ARMED FARMERS STORM ARKANSAS TOWN FOR FOOD

To the Toilers of Cuba, Mexico and WILL MARCH "Stagger" Plan and Gradual the United States!

To the Workers and Poor Farmers IN BROOKLYN, of Latin America!

ON January 10, 1931, two years will have passed since one of the best militants of the revolutionary movement of Cuba, Mexico and Latin America-Antonio Mella-fell, assassinated in the City of Mexico by paid agents of Machado, the butcher of Cuba. The murder of Mella came from the criminal alliance of Machado with the ex-president of Mexico, Portes Gil, servant and accomplice at that time of Yankee imperialism, as

The murder of Mella, a devoted leader of the workers and poor peasants of Latin America, was a direct attack of Yankee imperialism and its Latin American dogs upon the toiling masses of all Latin America.

On this second anniversary of the death of Mella, the crisis of world capitalism has thrown the masses of Cuba, Mexico and United States into a sea of misery and starvation. The crists translates itself into wage cuts, longer hours, terrible unemployment, redoubled speed-up, and growing fascist terror against the workers by the capitalists who try to prop up their crumbling regime. In Cuba, 500,000; in Mexico, 900,000; in United States, 10,000,000-workers are jobless and starving with their families.

In Cuba, Machado has murdered Alfredo Lopez, Estaban Brooks, Cuxart, Enrique Varona, Claudio Bouzon, Jose Wong, Noske Yaleb, Domenigo. In Mexico, Guadalupe Rodriguez, Hipolito Landeros, and twenty workers and poor peasants assassinated en masse by the police dogs of Calles, Portes Gil and Ortiz Rubio, have fallen. The police of New York have shot down Gonzalo Gonzales and Steve Katovis.

These and many others have fallen, murdered. Capitalist persecutions, deportations are the order of the day. The prisons of Latin America and the United States are filled with victims of capitalist terror. All showing that the capitalist regime in its period of historic decadence is a regime of blood, based not only on exploitation of the toilers, but also on murder, torture and crime.

With the growing crisis, have grown not only the fierce battles between exploited and exploiter, between oppressed and oppressors, but also the antagonisms and rivalries between the robber imperialist powers, particularly btween Yankee and British imperialisms, fighting for domination of colonies and semi-colonies, for markets and raw material sources.

In the United States, the proletariat, led by the Communist Party, is entering into tremendous struggles against speed-ups, wage cuts, for social insurance and effective relief to the unemployed. In Mexico the suffering workers and the poor peasants (denied the land for which they fought by the policy of Ortiz Rubio) have begun the fight for bread and land with open class battles. In Cuba, the wage workers, literally starving to death under the lash of sugar and tobacco imperialism, and the poor peasants, robbed of their lands by imperialist and native land grabbers, stand on the eve of fierce clashes with native and foreign exploiters and oppressors. In all Latin America the same or even worse conditions prevail.

In Cuba, the false "nationalist" leaders, seeking to use the masses as tools, oppose Machado. But they themselves are representative of the good will come of a hunger march at Cuban capitalists, ready to serve Yankee imperialism-or equally ready to serve British imperialism. In Mexico, the opposition to the Lamont-Montes de Oca agreement, which in general opposes the policy of Ortiz that: "There ... e 400,000 unemployed Rubio, is equally an enemy of the workers and peasants of Mexico, is in Chicago. We know that hunger but a faction of the bourgeois and feudal classes, an opposition linked to and misery exist. Why, Mayor

The fight for state power of such factions, seen in the armed movements in Bolivia, Peru, Argentina, Brazil, Chile, have likewise been linked with London or New York, reflecting the inter-imperialist rivalry for control of these countries.

In this situation, on the second anniversary of the death of Mella, the Communist Parties of Cuba, Mexico and United States, appeal to the workers and farmers for independent struggle, against all bourgeois factions, against all imperialisms, for their own class demands, for overthrow of the bourgeois imperialist regimes and for establishment of workers' and farmers' governments in Cuba and Mexico.

As shown by the Soviet Union, only such governments will free the toilers of city and country from foreign and native capitalists. Because the Workers' and Peasants' Government of Soviet Russia has crushed capitalism, collectivizing agriculture and building socialism in city and country, consolidating the Soviet Power and serving as an inspiration to the toiling masses of all the world, all imperialists and counter-revolutionists, including the rulers of Cuba, Mexico and United States, are conspiring to attack the Soviet Union.

The fight against the bourgeoisie in Cuba, Mexico and United States, the fight against British and Yankee imperialism, is the fight against imperialist war and for defense of the Soviet Union; in defending the Soviet Union, we shall defend the workers and poor peasantry of these countries.

The next months are months of war, of growing hunger and desperation. In the United States wage cuts increase, unemployment grows, the ruin and misery of poor farmers intensify. In Cuba and Mexico, the fascist ruling class, whether in power or in opposition, unloads the burden of crisis still more upon the backs of the enslaved toilers. In this vile work, the exploiting classes count on the aid of social-fascist labor leaders. of the American Federation of Labor in the United States; on the miserable traitors of the CROM and CGT and so-called "autonomous" unions in Mexico; on the social-fascist leaders of the tobacco, street-car, railroad unions--and the Joint Committee, too-in Cuba.

Comrades! Workers of the United States! Workers and poor peasants of Latin America! Only the revolutionary action of the workers and poor peasants of all the American continent will stop the capitalist offensive! Let us commemorate the murder of Mella by a general mobilization of the masses against his assassins, the Yankee imperialists and their

Let us organize against speed-ups, wage cuts, lay-offs! For social insurance and real aid to the unemployed at the expense of the bourgeoisie and its government!

Down with Yankee imperialism! Down with British imperialism! Down with their Latin American dogs Rubio, Machado, Uriburu, Ibanez, Gomez and the rest! Down with the social-fascist traitors to the labor

Down with the bourgeois opposition factions, Tejada in Mexico, Mendietta and Menocal in Cuba! Down with the armed struggles of bourgeois factions! Up with the independent struggle of the toiling masses! Down with imperialist war preparations! Let us fight for defense of the Soviet Union, the socialist fatherland of all the workers of the world! For a Workers' and Farmers' Government in Cuba and Mexico! For a Federation of Workers' and Farmers' Republics of Latin America! For the dictatorship of the proletariat in the United States!

For a glorious victory of the already powerful Soviets of workers and poor peasants in China! For the world proletarian revolution! For the triumph of Communism throughout the world! Workers of the world. unite!

Signed:

The Central Committee of the Communist Party of Mexico, The Central Committee of the Communist Party of the United States. (Sections of the Communist International.)

There is some activity, some consistent support of the Emergency Campaign, the successful conclusion of which is the only thing that can avert the danger of suspension of the Daily Worker.

BUT THERE IS STILL NOT ENOUGH SUPPORT. And the support that is coming in has not the ORGANIZED mass character which is necessary. Collections such as those spoken of above should not come irregularly from scattered districts. THEY MUST APPEAR EVERY DAY FROM EVERY SECTION OF THE COUNTRY UNTIL THE $30,000 IS RAISED AND THE DAILY WORKER IS OUT OF DANGER FROM PAST OB-LIGATIONS.

To see that these collections are made—and sent-regularly is the duty of every Party member and every class-conscious worker. The need is great. This week the Daily Worker was published twice on loans or donations that came in at the last minute. Capitalism in Britain Faces Black Future

Forecasts for the new year on the and reviews of the past year, appearing in the capitalist press, show the depths of the economic upheaval throughout the world, which, in many countries, is reaching the stage of political and revolutionary crises.

A London dispatch to the New York Times gives a black picture of the past, and a very gloomy one of the future perspectives. The cable District one Boston has increased starts out saying: "Great Britain has the circulation of the Daily Worker finished a year of frustration in poliby 92 since the start of the campaign tics and gloom in trade and indusfor 60,000 circulation. to Fight Gov't Terror LONDON .- The increasing terror under the MacDonald government and the terror raging in all capitalist countries against the workers, led the British workers to form a committee for Labor Defense. The comrades, A. Thomas, Helen Crawfurd, R Dunstan, J. T. Murphy and E. Bennett, issued the following appeal:

"At the present moment scores of British workers are in prison for fighting the battle of our class. There are three from the Daily Worker staff, 23 seamen of South Shields, serving long sentences, nine comrades of Fifeshire serving sentences for fighting against evictions. a number of other comrades are serving sentences for giving the working class messages to the soldiers. There is Comrade Swain, sentenced to 12 months hard labor on a frame-up of "incitement" to steal. There are the prisoners of Meerut, who, for 20 months, have been on might have had went up in smoke with the bankruptcy of the local bank recently. The local Red Cross agent, compelled to distribute the little food allowed, had the gall to say that he recognized some among the farmers as imposters," but no such lie can cover up the fact that the mass of farmers and their families are literally starving.

Even the lawver who tried to keep them from forcibly confiscating the food from the stores admitted that they were "too hungry to listen to speeches." But all he advocates is that merchants move their goods to other towns or "mount machine guns on their stores."

Moving goods to other towns, however, is futile, as Charles L. Thompson of the Pulaski County Red Cross and agent of the State Drought Relief Committee, says he "fears similar trouble in other sections of Arkansas."

The demonstration was notable as the first instance in which masses af poor farmers have followed the policies of the United Farmers League, whose headquarters are at New York Mills, Minnesota. Both Negro and white farmers united for action and used the power of mass action to compel the granting of their demands.

The demonstration also exposes the cynical hypocrisy of Hoover's administration, in restricting "farm relief" to loans to rich farmers to buy seed and feed for animals, and opposing as a "dangerous precedent" the giving of "food to human beings." Local capitalists are panic stricken at the prospect that the farmers will return when the miserable bit of food given them Saturday is exhausted.

CHICAGO RAILROAD WORK-ERS LICK FAKERS

(By a Worker Correspondent)

N December 24 the Chicago and North Western Railroad Company closed its Chicago ops for the second time in three months rowing over three thousand workers into the unger army." The announcement issued by e management states the shops will reopen on nuary 5, but these workers have learned to ke such statements "with a grain of salt," having experienced bitter disillusionment in this spect many items since the crisis began.

The three thousand workers affected by the osing of the shops had only been back at ork since November 3rd. They were employed ree days per week at a vage barely sufficient () keep them from actually starving to death. Under the infamous Hoover "stagger system" stituted by the North Western bosses, laborers we been paid $9.12 per week, mechanics' help-* $ $13.20-$13.68 and mechanics $19.20 for the ree days' work.

Many cases of distress have come to the noe of foremen and company officials, but noing has been done to remedy conditions. The ompany has devised a fake charity plan by hich workers are mulcted of one-half of one er cent of their monthly wages ostensibly for e relief of needy cases, but so far no accountg has been made of expenditures, although the an was announced on November 3rd, the date 1 which the shops resumed operations on a mporary schedule

In several instances "snooping squads," comosed of bosses and wives of company officials, we invaded the homes of destitute workers, ried into personal affairs, enquired as to why ne families had not put away something for a rainy day, why cheaper quarters were not obined, etc., etc., but an investigation by the nop nucleus of the Communist Party has realed that in none of these cases was subantial relief furnished.

The mechanics and helpers employed by the orth Western railroad are organized into the rious shop crafts of the Railyway Employees epartment of the American Federation of Lar. The fakers who head the System Federaon here, as well as the International officialom, have gone along with the company in its ery attempt to crush the workers.

The business agents of the unions have actualasisted in putting over the "stagger system" nd in carrying through the plans of the bosses or a more intensive speed-up program. They ave openly endorsed the take relief drive with ne full knowledge that no worker has any say s to the directing of the campaign and spendng of money collected from the workers' pay avelopes. This condition is fast bringing about revolt in the ranks of the union membership hich threatens the control of the fakers. Early in December two important local unions

'eld elections and in both these the reactionries, stool pigeons and fakers were swept from office. The machinists handed a terrific lampasting to the Lukas gang of stool-pigeons when Otto Lukas, who controlled the lodge for seven rears, went down to defeat in the contest for financial secretary.

His cronies suffered like treatment in the race for other important offices. Only one Lukas lickspittle. Sid Bloom, candidate for shop steward, survived the onslaught. The latter, elected with the assistance of company bosses and business agents, has an unsavory record and at the last district convention failed to take the floor in behalf of progressive measures, contenting aimself with an "aye" vote on a resolution submitted by district reactionaries depriving the rank and file of the right to elect their own district financial secretary. Bloom can be depended upon to take the side of the bosses in all grievance cases.

feated every reactionary who dared to announce his candidacy for important office. Carter, who has consistently trained with the Lukas gang, led the reactionary stool-pigeon group of candidates down to defeat in one of the most sensational elections ever held in this lodge. Carter is noted for his letter-writing ability and spy

In one of his numerous epistles to the Grand Lodge of the I. A. of M., Carter charged that Reds "boring from within" were in control of the local. The executive council instructed Carter to produce the evidence and the Reds would be ousted from the organization. When the matter came before the local the membership extended its officers a unanimous vote of confidence. Later Carter and his cohorts addressed a communication to local management of the company naming those who, in his opinion, should be fired because they were Reds.

The bosses then began a siege of terrorism against those named by this stool-pigeon. Carter's defeat and the trouncing handed his whole ticket is the apparent answer of the workers belonging to the machinists helpers lodge.

The workers are evidently greater interested in the program of the Communist Party than ever before. The Daily Worker which is being sold at the shops daily is eagerly awaited by the shopmen and many of them have their pennies ready for the comrades as they pass in through the gates each morning.

The neighborhood close to the shops where the workers make their homes is being canvassed nightly and Red Sundays have been made a permanent feature. Many subscriptions have been obtained and hundreds have signed the Workers Unemployment Insurance Bill. These contacts will be utilized in the building of Unemployed Councils and the National Railroad Industrial

The following program of immediate demands has been formulated and put forth by the shop nucleus of the Communist Party:

1. The immediate institution of the six-hour day, five-day week, with pay for eight hours work.

2. Where a worker is employed only three days per week the company shall pay the difference between that and what would have been earned under the fiv days per week schedule.

3. Rank and file workers' administration of all relief funds and the setting aside of the $25,-000,000 increase in profits in 1929 for the relief of those workers who are not now employed, or who have been employed on a three days per week schedule. In no instance shall workers be required to contribute to charity funds. The company must be compelled to sacrifice all profits during the remainder of the crisis which was brought about by the capitalist owners of industry, these profits to go into the relief fund.

4. No worker's family must be permitted to face eviction from his home for inability to pay rent, nor shall heat, light and gas be denied his family. These necessities must be paid for by the company out of its enormous profits coined during the past several years.

5. The speed-up system which has been greatly intensified since the crisis began and especially since the institution of the Hoover "stagger system" on this railroad must be completely abolished at once.

The Communist shop nucleus in its statement concerning the above demands has this to say: "There is nothing unreasonable about these demands which were adopted after a careful survey of the situation. The suffering among our fellow workers has become so terrible that immediate steps must be taken if they and their families are to stave off starvation. The usual program fo the bosses, naturally, is based upon the theory that the full burden of the collapse of capitalist economy must be borne by the work-This attempt to bring misery, suffering and privation into the homes of those who have slaved to create profits for the North Western Railroad stockholders must be hit and hit hard. wives and babies must not be permitted to suffer because of the want of proper food and clothing. Commemorate Mella Day

TWO years have passed (January 10, 1931) since Julio Antonio Mella was assassinated in the City of Mexico. He was killed by the tools of Cerardo Machado, the dictator of Cuba, working in criminal alliance with the police of the Portes Gil-Morrow government. Both of these governments are the direct agents of Yankee

The second anniversary of the death of Mella, and its commemoration as a demonstration against imperialism, has tremendous significance not only because of what Mella represents, but also because of the situation in Cuba and in the whole of South and Central America. For we now find there a frightful terror. There are uprisings and coup d'etats of various factions of the ruling class. There is an increase of the rivalry among the great imperialist powers, especially between the United States and Britain. There is also an upsurge of revolutionary movements of the exploited and oppressed workers and peasants against the feudal and imperialist regimes. All this is the result of the economic and political crisis.

The second anniversary of the barbarous assassination of Julio Mella should be a symbol of commemoration also for all those others who have fallen in the struggle against imperialism such as the victims of the Cuban terror-Lopez, Varona, Cuxart and Wong. We remember those assassinated by fascism in Mexico, Guadalupe Rodriguez and Landeros; and also Hilario Montenegro killed by the agents of the Venezuelan tyrant Juan Vicente Gomez in Curação, as well as those who fell in the banana strike in

All over Latin America, and especially in the Caribbean region, the most bloody methods of repression are employed by imperialism and its agents against the revolutionary movement. The trade union movement, the Communist Parties, sections of the Anti-Imperialist League, as well as all organizations of a genuine anti-imperialist character have been outlawed. Murders, deportations, imprisonments and every form of repression and torture are being used against workers and peasants.

January 10 will bring a huge mobilization of the oppressed peoples of Latin America against American imperialism and its agents. It will bring a movement of solidarity with the workers and anti-imperialist students of Cuba who are at this very moment struggling against the terror of Machado.

The Anti-Imperialist League of the United States brings to the forefront the struggle against American imperialism, against the preparedness for an imperialist war and the coming attack on the Soviet Union. The League calls upon the workers in the United States who suffer from the same persecution-unemployment, hunger and poverty-to show solidarity with the oppressed peoples of Latin America, the Philippines and other colonial countries under the heel of imperialism.

The anti-imperialist demonstrations of the workers here in protest against the terror in Cuba, Mexico, India and elsewhere, have already shown the spirit of class solidarity with those oppressed peoples. The best way to develop this solidarity is to build the Anti-Imperialist League, participate in all its activities, and make the League a real mass organization. This is the prerequisite for an effective fight against imperialism and imperialist war, and against the fascist terror in Latin America. The Anti-Imperialist League will commemorate Mella Day in a huge protest meeting on Sunday, January 11, 1931, at 3 p. m. at New Harlem Casino, 100 West 116th Street. All branches and anti-imperialist organizations should hold similar meetings throughout the country.

Down with American imperialism! Down with the Imperialist Agents in Latin America!

Socialist Cities

By G. T. GRINKO People's Commissar of Finance, U. S. S. R. XIV.

MORE and more frequently, and with ever greater emphasis, the workers and the variour social organizations and individuals engaged in the work of housing construction demand that plans be prepared for the reconstruction of the existing cities and especially for the building of new city settlements in connection with the industrial enterprises and plants which are now under construction. Many such large cities as Moscow, Kharkov, and Kiev, have already prepared the first drafts of plans for the total reconstruction of these cities. We are on the eve of great scientific works and great social movements linked up with the determination of the character and type of socialist cities. In the leading capitalist countries a great deal has been done during the last decade in the field of city planning in accordance with the demands of modern technique and rational organization. International socialism frequently discussed this subject during the period preceeding the imperialist war. But city planning in the capitalist world cannot shake off its capitalist character. However high its level, from the point of view of material and technical resources however perfect the isolated experiment of garden suburbs may be, they still are merely serving the interests of the upper bourgeois layer of society. Under capitalist conditions it cannot be otherwise. The problem of the rational organizations of the cities from the point of view of the proletaria, can be successfully solved only in a society whose organization is entirely subordinated to the interests of the widest masses of toilers. A really rational organized city must be a socialist city. And there is no doubt that in the near future the scale of housing construction in the U.S.S.R., which is continually growing, will bring closer the practical solution of one of the most complex and fascinating problems of the creation of a socialist city. Here the construction of the genuine cities of the future is really

Fighting Functionaries—the Need of the Hour

By I. AMTER.

THE masses, since the expulsion of the rotten elements from our midst, have felt a new pulsating life, a quicker response to the demands of the sharpening class struggle on the part of the Communist Party. They see the Party fighting on all fields that touch the life of the worker. his wife and family. They see the Party becoming the real leader of the masses in the struggle against the capitalists, and the capitalist govern-

This they note also in the investigation of the Fish Committee, which explicitly explains that it is not investigating "socialism, radicalism, pacifism," but only Communism. Correct! But there is nothing to investigate; the Communist l'arty declares openly, as it did in the statement read before the Fish Committee by Comrade Foster that it fights for the interests of the unemployed, the part-time worker, the worker who still has a job but has to accept wage cuts, the Negro, foreign-born, young and woman worker, the working class child. It fights against the coming imperialist war and for the defense of the Soviet Union.

What limits the work of the Party, however, is the crying need of fighting Communist functionaries. Yes, the Party has made or is rapidly making the turn. What hampers it is particularly the lack of functionaries to lead the Party membership along the line of new methods and as a united body to lead the working class into the militant struggle. Functionaries-functionaries-everywhere the demand-and the Party itself must supply them.

The districts are developing whatever forces they can-but this is far from sufficient. The Central Committee last year provided a National Training School, at which about 30 comrades were ADMISSION that the Communist forces in China are rapidly spreading their influence, not only among vast millions of peasants, but as well among the workers, is contained in two articles appearing in the January issue of Current History, entitled: "The Strength of Communism in China." These articles were written by Edgar Snow, special correspondent of the New York Sun, and Reginald E. Sweetland, correspondent of the Chicago Daily News. Both agree that the Red Army in China is rapidly advancing, increasing its territory, and that the Kuomintang forces with all the help of the imperialists have not been able to stop it.

Referring to the Communist Party, Snow writes:

"The Communist Party of China, since the expulsion of its members from the Kuomintang by the 'purgationists' in 1927, has gained in strength. Communism is no longer-if it has ever beenmerely the hallucination of alarmists in China. It is a potent factor which threatens to become a dominating one in the revolutionary scene. The Communist Party of China at present has no more than 100,000, no fewer than 70,000 members; people who think that Communism in China lacks sufficient strength for a separate revolution are mistaken." Snow points out not only the successes in the villages but the growing influence in the cities. "In the cities," he writes, "the Communists directed their energies to workers in every industry. In Shanghai during 1929 they were responsible for 184 strikes involving approximately 160,000 workers." He goes on to say, "The dwindling influence of the Kuomintang with the proletariat was shown by the 3,000 members in its Shanghai labor unions in 1930, as compared with more than 20,000 in 1927."

Communist Party in China has the advantages of numerical strength apparently equal to that of the Kuomintang; a region for operations covering five provinces," and, he adds, "the actual possession and administration of between 50,000 and 60,000 square miles; the cooperation of Soviet Russia; the sympathies of large numbers of poor peasants; the support of many thou-his article to distinguish between bandits and Communists, something he says is very much confused in the minds of the average reader, he fails to mention the fact that he together with the rest of the capitalist correspondents are responsible for this line of propaganda, aimed to increase intervention against the Chinese revolutionary workers and peasants.

At the same time, news comes from South China that Chang Fak Wei, the military associate of Wang Ching Wei, fake "left" in the Kuomintang, has begun operations against the Kwangsi faction. Chang Fak Wei is the commander of the 4th Army, known as the "ironsides" army. He has been supported by British imperialism, but Wang Ching Wei has been making overtures to Wall Street and these are being received with warm response

From this he draws the conclusion that, "The given a training for the struggle, and this merely emphasized the need of functionaries. This year, the Central Committee is arranging a threemonths Training School for about 75 students, who must help to supply the great dearth of functionaries. These comrades must be active comrades from the shops and mines, comrades, who must be given a better training, so that they will be equipped for work on their return to their shop or mine, or be taken over entirely for Party work; comrades who will fill the gaps in the Party organization, in the field of the West and South, in the unions, mass organizations, etc.

The units and sections of the Party must immediately begin to select the comrades to be recommended to the districts. They must propose young, promising material, comrades who have made or are making the turn, comrades with initiative, with a deer sense of responsibility, comrades active in the unions.

But one more feature must be "mbered: The training of these comrades must be made the business of the masses of werters. The mass organizations-unions, clubs, fraternal lodges, etc. -must accept a responsibility in financing the students. They must be made part of the organization that is giving the 75 workers this revolutionary training. Workers Educational Conferences must be held in every district, and ways and means be worked out to finance the students of Labor, Doak, who specified more clearly the intentions of the capitalists toward the foreign born. According to Doak, a functioning apparatus shall be set up in order to check up on "alien gangsters." The New York Police responded very promptly to the demand of the spokesman of the capitalist government, and established this "apparatus" which is parading under the name of "the Buro to check up on alien criminals."

This is one of the most important tasks confronting the revolutionary movement, and there is no doubt that the revolutionary workers and organizations will do their part.

While formally the duty of this buro is to deal with criminals, in fact it is an utter discrimination against the foreign born. The actual task of this buro is to threaten the foreign born, persecute them and deport any one who takes an active part in any working class movement. The connection between the Federal Immigration Commissioners and this buro clearly shows what their duty will be. More than that, it also shows that this buro, which claims to be under the direct supervision of the New York Police Department, is also a unit of the federal authorities that tend to discriminate against the foreign born.

This buro cannot, and will not, curb gangsterism, that in most cases has close connection with the police and other forces of capitalism, and work hand in hand against workers in strikes,

The National Committee for the Protection of Foreign Born brands this buro as an institution that is sponsored by various anti-alien bills. The gentlemen in Congress are not very certain that they will succeed in passing these bills, due to the movement aroused to counteract them, and therefore are trying to put forth some propositions that are incorporated in these bills into practice even before the bills will be taken up.

This move to discriminate the foreign born will be fought by the entire working class in this country. At the local and state conferences for the Protection of the Foreign Born, which will take place in January and February, this question will be discussed thoroughly, and on the basis of discussion, one of the demands shall be to abolish police supervision and all such departments or institutions which discriminate

The National Committee calls upon all organizations to prepare for local and state confer-

A Comedy in Crooks

Despite the command of Rev. Joseph P. Mc-Comas, of Old St. Paul's church, in a recent sermon, that we all "have child-like simplicity of faith," we, brothers and sisters, are suspicious.

We might, perhaps, have had a little-just a teeny weeny bit-of faith in Mr. Broderick's solicitude for the small depositors of the Bank of U. S., had we not learned that a Mr. Warder, his predecessor in the office of State Supt. of Banks, was convicted of bribery for preventing an examination of the bankrupt City Trust Bank

In reading about Mr. Warder in Friday's N. Y. Post, we ran across the following: "Immediately rumors of wholesale forgeries and thefts in the City Trust began to make the rounds. To these, the Banking Superintendent maintained an inscrutable silence.

Well, boys and girls, we are sure that the silence of Mr. Warder was no more inscrutable than that of Mr. Broderick is.

But we look further, and, bless us! if we don't find that the same identical Attorney Max Steuer, who is posing as the heroic defender of the small depositors of the Bank of U.S., is the attorney for Mr. Warder! Ponder over that a

But there art more crooks than is dreamt of in thy philosophy, Horatio. Tammany is busy as all get-out "investigating" itself.

District Atty. Crain starts a "secret committee" to "drive out racketeers" (which we exposed a while back). But now behold, one Mr. Riegel of something called the Consumer Guild. seems to have arranged with none other than Max Zaritsky, crooked leader of the Cap and Millinery Workers of the A. F. of L., to prove, and quite conclusively, that Crain had arranged with Police Commissioner Mulrooney, to just "make a showing" about fighting rackets.

Somebody called Seabury, who seems to be a republican, starts to lift a few lids on Tammany by way of an Appellate Court inquiry of Tam many judges (No, Junior, the Appellate Division has nothing to do with selling apples;).

Well and good, Seabury can't miss fire on the judges. But up pops the devil, no, Mr. Crain, demanding that he be allowed to "help." Huh help strangle the inquiry! Then suddenly the Corporation Counsel finds out the inquiry is "unconstitutional" and Jimmy Walker, you know him, backs him up. Seabury denounces Walker for "blocking the inquiry," and Governor Roosevelt becomes addicted to speculative philosophy on city government and says it's all the fault of the electorate! Nice, ain't it?

Then, right in the middle of Seabury's inquiry, his main actor, a lawyer named Kresel, after tearing the sky loose about graft in the police department and courts, has the spot-light turned on him as the attorney for the busted Bank of U. S. who was also one of its directors and help shape its policies, which seem at least open to

Then, in this inquiry into magistrates' courts, a whole slew of cops are involved in grafting on "vice" and working frame-ups. Not a few of them are facing evidence of bribery and extortion. These are felonies. But—the cops are sacred because they are needed by capitalism to

So, instead of being yanked up with arrest and indictment for felony, they get a phoney "trial" by the Police Department itself! Isn't that most lovely arrangement you could imagine?

If the Cop Department finds the cop innocent, he is O. K., and if "guilty." he is no more than "humbled" by becoming an unofficial bootlegger instead of one officially on the force. Lovely?

Altogether, what a comedy in crooks! And while capitalism lasts, please don't expect us to have "child-like simplicity of faith."

We Keep Right At It

We have received the following, which speaks

"Red Sparks:-It was with a sense of relief that I recently read your article in the Daily Worker that criticized some of our comrades for their snobbishness. The article was timely and very much in order. I am not so sure, however, that your advice, though well directed, has as yet brought about the desired results.

"Many complaints have reached me relative to the clannishness of certain groups of workers, and especially of those in the needle trades. Many of the members of the Marine Workers' Industrial Union and their friends, who, when they return from a trip to sea, very naturally seek recreation and relaxation, and properly they turn to the affairs under auspices of the Party, the T. U. U. L., or the various revolutionary unions and councils.

"Our members often bring their friends with them. As friends they are all potential members. They have invariably been struck with the cold reception that is given them.

"In part, they are brought to these affairs with the idea of assuring them that revolutionists in this country are comradely human beings, with a common problem and purpose, whose greatest desire is to see the movement grow in strength to its ultimate success. They are turned away almost with contempt, are made to feel isolated, are given the idea that a strict sense of formality exists in our ranks. And the result is expressed in justifiable resentment at their treatment, and a rejection of those people who represent the industrial organizations based on proletarian lines.

"We of the Party must learn to understand and appreciate the value of our social affairs as a means for winning over new friends and sympathizers. Intelligent revolutionists cannot be made through the medium of a bazaar or dance, but the bazaar and dance can be used as a very practical method of approach. In this period of crisis innumerable workers are groping for a way out of their misery. Our organizational structure is not yet developed to the point where we can reach all, and when those who do understand the line, wilfully do not make the most of our present facilities for further organization, their neglect is next to criminal in its nature.

"So, comrade, even though you may have to write ten articles, awaken these comrades to a sense of duty and obligation to themselves and all others concerned. - Comradely, Joseph
