"REVOLUTION IS ONLY HOPE" SAY GERMAN COMMUNISTS

Revolutionary Workers

San Quentin, Calif. July 6, 1931

HAIL you from the stone and iron tomb into which the master class of California cast me fifteen years ago because I, too, persistently shouted out the grievances of the proletariat. Fifteen years in the malarial atmosphere of a dungeon have impaired by health, but my spirit is still aglow. I hold by head high before the enemy, and keep my teeth set against him defiantly. The agents of capitalism in this stone hell may one day have it to say that they witnessed the dissolution of my body, but they shall never be able to say that they observed any cooling of the flame of rebellion within me while I lived. A man can think and see more clearly in isolation and stronger than ever before I feel the necessity of broadcasting the rebel yell of the "Workers of the World, Unite! You have nothing to lose but your chains, and a world to gain!"

I am in fail because I voiced that sentiment fifteen years ago while trying to organize the slaves of the United Railroads. And it was a detective employed by that corporation who framed my arrest and subresequent conviction on a charge which lacked the slightest foundation

Though they have bound me round with steel and stone, my tongue remains free so that I can send pealing over the grim jail walls shouts of encouragement to my revolutionary comrades of all nations.

"YOU HAVE NOTHING TO LOSE BUT YOUR CHAINS!" How true that rings today when we observe the widespread misery created by capitalistic greed.

Millions of unemployed wage slaves are starving. Insane asylums give up the shrieks of proletarian mothers who broke under the strain of hearing their children cry for bread and the cupboard bare. Banks and chain stores are doubling their guards in the faces of starving wageearners growing daily more desperate. Penitentiaries are crowded with workingmen forced to resort to what the masters call theft as a means of feeding their young. The capitalistic world today is a seething hell for the proletariat. Prison fare is lean, comrades and jail beds hard, but countless workingmen enjoying capitalistic "freedom" in the United States and elsewhere are not as well off as the so-called felon in the matter of food

Amalgamate all the prison wardens of the world into one huge man, have this towering giant of a jailor stand up before the famished millions of the "free" proletariat and shout, "Come unto me all ye who are hungry and houseless and I will give ye bed and board! You'll do

That is the sum total of what capitalism has done for mankind. The drums of the revolution grow louder apace. I hear the fanfare coming over the hills; it penetrates into the depths of the prison. And I say to you, carry on, comrades, carry on.

Fifteen years imprisonment is a bitter dose, but it is easier to endure when I am told that workingmen the world over have interpreted my punishment as a major expression of master class barbarity.

If I have come to symbolize militant labor being flayed by masters fearful of the voice of the agitator as a menace to their greedy dommy continued imprisonment on a framed charge has enabled the workers to sound the depths of capitalistic villainy, then my suffering has not been in vain. But I do not wish to die in jail. I have a message for the proletariat of the world and it will sound clearer without the interference

I want the satisfaction of confounding the sleek labor politicians of California who have been parties to my continued imprisonment and have boasted that I will never get out unless I accept the shackled freedom

I want to tell the world by word of mouth all I know about these corporation tools cloaked as labor leaders as I have largely exposed them in my latest pamphlet, "Tom Mooney Betrayed by Labor Leaders."

I want to devote the remaining years of my life to untrammed activity among the working class with an eye to the final conflict and the inevitable birth of a new social order. My petition for a pardon is soon to be presented to the new governor of California, James Rolph, Jr. I feel that this petition should be preceded by a special publicity campaign to direct the pressure of public opinion in my behalf toward the governor's office at Sacramento. My Defense Committee at this time is badly hampered by lack of funds. Recently the work of my defense headquarters came to a complete stop because the treasury was empty. Money is urgently needed for printing, mailing, stenography and general office overhead.

In this emergency I am asking you, comrades, to help me financially. Give whatever you can, and without delay. I am facing an opportunity which may or may not bear fruit. But without money I can not make the most of it.

Fifteen years in an iron trap! Consider the misery I have endured for my loyalty to the proletariat. Am I not entitled to all the financial aid you can give me at this late day?

Fifteen years of isolation in a fog-draped penitentiary. Count the bleak days, the black nights, the years of toil uncompensated, the wrack of constant survelliance, the ever-present feel and sight of stone and iron, the fangs of injustice biting into the heart! And the constant parade of corporation agents and their allies, the labor politicians, inhigh carnival before my cell door, so to speak.

I repeat, do not let my defense treasury remain empty. Send on some money so that my committee can continue to carry on. Carry this message from me to all your friends and get them to help you raise funds. The need was never so urgent. Please let me hear from

With bes' wishes to all my militant comrades, I am,

Ann Burlack was arrested here today and was held for federal immigration authorities, although she was born in this country. The International Labor Defense is working for her release.

The strikes are all going strong here, and the workers in Central Falls are entirely behind the National Textile Workers Union, despite the terrorism of the bosses and their police.

The General Fabrics Strike Committee last night rejected the strike-breaking federal "arbitration" commissioner, Anna Weinstock and the Citizens Committee, which has now been broken by the solidarity of the workers behind the National Textile Workers Union. The Strike Committee has set Friday as the date for a conference directly with the management which today intimated defeat and the possibility of opening negotiations with the workers' Strike Committee Friday.

William Z. Foster, general secret ary of the Trade Union Unity League was the second speaker. Foster said that the new organization was basec not on surrender of the miners' rights like the UMWA, but on a united front of the miners, not with the fakers.

Foster called on all the miners to demonstrate against the bosses' war preparations on August 1. He pointed out how the war preparations were masses, wage cuts and speed up to gain new markets for the bosses. He pointed out the mobilization for war by the bosses to crush the rising of the German masses in the event they try to overthrow German capitalism and the unbearable conditions they suffer under it. He pointed out the workers in all capitalist lands were aced with starvation.

"We must struggle against war in its early stages," Foster said.

Over two thousand workers de-nounced the murder of Comrade Hsiang, Secretary of the Communist Party of China, by the Chang Kai-Shek government of China, in front of the Chinese Consulate at 13 Astor Place, yesterday, at 5 p.m. For over half an hour the workers marched back and forth before the building in which the Consulate is located, shouting their protest at this brutal murder by the tools of the imperialist powers. They carried slogans showing the solidarity of the American workers with the workers of China and of the entire world, and rousing the masses of the American workers to smash the entire imperialist system. The slogans called on the workers of New York to demonstrate on August First their determination to fight against the imperialist war and to defend the Soviet Union.

NEWARK SHOWS HOW EASY IT IS TO FORM D. W. CLUBS; ARRANGE AFFAIRS, BUILD SUSTAINING FUND!

The comrades in Newark, N. J., have shown how easy it is to organize a Daily Worker Club. Instead of making a complicated process out of it and expecting detailed instructions on each step, the Section Daily Worker Agent, Comrade Bristol, simply called the readers together and conducted the meeting in accordance with the outline supplied by the Daily Worker office. The meeting was held last Saturday at the Worker Center. 5 Belmont Ave., Newark, and proved to be highly successful, about 60 being present. And there was no "big shot" present to give a talk; the readers did their own talking and showed what can be done with proper initiative.

There was one shortcoming, however, which should be remedied. The minutes of the meeting of the Newark Club have not yet been received by the Daily Worker. The Daily Worker Clubs can function properly and be of maximum value only if they are in constant touch with the office of the Daily. After each meeting the minutes should be at once sent in embodying all criticisms and suggestions.

Another new Daily Worker Club meeting the minutes should be at once sent in, embodying all criticisms and suggestions.

Another new Daily Worker Club was recently organized in New York City under the name of the West Side Daily Worker Club. At its first meeting two talks were given, one on the capitalist and workers' press and one on the Negro press, the latter talk being linked with the Scottsboro case. The tasks were followed by general discussion. An arrangements committee was elected to prepare weekly programs for Thursday nights. This club meets every Thursday at 417 W, 53rd St., and all readers, worker correspondents and readers, worker correspondents and sellers of the Daily Worker in that neighborhood should attend.

Arrange Affairs.

Affairs to put the financial campaign over the top—here is an important field of neitvity for the Daily Worker Clubs. What are you doing to arrange such affairs?

We have heard very little about them from the districts and the Daily Worker Clubs. Sunday, July 19, is the day of the nation-wide Daily Worker celebrations. What about yours? District 7 (Detroit) is not asleep in this respect. This district has arranged a hig Daily Worker Pienie at the Workers' Camp for July 19.

District 7 has also wired for an increase in its bundle order of 200 daily. Detroit has its ears to the ground. As a result of the great working-class struggles that art aking place and the sharpening of the international situation (particular.)

the international situation (part larly in Germany), the demand the Daily Worker is increasing. the Daily Worker is increasing. Are you sure you are meeting the demand? The New York District informs us that during the past few days the Red Builders have practically doubled their sales of the Daily Worker.

Build Sustaining Fund!

Daily Worker affairs (they must not stop with the 19th—there is the whole summer ahead of us) are one of the best occasions not only for selling the Daily, but for getting not stop with the 19th—there is the whole summer ahead of us) are one of the best occasions not only for selling the Daily, but for getting subs. And they offer a wonderful opportunity for getting contributions to the Sustaining Fund. On the job, readers! Subs and weekly or monthly pledges to the Sustaining Fund will help do away with financial drives and bring back the six-page Daily.

A letter from Tacoma. Wash., tells of an enthusiastic meeting July 4 at which E. Levin, manager of the Daily Worker, spoke on the role of the Daily in the struggles of the workers. Space limitations prevent us from quoting this interesting letter. Levin will visit many other cities on his tour. July 21 he will be in Kansas City: following that: St. Louis, July 22; Chicago, July 23; Detroit, July 24; Cleveland, July 25; Pittsburgh, July 26; Washington, July 27; Baltimore, July 28; Philadelphia, July 29.

DEFENSE 611 Penn Avenue

Pittsburgh, Pa

SPARROWS POINT, July 13 .-About two weeks ago in the tin mill, No. 9 mill crew was all dead tired from the speed-up and heat. It was the last heat of the turn. Everybody's nerve was shot as a result of complete exhaustion.

Instead of the workers getting together in a grievance committee of their own, and demanding extra relief for the mill, the workers have started a bad practice that means more money for the bosses' pocketbook and shorter life for the worker. This bad practice is where the roller turns the screw on the break downs. and the screw boy catches the break downs for the catcher because the catcher's job is so hard and hot that it is impossible to work all operators for the whole turn.

Workers Become Completely Exhausted

Workers who do not want their names published because of possible persecution should indicate this in sending in their contributed only $2: District 3 (Philadelphia) did better, but not well enough, with $24.50: District 6 (Clevaland) sent their names printed.

Only $307.94 came in from 5 p.m. Saturday to 5 p.m. Monday. This is a big drop and is due to lack of action in the districts outside of New York. The New York District has already more than doubled its quota, but with the exception of 17 (Birmingham) no other district has yet completed its quota. Some have a long way to go. But the quotas all in the catcher was all in. The ers. A resolution ordered sent to the being exhausted and besides he would al of the police, thugs and gunmen

Slave Conditions Drive Workers Mad The roller got sore and told the catcher to go home. The exhausted catcher dropped his tongs and went home and stayed home. Instead of the workers organizing together and demanding human conditions on such work, the workers fight each other This is just what the bosses want. In this period of efficiency of modern machinery and plenty of work ers, it is simply idiotic that o worker's job be made so disagreeable. This condition occurs only under a bosses thing and the majority of the worktng class owns nothing. In the Soviet Union, the only Workers' and Farmers' Government, the workers own the mills. This means with the development of new machinery, the hours of work is reduced, and the wages are increased because there is no boss to take all Eight of the boys were sentenced to burn in the electric-chair on July 10, at the original "trial' i'n early April at Scottsboro, Alabama. The case of the ninth boy resulted in a mistrial.

The meeting here was called under the joint auspices of the League of Sruggle for Negro Rights and the International Labor Defense, the two organizations charged by the parents and their boys with their defense At least half the crowd were Negro workers, in spite of the fact that most of them had had to walk long dis-

The meeting lasted for two hours, and was very enthusiastic. The success of the meeting, was largely due to the splendid co-operation by the organizations who were represented at the first United Front Scottsboro Conference. An enlarged meeting of the United Front Committee set up by that conference, has been called for Monday, July 20, 'at the Workers Hall, 334 E. Federal Street

Resolutions were unanimously adopted endorsing the Anti-War demonstrations on August 1, and the struggle of the coal miners. Howling for War Against the Soviet Union

THROUGHOUT the capitalist press in the United States we see the cry for war against the Soviet Union Through all these quotations from the various newspapers from coast to coast we see the proof of the war plot against the Soviets. Here is the documentary proof of what Senator Copeland admitted was the war plans against the Soviet. Copeland in a speech on July 4 appealed for an "embargo" against Soviet products. This was to be followed by attempts to stir up counter-revolutionary action in the Soviet Union, which was to lead to intervention by the imperialist powers. Ambassador Edge, also on July 4, appealed to the French imperialists to be quick about preparing war-together with Wall Street-against the U.S.S.R. In the following quotations the war plot is clear: Charleston, S. C., POST, June 28

"But it must be recognized, that this (i.e. embargo) constitutes economic warfare and that if entered upon will have to be relentlessly pressed and that in the course of time might eventually dvelop into warfare of violence. In short, if the U. S. is to declare a policy of non-intercourse with Russia it will in effect initiate along the whole economic front an offensive of the capitalistic against the communistic system. . . Rockford, Ill., STAR, June 28

"It is not improbable that the new rapprochment with Europe on the war debt and reparations moratorium may have something to do with the Russian decision (the Treasury Department, rumored embargo on January 1). Russia is an even greater problem to European countries than it is to the U.S. in its potential dumping policies and an informal agreement freezing Russia out of international trade would relieve a situation that has become increasingly burdensome to western industry."

Chicago TRIBUNE, July 6 Dispatch from Berlin reads: "Arnold Rechberg, German potash king, says, 'A study of present market conditions and police reports on the activities of Soviet agents reveal that they and their aides are undertaking a systematic shrinkage of world markets and ripping down all possibilities of a return to prosperity.' Concerted action of America, England, Germany and France-if necessary, a blockade against Russia, is the only remedy, according to Rech-

Percival P. Baxter, former governor of Maine, in the Portland Sunday Telegram of June 21:

"They (i.e., the Soviets) must be opposed with a united front, and an economic boycott at this stage in their industrialization program seems to be the only way to accomplish the desired re-

"By 1935 it is claimed Russia will be self-supporting in military equipment and absolutely protected against foreign invasion. With this in prospect it is no time for other nations to indulge in extensive disarmament.

"In a campaign of this sort (i.e. against the S.U.) it should not be difficult to obtain the united support of the loyal newspaperse in this country, so that those business men of the U.S. now trading with the Soviets would feel the pressure of an awakened public sentiment that would impress them with the fact that something bigger is at stake than their own profits."

"Today the Bolshevists at least can be made industrially innocuous through the economic cooperation of the U.S.A. and other great powers. I believe the time is ripe for international action in this matter.'

"Communism in Russia today is stronger than ever, its hold on the country grows more firm. . This being so America and Western Europe are soon to face the strongest, most subtle and cruel competition both economically and politi-

"A common problem is seen in Russia's open economic warfare against the rest of the world. It will not be surprising if, before the situation becomes more serious, concerted steps are taken to meet Moscow's challenge in an effective way.'

On July 7 the International Chamber of Commerce in Paris at a meeting passed a resolution regarding the Soviet Union. Commenting on the significance of this resolution, the New York Times said they appointed a committee "to study the Russian question," and added:

"The recommendation regarding a study of documentary information concerning Russia not only was unexpected, but into it was read considerably more significance than appeared in the brief wording. It was unofficially interpreted here as marking possibly the first step in a new capitalist business union to fight Soviet dumping of products."

Representative James M. Beck of Pennsylvania on June 23 made a statement on Russia and urges calling of international conference against Russia, saying (N. Y. Times, June 29):

"If such an economic conference were to serve notice on Russia that the other industrial nations had agreed to put an embargo upon all Russian products if produced by national capital and conscripted labor, then Russia would have a second thought about its Five-Year

Augur (London correspondent of the Times) June 28, says:

"So long as the United States and other governments do not find practical means to exercise a direct financial pressure on the Soviet Tsars, so long will the latter, in respect of their armed forces, be independent of outside influences. This means that in Eastern Europe, Poland and the Baltic States stand on guard over Western civilization a state of war will continue to exist. In consequence of this disarmament as understood in Western Europe cannot be applied to these countries.

PROLETARIAN UNITY

Recently the Central Committee of the Communist Party received a letter pretending to be a plea for Communist unity. The letter had 19 signatures. This letter urged unity between the Communist Party of the United States and a small clique that styles itself "Communist Party of the United States (Majority Group)." Behind this imposing name hides the pitiful handful of Lovestoneites. The letter was evidently made to order. Therefore it may be ignored. Yet, the persistent unity swindle of Lovestone requires a few moments consideration.

The Communist Party of the United States, Section of the Communist International, unites all American Communists. The Communist Party of the United States unitedly enters the struggles of the American workers; through these struggles it is also making rapid progress in uniting the working class by separating it ideologically and organizationally from the bourgeoisie. The basis of the unity of the Party is the program and the tactics of the Communist International. This programmatical and tactical unity is the strength of our International. Those that refuse to accept the revolutionary program of the Communist International and that refuse to submit to its revolutionary discipline, cannot plead for unity.

The Lovestone group, has nothing in common with the Communist International and the Communist Party. It is its enemy.

The Communist International organizes and leads the fight against reformism. Lovestone is the agent of reformism. He is the open and avowed ally of Muste, Lore and the petty bourgeois anarchists

The Communist International builds revolutionary unions. Lovestone fights the revolutionery unions. Zimmerman and others of Lovestone's emissaries unite with Schlesinger to fight the revolutionary Needle Workers Union.

The Communist International demands a united front of the Communist vanguard with the ranks of the workers against the treacherous and reformist leaders. Lovestone makes a united front with the reformist and treacherous leaders against the workers. His emmissary Lifschitz did this in the Workmen's Circle; Zimmerman did it in the I. L. G. W. U.; Lovestone did it with his support of the Farrington-Howatt-Muste alliance in the Illinois Miners Union; Lovestone is doing it in uniting with the Musteites in West Virginia against the National Miners' Union: Gitlow is doing it in his united front with the treacherous U. T. W. leadership against the revolutionary National Textile Workers' Union in Passaic and elsewhere. The Communist International builds militant left wing groups in the Right unions to combat and overthrow the reactionery leadership. Lovestone builds "ligtning rod left wings" to maintain this reactionary leadership. This is especially demonstrated by the Lovestoneite activities in the I. L. G. W. U.

The Communist Party mobilizes the masses for the defense of the Soviet Union. Lovestone is the peddler of the bourgeois lies against the Soviet Union. Lovestone's so-called united front May Day demonstration was made with the bitterest and most poisonous enemies of the Soviet Union, the petty bourgeois anarchist I. W. W.

evidently believe in a community of interests between the workers and their enemies. That is why they wrote the letter Lovestone dictated. But, they put the wrong address on it. Their request for unity with the Lovestoneites should have been addressed to Abe Cahan. Morris Hillquit and Norman Thomas. From the Rev. J. A. Muste to the Rev. Norman Thomas is even a shorter step than from sublime to ridiculous. It is only the step from the position of a more hidden, to that of a more exposed enemy of the workers.

Why these unity manoeuvers on the part of Lovestone? This question is easy to answer. The very position of Lovestone and his group is that of a prolific breeder of lies. This group is an outpost of the enemy in the ranks of the working class. Therefore it cannot operate on the basis of its program. It must make its program appear something else than it is. It must LIE OR DIE. Even its name is a whole bunch of lies. Every

The group supports the traitors of the working class; but it hides this support under manoeuvers of opposition to them. It sends poisoned arrows against the Soviet Union; but it shields itself behind meaningless pro-Soviet phrases. It is trying to split the militant workers; but it wraps its splitting activities into resolutions of revolutionary unity.

The unity propaganda of Lovestone is his staple lie. It is designed to create the illusion that his ers is due, not to his treacherous policies but to

Class conscious workers, however, will not be misled by the liberal and meaningless phrase of

The Communist International organizes the workers for struggle and victory. Lovestone contributes to and exults in the defeat of the working class. The Lovestone organ has completely ignored to this day the heroic struggle of 40,000 miners in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, under the leadership of the National Miners Union; but it hastened to report sneeringly the temporary defeat of a group of struggling miners outside the area of the Penn-Ohio-West Virginia

The novelist by this time had gotten a faint taste of the treatment accorded the miners by

The most illuminating eve-full of the war area the novelist caught, was when he interviewed the score or more of miners and their wives as to their living conditions.

He discovered such facts as the following: that for months many of these had been living on bread, dandelion leaves, and water. He learned. for instance, from Frank Luciana, of the Creighton Mine at Tarentum, that "Some pay day I get $14, some $24. Pay day come every two weeks. I have children. I pay $25 a month rent for my four-room house. Eats cost too much. I can't pay rent. I owe $200 on the grocery bill. Some time I eat one time a day, morning or evening. Some time I eat some kind of grass, what you call Italian grass. You cook it good, take a little flour, that is all."

He learned from Jack Rogers, of Midway, Pa., that he had averaged "just the groceries" for the past two years. "Clyde Brow". of the Crescent Mine told him, "Fellows come in with potato peels in their buckets. Leave the potatoes for their children to eat. I went to work four months straight with one egg sandwich in my bucket." He learned that many other miners carry no food into the pits-only water in their dinner pails.

Dreiser learned that to date 550 miners, their women and even children had been arrested. That bail for them has exceded one million dollars. That two miners had been killed. That nineteen are dying or seriously wounded. That more than 2,000 were gassed, clubbed, and ridden down by the cavalry of the State Police. He discovered that the casualties on the other side-the coal operators side-consisted of nothing more to date than curtailment of production. Not one serious personal injury was sustained by any mercenary in the armies of the mine owners—the strikers are totally unarmed, except for their rock-hard fighting qualities. He learned that the State police—the so-called 'courteous, impartial" horsemen of Governor Pinchot-have ridden down on strikers; that the imprints of the iron hoofs of the Cossacks' horses are on the bodies of many a miner or his woman. He learned that Judge H. H. Rowand, of Pittsburgh, had handed down an injunction against picketing to the Butler Consolidated Coal Company-which was a pretext for the deputies to fire on the picket at Wildwood. and kill one, wound 19, and for the arrests of 38 miners immediately afterward.

He discovered that the coal operators are veritable feudal lords, inside of the capitalist state. That these feudal barons have their own domains-upon which to trespass may mean death; have their own armies, the special deputies, the state police; have their own currency, scrip and coins; their own commisaries, where they charge the miners from 50 per cent to 100 per cent more on each article; their own schools and churches, and jails. These feudal barons rule as arrogantly as any noble of the Middle Ages, this unity is its revolutionary program. Workers the king of the land had authority over his barons-today, under capitalism, the barons dictate to the highest authority-the national government.

Dreiser - the great novelist - had never depicted these conditions in his novels. He had never come across them face to face before. It was new to him. And tremendously disturbing. He knew something was wrong with the economy, the government of his native land. But he never encountered the aspects of it in such reality hitherto.

Sheriff James Cain, of Allegheny County, took great pains to greet warmly Dreiser and Horace B. Davis, the other member of the investigating committee. To give "his side" of the question. Sheriff Cain, a "World War veteran" if you please—he brought this fact up at least a dozen times-squirmed behind his desk as the novelist shot question after question at him. The sheriff's office looks out on the brutal, dirty-gray fortress d the Allegheny County Prison across the street

The emnent sheriff has but two teeth in the lower jay-they thrust upward like tusks-and his oily smile gleamed and crackled as he tried to win the novelist over to his side.

"I know the hardships of these people" he beamed, "Why, I'm a miner's son myself. But" he said; "I believe in carrying out the dictates of the law. I am against violence-on either side. Oh, yes, certainly, I believe in the rights of the miners to picket, but"-and his face creased in that oily smile, and his fangs jutted up over his upper lip, "not to infringe on the rights of private property, not to use violence."

Sheriff Cain was aided now and then by his shrewd lackey, Solicitor Averbach. Together they went out and brought in a huge gun-the type the deputies used at Wildwood to pour lead into the ranks of the miners, their wives and chil-

"You see"-Sheriff Cain said, pointing the pump gun in Dreisers' direction. Before he could continue, Dreiser warned, "Please point that gun at the solicitor instead." The sheriff pointed the gun away.

"What I was going to tell you is this. My deputy fired into the air, like this," and he aimed the gun at the ceiling, "and no doubt somebody else killed the miner, Pete Zigaric."

"But" said Dreiser, "the reporter in the Pittsburgh Past Gazette,"—a paper that like all the other capitalist press cannot by any means be termed favorable to the miners-"described how your deputies fired into this group of unarmed men and women."

The sheriff looked wounded. "That reporter lied" he said. "I have the utmost faith in Deputy sheriff Silver Braun and Herbert Real. They did not shoot this miner. No doubt somebody else killed the miner. Maybe another miner."

But this sounded so lame that Solicitor Averbach came to his rescue. The coroner is making the investigation" he said. "We have every confidence in our special deputies. They are tried and true men.

As we were leaving the office, Sheriff Cain rose and smiled at Dreiser. "I am a great lover of books and pictures," he said.

There was a large picture on the shelf facing the sheriff who had given and taken the orders to kill the miners. This picture, he explained was "That of Christ, telling the young rich man to sell his goods, and give them to the poor." He smiled a sanctimonious smile.

"You see," the sheriff said, picking up the pump gun. "I have a Sunday school class I teach every Sunday. And I bought that picture to present to them."

And he put the gun back on a shelf facing the picture.

Yep, But the Cow Was Dead Somebody sent us this, scrawled on a sheet of paper, and we think he must be alluding to the German reparations cow: "Ye starving mutts, what ails ve now? "Come bind the laurels round his brow: "Great Herbert Hoover-saved a cow!"

Tell Us What It Means

must pay the reparations installment due July 15, poor old fathead Hoover get so mixed up that he issued the following "authoritative statement" at Washington, published in the N. Y. Times of July 10. We defy anybody to say what means these following paragraphs:

"President Hoover considers his plan as much in full force and effect as if it had received the formal and official sanction of all the powers

"Neither President Hoover nor the State Department has undertaken diplomatic exchanges with European governments to bring about an understanding by which Germany will not be obliged to pay her next reparations installment, due July 15, if formal and official sanction to the Hoover plan has not been given by all governments by that time.

"Germany will not be obliged to pay one penny of the installment if formal and official sanction is lacking, even from France, by

Let the Germans, French and other diplomats, including the Scandinavians, puzzle over that a while! The Hoover plan is "in effect," but there is no Hoover plan and it isn't in effect, yet Germany don't have to pay anyhow. willy nilly and ipso facto, hocus pocus and non compos mentis, hurrah for Hoover!

All of which moves us to suggest to the Germans, since they say they are going to rename a Berlin street and call it "Hooverstrasse," that they pick out a winding blind alley and move all their insane asylums there. That would be correctly called "Hooverstrasse."

Ham Fish's Boy Friend

Workers should take note of the kind of animals being used by the Fish Committee and other reactionary elements who want Communists outlawed and urge war on the Soviet

You will recall that several months ago the N. Y. World mentioned that Gaston B. Means was authorized by the Fish Committee to "investigate the reds" in New York City, and that Means had rented an expensive suit of rooms at one of New York's best hotels and was busy as a cranberry merchant "investigating" us.

Well, we dug around a bit and give below a photographic reproduction of a news article which appeared in the N. Y. Tribune on July 18, 1918, just 13 years ago, during the World War. We urge you to read this carefully, and note the fact that not only Mr. Means, but also "some of New York's most prominent lawyers" were in the pay of the Kaiser.

Of added interest one may note that the present "investigator" of Ham Fish's committee, who was acquitted of murder of a wealthy woman. was never jailed as a German spy, nor was any real German spy convicted during the war under the infamous "Espionage Law", but that hundreds of workers were jailed and stayed in jail until five years after the war.

Anyhow, look over this interesting news item of 13 years back. Get sore enough about this to tell 'em what you think of 'em on August

German Spies Paid in Trinity Church Yard

Gaston B. Means Admits He Got $177,000 for Services to Kaiser

CHICAGO, July 17 .- Admissions the he had served as a secret agent Germany before the United Stat entered the war and allegations the some of New York's most prominer lawyers had done as he did were made to-day by Gaston B. Means in testimony at the hearing to determine the mony at the hearing to determine the legality of one of two wills purporting to dispose of the $3,000,000 estate left by James C. King, of Chicago.

Means, who appeared as a with $6 for the heirs of Mrs. Naude A. King for whose alleged numer he was used and acquitted in Colcord, N. C., last winter, freely almitted receiving money for accord as a secret agen to the German government before the outbreak of the war with the United States. Quietly he told of receiving $85,000 at one timeland $2,000 at another for his services to Germany, and of delivering $1,300,000 which he received on a check to Captain Boy-Ed, German haval attache at Washington, who was subsequently exhelled.

Asked regarding the services for which he received $92,000, Means said:

"I made the money the way many other Americans did, some of them the biggest lawyers in New York. I can easily tell you the place where I called for it—right in the Trinity Church yard, at a designated tombstone."

The Poor Fish Again

Some person, writing to a Buffalo paper, relates the following: "The newspapers report the wholesale killing of fish in Ischua Creek, near Cuba, New York, by pollution of the stream from the dumping of 50,000 gallons of milk." Quite properly he comments: "Russia would shoot such 'patriots' as this. But we don't even arrest them!"

Arrest them! Heavens, no! We pay them three prices for what milk there is left, or our babies die of starvation if we lack the pricel
