Was Another Cannon

THE Daily Worker hastens to make a correction. A few days ago we reported via grapevine telegraph that the editor of the "Militant" had finally taken on a more self-respecting job, writing for the "Telegram" about the evils of cutting the ears of puppy-dogs. We have received an indignant letter from a friend of Mr. Cannon's denying this report, and insisting that the only thing Camon is writing is slanders against the Comintern, against the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, and against the C. P. U. S. A.

Instead of writing for the "Telegram" for wages, it seems, Mr. Cannon is still writing for the entire capitalist press without wages. He is continuing his job of scabbing on the Whalens, the Orloffs, the Drushelovskys, the Webers, the Karumidses, and all the long list of forgers against the revolution, who at least collect good money for their "work." Or perhaps Mr. Cannon does not consider it "scabbing on the forgers when he also participates through Trotsky in the large sums paid by American publishers for that worthy's slanders. At any rate, the Cannon who signs the stories in the Telegram should not sue the Daily Worker for slander, as we apologize to him for confusing him with the renegade of the same name.

Speech on Stand

NEWARK, May 22. - Dominick Flaiani, Communist Party organizer was tonight convicted on a charge of sedition by a jury of business men and factory foremen in the Court of Quarter Sessions. The jury was out less than two hours.

The labor jury who attended the trial for the last four days before Judge Walter Van Riper, brought in its verdict, acquitting Flaiani and condemns the actions of the judge and Prosecuting Attorney Simon Fisch and calls upon the workers to rally for the liberation of the 15-year term in prison.

Flaiani took the stand this morning and for one hour gave the sub ctance of the speech he made in February for which he was arrested and charged with advocating the overthrow of the United States govrnment and also urging the murder of the chief of police of Newark, in manner similar to "the killing of the chief of police of Gastonia." The Gastonia strike and the death of Chief of Police Aderholt was constantly referred to by Fisch in his speech to the jury. Evidently the self-defense of the Gastonia workers has the capitalist class worried in all sections of the country.

North Aids South to Aid Our "Daily"

An Example in Revolutionary Action Which Every City from Coast to Coast Should Emulate

Here's true revolutionary spirit, the kind that should permeate our whole campaign for the Daily Worker. If all comrades would show similar loyalty, then new readers for the Daily Worker would come in by the thousands, and dollars to keep our paper going and growing would reach us in the thousands as well.

A week ago we told you about Comrade Totherow of Winston-Salem, North Carolina. His letter to us said: "Make it possible for me to acquire any old kind of an automobile, and I will burn up the roads down South for the Daily Worker. I'll go from town to town, plant the seeds (the Daily Worker) and then watch our movement down here grow."

Toledo, Ohio, answered. Our comrades there wrote: "We've got the automobile that Fred Totherow wants for his work. How can we get Grass doesn't grow under Totherow's feet. He steps fast. What did he do? He rushed to the northern outskirts of Winston-Salem, hailed the first auto for a ride, and is now on a hike to Toledo, asking for rides from city to city, with five little dollars in his pocket to carry him along.

From Winston-Salem to Toledo is more than a thousand miles. And another thousand back again. Once back again, Totherow begins work among the Negro and white toilers of the South-the South where workers are starving, famished, walking the roads from city to country and country to city looking for a mouthful of bread; the land of lynchings, floggings, kidnappings, the chain gang, long prison terms, the elatric chair for those, who like Totherow, are brave enough to agitate and organize for racial equality, the Trade Union Unity League, the Party.

If this comrade is courageous enough to face the hell down South, you should be equal to your tasks wherever you live and function in the movement. Your task right now is to help lift the Daily Worker out of its financial difficulties, to collect funds so that we can finance the campaign for tens of thousands of new readers. Get 50,000, then make it 100,000 readers of the Daily Worker and we will muster power that will shake the capitalist system from bow to stern.

Are you with us? Show it by getting into action. Whether there are five or one thousand Party members and supporters in your cityevery city on the job. Organize your forces. Help the Daily Worker live and grow.

SENATE HEARINGS

Admirals Say 8-Inch Guns Murder Best

The hearings before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on the London Naval "Treaty" are still in process. Each day a new Admiral of the navy adds his voice in criticism of the treaty on the ground that its acceptance would allow a billion dollar naval building program all right, but that the type of warships it allows the U.S. Navy to build will give the British imperialists an advantage over their American imperialist rivals.

In view of the fact, however, that the task of Wall Street's navy is to tal blunder to allow a "treaty" to prescribe the kind of boats they are to build for this war.

For this reason, Admiral F. H. Scoeld, commander of battleship division No. 4, stated before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that he considers "a recession from the heavier class of cruisers, even a the United States. The Admiral inits present building program and reject the treaty and its 6-inch gun cruiser provisions, since 8-inch guns kill better.

War is war, and pacifist phrases ntended to deceive the masses cannot take the place of real material instruments of war. As technicians of war, therefore, these servants of finance capital talk "business" and in the ranks of British imperial- leave the task of concealing the

No Bag Limit at All TALK WAR AT Eisenstein's "Ten Days That Shook the World" on Screen

In honor of the famous Soviet director Eisenstein, who is now visiting America for the first time, the Second Avenue Playhouse has secured for a special showing one of the screen director's master films, "Ten Days That Shook the World," and will show this at their theatre on Second Avenue, beginning today and continuing Saturday and Sunday.

The story deals with the tense and dramatic events of the Russian Revolution and is based on John Reed's well known book. John Reed was in Russia at the height of the fighting and took active part in the struggle of the workers for con-

Revolutionary Competition Spurs Drive

DETROIT, May 22. - A permanent Daily Worker Conference which grew out of the May Day united front conference here will take up the emergency situation and the circulation campaign of the "Daily" this Sunday

The militant workers of Detroit realize that the Daily Worker is the best weapon in their struggle to build up a powerful revolutionary trade union center of the Trade Union Unity League, in the successful mobilization for the big Unemployment Convention to be held July 4th and 5th in Chicago

The Detroit district of the Communist Party has mobilized all of its units, section committees, Party fractions in all mass organizations, and all departments in answer to the challenge of the Chicago district to revolutionary competition.

9000 MILL WORKERS DO WORK OF 15,000 IN AMOSKEAG PLANTS

Huge Manchester, N.H. Exploits Rayon, Cotton, Worsted Workers in Mills Along Merrimack

Workers There Will Have No Truck with UTW Chance for National Textile Workers Union

(By a Worker Correspondent)

MANCHESTER, N. H .-- For a mile along both sides of the Merrimack River at Manchester, N. H., range the many plants that go to make up the Amoskeag Co. Cotton, rayon and worsted are made here. At present hardly 9,000 workers are doing the work of 15,000. This speed-up, or stretch-out or whatever you may call it, spells unemployment and tough times for 6,000 workers.

This town was involved in the big cotton strike of 1922 which also involved the Pawtuxet and Blackstone Valleys of R. I. The U.T.W. conducted this strike and served the bosses well.

They'll never handle another strike here, for the workers will have nothing more to do with them. There is another struggle at hand, as our spirit shows. The company union and the U. T. W. are both discredited. The workers are also wise to the bonus system as a means of putting over 10, 20 and 30 per cent wage cuts. Only a fighting union will do here. The National Textile Workers' Union has a fine opportunity if it will only take advantage of it.

-A Coolidge Coolie. (Coolidge is the name of the Rayon plant of the Amoskeag chain.)

Layoffs on N. Y. C. RR in North Jersey

(By a Worker Correspondent)

NORTH BERGEN, N. J .-- You know, the first of May, the great engineer over in Washington stated that the storm fury of depression was over. Well, on the very same day that he made the statement the N. Y. C. R. R. over here in the Granton roundhouse laid off 17 men. And I also understand from one of the men that more are to be laid off.

On Friday the marine shop in Weehawken on the Erie R. R. laid off 15 men. This looks like the unemployment is on the decrease, doesn't it? Yes, parasites like Hoover and company have got easy shouting about good times. It's always good with them, but Here is one of the good times signs that Hoover forgets to mention. He did not say that the copper industry was declining so fast that unless a large block of copper was sold the mine would shut down. Well, what do these parasites care? They don't have to live in the Butte flats, like the miners do there and elsewhere.

I have seen conditions both in Butte and Bingham Canvon, Utah. in 1912, and they were rotten then.

What must they be now? Comrades, I want to tell you, I use my Daily Worker every day. After I am done reading it I always go down where a bunch of workers are. I draw the paper out and then draw their attention to one or two articles that I have read. In that way you get them to read and think. I always give my paper away every day, but always to read it, not to burn it up. And tell them, after they are done reading it, to give it to someone else. I also tell them, if they like it, to subscribe for it, and where to get it. My Hoover prosperity has begun since last November. I have worked two and a half days this year so far. I guess I'll get a full week in by the time the new year gets around, to shout "A Happy New Year" and be merry. How merry myself and millions more will be, I can't say.

By M. H. POWERS. (Written in Jail.)

THE attempt of the Southern capitalist class to send two organizers of the Communist Party to the electric chair marks the height of bosses' terrorism in the South. This campaign has been in progress since the Gastonia strike but has reached its height only the last few months.

The increased terror campaign is a direct result of the present economic crisis in the United States. This economic crisis has hit the South much harder than it did the rest of the country because: (1) The dominant industries in the South are the highest ration alized industries in the country (textiles, tobacco, furniture, steel). (2) The textile industry has been in a continuous crisis for a number of years due to the international crisis in the industry. The present crisis therefore affected the textile industry much more than it did other industries. (2) The direct effect which the crisis in industry had upon the tenant farmer (who is dependent upon textile and tobacco).

During March and April most of the textile mills were shut down entirely or were run in part time. Mass lay-offs in furniture and tobacco plants were initiated and are still being continued.

Make Workers Shoulder Burden of Crisis.

The capitalist class utilized the crisis to re duce the already miserably low standard of living of the Southern workers. First, tens of thousands were thrown out into the streets It is estimated that in North Carolina two hundred thousand workers are unemployed.

The same is true of every other state in the South. A new campaign of wage-cuts began, in some mills reaching as high as 40 per cent. Speed-up and stretch-out is being introduced much more than before, the result being that production is increased with less men employed. In other words permanent unemployment for new tens of thousands of workers. In many cases (Gastonia, etc.) the entire population of a mill town would be idle-starving, the "lucky" ones working two or three days a week for as low as four or six dollars a week.

Bosses Fear Workers' Resistance.

These conditions have developed a spirit of mass resistance among Southern workers both Negro and white, and the only force in the field willing and copable of organizing and leading this mass resistance is the Communist Party and the Trade Union Unity League.

The month of February found not only the National Textile Workers Union in the field but also a new squad of energetic organizers of the revolutionary unions covering almost the

The building of the Communist Party was undertaken not in words but in deeds. The work proceeded rapidly and the response of the workers to our program and slogans was great. It was no accident that our first campaign in February was a campaign against lynching. For the first time in the South our Party as a Party has carried through a real campaign against the lynching of Jimmy Levine, a Negro tenant farmer of Virginia. Hundreds of workers, Negro and white attended our meetings. Banners and leaflets at these demonstrations carried slogans "Down with lynch law," "Organize Committees of Negro and White Workers to Fight Lynching." These demonstrations were the first of its kind carried on directly under the leadership of our

Then came the March 6 demonstrations which were of a real mass character. In Char lotte, N. C., more than 3,000 workers took part. Hundreds of police and the Loray committee of 100 came to break up the demonstration but did not dare to interfere. Six hundred to a thousand workers came armed, ready to defend the demonstration. From the city hall several hundred workers. Negro and white marched down to the N.T.W.U. Hall where 150 joined the T.U.U.L.

On March 7 the capitalist government opened its present attack. First the city council in Winston-Salem, N. C. passed a new city ordinance prohibiting street meetings between I Poor Farmers Government.

Several raids on the Party and the union hall in North and South Carolina, in Georgia and Virginia, the dynamiting of one of our comrades home in Birmingham, Ala., and the many other "minor"

To all this must be added the numerous lynchings of Negro workers which is now taking place all over the South, as a part of the campaign to divide the workers so they can be defeated easily.

The real significant thing is the fact that the capitalist class and their government has not been able to mobilize any group of workers for mob action against us. In all cases they had to resort to paid gangs of boss men and hired professional thugs. It proves that the Southern working class will not fight on the side of the mill owners. The Southern workers are following the lead of the revolutionary Party of the working class, the Com-munist Party and the revolutionary trade

Role of the A. F. of L. and Musteites. The only loval ally that the capitalist class has in its struggle against the workers are the fascist A. F. of L. and the Musteites. While our Party and the revolutionary Trade Unions are facing vicious terrorism, the leaders of the American Federation of Labor and the Musteites are being welcomed by the mill owners, chambers of commerce and the capitalist press. They are given free use of Chamber of Commerce buildings, City Halls, etc. The bosses are fully convinced of the value of these fascists in the struggle against the workers. Everywhere in Georgia, North and South Carelina, Tennessee, Alabama and Virginia the A. F. of L. has been the initiator and leader of this campaign of terror. In Charlotte, S. C. a state official of the A. F. of L. has claimed the credit for the raid on the Marine Workers League and I.L.D. headquarters. These fascists must be exposed and fought before the entire working class.

Taking the Offensive,

What is our immediate task in the South? We must take the offensive. The present conditions of the workers, the attempt to drive our Party underground, and the attempt to send two Communist organizers to the electric chair brings the struggle of the Southern workers to a head. Not only the Southern workers but also the workers of the North must be mobilized to answer the challenge of boss terrorism and capitalist class justice. This requires a 100 per cent mobilization of our Party

In the South aside from the increased activity to organize the workers into the revolutionary unions and actually prepare them for mass struggles in the near future.

Our Party must take advantage of the com ing National and State Election campaigns which will take place in every state in the South. Negro and white workers will be nominated for State and National offices. Tens of thousands of workers will be mobilized around the slogans of our Party to fight for social insurance, relief for the unemployed, for the 7-hour day, for the right to organize and the right of workers to defend themselves against lynch law and all other forms of capitalist class terrorism. For the unity of the Negro and white workers in a common struggle against boss rule, on the basis of full social, itical and economic equality and the right of self-determination for the Negro masses, for the abolition of taxes on the tenant farmers, against the poll tax which disfranchises the great majority of the working population, for the abolition of the chain gang and the unconditional freedom for all class war prisoners. These demands linked up with the bigger political demands of our Party will prepare the Southern workers for greater class struggles and for the final struggle for the over throw of the bloody rule of capitalism and the establishment of a revolutionary Workers and

FORWARD TO THE CHINESE SOVIET CONGRESS!

On the Agricultural Draft Program

By ERIK BERT. I. The Industrialization of Capitalist Agriculture.

THERE is not in the Draft Program an integrated statement concerning the increased use of machinery in American agriculture.* This results from the fact that emphasis has been placed almost exclusively on the "disintegration and worsening of the conditions of small farming." On page 109 of the February Communist we can see from the data given that whereas the area of improved land increased from 503,073 acres in 1920 to 505,027 in 1925 the value of farm machinery in use dropped from $3,594,772,000 in 1920 to $2,691,703,000 in 1925. The conclusion drawn is as follows: "While we see here the growth of capitalism in agriculture, we see also in the drop of machinery and implement valuation from 1920 to 1925 an indication of wha Lenin meant by a "stagnation in technics" : a part of the whole process of "the crowdin out of small by large production." This dro took place at the same time that the cap talized value of land itself dropped from 1925." (p. 110.) *The Draft Program for Negro Farmers however, notes the following: "In the pas few years American agriculture is to an ever larger extent being brought under the sway of finance capital and experiences in connection with that of a technical revolution. Tractors and combines have taken the upper hand in American large-scale agriculture. It becomes for the small, and even the middle farmer, even more difficult to compete with mechanized modern large-scale farming. The price of production in small and even middle farming is incomparably higher than the price of production on big farms. As a result of this, the technical revolution tends to drive the small farmers off their land, to concentrate the soil in big farms, to create agricultural stock companies, etc."

The data submitted points out the fact that following the severe slump in agriculture in 1921 there was a retrogression in technique from the point of view of the amount of machinery used (the inability of the farmers to make replacements for worn-out implements).

The index of Domestic Sales Billed of agricultural machinery compiled by the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago shows the following

1923		92.5		1926	-	132.1

(1929 73 Firms) This latter series, it should be noted, indicates total sales billed, that is, it includes export sales. Two qualifications must be made regarding both series. There is not to the knowledge of the author any means available by which we could tell (1) what percentage of domestic sales are for replacement, (2) what part of the increase in sales by these 83 manufacturers signifies increased concentration of production within the agricultural machinery industry.

Despite the noted qualifications we believe the data indicates an upward trend in the use of agricultural machinery. This increase in the use of agricultural machinery not only occurred during a period of general agricultural crisis but is an expression of that crisis and one of the means by which that crisis had been extended and deepened. The use of agricultural machinery means the ability to produce more cheaply. In consequence those farmers without such machinery must lower yet further their standard of living in order to compete. The fact that the vast majority of farmers have no other alternative as capitalist producers, because of their inability to make the investment necessary to acquire such machinery-that is the 'stagnation in technics." The Draft Program (p. 106) implies this. "Further mechanization, then, while maintaining the capitalist system of property relations in which the benefits of increased mechanization goes to an exploiting class, would (our emphasis-E.B.) merely worsen conditions of the majority of the farm population, of farm wage labor and the poor and middle farmer, tending to reduce their standards to the starvation level of the pauperized peasardry of China and India, since a majory could not share in better mechanization or ould be affected adversely by it." It is our pinion that in view of the increase in the se of agricultural machinery the verb used nould be "will" and not "would."

By BURCK

The foregoing excerpt is part of a comment the Draft Program on the bourgeois "soluon" of the agricultural crisis-"more me-More mechanization, if it could be realized, ur emphasis .- E.B.) would solve nothing for he United States farm masses. . . . " (p. 106.) More mechanization" is being realized we believe and is not only solving nothing for the farm masses but is degrading their condition

What is the special significance of increased investment in agricultural machinery for the middle farmers. "It is a pleasant bourgeois fiction that mortgages are obtained by farmers to better their conditions by thus securing capital. They doubtless have this intention, but the above figures show that, with the exception of a minority of well-to-do, the majority fall still more into the hands of finance capital; i. e., by "securing" capital, capital secures" them as its bond slaves." (The Communist, February, p. 114.)

These farmers either increase their mortgage debt if they can to buy the agricultural implements, the use of which they hope will better their conditions, or they buy them on the installment plan. In either case they fall to an increased degree under the domination of finance capital. A small minority may by the use of such machinery rise into the class of rich farmers, the majority of these middle farmers, however, will find that they have added one more burden to that which they already bear, one further means by which finance capital exploits them.

The Draft Program quotes Comrade Richman to the effect that "in fifteen mid-western states, from January, 1920, to March, 1923, 22.51 per cent of owners and 35.07 per cent of tenants became bankrupt. Of these, it is noted, that 14.40 per cent of owners and 20.54 per cent of tenants retained their property (the tenants obviously only the use of their expropriated equipment, machines, animals, etc.)" The Draft Program points out that this leniency makes a peon of the bankrupt debtor -who "must raise the crop he is told to raise; he cannot, if a tenant, take his equipment elsewhere; he must accept without argument prices offered by crop buyers, who often are the same as or in league with the creditor." (p. 114.) Comrade O. Preedin (cited by Comrade Richman, The Communist, Jan.-Feb., 1929, p. 89) has suggested as the cause of this 'leniency" the inability of bankers to sell the farms they might acquire through foreclosure. "Permanent leniency is a common phenomenon under present conditions. But this leniency suddenly comes to an end as soon as a good buyer appears for the farm." There seems to be one other circumstance rising which would make an abrupt end to even this "leniency" of peonage. Good buyers have not appeared to take the lands off of the hands of those who have acquired them. In consequence, "Mortgage companies, banks, and individual investors possessing lands taken under foreclosure are exchanging the realty for the company's (farm corporation's) stock, preferring to take a chance at profit to waiting for a real estate price revival." (C. M. Harger, Annalist, Feb. 14, 1930, p. 404.) Harger points out that these farm corporations have

PRE-CONVENTION DISCUSSION

How Shall We Organize the Unorganized?

By EARL BROWDER.

IN overcoming the weaknesses of our trade union work, and winning the masses to our leadership in the economic struggles, a central tactic is that of the united front. But the main thesis and the trade union resolution prepared for the Party Convention give special attention to this question, and lay down the application to be followed in some detail. The forms outlined are those of the united front from below, based mainly upon activities in

Comrade Stahl, who can see nothing in trade unionism but the A. F. of L., thinks this is all a sham. He says that by organizing revolutionary unions, "the Party broke the slogan of the united front from below." He is not even satisfied with this formulation, but proceeds to charge that "the wrong united front tactic from above was also made worse." Then he varies the accusation, to say that "the united front in the A. F. of L. was given up without a struggle." What do these accusations mean, when they are made after reading the thesis? The thesis says:

"Reliance on the spontaneity of the masses must be replaced by most systematic united front organization from below." . . . "Detailed plans must be worked out by all districts for an organized mass mobilization of the workers primarily on the basis of shops. The committee thus established in the shops must be made to report their activities to the workers in the shops and to central leading bodies . . . must gradually broaden out and take permanent form; the basis for a trade union organization in the shops." etc.,

What does Comrade Stahl find wrong with this? He thinks this means "to leave the fighting front in the reactionary trade unions by leaving them or founding new ones." By making work in the shops and building new unions our primary tasks, says Stahl, we "abandon the united front!"

What shall we say to this comrade? First, we must tell him that he is dangerously close to the line of the opportunists, who can see the "united front" only as a coalition with the 'left" reformists, the "progressives" and Muste group. That is the line of Lovestone and also of Cannon-both Right and "Left" opportunists. But it has very little in common, o speak mildly, wtih the line of our Party or of the Communist International.

The real united front from below cannot find its main base in revolutionary fractions in the A. F. of L., because that organization contains only a small part of the working class, and that not the most important part. It must be based upon revolutionary groups and committees in the shops, and upon the new unions which begin the organization of the unorganized. That is the oly road by which we can reach the main masses of the workers. Only in connection with this main road, and subordinated to this main road, can we really carry out properly that additional task laid down in our thesis: "To increase manifold the activities of the Communist fractions in the reactionary trade unions."

When Comrade Stahl raises the cry against this united front from below, and places against it the "united front in the A. F. of L.," he is, whether consciously or not joining hands with the enemies of the Party.

What remains of the arguments of Comrade Stahl? The kernel of truth that was hidden beneath his absolutely wrong and opportunist pposition to the Central Committee thesis, is this, that the economic base for the rule of the bureaucracy in the A. F. of L. has been parrowed, that the possibilities for effective work of our fractions in the reactionary unions are greater, because of the unemployment and economic crisis. That our fraction work in the reactionary unions is poorly organized and un-satisfactory, is already established in the thesis. When placed in its proper order as a subordinate phase of our work, there can not be the slightest objection, but quite the contrary, to registering these weaknesses and insisting upon a remedy. The basic error of Comrade Stahl lies in the fact that he wishes to abandon the main line of march entirely, in favor of concentrating all attention upon remedying our weaknesses upon a less important line. This must be decisively rejected.

Our Party will go forward along the path, which it has laid down; the winning of the majority of the working class, the organization of the unorganized, the independent leadership of the struggles of the workers, by means of the united front from below and the building of the revolutionary unions. We will clarify all those comrades who are still confused about the meaning of this main line of struggle, we will carefully work out the details of its application; and will ruthlessly fight against all opportunist tendencies to deviate from the line or to hinder its application.

> Demand the release of Foster, Minor, Amter and Raymond, in prison for fighting for unemployment insurance.

started stock selling campaigns in the West ! using as sales argument the fact that they can produce at prices far below those of the individual farmer-prices at which he goes bankrupt. The basis for such low cost production is the widespread use of agricultural machinery on big acreage farms. The increased use of machinery, the possibilities of lowering the costs of production by its use makes it advantageous to the bankers and others who have been "lenient" toward bankrupt farmers to group farms into large units with fewer farmers necessary to run the farm. Similarly the success of corporations farming on a large scale with machinery (which cannot be expected over night) will be an added incentive to the capitalist class to expell more farmers from the land through increased oppression.

The essential features of our approach to the subject of agricultural machinery (and other technological improvements) is contained in the following quotation of Lenin.

"In essence, the fundamental tendency of capitalism is the crowding out of small by arge production, both in industry and in agri culture. But this sense of immediate expropriation, this crowding out, takes also the form of disintegration and worsening of the conditions of small farming which sometimes lasts years and tens of years. The worsened conditions take the form of excessive labor, of under-nourishment, of indebtedness, of poor forage and cattle raising in general, of poorer care, improvement and fertilization of the soil. of stagnation in technics, etc." (The Communist, February, p. 109.)

The development of the agricultural crisis carries with it "a stagnation in technics" for probably the majority of farmers (and all the ecompanying misery) but it has as its other aspect an increase in the amount of machinery used by a minority of the farmers. The Draft

Program has emphasized the first of these two features. The second has been noted in passing, under the section on Class Categories on the Farms (The Communist, February, p. 119). while the first was included under Capitalist Development in Agriculture. The second, because of its importance within the entire agricultural question deserves more than passing notice. It becomes a cause for continued stagnation in technics at the other pole. Some further consequences we have noted above. Finally, it is of the utmost importance because its development means the growth of the agricultural proletariat in relation to the entire farming population.

Technical improvement at one pole of agriculture should, however, not be interpreted to mean complete industrialization of agriculture in short order. Capitalism cannot accomplish that. The Draft Program correctly points out the abject technical condition prevalent in American agriculture. This should hinder any undialectical conceptions regarding the industrialization of American agriculture.

PARTICIPATE IN OUR DISCUSSION.

The Central Committee calls upon all members of our Party and invites all revolutionary workers to participate in our preconvention discussions. The columns of the Communist press are open for discussion of the problems of the American workers and the tactics and policies of our Party. We especially call upon our comrades working in factories and those active in the trade union movement and in the everyday work of our Party to participate in the pre-convention discussion. The comrades are asked to write short and to the point (articles must not exceed 700 words), because of limitation of space. Write simply and use only one side of each sheet of paper. Correspondence in toreign languages should be sent directly to the paper of the given foreign language; only correspondence for publication in the Daily Worker should be sent to the Agitprop Department, Central Committee, Communist Party of the United States of America 43 E. 125th St.

Helping Start the "Southern Worker"

THE campaign for funds to start publication of the Southern Worker, being carried on in the language press, shows very uneven results. Two Finnish papers, Eteenpain and Tyomies, have already exceeded their quotas. Uus Ilm, Esthonian, stands exactly at 100 per cent. A few others have raised about half of their part. But as a whole the results are only about 40 per cent, after many weeks. This must be remedied, and the full amount needed must be raised within a few weeks, in order that the new Southern paper may issue its first number before the Party convention on June 20th. traved by the reformist leaders of the Mexican Mutual Aid Association and the treacherous Strikebreaking.

The Mexican Mutual Aid Association raised the slogan "Back to Mexico!" in order to divert the minds of the masses of workers from the struggle against capitalist exploitation in the place where they live and slave; in order to weaken this struggle. The A.F.L. came out openly and "bawled out" the "foreigners" for their "unpatriotic" attitude, and spread the general scare of deportations on account of activity.

Latin Workers.

Aside from the issue of criminal syndicalism there is still a greater issue involved in the case of Imperial Valley. There is the problem of the first serious attempt to organize the agricultural workers and the Latin American

Imperial Valley is so far the first place where organization of the agricultural workers, that slave under the worst sort of exploitation, and are totally unorganized, in the form of militant fights take place. We can say that the success or failure in the Imperial Valley situation is the key-note to the problem of organization of the agricultural workers, and Latin American workers (for most of the workers in Imperial Valley are Mexican, Filipino, etc.) in America.

Bosses Worried.

The growers though backed by the largest financial interests in the country realize this. They are afraid of the possibility of the organization of the agricultural slaves which would reduce their fat profits, and they are therefore determined not to allow the workers to organize. This is the reason for the attack of April 14, this is the reason for the white terrorism prevailing now in Imperial Valley.

The workers of the whole country must mobilize and support this struggle. The workers of Imperial Valley must get full support, both financially and morally from the entire working class of this country.
