No Change in MacDonald

"At this moment I have changed none of my beliefs and none of my ideals."—From Ramsay MacDonald's speech.

WHAT MacDonald says is true. Although he has been chief of the British "Labor" Party and of the Second "Socialist" International, he never believed in the historic mission of the working class—the overthrowal of capitalism, and his "ideals" were opposed to socialism. Hence there has been no change in MacDonald. Nor has the British government changed in class character, because it never was a working class government, but a capitalist one.

However, when MacDonald spoke over the radio explaining his actions, we must say that there has been one change. His demagogy and hypocrisy only now reached full flower. What are we to say, for example, when-without any plan whatever for increased taxing of the rich. a reduction of unemployed workers' benefits is proposed in the following

"How can any government . . . appeal for general economy and sacrifice, and say to every person whose income can be touched, We want you to give us heartily something you now possess, in the interests of your nation,' and then go on to add, 'but those for whose benefit the state is supplying well over $500,000,000 per annum, from them we ask nothing."

We fail to see why MacDonald missed the chance to quote scripture To him who hath it shall be given, and from him who hath not, it shall be taken away even that which he hath." Certainly after adding that it is "more in the interest" of the poor than of the rich that "national credit" be preserved. MacDonald with good reason asked his hearers not to conclude "it is mere words which I am using." It would be a logical conclusion to think so.

But there are other richer spots in MacDonald's speech. Take his plea that the saving of British capitalism was a "supreme urgency." Here we are told: "There is no time for slow change. We must act now." Now, as leader of the Second "Socialist" International, MacDonald has ever upheld the reformist doctrine that the abolition of capitalism and the establishment of socialism would be "gradual," and as fiercely attacked the Communists, the Bolsheviks, for violating—even though successfully this reformist rule.

One of the chief theoretical shelters for social fascists—which these reformists have become-against the Bolshevik argument for a revolutionary overthrowal of capitalist rule, an argument backed up by victorious socialist construction in the Soviet Union, has been the plea that no emergency of the working class, no matter how bitter and distressful, justifies a sudden seizure of political power—that "must be done slowly."

But now, not to overthrow capitalism, but to save it, MacDorald finds "urgency" and "immediate action" quite all right. Firm and decisive and ruthless against the working class, "socialist" party practice always demands "slowness" and "caution" and-in the end-defense of the interests of the capitalist class. But it would be a mistake to take the "opposition" leaders within the "Labor" Party as seriously differing with MacDonald in basic class views. Else why did the Trade Union Congress leaders initiate and carry out the infamous "Mond Agreement," an agreement with employers which established nationally a class collaboration system such as the notorious "B. & O. Plan" of "worker-management cooperation" (for the benefit of the management) of the American Federation of Labor in this country?

Neither in the "opposition" proposals, nor in the past performances of the "opposition" leaders does there appear any difference in principle between MacDonald and the rest of the "Labor" Party, and we must say that, just as in his case, also in theirs, there has been "no change in beliefs or ideals." No more than there is any real difference between Hillquit "the pot" and Norman Thomas "the kettle" in the controversy here over Hillquit acting as attorney for Russian counter-revolutionists.

Without these "oppositionists" arose to make a noise and sidetrack the British masses, they know full well that literally millions of workers who have followed the "Labor" Party would go over to the only party pledged to overthrowal of capitalism and firmly resolved to lead a fight against taking even a penny from the unemployed workers—the Communist Party. That the "opposition" to MacDonald is still of the same opinion as MacDonald is proven by the fact that it is trying to prevent the workers from turning to the Communists.

"Self Help"

GERMANY—that is to say, German capitalism—had to be saved. The bankers proposed, and all the capitalists agreed, that it should be done by "self help." The result:-Something like $500,000,000 yearly taxes added on to what the working class pays, another $500,000,000 taken away from the working class in reduced unemployment benefits and wage cuts. the right to strike abolished and forced labor established.

England—that is to say, English capitalism—also needs to be saved. The bankers proposed, and all the capitalists agree, that it should be done by "self help." The result already forecast is that some $482,500,000 is to be stolen from unemployment benefits, wages are to be slashed.

The German "socialists" agreed that the German workers must "self help" the German capitalists. Now, Ramsay MacDonald, "socialist" premier of England, is going to make the British workers "self help" British capitalists whether the workers like it or not. The fake "left" headed by Arthur Henderson (of all people!) say that the "self help" should be given in another way by raising prices the workers must pay, even if it takes a high tariff to do it (high tariff is a Tory policy so what's the difference between these fake "leftists" of the Labor Party and Stanley Baldwin with whom MacDonald is ruling?)—thus cutting wages in fact America? Well, over here there is a treasury deficit, too, though if Andy Mellon, secretary of the treasury, would be taxed a small part of his fortune that alone would wipe out the deficit.

In America what needs saving is the 10,000,000 unemployed and their families-tens of millions of workers, men, women and children, facing a winter of bitter poverty and actual starvation. So, over here, too, the bankers have proposed through Hoover, and all the capitalists agreed, that "self help" is the remedy.

"Self help," according to Hoover, means that the workers must not ask for unemployment insurance. That would mean that the capitalists would have to be taxed to pay for it; more, it would mean, according to Hoover, a "dole," and a "dole" is something that Hoover and the A. F. of L. leaders hate even the mention of. The very idea of giving hungry workers and workers' babies something to eat! So "self help" is a couple of words to conjure with. A wage-cutting capitalist-Gifford-is appointed to see that "self help" is properly interpreted. If, in a hundred cities, a thousand unemployed workers or their loved ones are to die every day this winter of hunger. Hoover's Commission for "Coordination of Self Help" is to add them all up and issue news items to the capitalist press "proving" that "public health is excellent," "local relief is adequate."

In fact, it will be "adequate"-for the capitalists-so long as the workers starve to death quietly and peaceably-adequate to protect the rich and well-fed capitalists from paying back in relief some of the profits they have wrung from the sweat of the workers.

All the governors of the different states and the mayors of big cities are sending telegrams to Hoover pledging the workers of their localities to starve to death quietly, to live on "self help." But they haven't asked these workers, the millions upon millions of jobless about what THEY think of such "self help."

Last February 10th a delegation of unemployed knocked at the doors of Congress demanding Unemployment Insurance, in the name of about 1,000,000 workers who signed their names to written demands. This winter, the number will be multiplied-and no empty words about "self help" will suffice for an answer!

Now, before winter is upon us, the unemployed should rally in masses to the Unemployed Councils: To defend themselves against evictions, to fight for immediate relief for the destitute, to demand at least $150 winter relief from the authorities for each unemployed worker, and above all to insist on Unemployment Insurance for all workers unemployed all or part time, at full wages, at the cost of the capitalists and administered

The capitalists will not help the workers in this fight. The workers must help themselves. That is the only kind of "self help" that can save them from starvation!

Labor Party Betrayals

NEW YORK.—The latest cables from London to the capitalist newspapers here show that the forces in the Labor Party and Trade Union Council of Britain who put up a sham opposition to MacDonald's open betravals are planning to mislead the workers, and by hook or crook to traitorous attempts to betray the keep them within the ranks of the mass fight to save the nine innocent

The Trade Union Congress, in a statement issued just before its meeting, puts forward the hypocritical cry of "Unity." They say: "Unity of the labor movement is the paramount consideration." They know thousands of workers will drift to the Communist Party, completely disillusioned, and they cry "unity" in order to help British capitalism by trying to hold the workers within the British Labor Party or under the thumb of MacDonald's cronies in the Trade Union Congress.

Meanwhile, unemployment grows worse in England. The number of jobless registered is over 2,700,000, which is 5,017 more than last week, and 701,419 greater than last year. The number will increase still fur

Workers Jam Court Denounce Police Massacre

CHICAGO, III., Aug. 25. - The trial of the seven workers arrested on August 3 during the South Side massacre came up today, but on the request of the prosecuting attorney it was postponed one month. The reason is obvious for this postponement. The city realizes that all these workers arrested are innocent. The city government feels the pressure of the masses who packed the court room to overflow this morning.

Resolutions were passed demanding criminal action against the city officials and Lieut. Hardy and his policemen responsible for the murder. In view of all this, they found it advisable to postpone the trial, waiting for a more favorable condition, or to drop the case entirely.

CHICAGO, Ang. 25. - Under the pretext of "stamping out" the policy racket on the South Side, Mayor Cermak has thrown additional police into the South Side to crush the struggles of the unemployed Negro workers against starvation and evic tions. Put Over Wage Cut Agreeement

NEW YORK .- To clear the road for coming to a wage cut agreement with the two Hattie Carnegie dress shop bosses, Harry Greenberg, manager of Local 38, I. L. G. W. U., has instituted a reign of terror in the local, expelling all known militants. Don Wishnewsky, Morris Goodman, Bruska Weiner, Rose Schur-man and others were expell on the technical charges of not paying their dues. The real reason for their expulsion was that Greenberg and his clique feared that the left wing workers would put up a strong slate in the coming elections and wage a uccessful fight against him.

Had Built the Local. The expelled workers were outstanding builders of the local since its inception.

The Hattie Carnegie shops recenty broke contractual agreement with Greenberg's ostensible opposition to the wage cuts demands sprang from his policy of clearing the way of the militants to arrive at an understanding with the bosses against the workers' interest.

The expelled members were strike for 24 weeks and have been unemployed since then and as a result of the betrayal of the strike.

38 are calling for an open forum for Thursday, 3 p. m., at Imperial Hall, 55th St. and 3rd Ave. At this forum the workers will discuss the present situation and what can be done to organize a real struggle against the bosses and their agents of Local 38. The ladies' tailors and dressmakers are called upon to come to this forum and fight the expulsion and organize for real struggle to reestablish union conditions in the shops.

GREET DREISER ON HIS 60th BIRTHDAY

Sympathetic to the Workers' Movement

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.-Theodore Dreiser, famous American writer, who has during the past year come forth as a supporter of the revolutionary labor movement, is 60 years old today.

On this occasion the Workers Cultural Federation has sent him the following telegram:

"In the name of its 179 affiliated organizatons with 30,000 members, the newly formed Workers Cultural Federation greets you on your sixtieth birthday. We hail you both as great writer and as a courageous friend of the oppressed masses and of the Soviet Union. We wish you many fruitful, creative years in even closer contact with the workingclass."

A similar telegram was sent by the John Reed Club of New York.

Born in Indiana Dreiser was born August 27, 1871 in Terre Haute, Ind., of a lower middle class family which had been ruined financially and thrown into the ranks of the workingclass. Dreiser was early compelled to go to work, holding down various jobs. In 1900 his first novel, "Sister Carrie," was published: but when the critics, who were staunch defenders of the sacred bourgeois family, deonunced the book as immoral, the publishers refused to release it for circulation.

Dreiser's other books include "Jennie Gerhardt," "The Financier," "The Titan." "The 'Genius'" (suppressed as immoral), "Twelve Men," "A Book About Myself," "An American Tragedy" and "Dawn." He is considered one of the greatest living American writers.

In 1927 Dreiser visited the Soviet Union and on his return, wrote

"Dreiser Looks at Russia." Aids Political Prisoners Dreiser is now chairman of the Scottsboro Defense Committee, Last year he was chairman of the Committee for the Defense of Southern Political Prisoners; he also endorsed the Communist Party in the elections in November. Two months ago he headed a committee of writers and intellectuals which investigated conditions among the striking miners in Western Pennsylvania. He wrote an article exposing these conditions and the betraval role of the United Mine Workers leadership and was promptly attacked by Wm.

A reign of terror that equals the worst ever known in the bloody history of the American class struggle now rages in Harlan, Ky. The company gunmen, deputy sheriffs and judges are trying to terrorize witnesses so that the courts will have an easier time in ensuring a Sacco-Vanzetti fate for the scores of miners indicted on the framed-up murder charge.

WASHINGTON, Pa., August 26 .-Pat Fagan and lesser officials of the UMWA and their relatives and their stool pigeons coined hands with the Canonsburg police department in an all-day-long attempt today to perjure Leo Thompson, Stella Rasefsky and nine others, four of them Negro miners, to long prison terms.

While Fagan was on the stand, at the end of today's session, the court ruled that no testimony of the wage cutting, strike breaking activity of the United Mine Workers of America would be allowed in. As judge Cummins put it, when International Labor Defense Attorney Marino asked Fagan whether the UMWA didn't feel that it needed "rehabilitation" ni this district pretty bad, "The court does not wish to go into the issues between the rival unions."

Neither has the prosecution yet raised the "Red issue," as all their newspaper propaganda previous to the trial would cause one to believe would be their tactics. The "Red issue" although it doesn't any longer rouse the excitement in a miner starving to death through a UMWA contract that the bosses and UMWA would like to have it raise, is probably being saved for later on in the trial-perhaps for the prosecutor's closing speech.

The defense gained a point by the admission of the public to the trial today. Yesterday, while the jury was being selected, the public and the press were barred.

But when Ray Greene, International Labor Defense Organizer for this the office) and that he is a nephew district walked into the court house, she didn't even get very close to the office of the UMW. THE Chicago Defender publishes in its issue of August 22 a confessional address by its publisher, Robert S. Abbott. The address is supposed to have been delivered by Mr. Abbott from the porch of his palatial home on South Parkway, Chicago. Who comprised his auditors we do not know. We do know that they were not the Negro workers of Chicago, the murderous attack on whom by the police at the orders of white and Negro landlords, meeting with representatives of the Chicago Defender and the N. A. A. C. P. his paper brazenly attempted

Mr. Abbott's address is part of the present frenzied campaign of the Negro reformists to reestablish their traitorous leadership over the Negro workers of Chicago. This campaign is directed at luring these workers away from the mass struggle, lead by the Communist Party and the Unemployed Council, against starvation and evictions, and for immediate unemployment relief and unconditional equal rights for the Negro People. It is directed at the magnificent unity of Negro and white workers achieved under the leadership of the Unemployed Council and the Communist Party. It aims to again isolate the Negro workers of Chicago and leave them defenseless before the onslaughts of the capitalists. It aims at betraying their fight for existence, their fight against hunger and starv-

Mr. Abbott's own paper characterizes his "address" as "notable and stirring." It is indeed notable. A notable confession of the criminal betrayal of the struggles of the Negro masses by the Negro petty bourgeois class to which Mr. Abbott belongs. Mr. Abbott admits that the traitorous, reformist, fawning leadership with which the Negro masses have been afflicted for decades "surrendered rights without a struggle. We yielded our slef-respect at the invitation of flattery. We rubbed out marks of determination and enthroned instead the grin of the inferior grade of man on the brow and named it diplomacy.

"What it (the Negro race) had it lost. What it sought to maintain was taken away from it by the cruel, brutal, relentless hand of oppression and through the stupid assininity of its own products entrapped in the machinations of the damnable schemes of a fraudulent friendship. Its rights are gone. Its opportunities had to go with the loss of rights. Its good name is now mud. Its children are face to face with a bondage harder than death."

Admitting all of this, does Mr. Abbott now call for a vigorous militant struggle for Negro righst; for a struggle against the capitalist oppressors of the Negro masses? He does not! All that Mr. Abbott does is to admit the treachery of his class in the face of the growing realization of the Negro masses of that fact! All that he does is to let loose a flood of social demagogy! He speaks of seeking "peace through strike against every wrong" of resisting "the lying, thieving ambassadors from the throne of Jim Crow as we encounter them."

But Mr. Abbott raises no demand for struggle against lynching, peonage and the starvation program of the capitalists which affects most deeply the Negro masses. He does not call for struggle against the frightful legal lynching of the nine innocent Scottsboro Negro children planned by the Alabama bosses. He has no word of condemnation for the massacre of Negro croppers at Camp Hill, Alabama. His own paper sought to justify the massacre of Negro unemployed workers in Chicago on August 3. He has no word of support for the struggle for the land by the Negro toilers of the South or for the right of self determination for the Negro majorities in that section of the country.

Unemployment-1930-

In the spring of last year International Pamphlets published Work or Wages by Grace M Burnham, fourth in its series of working class pamphlets prepared by Labor Research Association. "Work or wages" was the demand in the spring of 1930 of 7,000,000 unemployed workers who were already feeling the blows of the capitallst crisis. It was the demand of all workers who were alive to the fact that the weary Foreign-Born Workers in the USA months ahead, with jobs getting scarcer and wage cuts hanging over their heads, would mean starvation, sickness and death to many thousands of the unemployed and their wives and

A year has come and gone, and another year is well under way. All the promises of the capitalist rulers of the United States and other capitalist countries, have proven to be empty words. Hoover's "prosperity", which was always just around the corner, has finally vanished into thin air. Financiers and politicians now admit that the sufferings during the coming winter will be even worse than the workers had to face in 1931. Unemployment has increased by at least 3.000 .-000. And at least ten million more workers are on part time. A wide spread wage cutting campaign has reduced the great majority of those still employed to actual want.

The employing class has not yielded one inch. Not one piece of legislation for unemployment insurance has been passed. Only where the workers have militantly risen in hunger marches and demonstrations have the frightened legislators thrown out a little relief. The Red Cross. is showing its true role as strike-breaker and wage-cutter. When the starving miners of Henryetta, Arkansas, armed themselves and marched on the groceries for food, the Red Cross was called in to give an ultimatum of $1 per day for contract labor or starvation.

The hard facts presented by the Labor Research Association in Work or Wages remain as they were in 1930. Organizing employed and unemployed to fight for unemployment insurance and immediate relief, to stop evictions, feed and clothe starving children, provide medical care for the sick, remains the immediate job of the workers in the United States. This little pamphlet, Work or Wages, will give every classconscious worker the facts on unemployment, facts with which he can arouse his fellowworker, facts which will show the unemployed that their fate is no accident but inevitable under the capitalist system.

Every worker who has not yet bought this pemphlet should send 10 cents for a copy to Workers' Library Publishers, P. O. Box 148, Station D. New York City. And all unit, section and district literature agents should order copies for sale during the coming fall and winter campaigns for social insurance.

THE report of MacDonald's commission on lowering the government expenditures is now the topic of the day in England.

The commission which was appointed by the "Labor" government for this purpose was purposely constructed in such a manner that it could be depended upon. As chairman, Sir George May, the secretary of the Prudential Insurance Company, which is the richest company in England was appointed. The members of the commission were: Ryden, a director of a huge bank, one of the "big five" and also a director of the Cunard Line; Jenickson, the director of the huge Vickers-Armstrong Metallurgical and Machine Builders Company; Lathos, a director of a large automobile company; Lord Plender, who as "Impartial Arbitrator", decided that the wages of the coal miners should be cut; Ashley Cooper, also a director of large stockcompanies, and lastly, Pugh, secretary of the Union of Metal Workers, who became famous by breaking the general strike in 1926 and by helping to put through a wage reduction of 25 per cent in 1930 for the workers of his union.

In such a manner did the construction of commission completely guarantee, that "the interests of the nation" and especially of its "better part" (that is, of the bourgeoisie) be assured.

The commission did not disappoint the hopes that had been placed upon it to take care of the capitalist interests. It made the following proposals, which speak for themselves. The commission proposed to cut expenditures in the following manner: Cut the expenditures for the unemployed, a)

By lowering relief given by 20 per cent; b) By raising the workers' and employers' contribution to the dole fund by 300 million dollars.

Cut the expenditures for education; a) Lower the government subsidies to the local education committees; b) Lower the government aid to the institutes of higher education; c) cut the wages of the teachers by 20 per cent.

Cut the expenditures for road building by cutting off 35 million dollars from the sum that the government has been giving to the local munici-

Evictions Again-But Again Workers Put Back Furniture

CHICAGO. Ill.—Only a few days after the City Administration made a promise not to evict the unemployed workers, on August 17 again five evictions took place on the South Side alone. In all cases the unemployed workers, led by the members of the Unemployed Council Branch No. 4, successfully put back the furniture of the evicted families. More than half a dozen police squads rushed to the spot blowing their sirens. But the unemployed workers were not scared. They went on with "their business".

The mass of workers gathered about those that were putting back the furniture. As police ran with their sirens shrieking more people were attacked.

The unemployed workers were mostly young and went about their work "business-like", as one observer remarked. Police did not dare to attack them, not even to molest them.

After putting back the last evicted family the workers marched in parade to Washington Park where open forum meetings are being held every night. About 6,000 workers gathered in the Park

Applications Piling Up. The Unemployed Council Branch No. 4 was growing fast even before the police murder of the three unemployed workers, but after that, after the huge domonstration of 100,000 Negro and white workers marching together, applications for the Council are coming by hundreds. The Branch No. 4 has already more than 3,000 members. It is going to be divided in eight or more branches as applications are still flowing. The workers in the whole city are aroused. they especially are aroused in the South Side. I think it is the first time in history such militancy has been shown by Negro workers; also white

What Happened

"Daily Worker-A daily reader of the Daily Worker wants to know what happened. Since about two weeks he is missing in every copy his 'Red Sparks' and not a word is ever mentioned about its disappearance. and mass murder!

This is only a lonesome sample of a great many inquiries received by the Daily Worker about the sudden disappearance of Red Sparks, our columnist—Jorge—having suddenly been taken ill and forced to quit work. The explanation should have been given earlier, and we expected him to write it, but until now his condition did not allow it, although he expected every day to be able the next. Any time it is missing or irregular in the near future, readers will understand that the reason is that Jorge is not yet able to do much.-Editor.

You see, comrade readers, life is short and the N. Y. Times is a liar. But notwithstanding my desire to call daily attention to that fact, we (editorially speaking) have a liver.

Along in 1917, Uncle Sam fixed up a Five Year Plan for our liver, and since we got out of Leavenworth (which is Choctaw for "Liverwurst" in 1923, the darn thing has never been the same. Doctors shook their heads over it, and finally it was taken out, some ruffles cut off, hemstitched, washed, ironed and returned to addressee. But it was never the same old pre-war liver.

That might have been all right. In fact for months and years we have been going about, working day and night, and nobody to look at us would have suspected that we had a liver. But there are limits beyond which the best of livers cannot be driven.

It hardly survived Hoover's moratorium. Then came the patriotic feat in which the U.S. Army planes sunk-that is, tried to sink, the old transport "Shasta". The Shasta was supposed to take the place of "an enemy boat approaching our shores", and about a dozen army bombing planes hopped out from Langley Field to "repel the Well, they got lost the first day, and not only failed to find the "enemy" but failed to find their way back home. All the pot-bellied officers on the boat towing the "enemy" swore that such a thing couldn't happen again. It didn't. They towed the "enemy ship" up close an a bright day so that the "expert army aviators couldn't miss seeing it, and then they blazed away with bombs (at $500 per bomb, please take note you hungry unemployed).

But they couldn't hit the "enemy" ship, which, if it had been the real thing might have sailed on up the Potomac, right up Pennsylvania avenue and captured Hooey Hoover, moratorium and all.

They then took advantage of the helpless condition of the "enemy", went aboard and tried to sink it by opening the sea-cocks, but failed at that too. Then they stood off and began throwing butcher knives at it, but it failed to sink.

We will have some more to say about these things when we recover sufficiently. Until then, try "self help".-Jorge.

the Labor representatives will 'revolt' against the government and vote against its proposals. This concerns the representatives who are directly supported in their election expenses by the work-

The "Daily Telegraph" soothes MacDonald and assures him that the Conservatives will give him their aid and will help him carry through the lengthy plans.

The "Morning Post" declares: "Snowden may be sure, that the well-thought out and decisive plans on economy will not meet any opposition on the part of the Conservatives in Parliament." Callins, a pillar of the Conservatives, went wild with joy: "It is possible that the country will find itself in such a condition that a National government will have to be formed of the representatives of all parties. Personally, I would welcome such a government."

In other words, this means that if a part of the "Labor" fraction will not be bold enough to carry through the "economy" which MacDonald proposes at the expense of the working class then the Liberals and the Conservatives stand ready to take the place of the government. The Liberals and the Conservatives can be sure, however, that MacDonald will serve capitalism as needs be. It is necessary to mention that the greatest part of the commission which MacDonald appointed to report on cutting the expenditures consisted of well known partners to all whiteguardist conspiracies against the Soviet Union during the past few years. It is a fine collection of the most important pillars of capitalism, whom MacDonald and his lieutenants serve so faithfully.
