ALL OUT SAT. IN SOLIDARITY WITH BRITISH SEAMEN

THE strike of the school children in Haysboro, Pa., for free food and the struggles that are being carried on in the Pittsburgh district for free food and clothing for the miners' children are exposing to all workers the real starvation conditions of the millions of children of the unemployed, part time and striking workers and their willingness to fight for their everyday needs. The children in Haysboro, when they were told by the Board of Education that this year they will have to pay their own carfare to and from school, walked off the street car, painted signs on cardboard with slogans that they were on strike because, as their slogans read, their parents had no work, no money, no fare-no school, a fitting

In the mining section, the undernourished, clothingless children of the miners who are fighting together with their parents on the picket line against starvation conditions are continuing their fight in the schools. In Avella, Pa., when the committee of children and parents presented the demands for free food and clothing to the school authorities and threatened with a strike of the children from school, the five schools in the town agreed to give free milk and peaches and crackers to the children every day. Through strong organization and a readiness to fight for their demands these miners' children have won concessions from the boss

In New York three huge demonstrations and picket lines are being prepared for Friday, September 18th, in front of the Borough Halls in Brocklyn and the Bronx and the Board of Education in Manhattan. The Red Hook section of Brooklyn is the deepest hit by the raging disease of Infantile Paralysis. Mass meetings are being held throughout the city ration for the central picket line in front of the Board of Education.

The brazen demagogy of the federal, state, and school officials was never more apparent than at present. All the famous demagogues and liberals like Pinchot and educators and health commissioners, etc., are spitting out philosophic utterances, rules of health, etc., which are meant to divert the children from struggling. At the same time these demagogues starve the miners into submission, club the unemployed at demonstrations, they express their "understanding and sympathy for the children of the workers." For instance President Hoover's notorious mouthing about the golden "Child Health Day" is entirely in keeping with the five million undernourished sick children in the United States for whom he has nothing to offer but further starvation and the famous charity of the boss class. Commissioner of Health Wynn of New York comes out with a hypocritical "Ten Rules of Health for Children," which say:

"The child should have plenty of nourishing food and the growing child needs more food than the adult. He should have a nourishing breakfast and a glass of milk. At noon he should have a filling luncheon. At his evening meal he should be able to eat the same dishes as the rest of the family eats plus a glass of milk."

What hypocrisy! How many children in Red Hook, Paterson, New Jersey, or in the mining fields can have this food which is so necessary for the child's health? How many deaths from infantile paralysis are directly due to the half starved condition of these workers' children? Hundreds upon hundreds. And Commissioner Wynn, Hoover and the rest know that very well. Commissioner Wynn knows very well what is necessary for the health of the child but only the working class can force the carrying out of these rules by an organized fight of both parents and children in each and every school. Only the workers' might can stop the crazy dumping of car loads of food and milk into the ocean

Only organization and sharp struggle will secure for the workers' children a betterment of their conditions. The only organization that carries on a relentless every day fight for the every day needs of the workers' children in the schools and elsewhere is the Young Pioneers of Amrica. The measure of success of our struggles can only be judged from the masses of children that must be recruited in the Y.P.A. during this fight, and by the number of parents' organizations, "the backbone of the children's struggle" that will be formed.

Broad United Front organizations in every school of all children willing to struggle for these demands, with the Pioneers playing an active part in these organizations, will win better conditions for the workers' children. The parents in the neighborhood of the school must organize into Working Class Parents' Leagues. Joint meetings of parents and children will cement the ranks of the workers and fight better for the demands presented to the Board of Education.

The fight for free food for the workers' children is part and parcel of the fight for Unemployment Insurance. Because the bosses are bent on refusing any sort of insurance to the unemployed worker, any sort of security from starvation, it is of tremendous importance that the fight for free food and clothing be a fight of both the employed and inemployed workers throughout the U.S. A

THE present form of the strike of the Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia Panhandle coal miners is something new in the history of American labor struggles. The National Miners Union discovered after leading for ten weeks a heroic struggle of 40,000 men fighting against starvation, that its organized forces were too weak to continue the struggle in that form and that a period of struggle around individual mines and companies for local demands was necessary.

This means that the strike goes on, and that the essential strategy is the uniting of the men starved back to work and those still on the picket lines for the fight for the local demands, of which one of the most important is "no discrimination." The union, built in the mines by this combined struggle, will then be immensely stronger and better prepared for the next wide-spread struggle, which can not much longer be delayed. It means that the National Miners Union becomes the first mass revolutionary union in a basic industry in America

But this whole program is threatened if the flow of relief to the men still out of the mines is slackened. The policy of the companies is to blacklist these men, to prevent their organization continuing, to prevent their forming an organizational unity with the men in the mines. The fighting power of the men not in the mines depends very much on more

It is therefore the duty of all workers, everywhere, who have profited by the miners' strike-first great sharp resistance to the country-wide campaign of wage cuts-to rally to the Workers International Relief which leads, particularly through the Pennsylvania-Ohio-West Virginia-Kentucky Striking Miners Relief Committees, the campaign for miners' relief. All out to help collect for the miners on Solidarity Days-Sept. 26 and 27! You are fighting for yourselves when you fight for the miners!

Communist Party of Great Britain Calls On Workers To Greet Militant Seamen On Solidarity Protests When Fleet Lands

BULLETIN.

The New York District of the Communist Party calls on the workers of the city to rally in Union Square, Saturday, in militant solidarity demonstration with the British seamen who have by their actions bit a blow at British imperialism. This demonstration will also be a protest against the attempts of the Bennett government and Wall Street to outlaw the Communist Party of Canada. The workers of New York will protest the mass murders of the Chilean seamen by the fascist Wall Street government of Chile.

From this meeting solidarity greetings will be sent to the British seamen urging them to organize in order to win a real victory against the MacDonald nationalist government of hunger and misery. All out to Union Square on Saturday, September 19, at 2:30 p. m., to demonstrate our solidarity with the British seamen

Directly following the "socialist" J. H. Thomas' statement that he would use the most vicious discipline against the militant British sailors, Austen Chamberlain, First Lord of the Admiralty, announced in the House of Commons that any further resistance on the part of the sailors would be dealt with under the Navy Discipline Act.

Chamberlain pointed out further that the cuts which had been put through by the National government had already been decided on by the former Labor government. MacDonald admitted that this was the case but stated that the Labor government had been advised that "the navy would accept the wage cuts loyally." MacDonald was not opposed to the wage cuts and is not opposed to them. He is disappointed that the sailors did not accept the slash at their living standards "loyally," passively, instead of going into militant action as they did.

Latest reports of the capitalist press point out that the attempt of the British naval officers to get the sailors to return to the home ports was successful only after two hours of pleading with them, in addition to the promises which they had already made to the effect that the ships would not be diverted to any other points.

(Cable By Inprecorr)

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Referring to the naval mutiny, today's Daily Worker writes that the Admiral's statement promising reconsideration of the pay cuts represents success for the men, but that the fight is not over and success can turn into defeat unless their action is organized. The sailors must not forget that the cuts were first proposed by the labor government.

The Daily Herald, organ of the Labor Party, advises the men to submit their case to a "high court of electors" which, in other words, means to vote the @

Harlan Miner, War Vet, Lies In Jail And Family Starves

HARLAN, Ky., Sept. 16.-When Bill Gibbs came home wounded from France after the World War, he went back to his mine job in the old mining camp at Sunshine, ramshackle suburb of Harlan. All the while he was in France Bill was told he was fighting for freedom and democracy.

Just what this "freedom" and 'democracy" means Bill discovered six weeks ago when, after five raids by deputies upon his povertystricken home within two weeks. Bill was thrown into jail on a charge of criminal syndicalism. Bill had National Miners' Union literature in his home.

Meanwhile his girl-wife and four children, all under 10 years of age, are starving in their tumble-down old shack in the mining camp of Sunshine. Bill's wife, a 17-year-old girl, has been driven nearly distracted by the cries of her step-children for milk. Three of the children, terrorized by the night raids of the Harlan coal company thugs and now starved, have become seriously ill.

Unless Bill's wife and children get food and milk at once, they stand face to face with starvation Workers all over America must come to their help. Send money for relief to the Kentucky Miners' Aid, care of the International Labor Defense, 80 East 11th St., Room 430, New York City.

STRIKE MOUNTING Marvel Shop Workers Join the Strike; Three Are Still Jailed

NEW YORK .- Twenty-three upholsterers of the Marvel Upholstering Co., Knickerbocker Ave., Brooklyn, yesterday joined the general strite of upholstery workers against the ever worsening conditions in the trade.

Workers of the Vanleigh Furniture Co., 115 W. 40th St., walked out on strike against a wage cut of 30-35 per cent and increase in working hours from 48 to 54, under the leadership of the Furniture Workers' Industrial Union. A picket line has been thrown around the shop.

The movement for spreading the upholsterers' strike gains momentum daily as groups of workers from upholstery shops come to the union and ask for aid in organizing and striking their shops. More bosses are now applying for negotiations with the union for settlement.

The three strikers arrested several days ago on framed charges of felonious assault are still in jail in lieu of payment of $4,000 bail for the three. Trial has been set for Octo-

What Navy Is For.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 17 .-Captain Dudley W. "It is true that other navies are capable of blockading Russia's sea ouelet, notably the navies of France and Italy. But the latter country is one of the few beneficiaries of cheap Russian commodities, and is not likely to upset the advantageous agreements which she has made with the Soviets to take her manufactures in exchange for the raw materials which must be imported to supply her factor-As for France, she suffers than many countries from the British Navy that the main reliance must be placed in this case to furnish the naval power which seems indispensable to the preservation of peace in the present critical and highly complicated state of affairs surrounding the Russian situation."

The captain's studious avoidance of any word as to what the U.S. navy would be doing in this war would be significant. The time has not come, in his opinion, to openly state that the refusal of the British navy to fight the Soviet Union and the pairing of the French and Italian navies, would leave the job of blockading Soviet ports to the American navy, but his article is written

FURTHER ATTACK ON FINN PRESS

Post Office Bars The "Viesti"

NEW YORK.—The fascist attack against the workers' press continues. the latest object of this attack being the theoretical monthly periodical published by the Finnish Federation. the "Viesti", which has been denrived of second class mailing rights, as the Postal Department informed the publisher of "Viesti" last Tuesday, When the "Viesti" was transferred from Worcester, Mass., to New York City, the Post Office Department was given the customary application for transference of mailing rights. After a long delay and many excuses notice has finally been given that the Post Office Department has refused the mailing privileges.

"Viesti" is not the first workers paper to become the object of this fascist attack. Previous to this, the Young Worker, Pioneer, Sport and Play, the Spanish Communist weekly, Vida Obrera, and the Swedish Communist weekly, Ny Tid, have been deprived of mailing rights. Now it was Viesti's turn. Viesti, which all rightwingers and oppositionists have furiously hated and attacked, has explained social problems in the light of Marxism-Leninism, which the capitalist class has not looked upon with favor, and therefore its mailing rights were cancelled with the aim of making the carrying on of working class education difficult.

In depriving the workers' press of mailing rights, the capitalists usually take recourse to some kind of technical reasons, but in the case of the Viesti even these were not to be found, except that "the Viesti printed in New York has a different character from that printed in Worces-

The cancelling of mailing rights from Viesti shows the development of fascism in the United States. The law of free press has become a dead letter. We must protest against such unscrupulous attacks against the workers' press and demand the freedom of the press.

In his kitchen job own word and adopt the slogan "No cuts in pay or allowances" and join hands with the working masses.

> So wide spread is the extent of the militant upsurge in the British navy and so fearful is the government of the sharpening of this miltancy and its spread to the other sections of the armed forces and to the remainder of the working class that not one single statement has been made by any of the conservative or liberal leaders in the government of the necessity for breaking the upsurge by

The ony voices to be raised in demand for punishment of the saiors were the voices of the British socialists. It is the socialists that are demanding the crushing of the militancy of the sailors by the brutal methods that have been used in the imperial British navy as long as it has existed.

The New York Times reports the fearful attitude of the government as follows:

"Not a word has been said, officially or publicly, in Parliament or out, by any member of the government about the necessity of upholding discipline. There has not been the remotest hint of a courtmartia. Instead, Sir Austen Chamberain, First Lord of the Admiralty, announced today in the House of

"'His Majesty's Government have authorized the Board of Admiralty to make proposals for alleviating hardships."

The government has gone so far says the New York Times, despite the possible effect it might have on increasing the militant spirit of the sailors and on increasing the militancy among the remander of the armed forces who wll recognize in this the fear of the ruling classes before the resentment of the sailors and soldiers. The Times report continues as follows:

"Whatever misgivings were felt concerning the effect such a statement might have on future discipline in the navy, none was expressed in the debate and very few in the Commons lobby. There was much more lively concern about the possible bearing the navy's resentment may have on the political and economic situation of the government."

In this situation it was J. H Thomas, formerly one of the leaders of the Labor Party, who demanded the strictest carrying through of the vicious discipline of the British armed forces. The Times reports Thomas as saying, according to his friends, that,

"'if he had been in charge of the navy the sailors would have been disciplined for an example and the fleet would have been sent to sea according to program instead of alowing "these men to sovietize the British Navy." '"

This is the fascism of the British ocial-fascist arm of the Second International. The remainder of the leaders of the Labor Party, like Henderson, have not yet dared to come out openly for the fascist measures that Thomas proposes in the attack on the British sailors. But these opposition leaders are united with Mac-Donald and Thomas in the attack | the new rates of pay." on the sailors but they refuse to come out now in the attack so that ald budget wage cuts are aimed at they can be used in the attack by the cutting even the present miserable capitalist class at the more critical living standards of their families. situation which the capitalists know The Times quotes one of the leaders is developing.

The leaders of the opposition, the Hood as follows: Laborites are however determined that this militant action of the British sailors should not go unpunshed. They realize that this action of the sailors is a major attack on British imperiaism and they mean to defend British imperialism aganist every attack of the working class. The opposition is determined make the sailors feel the terror of the capitalist class so that the capitalist class will be able to use the navy in its war plans-in the attack on the Soviet Union.

"A message from Invergordon reveals the men still believe themselves to be in command of the situation. It was said their leaders refused to allow the ships to weigh anchor tonight until they received a guarantee from the commander in chief that they would not be diverted during the voyage to distant stations instead of to their home ports."

The sailors will not be satisfied with returning to their home ports instead of to the maneuvers. The demands of the sailors is that the wage cuts be withdrawn and until this is done they are determined to act unitedly in defense of the very lives of their wives, their children and themselves.

This was clearly stated in the letter sent by the leaders of the sailors to the Admiralty. This letter, stated that.

"It is evident to all concerned that these cuts are a forerunner of tragedy, misery and immorality among the families of the lower deck and unless a guaranteed written agreement is received from the Admiralty, confirmed by Parliament, stating that our pay will be revised, we are still to remain as one unit refusing to serve under

The sailors know that the MacDonof the sailors of the giant cruiser

"We are fighting for our wives and children. The cuts cannot hit us aboard ship, but our wives, after the rent is paid, have only a pound left. How can they stand a cut of seven shillings and sixpence?"

The bitterness of the workers in the armed forces has not been conamong the British air forces against the wage cuts. Furthermore the resentment of the British workers in the Woolich arsenal and other War Department establishments London against the MacDonald wage cuts has been admitted by the British government. The Times reports that the great fear of the British sounds of cheering continued to be Atlantic fleet, but they have set an | capitalist class is that the growing | heard on shore from the vessels.

militancy will affect all of the other ategories of state employees.

"There is still apprehension that the men of the land, air and police forces and the great army of school teachers will take similar measures to show their resentment against the wage reductions undertaken by the government for all these groups.

"Already a tremendous propaganda is working in behalf of the teachers to make the government revise the

The Times reports wage cuts of the MacDonald hunger budget. The capitalists want the sailors to be satisfied with having gained an "investigation." The sailors, though, demand not an "investigation" but the wiping out of these attacks on their living standards.

> The real plans of the government led by the socialist, MacDonald, are revealed in the statement made by MacDonald to the House of Commons Wednesday. The Times states, "Premier MacDonald told the House of Commons he thought adjustments could be made without materially decreasing the amount of navy economy.

MacDonald plans to make "adjustments" without providing any increased funds for the sailors. The "adjustment" will be so miserable that there will not be any benefits for the sailors from them. MacDonald is determined to go through with the pay cuts for the sailors.

The planned character of the action of the sailors is even more clearly revealed from the most recent stories of the actual events. The refusal of the sailors to go out to sea for the maneuvers was determined at a meeting on shore on Sunday where a strike vote was taken. On Monday this vote was confirmed by another meeting on shore. The succeeding events according to the New York Times account were as follows

"Tuesday morning was the zero hour. The commander-in-chief signaled to the battleship Valiant, whose crew had taken the initiative in the strike to lead the line to sea. The 12,000 men of the fleet stood waiting anxiously. Men from other ships declared afterward that had the Vallent got under way the rest would have followed. The pickets did not try to stop them; they simply warned that as soon as they raised one anchor the men would drop the other.

"The Valient remained at anchor. Soon the sailors came from below decks and crowded forward. The cheer they raised was taken up on the other ships and the strike was

APPROACHING FURTHER AGGRAVATION OF THE GERMAN CRISIS

By TH. NEUBAUER (Berlin)

IN his speech in Stuttgart Dr. Wirth, the Reich Minister for the Interior, assured the public that there is no fear of a revolution in Germany in the coming winter, "for the government is strong enough to crush a revolution." Whether this declaration will suffice to satisfy the New York bankers is somewhat doubtful. Doubt in the assurance given by the German minister for the interior will probably become stronger when the international financiers read the further sentence: The government will not let itself be taken by surprise; it has already negotiated with Prussia, Wurttemberg and Baden regarding appropriate measures! It appears, therefore, that the government and its Minister for the Interior, in spite of the above proud assurance, is not a little afraid of revolution.

It is quite certain that the coming winter will see the most serious crisis in German. The deep fissures which the earthquake of June and July caused to the structure of German capitalism have only been plastered over; not one of the serious difficulties has been overcome

The "standstill" negotiations with the foreign capitalists have not yet been concluded. German capitalism will have to pay very high interest in order that foreign capital shall remain in the country. But in a few months (the agreement is only for six months) the question of the 5,6000 million short-term foreign credits will come up again, and precisely at a time when the economic crisis in Germany will have reached an unprecedented degree of acuteness.

As regards the inner German "normalisation" of the monetary circulation, the lists of losses of capitalist economy, the number of bankrupt undertakings are rapidly increasing, and the State is compelled again and again to intervene in order to ameliorate the worst collapses. Closing down of works, restriction of production and wholesale unemployment are still increasing. The decline of economic activity is reflected, to name only one figure, in the diminution of the number of goods-trucks in use on the national railways; they figure now at 20 per cent below the level of last year and almost 50 per cent below the level of 1929.

The poverty of the working class is increasing tremendously. The Institut fur Konjunkturforschung reckons that in the first six months of 1931 the income of the workers and employees declined by 3,000 million marks as compared with the previous year. The sale of foodstuffs fell 8.4 per cent, and that of textiles by 16.3 per cent, compared with the year 1920, when poverty was already exceedingly great. The impoverishment of the working class also affects in turn the petty bourgeois middle classes and the great mass of small and middle peasants. In face of this increasing misery of the broad masses one can only be amazed at the optimism of the Reich Chancellor, who expects that the starving will bear with slavish resignation the fate imposed upon them by the ruling class.

But the German capitalist class is doing something more to increase the ferment among the masses. The new offensive against wages is being carried out with the greatest brutality. This has led the municipal workers—for the first time for years-to engage in a number of obstinate strikes, in which the staffs participated in many cases up to 100 per cent, although the State power employed the most drastic measures against them

In addition, the fresh deterioration of the unemployment relief is becoming more and more evident. On August 15, the number of unemployed amounted to 4,100,000 as against 2,883,-000 in August, 1930. Of these 4,100,000 unemployed only 1,225,000 are drawing full unemployment benefit; 1,056,000 are receiving crisis benefit and 1,723,000 have to rely on poor law relief or do not receive any relief whatever. Whilst the number of unemployed receiving full benefit is continually declining, the number of recipients of poor law relief is steadily mounting.

The increasing unemployment has completely upset all the municipal budgets and caused the majority of the municipalities to become bankrupt. Although the municipalities have for over a year been carrying out the most rigid retrenchment measures (reduction of the scale of public benefit, economies in the cultural budget, cessation of public works, increase of municipal rates), whereby, it is estimated, 850 million marks have been saved, their situation is disas trous. The Reich, however, which has spent mil lions in supporting the bankrupt private economy, has up to now refused to render any aid. On the other hand it has issued an Emergency Order empowering the provincial governments fix at will the budgets of the municipalities, i.e., to dictate that fresh revenue be obtained by increasing the taxes of the masses and to order further reductions of social and cultural expenditure. Nevertheless it is exceedingly doubtful whether it will be possible by these means to do

Like the municipalities, the provinces also are being drawn more and more deeply into the financial crisis in spite of all economy measures They are now proceeding to raise the necessary means by fresh heavy burdens on the masses Following the example of Baden, Bavaria has reduced the salaries of the employees and officials by 5 per cent, and at the same time has increased the rent tax, doubled the tax on slaughter houses, and cut down expenditures on education. These measures, which are calling forth the greatest bitterness among the population, are not yet sufficient to overcome the present crisis. Therefore the central government must away with the deficits of the municipalities, which this year probably amount to 1,000 million

But already in the first four months of the budget year, the Reich has to record a falling off in the revenue from taxation amounting to 582,-910,000 marks compared with the corresponding period of last year, and this in spite of the fact that since April 1930 the taxes have been increased five times. It has to reckon with a total deficit for the whole year of 1,500 million. In addition, in supporting the bankrupt banks it has undertaken such enormous burdens and liabilities, the extent of which cannot yet be estimated, that the financial position of the Reich is exceedingly critical.

Therefore, fresh emergency decrees, the last argument of the government, are to be resorted This will be the fifth attempt at restoration of the finances under the glorious government of Bruening. No concrete plans have been yet published, but one can safely expect further cuts in unemployment benefit, further reduction of the salaries and wages of officials, employees and workers employed by public bodies, increase of the turnover tax, and probably an alteration in the Rent Restrictions Act, which would mean a handsome present to the landlords and a further burden on the tenants.

At the congress of the reformist trade unions Herr Stegerwald, the Reichs-Minister for Labor, made some statements regarding the approaching cutting down of unemployment relief. He hinted that the financial relief would be replaced by relief in kind, which will enable the amount of benefit to be reduced, while the unemployed will be fed on thin soup in municipal public kitchens.

Reichs-Chancellor Bruening firmly reckons that the social democracy will give him the support necessary to enable him to carry out these attacks on the working masses. And he will probably not be disappointed. But he will certainly experience disappointment if he thinks that such boundless impoverishment of the working masses will remain without effect. The furious incitement against the Communist Party will not help the bourgeoisie to hold back the masses from the revolutionary movement. The social democracy, which support Bruening's policy, cannot, even though they employ the most dirty fighting methods against the C. P. of Germany, prevent the desertions of the workers from their ranks. To those who soberly observe this development it will appear as if the Reichs-Minister of the Interior, Wirth, with his bombastic words against the revolution which he will not hesitate to crush "with extreme violence", is biting off more than he can chew.

The Terror in the South and Its Lesson in Building the Party

By HARRIS GILBERT

THE Birmingham Section has been working under illegal conditions more so than any other district of the Party for the last year or so. The experiences in our Party work here, especially now with the extreme sharpening of the terror, will be of great value for the other sections in the near future.

The reason for this intense terror in the South lies, of course, first in the economic conditions which are worse than anywhere else as regards hours, pay, and conditions of work as well as unemployment. The argrarian crisis which has sharply hit the cotton and tobacco growersparticularly the poor croppers, white and Negro, as well as the small owners. Secondly the intense national oppression of the Negro massesparticularly in this present crisis when the bosses and landlords try to unload the burden of the crisis onto their shoulders and to force starvation and wage cuts on all workers and poor farmers by terrorizing the Negro into submission so he can be used against the white workers and farmers should they make a stand against the present conditions. It is only the Party which carries on a ruthless struggle against these rotten conditions and against the National oppression of the Negro masses and for unity of white and Negro against the bosses and land-

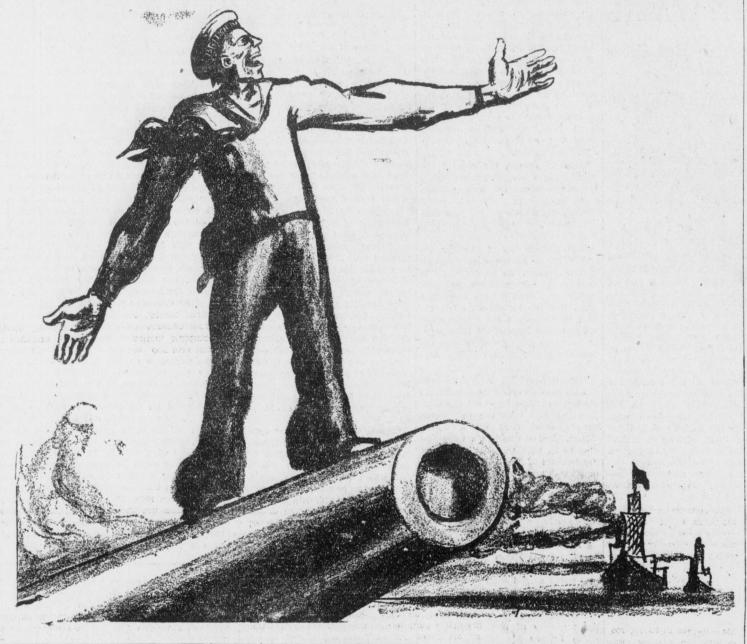

Through our work on the Scottsboro case and in Camp Hill as well as our work among the toilers in the cities we have gained widespread support of poor white and Negro toilers-and the undying hatred of the bosses and their tools. At the present time the bosses of the railroad, steel and coal companies round here are planning sharp wage cuts and lay-offs. Already in the U.S. Steel (TCI subsidiary) the 5-day week is being put into effect and all salaried men were cut to 5 to 15 per cent and work now every other month. Hundreds of men have been laid off in the Ensley and Fairfield Works and the mines run but a few days a week. To put their wage cut starvation program across the workers must be kept docile and divided against one another. The Communists must be crushed so the workers will have no leader in the fight

Therefore the bosses and their police seized upon the murder of 2 white society girls and the wounding of another in Shades Valley, near Birmingham, allegedly by a Negro, to start a vicious lynch attack against the Negro workers and against the Communists. Though it is doubtful whether it was a Negro at all who did this crime (much evidence points to it being the result of a "society" petting party) flaming headlines urging action against the Reds as responsible-claiming we were shielding the criminal, etc., were played up every day. It was claimed the Negro lectured the girls on Communism before he shot them. Day after day vicious articles appeared and in spite of the hypocritical editorials against violence the front page incitement campaign against the Negro toilers and the Reds bore its fruit. Scores of Negro workers were beaten up, a number were shot down in cold blood, at least 3 are known to have been killed, many were stabbed. Wholesale raids on homes for Communist literature. Virtually hundreds of arrests throughout the South of "suspects" have been made. The KKK issued a warning that Negro workers were to be off the streets by 9 o'clock or get shot. Churches were warned to close so their members could go home early.

The central cry was "get the Reds." Some of our Negro comrades were arrested in an attempt to frame them up on this murder charge and when it fell through held on "vagrancy." The Party District Organizer was arrested-but exposed the lies of the newspapers so well that they were forced to soft-peddle the lies about against the bosses' attacks.

the Reds. A special "Red Squad" of county officers has now been organized to attack the Communist movement.

ALL TOGETHER!

The Negro reformists have joined in with a vicious denunciation of the Party in a number of editorials calling on the Negro workers to act as stool pigeons for the bosses. Not one word did these traitors have to say about the terror unleashed against the Negro masses.

The A. F. of L. too has put its power behind the Anti-Red drive-in their slimy sheet the 'Labor Advocate" they demanded immediate crushing of the movement, stating they would do all in their power to help. Now the American Legion has mobilized its entire force to be used against the working class. Each post in the state will set up a special "Anti Red" committee. The Legion has a post in every county in the State. They are petitioning the coming legislature to pass strenuous bills against Communist activities. Plainly the working class can expect not a lessening of the terror but instead a sharpening to a tremendous extent in the near

The terror had very definite effects upon our Party membership. Most of our comrades have been in the movement but a comparatively short time. Many of them have not yet the discipline and understanding necessary to be a party member in the South as well as elsewhere. With the first wave of sharpened terror the results were plain. Namely that many members were so terrorized that they would not even take out leaflets or papers. Suffice it to say that at once the Party leadership took immediate and firm action to safeguard the Party by cleansing our ranks ruthlessly of all shaky and scary elements. Because of our carefulness in selecting members for the Party most of the Party membership remained firm. Definite instructions were issued to each unit to tighten up—to keep their homes clear of literature, to keep the meetings clear of Party material and in general exert more discipline upon the members. We saw plainly our weakness in insufficiently developing local leaders, of lack of reserve unit organizers, and a reserve apparatus to carry on the work in spite of terror and arrests. The time to prepare for the results of terror must be beforehand. Other districts can well take our lesson-especially those working now legally, to prepare the Party membership and the leadership for illegal work. If this is not done the work will collapse at the first sharp blow.

Our perspective is one of intensified preparation of the Party against the sharpening attacks of the bosses. The crisis in the cities is getting sharper, that unemployment, wage cuts and starvation are fast driving the workers, white and Negro, to action, and that our task will be to organize and lead this action, building the Trade Unions and the Party through struggle. The agrarian crisis and the "cotton reduction plan" will force hundreds and thousands of poor croppers, white and Negro to desperate action against starvation, as well as the poor small owners who will be forced off the land. We must now prepare the Party, steeling it to withstand the growing terror and to lead the workers to victory. Therefore we are turning our face to the shops and mines. To rooting the Party and building the Trade Unions there. We are driving after our street units to organize shop recruiting meetings. Already we have met with

Secondly, we are doing our best to develop as soon as possible a firm local leadership with initiative and understanding to carry on the workas well as building up our reserve apparatus. Thirdly, a sharp degree of discipline and responsibility-in the better functioning of the section committee-in the growing initiatve of the local leadership and in the units-in the securing of definite contacts in the shops and mines.

Everywhere the Party must reorientate itself to withstand the tremendously sharpened attacks which the ruling class will deliver against the Party. It means that NOW every district should look over the situation and lay the basis for strengthening and steeling the Party apparatus, from the units up to the districts. Of developing local forces, of building up a reserve leadership. And above all of rooting the Party so firmly in the shops and mines that nothing will be able to drive the Party from the.

The A.F. of L. Hosiery Union Has Turned Into An Open Co. Union

By EDITH BERKMAN. (N. T. W. Organizer.)

WHILE the unorganized workers in many parts of the country are now striking against wage cuts, the officials of the American Federation of Full Fashioned Hosiery Workers, the majority of whom are Musteites or "progressives," are forcing a wage cut agreement on the hosiery workers. This agreement is turning the union into an open company union.

Let's read some of the points in the agree-

A 30 to 45 per cent wage cut. The check-off system for the collection of dues and assessments. 3. The employer reserves the right to lock out any department where the members of the union refuse to carry out the decisions of the impartial chairman. Such jobs so affected by a lockout will remain as union jobs and the union so empowered to fill such vacancies so caused. (My emphasis.—E. B.) The contract will be of one year duration.

5. The employers refuse and the Union withdrew the demand for a weekly guarantee for knitters $15, for boarders $10 and for toppers $7.50 for twenty-five weeks in the next six months.

When we examine these few points, out of the 20 point agreement, we can easily see for ourselves how this union, at one time a militant organization, has turned into an open company union.

Methods Used to Put the Wage Cut Agreement Over.

The old agreement expired Sept. 1st. During the first week of July the negotiating committee started negotiations in one of the most expensive hotels in Philadelphia. The bosses ask for a 50 per cent wage cut to stabilize the industry (to make more profit) to compete with the open shops and to secure more work for the union members.

A special convention was called in Reading and to give grounds for the need of the wage cut the unorganized workers of Reading were called upon to strike for high wages. When only six out of 10,000 workers came out on strike the workers were named scabs, the strike called off and the convention transferred to Philadelphia. Here the new wage cut agreement was read to the delegates. The officials spoke in favor of the wage cut, but blamed the Reading workers for the wage cut. The National Textile Workers' Union gave out leaflets and through other organizational means tried to convince the workers what the agreement really meant. When the vote was taken the majority voted against the wage cut agreement. Hand Picked Delegates.

Of course this was not a rank and file convention. Most of the delegates were hand picked or officials of the union. The officials succeeded to raise the question again and through a revote they received a majority vote for the agreement. Now the various locals have to vote on the agreement. Paterson voted it down. In Philadelphia, the home of all the officials, the vote was 750 for the agreement and 461 against. The officials claim a membership of over 6,000 here and out of this number only 750 voted for the agreement. The vast majority stayed away from the meeting, being disgusted, having no confidence in the officials and the union. Why Did Some Workers Vote For the Wage Cut

Agreement? Those workers, most of whom have been out of work, or on strike for the last 6 months, who voted for the wage cut, because the officials assured them that this will give more work to the union workers. That by giving a present to the mill owners of 30 to 45 per cent of their wages the union shops will take away the orders from the non-union shops, this again will give work to the unemployed union members. And the most important argument was that by taking the wage cut for one year the industry will be stabilized and good days will come back. Those voting for the wage cut agreement will soon find out that this wage cut and company union agreement will bring down their wages lower, will not give more work to the unemployed union members. The wage cut taken by the organized workers is forcing the unorganized too to take wage reductions. Already the Apex (non-union) is giving a wage cut to the workers-they to compete with the union shops. What a joke! It is only too bad that this joke is at the expense of the workers-both organized and unorganized.

Those voting for the wage cut will soon find out that the reasons given by the socialist, Mr. McKeown, or any of the other officials, is only to fool the workers to take the wage cut without a struggle. The officials no more represent the workers-they have sold the union to the

A.F.F.H.W. Open Company Union!

The workers, who voted against the agreement, in Paterson, Philadelphia and all other hosiery cities, must now teach to the rest of the workers "what the wage cut agreement means." It means the following:

1. That a 30 to 45 per cent wage cut should not be accepted without a strike struggle of all the hosiery workers, organized and unorganized.

2. The check-off system does not only mean the collection of dues and assessments by the bosses for the officials. It also means a black list against any worker, who will not side with the machine. Every job will be controlled by the officials and the boss. All who will dare to speak against the bad conditions in the mill will be out of a job.

3. Point No. 7 in the agreement says that if any department will go out in strike without the O. K. of the impartial chairman (?) the union will supply scabs to take the tobs of the workers on strike. This takes away the right of the workers ever to fight against any grievances in the mill. The union becomes an open strikebreaking agency of the bosses. Not a union for the good of the workers. It is now an open company union.

Organize and Strike Against the Wage Cut. The organized workers, members of the A. F. F. H. W., must realize that with this agreement the officials are openly turning the union into an instrument with which they are making the organized workers take a drastic wage cut. They say that this will give the jobs from the unorganized to the organized. This is a child's tale This should open the eyes of every worker in the hosiery industry, organized and unorganized, to the role the A. F. of L. unions are playing. This union is openly selling the workers and what's more they are dividing the workers into organized and unorganized, employed and unemployed. Every worker must realize that we have the boss class to fight and must not fight against each other. The following steps must be taken at once in every mill to organize all the workers against the wage cut in all the mills organized and unorganized:

1. Demand rank and file control of the union Take away the power from the officials to negotiate.

2. Don't accept the new agreement, but organize in the mill and in every department a committee, which will unite all workers against 3. Since most of the workers are unemployed and the vast majority in the industry are not organized, a united front must be organized of the organized and unorganized. This United Front Committee for action should meet and prepare a general strike of all the hosiery

When we will convince the unorganized workers that the organized will strike with them the unorganized workers will not scab. They too are getting wage cuts. They too are working part time. All workers together will be able, under the leadership of the United Front to organize and put up a fight against the wage cuts.

The National Textile Workers' Union will give all help and leadership to the hosiery workers in their struggle against the wage cut agreement. The NTWU will 's'p to unite the organized with the unorgan ed wrokers. The national office of the union is in Providence, R. I.,

P. O. Box 41. The office in Philadelphia is at 929 Arch St until a new office will be located. We have offices in many textile cities

THE ATTEMPT TO DEPORT YOKINEN

Statement on the Yokinen Deportation Case, Issued by the National Committee for the Protection of the Foreign Born

AUGUST YOKINEN, militant Finnish worker

has been taken to Ellis Island to be deported. He will be sent into the hands of the bloody fascist regime of Finland. Yokinen has lived in the United States for a number of years and was never molested before until he declared himself in solidarity with white and black workers in the struggle against all race discrimination and for a militant fight of the entire working class against the oppressors.

Immediately after Yokinen had taken this stand at an open trial before a jury of white and Negro workers in Harlem the ruling class discovered that he was "undesirable". Yokinen was arrested, questioned and now he is waiting to be deported. This again shows that the Department of Labor, of which Doak is the head, is doing its utmost to terrorize the foreign born workers to prevent them from taking an active part in the class struggle. Those who fight on the side of the workers are discovered as being "undesirable" and steps are at once taken to get them out of the country.

The committee for the Protection of the Foreign Born, the International Labor Defense and the League of Struggle for Negro Rights call upon all the workers to rally to the defense of August Yokinen and to the defense of the foreign born workers who are in danger of being deported. This attempt to destroy the fighting front of the workers must be smashed. We call upon all organizations affiliated to the Protection of the Foreign Born and other workers organizations to immediately send telegrams and resolutions of protest to the Department of Labor, to let Mr. Doak know that we will not stand idly by and see the militant workers sent to death because they fight side by side with their class brothers against miserable conditions being imposed upon the workers by the ruling class. Smash the deportation terror.
