Fight for Unemployment Insurance!

The delegation of the 1,500 totally and part-time unemployed workers, representing over 40.000,000 men, women and children of the working class, are beginning the National Hunger March to Washington!

The capitalists, with their class in power of government, are resorting to the most shameless lies and demagogy to cover up the starvation of these 40,000,000 peopleene-third of the population of this country.

Workers, you must expose everywhere to your shopmates the LIE, so carefully and systematically being spread in every capitalist paper about "PROSPERITY RETURN-ING!" For it is nothing but a LIE!

Everywhere the capitalist economic crisis is DEEPENING! In spite of the lies to the contrary which you read in papers published by the bosses to deceive you, the "Annalist," a journal of finance, commerce and economics, published only for the eyes of capitalists, admits in its last issue-of Nov. 20, that things are getting still worse. It says:

"The preliminary figure for the Annalist Index of Business Activity for October, shows a drop to 67.2 per cent." That was for October, then it continues with the current week by saying: "Other records for the week confirm a present DOWNWARD TREND. Building contracts for the first half of the month are notably LOW. PRICES DECLINE SLIGHTLY. Activity in steel and automobile is DELAYED."

Workers, the propaganda of lies about "better times coming" is a lie intended to KEEP YOU QUIET WHILE YOU CON-TINUE TO STARVE!

Let your answer be that you will RE-FUSE TO STARVE! Employed workers, you have no certainty of YOUR JOB tomorrow! Part-time workers, and you who have had your WAGES "staggered" by the treacherous leaders of the American Federation of Labor agreement with Hoover for "sharing" work-and WAGES, you will be compelled to accept this PERMANENTLY-unless you fight!

Let all workers understand the capitalist plot to cut the standard of living to coolie level! To force the entire burden of the crisis and decay of capitalism onto the workers! To try to keep the starving millions quiet by miserable and inadequate charity crusts. By lying about "good times coming" and by police clubs against the Communists who expose these lies and lead the fight of millions for bread.

The capitalists are seeking "markets in China." But, workers, if they get them, the bosses can only hold them ultimately by forcing you to work for LOWER WAGES THAN THE CHINESE COOLIE! Anly they can get them ONLY BY WAR, in which you will be asked to shed your blood to bring about this coolie standard of slaves!

The Hoover government refuses to give ONE CENT to the starving millions, while it spends $1,000,000,000 ARMING FOR WAR! The capitalist politicians are busy as beavers, with the Tammany boss, Curry, dickering at Washington with the full authority of Governor Roosevelt, for "patronage" graft, as are also the so-called "progressives!" All are engaged in LOOT, and not one of them gives a damn about the starving millions of workers!

ONLY THE WORKING CLASS, by mass organization and mass struggle, can FORCE. THESE SCOUNDRELS TO FEED THE STARVING! The NATIONAL HUNGER MARCH will knock at the doors of Congress Dec. 7 and DEMAND, among the principal means to meet the need of the workers:

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE FOR ALL JOBLESS AND PART-TIME WORK-ERS, the cost to be paid entirely by the capitalists and the capitalist government, AT FULL WAGES, AND ADMINISTERED BY THE WORKERS, not by the "charity" grafters!

WINTER RELIEF of $150 cash to each jobless worker, and $50 additional for each

ALL WAR FUNDS TO THE UNEM-PLOYED! ALL FARM BOARD FOOD SUPPLIES AND CHARITY! FUNDS TO BE GIVEN TO THE UNEMPLOYED AND AD-MINISTERED BY THE WORKERS!

Workers, you CAN WIN THESE DE-MANDS! Join the Unemployed Councils in your city! Unite your organization, trade union, workers' fraternal society to support the NATIONAL HUNGER MARCH! Smash down the capitalist resistance to the demand of the starving millions for bread!

Open admission that anti-war demonstration here was the Japanese occupation of Manchuria is diiet Union and has the support of the United States and the League of Nations is made in a dispatch to the New York Evening Post from its Paris correspondent, Raymond G. Carroll. The Post's correspondent frankly gives the position of the imperialists as follows:

"Why not state the truth, that Japan emerges victorious not only in Far Eastern battles but here as well, because the great western nations, behind their League masks and under their diplomatic camauflage secretly want Japan installed upon the Asiatic mainland, a dependable sector of a protective ring around Soviet Russia!' To Attack Chinese Soviets The dispatch leaves no doubt that Manchuria is to be used as a military base against the Soviet Union, as part of the ring of steel which the imperialists, led by the United States and France have been forging around the Soviet Union. It states: "What Finland, Esthonia, Latvia Lithuania, Poland and Roumania do for conservative Europe in their functions as buffer nations against Soviet Russia, it is argued-and settled for that matter-Japan, intrenched in the Asiatic mainland, would perform at the gateway of the Reds' 'backyard'."

In addition to establishing a Manchurian base against the Soviet Union, the imperialist powers have the aim of partitioning China and crushing the Chinese Soviets and the Chinese Red Army. This task was formerly assigned to the imperialist hangman Chiang Kai-shek who has repeatedly failed in his attacks on the Chinese Red Army. The imperialists now intend to tackle this job themselves, with the Japanese armed forces in China playing a leading role. Carroll reports:

"Japan, if permanently extended into Manchuria, it was pointed out by an eminent authority prior to the meeting of the Council, establishes a new safe and sane frontier against Bolshevism upon the continent of Asia'."

Armistice An Empty Gesture The hypocrisy of the League of Nations and the United States is fully Carroll's dispatch. The emptiness of the gesture of an armistice is further itary defense." exposed in the following final paragraph of Carroll's dispatch:

"Armistice is an empty word now for the Chinese, who have no army capable of driving the Japanese from Manchuria. Besides, it is impossible to fight there in winter. How can an armistice mean anything officially when by the same token there has never been a war, instead only a taking over and substitution of sets of local Chinese officials loval to Tokio for other sets of Chinese officials loyal to Nanking."

Kuomintang Sells Out Chinese People The Japanese seizure of Manchuria was carried out with the secret cooperation of the traitorous Kuomintang officials who admittedly raised not a finger in resistance against the Japanese invaders. A Shanghai dispatch to the New York Times makes clear the cooperation of the Kuomintang with the League of Nations in turning Manchuria over to Japan;

"It is eight weeks since Japan occupied Mukden and Kirin, but China has nto fired a single shot in her defense, choosing to depend upon the League of Nations.'

Responsibility of the Kuomintang for the Japanese seizure of Manchuria and the partition of China which is now being pushed by the imperialist bandits is further made clear in an article by George E. Sokolsky in Sunday's Nek York Times. sokolsky states:

"China cannot fight Japan in Manchuria or anywhere else. In China 3,000,000 men are under arms, any of them excellent fighters. But they have been exploited by their own commanders, who have enriched themselves while the soldiers have been left without arms, munitions and other equipment. There are a few crack divisions, like the Mukden Fourth Army and the mpoa Cadet divisions of Naning, but these do not constitute ional army." Offiang's Talk of "Leading Army"

Is Bunk Sokolsky further comments on the fact that "a small force of Japanese troops took nearly 250,000 square miles of territory in Manchuria, disarmed an army of several hundred thousand men and seized one of the largest arsenals in the world with hardly any fighting." That Chiang Kai-shek's recent talk of leading an army of 2,000,000 against the Japanese is but a hypocritical gesture is admitted by Sokolsky, who comments:

goes to Manchuria to fight Japan, e, therefore, is only making a fiery and dramatic gesture which has no realistic meaning. In the first place, as many Generals in Manchuria have gone over to Japan as have remained loyal to China, The evidence for that will appear when the present situation 'freezes in' and the names of the Chinese officials who have taken control in Manchurian cities and districts with Japanese approval are made pub-

Fear Growing Anger of Chinese Masses

Sokolsky recognizes, however, that the aid of the corrupt Kuomintang,

"But that does not mean that the Chinese people will take their defeat lying down. The Chinese people-not the government, which is a different thing-will now settle down to a systematic boycott of Japan and Japanese goods... "This is the stage of the conflict between China and Japan upon which both countries are now entering. It is a hard, bitter, cold phase, one which leads to mass movements and demonstrations and often to changes in government in China and sometimes even in Japan.

Yen Admits Distruct By Masses That the masses are in motion against the Japanese and the Kuomintang traitors is further borne out by the admission of the Nanking Charge d'Affaires in Washington Hawkin Yen

"A general feeling of disappointment, distrust and doubt now pervades the masses of the Chinese people as tothe sanctity of treaties and therepeated protestations of friendship which the powers of the world have professed for China and her pepole."

That this distrust, which extends to the Kuomintang government is the real reason for the new demagogic gestures of Nanking, is shown in a dispatch from Shanghai which states:

"The Japanese occupation of Tsitsihar has aggravated the situation to such anextent that the Party Congress (Kuomintang) in secret session has resolved that in view of recent events the GeneralChinese Government is unchanged, and it is not lest faith in the League, but the resolution is the outcome of a feeling of uneasi-

The rapid growth of this mass defense movement is seen in a report from Shanghai of a 3-day strike by 15,000 Chinese students in that city. The dispatch reports:

"An increase of the belligerent spirit among local Chinese is unmistakable. Students and patriotic associations are using the seizure of Tsitsihar to arouse greater indignation."

Another dispatch reports that school children at Tientsin contributed a sum of $900 for national de- mits: fense. In a statement sent to the Nanking Government, the school children state:

"Chinese citizens should render material assistance, not merely talk of patriotic movements."

Fear Growth of Revolutionary Movement

The real bogy of the imperialists and their Chinese lackeys is the tremendous growth of the revolutionary movement in China. The Saka Main-

"It is now a foregone conclusion that sooner or later serious uprisings are bound to break out in the Yangtse region as a consequence of the vast inundation, in all probability under the influence of Bolshevism. The trouble is already in process of fermentation. Britain's interests are concentrated precisely in the territories to be directly affected by such uprisings. We are not certain that she is capable of coping with the flood of turbulent mobs single-handed. In needlessly provoking Japan, her statesmen are precluding the possibility of Japanese collaboration in facing the peril. Lord Reading lacks not only self-confidence, but also foresight. The future of the British position in the Far East is regretably sombre indeed."

The following protests was sent to the Japanese government by the Metropolitan Anti-Japanese Society:

"The Japanese Government has demanded that the Nanking Government suppress the anti-Japanese movement, but this movement of the people arose as a spontaneous growth attendant upon Japan's imperialism and has not and can not be investigated by any individual or a group of individuals. It cannot be suppressed by the Government. The stronger the gesture. the more violent the outburst will

"Our patriotic ardor is entirely incompatible with the imperialistic policy of the Japanese nation. If dire consequences follow, so much the worse for Jaan."

Japanese Authors Protest Manchurian Adventure

The Japanese section of the International Association of Revolutionary Authors has sent a telegram to the secretariat here, reading as follows:

"We protest energetically against while the imperialists have secured the military provocations of Japanese imperialism in Manchuria, against they yet have to reckon with the ris- the insolent adventure of the Japing anger of the Chinese masses. "Further important military developments in Manchuria shortly would come as no surprise, and eyes are now turned toward Harbin. Should Japan decide to press westward into inner Mongolia, as was forecast here early this week, she would, in informed opinion here, first remove any menace to her rear from Harbin, which lies suotheast of Tsitsihar.

"It has long been evident that Japan, in pressing her occupation, would find the least resistance by swinging west from Tsitsihar, with her ultimate objective Inner Mongolia, a region potentially important economically. Reports from Mukden of 'profuse indications' that the Japanese forces are preparing to head from the Great Wall of China and announcements from Japanese army headquarters in chow in Southwest Manchuria, aer accepted as tending to confirm these forecasts. Whether the Chinese concentration is real or imaginary, it would give a pretext for a Japanese advance to the Great Wall."

Soviet Union Sends Japan Protest. Walter Duranty, New York Times Moscow correspondent, reports that Foreign Minister Maxim Litvinoff. has sent a note to Japan, declaring, in part: "I must, however, take note, notwithstanding the first declaration made by you regarding the instructions given for utmost limitations of Japanese military operations, that these operations since then have widened to a great extent beyond the borders of the first intended zones.

CHARITY FUNDS FAIL AS THE CRISIS DEEPENS

By LABOR RESEARCH ASSN.

As the economic crisis deepens and unemployment spreads, evidence of the increasing "co to multiply. The misery of the workers co charity panhandlers, in ing, are making public ni ons of the gravity of the situation. Here are a few of them:

The Visiting Nurse Service of Henry Street Settlement of New York City states that their nurses found unemployment in 55 per cent of the homes visited. And seven New York charity agencies reported that of the total "cases" handled by them in July, 1931, some 68 per cent showed unemployment to be a "factor" in the starvation

The appeals made by starving workers to the York Association for Improving the Conditions of the Poor during the first six months of 1930 were 94 per cent above those for the same period of 1930 and have since risen at an even more rapid rate

Twice As Many Starve.

Applications for help to seven of the larger private "welfare" agencies in New York City, between March and August, 1931, were nearly double the number of applications made during the corresponding period in 1930. And the total relief given by nine "family service" agencies in September, 1931, was 82 per cent above the figure for September, 1930.

Practically every one of some 45 cities studied in New York State were forced to spend nearly as much or more for relief in the first half of 1931 as in the whole year 1930.

Reports from 314 cities in 46 states show that relief expenditures in August, 1931, were almost two and one-half times as much as those in August, 1930, and nearly four times as high as Poor relief has been given recently to between 6.000 and 7,000 families a month in Newark, N. J. as compared with between 1.000 and 2.000 a month during the early months of 1930. Relief outlays from public funds have forced up welfare costs in the cities of New Jersey till they are in 1931 about 125 per cent above 1930.

The United Charities of Chicago reports that the number of "cases" it carried even in August this year-August is normally one of the lightest months for charities-was eight times the number handled in August, 1930, with about 400 new cases being added each day.

While Chicago is attempting to raise nearly $9,000,000 this winter for emergency unemployment as compared with $5,000,000 last winter, this larger sum, says Gertrude Springer, in the Survey, "many experienced persons believe, is wholly inadequate, but is probably all that the traffic will stand." (A special article by Labor Research Assn. on the Chicago situation will appear in a later issue)

Feed Only a Few. Other signs of increasing starvation conditions are to be found in the estimates of private charity organizations and government officials as to the amounts they will need to give even the very minimum hand-out to some of the "most needy" and "worthy" unemployed workers this winter as compared with previous years. That they need these funds does not mean they will raise them or give them to the unemployed.

Harvey D. Gibson, banker chairman of the Emergency Unemployment Relief Committee in New York City, states that the total expenditures for unemployment relief in the city between October, 1929, and Oct., 1930, were $13 -000,000; that the amount expended the following twelve months up to October, 1931, was about $45,000,000; and that at least $65,000,000 will be needed to feed the hungriest to October.

But even if this $65,000,000 were raised it would be but a drop in the bucket compared with the very minimum needs figured on the lowest charity estimates of what a worker's family requires just to stay alive. We can take the figures of the capitalist charity agencies to show this. For example, the Charity Organization Society of New York says that $100 a month is needed for the very lowest "minimum" standard of existence for a family. And this figure, according to Louis L. Dublin, statistician of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., writing in the New York Times, July 17, 1931, "implies the most careful management of resources by the housewife.... $25 a week allows but $6 for rent-a sum which provides only a tiny home in a cold-water tenements without bathroom or private toilet. It takes $9.80 a week to feed a family of five, even if meals are carefully planned. And when income drops below $25 a week, "there is no escape from serious maladjustment and family disin terms of illness, inefficiency and moral de gradation

Assuming the number of unemployed in New York City as only 1,000,000-the estimate of E C. Rybicki, director of the city's employment bureau-we can take it that about half of these are so-called "breadwinners" for families. We thus have some 500,000 families to be cared for for at least ten months. At the charity feeding rate of $100 a month per family, this means $500,000,000 alone for the unemployed heads of families, not including the additional half million individual workers in the city who must also eat while the capitalist system refuses them a

In the face of this unprecedented need for immediate relief, banker Gibson says that only about $65,000,000 will be raised from all sources, public and private. He tells us that his relief funds cannot hope to "care" for more than 30,000 to 40,000 of the worst cases. At the same time even he admits there are in the city 160,000 workers, including 80.000 completely destitute family supporters and another 80,000 individuals without families, who are in the most acute need

But it is very doubtful if even the Gibson estimate of $65,000,000 from all sources, both public and private, will be raised in spite of all the speeches of the politicians, the free sob ads in the magazines, the benefit football games, the house-to-house panhandling committees of Al Smith, the charity balls attended by drunken millionaires, speeches by Mrs. Astor to the underpaid sales girls in the department stores, and the frequent save-our-system letters from Cal Coolidge and Col. Lindbergh.

Stealing Plenty. Assuming that the city appropriates its estimated $15,000,000 and that another $6,000,000 comes to the city from the state funds-and making due allowance, of course, for the large measure of graft involved in the administration of these expenditures—and assuming also that Gibson's committee raises its $12,000,000 and that Mayor Walker's police distributions are set up out of some $1,500,000 of funds taken largely in a levy from the wages of municipal employees-this makes only about $35,000,000 in sight. Set this alongside of the actual need for about $500,000,000 and you begin to see what all the present "emergency relief" ballyhoo is expected to cover up.

It is clear that when the Unemployed Councils ask for only $150 for winter relief for each worker and another $50 for each dependent, they are making a very moderate demand. It is, in fact, much less than any worker needs to get by the winter in any kind of minimum health and decency.

No Better Elsewhere.

It may be thought that in other committees of New York State, outside of New York City, the relief given will be more adequate. But official reports refute this hope. In a report called Prospects for Unemployment Relief in 1931-32 in 45 Cities of New York State," made by a Joint Committee on Unemployment Relief of the State Board of Social Welfare and the State Charties Aid Association, it is pointed out that the scale of relief in many cities last winter was "dangerously low." Many public relief departments have a more or less rigidly fixed maximum food order which they seldom exceed, regardless of the size of the family or the extent of its need. In 15 cities $7 a week was the usual maximum food order allowed to a family. Only $6 was the limit in 9 cities, $4 in 4 cities, $3 in 3 cities, $2 in one city, and $3 every other week in another city. Many Departments of Public Welfare spend little for milk, clothing, shoes, gas and electricity.

This was last winter-and the prospects for this winter are much worse for, as the report states, "It is doubtful whether the private funds available for unemployment relief this winter will be substantially larger than last winter, and there is a possibility that they will be smaller.' And towns and cities are all complaining of heavy taxation and are unable to meet the situation out of their budgets.

This is in the face of the obvious fact, admitted in the report, that "a greater number of the unemployed will need relief this winter and the amount of relief needed by each family will be greater, because there will be lessened resources of savings, credit and assistance by families and friends." And, thanks also to the Hoover stagger plan, "many more persons with part-time employment will need relief for the same reason."

ON DECEMBER 7th

With Literature

MASSES of workers and farmers have their eyes fixed on Dec. 7 and are wholeheartedwith the National Hunger March. Tens of thousands of workers are involved in this march-through the various local hunger marches, conferences and mass meetings.

These masses of workers and farmers must be provided with our literature—pamphlets, books and the Daily Worker, so that they get a real understanding of their problems, of the struggles ahead, and become better fighters in the ranks of the revolutionary working class movement.

This task is not as yet correctly carried out by our districts. We find that in many cases in local hunger marches not one piece of literature is to be seen. This is absolutely an impermissable situation and must be checked at once, before it is too late.

Let every district, section, unit immediately check up on the matter of literature: Do you have all the pamphlets on unemployment, social insurance, war, etc.? If you don't have these on hand-order them at once from the Workers Library Publishers! Rush your orders! Hundreds of thousands, millions of workers and farmers must be reached with our printed word, our fighting program for unemployment relief and social insurance; against wage cuts; against imperialist war and for the defense of the Soviet Union!

Flood the lines of the national hunger march the local demonstrations and mass meetings with millions of our pamphlets and the Daily worker!

The following literature should be brought to the foreground:

THE army of unemployed, consisting, along with I their families of almost a third of the total papopulation, are in dire need. Starvation is rampant, evictions are on the increase, suicides among the unemployed become an almost everyday occurrence.

The unemployed, suffering through no fault of theirs, must be saved from starvation. This problem requires immediate and adequate relief. It is not a problem of a passing nature, not merely an outcome of the present economic crisis, but a deep rooted feature of the present economic order

The following figures of the estimated number of unemployed (average) in the United States will prove this (figures as of 1923-29):

1923, 1,532,000; 1924, 2,315,00; 1925, 1,775,000; 1926, 1.669,000: 1927, 2.055,000: 1928, 2.707,000: 1929, 2,413,000. The year 1928 and the first half of 1929 marked the highest development of American industry and trade. However, as the above figures (from the American Federationist, A. F. of L. official organ, for Nov. 1931) indicate, there was not only a large number of unemployed at that time, but it was much in excess of the figures in previous

This was due to the introduction in recent of new machinery along with the ceaseless places of intensified rationalization and speedup, turning millions of workers out on the streets.

The same is the case in every industry; a permanent unemployment which ceaselessly grows When in addition to the permanently unemployed millions more were thrown on the streets in the abrupt cut in production due to the severest economic crisis in American history, the problem of unemployment grew to enormous pro-

Fifty Billion Lost.

In the course of the first 2 years of the present crisis the unemployed and vast number of part time workers suffered a loss in wages of $50,000,000,000. These billions in lost earnings spell so much misery, such intense suffering, that it is almost beyond power of description. The result is an appalling toll of despairing workers driven to discouragement and suicide.

"More mental and other cases have come to New York City hospitals in 1930 than ever before," says Commissioner Greef, who says the fear of unemployment "is actually driving people to worry until they become mentally or physically ill." Some 2,500 more mentally ill patients were admitted to Bellevue Hospital in the first six months of 1930 than the same period in

Flood the Line of the Hunger March The Meaning of Grandi's Visit to the United States

By HARRY GANNES

DINO Grandi, fascist prime minister of Italy, and J. P. Morgan, Wall Street banker for Mussolini, arrived in the United States at about the same time, both having toured Europe for new military alliances in preparation for the Grandi's visit to President Hoover and Secretary of State Stimson came on the heels of the trip to Washington of the French Premier Laval. It was a signal to the secret agreements that were arrived at by Hoover and Laval for war against the Soviet Union.

Grandi comes to Washington against the background of a tremendous world realignment of the imperialist powers. The objective of fascism and the Hoover regime is to fit Italy into this realignment. It is on this basis that the bargoining took place.

Mussolini did not relish the idea of Wall Street recognizing French imperialism's hegemony in Europe. In the sharpening antagonism between Italian and French imperialism, Italian imperialism is being shoved back step by step. Despite the "agreements" between France and the United States, Mussolini could see also the sharp conflict between these two powers growing out of their struggle for the division of the spoils. Wall Street has always had a close alliance with fascism, loaning hundreds of millions to bolster up the fascist regime, and Grandi's trip was a thrust to strengthen this alliance

In view of the deepening economic crisis in Italy, because of the growing position of French imperialism in Europe as against Italy, the break-down of the British gold standard which severely hit Italian finances, Mussolini found it necessary to draw closer to Wall Street. For this purpose Grandi was chosen to follow up Laval's visit, to offer American imperialism a counter-check to the strengthened position of French imperialism.

The New York World-Telegram bluntly put down the purposes of Grandi's visit to Washington in the following words:

"Foreign Minister Grandi, of Italy, has come to Washington to put before President Hoover the case of Italy against France and the Italian demand for more territory... Germany plunges nearer and nearer to revolution and war."

But nothing is said about war against the Soviet Union. In fact, the reams of "news" in the American capitalist press about the visit of Grandi deliberately hid the real issues, the question of war alliances, the capitalist rivalries, and the war preparations against the Soviet Union. Only in an obscure paragraph did the Herald Tribune (November 19) hint at the fact that Russia was discussed. The Herald-Tribune said:

"That President Hoover and Premier Mussolini see virtually eye to eye on the disarmament (read "armament" - H. G.) question, has been well known... The President is believed to have discussed with Signor Grandi questions of reparations, war debts, gold standard, and, possibly

In the popular capitalist press very little was said about the deepening economic and financial crisis in Italy, or about the growing army of unemployed, the mass wage cuts which are creating deep discontent among the Italian workers and peasants. In the financial press, however, some facts of this nature were published. The effect of the British financial crash on Italian economy, especially on export trade, resulting in a rift between Britain and Italy, and pushing Italian fascism closer to Wall Street, is shown by a report in the Wall Street Journal, which says:

"Italian trade anticipates greater difficulties

It goes without saying that in the U.S.S.R. such insurance is guaranteed to all the workers. At present no insurance is required in the U.S. S.R. since there is not only no unemployment there but an acute shortage of labor.

Some form of unemployment insurance is also in operation in almost all industrially developed capitalist countries. This is the only country with absolutely no social insurance. Because of this the demand for immediate relief for the unemployed and for unemployment insurance is of vital importance to the entire American working clean in exporting to Great Britain and her empire as a result of the break in sterling, but the consequence of even greater importance looms up in the increased competition of British goods with

Italian on the eastern markets and South America, where Italian manufacturers have secured an important foothold in recent years." Undoubtedly Grandi had something to say about the Eastern question and Latin American markets where Wall Street, likewise, expects greater competition from British capitalism. In this connection, the matter of discussing armaments in reality becomes a matter of discussing war alliances for a joint attack on British markets and colonies.

The Daily Worker has already published details about the inner economic crisis of Italian capitalism. This crisis is constantly growing deeper, and no amount of fascist-inspired lies can hide the fact that the entire financial structure of Italian fascism is shaken. The Journal of Commerce (Nov. 20) admits: "Certainly, the trials of the (Italian) Treasury have been exceptionally hard this year." Nor are these trials over. They are becoming worse. It was this that led fascism to a ferocious attack against the living standard of the Italian workers and peasants, without alleviating the basic crisis. The extent of the attack against the standard of living of the Italian workers and peasants is shown by the following:

Farm wages were the first to be attacked, the average being driven down to 42 cents a day. By cutting the wages of farm laborers, the fascist regime was able to wring $60,000,000 out of their starvation wages: a like amount was taken by Mussolini out of the industrial workers, and with the cut in government workers' pay, the fascist government was able to hand over to the capitalists around $160,000,000. While this has driven the Italian masses closer to starvation, it has not availed to save fascism from a worse economic and financial crisis.

Though the fascist government very zealously hides the true extent of the economic crisis and unemployment in Italy, the carefully censored facts that seep through tend to show a worsening of the crisis. The following from a dispatch to the Journal of Commerce, New York, leaves no doubt about the drop in industrial activity in Italy and the rapid growth of the unemployed

"That industrial activity has been on the down grade is proved by the published unemployment figures. At this time last year the unemployed were a little under 400,000 but at the end of September, 1930, they reached 642,169. At the end of February of this year they amounted to 765,325; and, now, after a short interval of decrease, they are once again (end of September) up to 757 763"

The actual extent of unemployment in Italy is about double the official figure or near 1,500,-000. This is a huge number for Italy.

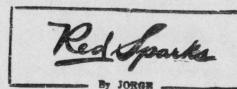

With this background, with the sharpening crisis throughout the capitalist world, with the war proceeding in Manchuria directed against the Soviet Union, the purpose of Grandi's visit becomes much clearer.

The Hoover government's attempts to hide the Grandi-Hoover conversations behind a thick veil of secrecy forced a mild criticism from the pro-Hoover New York Evening Post which made the complaint that:

"Signor Grandi, like M. Laval, has come and. gone at Washington. And we are even more in the dark as to the recalts, if any, of his visit The official joint statement is even more blind, maintaining well Secretary of State Stimson's firm prejudice against letting the people know anything about their own business.

The real complaint, however, is that since the great masses of workers will have to be drawn into the war being concocted by the Hoover-Wall Street regime, the Post believes it would be much wiser not to expose the preparation for new slaughters and r obberies by the very emphasis of such secrecy as Hoover has been indulging in for the past few months.

The Hoover-Grandi conferences were directed against the Italian and American workers, against the revolutionary proletariat of the Soviet Union, against the rising revolutionary struggles in Germany and to further a new imperialist war as a way out of the growing capitalist

This Is a Free Country?

From the "Real Estate News," a publication gotten out by the Greater New York Taxpayers' Association, a comrade sends us a clipping entitled: "Know Thy Tenants," a slogan that has a scriptural flavor something like—"In my Father's house are many mansions; I go to prepare a place for thee.'

Only the landlords of Greater New York have a very prosaic recommendation made under this poetic formula-"Know Thy Tenants." It is:

"Among the things which owners should find out about present and prospective tenants, either directly from them or from other sources, are: "His full name? His former address? His

His business or employment address? His earning capacity? The names of the members of his family? Where such members are employed? "One systematic owner," it is added helpfully, keeps track of his tenants, past, present and future, by means of four by six index cards arranged alphabetically in a handy box file. On former landlord? His business or employer?

the reverse side of the card he jots down any additional information he is able to learn from Very, very nice. But why don't they establish a passport system? That's the only thing left undone to "insure liberty!"

Inconsistent Liars

From Comrade Dorothy U. of Bothell, Washington, way out West, we get the following excellent note, which we turn over for your enjoyment:

"Dear Jorge:-Can you explain this? If not, who can?

"Some time ago some poor trusting soul. hoping for enlightenment, inquired of the Seattle 'Star,' through the 'Question and Answer' col-"Is it true that President Hoover employe only Mexican workers on his ranch in Califor-"Then came the answer, short and snappy:

"'I cannot find record of any farm in California owned by President Hoover.' "Two or three weeks later, in the same 'Question and Answer' column of the same Seattle

'Star,' appeared this: "Q .- 'Where is President Hoover's ranch lo-

"A .- 'In California.'

"Can't they even lie consistently any more, They can't, comrade! Just look at the way they mix war and peace in Manchuria.

He Killed Himself

Richard T. Crane is dead. And because he was the man who signed the checks for Crane & Co., the newspapers are giving him a send off. The headlines say: "Faithful Workers Get Crane Stock" and 'tis added: "Those Who Did Not Have Confidence Will Not Share $2,000,000

It develops, of course, that the "faithful" ones are those who have managed to avoid getting fired for ten long years, and the "faithless" ones those whom the company didn't hire ten years ago or fired since.

But that is only one funny thing. In the N. Y. Post of Nov. 19, the Crane Company officials in New York are quoted as emphasizing how deeple the old skinflint "loved" his workers.

"In fact, Mr. Crane's concern for his canployes whose income had been curtailed by

This is really tragic! The boss cuts the wages of his workers, then worries himself to death because their "income has been curtailed." This looks very much like a case of suicide!

Milwaukee Genesis

A worker in that city of slime and slums called Milwaukee, one of the "socialist" controlled cities, sends us the following:

"Ten teamsters were driving down West Mitchell St., going east, and ten Mack trucks were going west, each wanting the right of way. "The Macks, being of solid steel, charged the garbage teamsters, mangling the heads of the teamsters and the bodies of the jackasses they were driving.

"An ambulance took the men away and some trucks took the jackasses away.

"Milwaukee had started to bemoan its loss, when along came a doctor that promised to cut the loss in half. So, taking the heads of the asses he grafted them on the shoulders of the teamsters. "The operation was so successful that they became 'socialist' aldermen in Milwaukee, and remained in office, alive and fat, until the first day of the revolution." The above is a perfectly good story that we don't want to spoil, only we must add that these "socialist" aldermen are not so much stupid jackasses as they are clever scoundrels.

A Really Bright Idea

It is getting to be a little old now, that gas which Stimson, however, is still using-about the 'Japanese military party" and "the moderates" in the Tokio government being at outs with each other. Stimson has been working that absurd lie overtime. And a comrade in Massachusetts suggests that we call the bluff. He says:

"Some two months ago, the army of Japan revolted, that is, the commanders. The government of Japan was 'powerless'. Then the diplomatic corps of Japan joined the revolting army. then the manufacturers, the news agencies, the government officials-who no doubt were 'overpowered' by the rebels, and even the Mikado on the throne joined the rebellion. Only the workers of Japan were left

"But the revolt spread. It began when Stimse became a rebel along with General Honjo! The munitions manufacturers went along, the bankers and newspapers, who all saw the rebellion headed by the Japanese 'military party' as purging fire against Bolshevism! "And the revolt continued to spread, to France, to Italy! Poland, Rumania! Everywhere-except the Soviet Union and Soviet China!

"Therefore, the workers of the world are the only ones left to put down these rebellious capitalists! These outlawed bandits of world impe-Halism! LET'S UP AND AT EM!"
