Forward to February 4th

CEBRUARY 4 can and must be a day of gigantic mass protest against the whole Hoover Hunger program.

Every day it is clearer that government relief is for the billionair bankers and industrial lords-not for workers.

Congress has turned down every single proposal for government relief of the unemployed-for the relief of this army of 12,000,000 whose ranks are growing daily.

The Hoover administration has defeated even proposals like those of Hearst for an appropriation of $5,000,000,000 to be used to set up forced labor throughout the country and establish a number of profit-making enterprises which would immensely benefit the millionaires like Hearst with huge sums invested in real estate. With a synicism which exceeds anything yet witnessed in the United States, the Hoover publicity stresses the increase in the amount of "federal appropriations" for public works. The exact sum by which these exceed the normal three year amounts set aside for this purpose since 1928 is a mere $128,000,000—sufficient to pay each of the unemployed, to say nothing of their dependents, about $11 per year!

The New York Evening Post, stanch Wall Street sheet that it is, is compelled nevertheless to admit that the total sum raised by the Hoover Emergency Relief Committee, and by city, county and state appropriations, in 33 of the most important American cities, amounts to less than

This means that, so far as anything amounting to real relief is concerned, nothing is being done for the unemployed and their dependents. The whole Hoover scheme is a gruesome jok at the expense of the unemployed, their dependents and the workers still on jobs with their wage cuts and part time work.

Order and circulate the splendid literature now being published by the Unemployed Councils. Stimulate the local struggles against evictions and for immediate relief.

Prepare row for the February . mass meetings and demonstrations!

ONLY 232 months of subscriptions to the Daily Worker came in on Tuesday. This represents $116 as compared with $377.50 for last Saturday and Monday.

The level at the beginning of this week in the campaign for 5,000 12-month subscriptions to the Daily Worker was therefore not maintained. This cannot be tolerated if the campaign is to be finished on schedule.

The New York District is the only one to raise its level, sending in 117 months of subs, but Chicago has allowed New York to creep up by sending in only two months subs. Cleveland and Detroit, which began so well, are also slackening. The far western districts still are far, far be-pledge ourselves to avenge this worker's life by greater organizational efforts in fighting against the boss system of robbery and violence which you represent. For the murder of this worker we hold you responsible."

The I. L. D. issued the following call to the workers and their organizations to join the mass fight to free the Scottsboro boys:

"Scottsboro"-A Call To Action

In the prison at Kilby, Ala., eight innocent Negro working class boys--Willie Robinson, Andy Wright, Haywood Patterson, Olen Montgomery, Clarence Norris, Charlie Weems, Ozie Powell and Eugene Williams-are being held for the electric chair, for For eight months they have endured the turture of awaiting death on framed charges During all the time the lynch terror has raged high all around them. The murder of Camp Hill share-croppers the lynch attack upon the ex-war veteran Willie Peterson, the massacre of white and Negro miners in Harlan Kentucky, the fiendish hanging and roasting of Matthew Williams, the hanging to a telegraph pole of two Negro boys-Tom Jackson and George electric chair of young Barney Lee

"Scottsboro" is a basic attack of the capitalist landlords and bankers upon the working class. It is a direct attack upon the developing unity of the Negro and white workers engaged in struggle against unemployment, wage-cuts, starvation, misery, and war preparations. It is inseparably connected with the campaign of the deportation of the foreign-born workers and the imprisonment of the nativeborn, under Criminal Syndicalist laws, etc. It is the epitome of the Southern landowners' government attacks upon the National liberation struggles of the Negro masses in the Black Belt of the South. "Scottsboro" is a challenge to the American and world working-class.

January 18, will be a day of mass through this mass lynching. They will be supported by the entire capitalist class of the country and their agents of the "Socialist" party, which exists for the sole purpose of misleading the workers, the leaders of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the "running dogs" of American Imperibery and hell will be lined up on the side of the Southern bosses.

Wherever we went we saw the five year plan being accomplished in 2 1-2 and three years, everywhere there is enormous enthusiasm in the carrying out of the plan, the shock brigades are the driving force in this enormous tempo. In direct contrast to the conditions of the workers of capitalist countries whose conditions become worse daily, we saw the workers of the Soviet Union marching from victory to victory under the political guidance of the Communist Party.

Foreign Workers Delegations Interview Comrade Grinko

Second Question: How is the distribution of financial means among the various undertakings and factories carried out?

Answer: This is carried out on the basis of planned economy. We have the Five-Year Plan. a plan of socialist construction extending over a period of five years. This plan is confirmed by our highest organs of legislation and has the force of a law. But the actual carrying out of the various concrete parts of this plan is not possible on the basis of this general programme alone. Within the Five-Year Plan we set up an economic plan for each year, the so-called control figures. In setting up this annual plan we take into account the means which we have at our disposal in the year in question, and upon this decide what tasks contained in the Five Year Plan are to be carried out in this year; what factories, railways, collective farms, tracfor stations, universities, etc., are to be built or established, what wages are to be paid etc. In this way we set up concrete tasks for a year for each district. And in relation to these tasks we distribute the financial means. With such a huge area as our state comprises, with a population of over 160 million, is is fairly hard to determine everything exactly even for a year. Therefore we set up so-called quarterly plans for three For the working out of these plans we have the State Planning Commission (Gosplan).

This institution is in contact with all the People's Commissariats. It work out the plans: the government confirms them and when necessary revises them in the process of their carrying out. Such revisions are possible because we always keep certain reserves in hand. This whole work of running the national economy according to plan is a difficult science and a great revolutionary art. Sometimes, owing to insufficient experience, we do not work quite exactly but still we make progress. With us there are sharp disputes between the representatives of the sections of national economy; each wants to recoive more and considers his sphere the most important; a strong pressure is exerted on us from all sides. We withstand this pressure. Our task is to find the correct line. Those who do not understand this organism will also not undertand how two-thirds of the national income can be gathered in one common fund and then be correctly distributed. In doing this we make mistakes. We have sometimes drawn up plans which are beyond our capacity. At one time we had a visit from the American economist Stuart Chase. On his return to America he published book in which he wrote: "16 wise heads (with

to carry on revolutionary activity, how to throw the units into mass work, how to build the rev-from section organizers show that where inactivity in new units exists it is due for the most part to a lack of understanding of how to work.

When given concrete, simple directives, they readily respond. Such directives, however, to be effective, must be given wherever possible

Various ways of establishing systematic personal guidance have been adopted in the Pittsburgh district. Conferences of all section organizers in Western and Central Pennsylvania and East Ohio are held in Pittsburgh twice a month, more often when special problems arise, to discuss the political policies of the Party and our immediate tasks. Leading district function-

Especially important is the establishment of a system of regular section conferences attended by section committee members, unit organizers and other active workers in the area. These functionaries' conferences provide a means of personal contact with the unit leadership which is essential in building up lower cadres. Especially in the Pittsburgh district, where the units are scattered in 50 or 60 different mining camps and steel towns, such conferences help to break down tendencies towards isolation and act as a

The Party members feel thereby that the district center is close to them, directly concerned with their problems. They have an opportunity to discuss the campaigns with leading district functionaries whose knowledge and experience can thus be directly transmitted. Such questions and misapprehensions as may exist in their minds are the more easily answered. When, for example, leading comrades in the Johnstown section began to develop the opportunist sectarian conception that we can build the revolutionary unions only through holding small group

This would make ever Henry Ford turn giddy". What this bourgeois American economist cannot grasp will be grasped by every simple worker when he becomes familiar with the nature of socialist planning and its methods, of which I have spoken.

Third Question: What is the taxation policy of the Soviet government? Answer: We have no system of indirect taxes on single articles, as for instance, matches, salt, sugar, etc. . With us there is a general turnover tax. It is collected from the producer of the commodity; its amount is in reverse ratio to the importance of the commodity in regard to the requirements of the broad masses. Further, there is a tax on the income of the workers, employes and peasants. Those people living in the towns whose income does not exceed 100 rubles a month and those people living in the provinces whose income does not exceed 70 rubles a month are exempted from this tax. Higher incomes are taxed progressively. I myself, as People's Commissar, have the highest salary a member of the Party is allowed to receive, namely, 300 rubles a month; and on this I pay 6 rubles a month income tax. Thirdly there exists with us the business tax, payable by the private undertakings still existing in our country. This tax depends upon the turnover of the undertaking. small artisans and shopkeepers pay a flat rate and are thus protected against any over assessment of their income. In the villages an agricultural turnover tax is imposed. The poor peasants, who comprise about a third of the village population are entirely exempted from this tax. whilst for the other peasants the amount of the tax depends upon the size of their income. With regard to the kulaks, I say quite openly that our taxation policy is a means which we deliberately perfectly plain and clear. I have already said that this year we are expending 31,000 million roubles on further economic development. Of this sum 13,000 million will be derived from our socialist State undertakings and 12,000 million will be obtained from taxation; the rest will be obtained by inland loans and similar means. Our aim is step by step to abolish all taxes and to replace them by the yield of the economic undertakings. I should like to point out again in this connection that our State budget for the year 1931 has no employ against them in order to liquidate them as a class. In this respect our point of view is ject to terror, the way the combat this lay not against wage-cuts and unemployment could

The whole problem of the relationship of the Party and the revolutionary unions in this district, the question of the decisive role of the Party in building the National Miners' Union and the Metal Workers' Industrial League, must be dealt with persistent ideological and organizational campaign in the sections. While it is ncessary to have a written plan of campaign circulated among the functionaries in the district, this alone, however, as experience has shown, cannot suffice but must be accomplished by the personal guidance and patient explanation of leading representatives from the district bureau.

The section functionaries' conferences just held following the National Hunger March to Washington have been utilized to draw the political lessons from the Hunger March and prepare the Party membership for the next steps in the fight for unemployment relief and insurance. A continuation of these conferences, so that they may be held regularly once a month, will undoubtedly prove one of the most effective methods of consolidating the Party, raising the political level of the membership and involving them actively

Personal guidance is given not only the section and unit functionaries, but directly to the units themselves. The Pittsburgh district is basically a district of mine and steel units. These must receive individual personal attention, so that they may be taught how to conduct the day to day work in the factory, how to raise economic demands and initiate struggles for them, how to get out factory papers and win the confidence of the workers. For this reason, the district bureau is insisting that mebers of the section committees shall be responsible for the functioning of the units in the section, attending unit meetings to bring in person the directives of the Furthermore, leading comrades of the district are sent to cover meetings of the basic mine and steel units. In the present drive to build new nuclei, experienced district comrades have been assigned for special concentration on selected units. Already results are being definitely obtained, with the prospect of setting up several new steel and mine nuclei within the next few weeks, thus demonstrating the necessity and value of such action. Wherever this personal guidance is given, the response of the members is enthusiastic. Clearly, this is what they seek what they need. This our district must give

It is not only the membership that benefits from such methods, but the district functionaries themselves. To go into the field, to mingle with the Party members, among the masses in the mines and mills, is vitally necessary for all leading Party members. This prevents their isolation from the masses. It enables them to grasp at first hand the situation in the mines and the mills, and to react more quickly to the needs of the miners and steel workers. It helps them to prepare programs of activity based on the concrete requirements of the different sections of

The United States Is Drawn Into Functionaries' Class of the the World Financial Crisis

PART 3.

CONCLUDED)

Thus far the inflationary movement has been described from the point of view of its effect upon the financial structure of capitalism. The all important question of how inflation will effect the working class remains to be answered. In this connection, two things must be noted

1. Inflation means wage cuts on an unparalelled scale and reduced real wages.

2. Inflation means a mighty increase in the cost of living. Although inflation in its fully developed form results in an increase in commodity prices all along the line by itself it does not accomplish the increase in profits looked forward to by the capitalist class. For, side by side with the increase in commodity prices goes the steady depreciation of currency. Thus although nominal profits increase, the actual value of such profits remains the same and in the event that inflation runs ahead of the increase in commodity prices, the profits actually decline. In order to offset this, the capitalist class has already set about reducing "production costs." In less mystifying language, the capitalist class slashes wages right and left to prevent any rise in commodity prices from being nullified by a rise in wages, or even by a continuation of present wage scales. The intensified wage cutting drive came into the open with the 10 per cent wage cut instituted by the steel trust. The capitalists, of course, have been cutting wages ever since the beginning of the crisis. But the wage cuts had been accompanied by a campaign of demagogy as to the necessity of maintaining the "existing level of wages." Now this mask is dropped. The "necessity" for wage cuts is openly admitted. In addition the growth of inflation makes it necessary for the capitalist class to be in a position as soon as possible to avail themselves of the inflated commodity prices. We, therefore, find such expressions in favor of uncon cealed wage cuts as that contained in the "Financial Chronicle" of Dec. 5th. Speaking of wage cuts for all railroad workers, it says: "It is time to stop dallying and to take the bull vigorously by the horns. There has been altogether too much parleying and dickering. Ignore the union leaders. Let each railroad system announce that 30 days hence lower wage scales will be in effect, and let each railroad act in its individual capacity. . . . The reduction, too, will have to be commensurate with the need. We do not think a 10 per cent decrease will suffice for the purpose." This statement of policy on the part of Wall Street's leading organ is clear and requires little comment on the wage cutting drive that is going on. They will cut wages with the assistance of the reactionary labor leaders who are among the chief instruments for cutting wages, where possible without it where necessary-"nor will a 10 per cent decrease suffice for the purpose."

The leaders in this wage cutting drive are the great steel, coal, cotton, railroad trusts. It is by no means, however, confined to these trusts nor restricted to any section of the country or of industry. The wave of wage cuts that followed immediately after the outbreak of the crisis occurred simultaneously with a lowering of commodity prices although, by no means in the same degree. There was a continually widening scissors between the wages of the working class and the costs of various necessities of life.

The wage cutting drive which is now under way, however, takes place under fundamentally different conditions. It takes place under conformal approach to problems on the part of dislishment of personal guidance and leadership from the district center directly and from the sections to the units. This method, however, has become the policy of the Party, and will be one of the significant means of developing a mass Party in this district capable of leading the workers in their struggles against capitalism.

ditions of an anticipated in crease in commodity prices. The scissors which have been steadily widening will now open their full length. The working class will be subjected to a mighty attack on both wages and working conditions. The lowering of "production costs" by wage cuts will

The rise of commodity prices means for the working-class an unheard of increase in the cost of living. It means the return in more virulent form than ever before the notorious "H. C. L."the high cost of living. The decline in commodity prices which followed out of the crisis took place mainly in wholesale commodity prices. The not be the only means by which the capitalist class will attempt to squeeze the full benefit from inflated commodity prices. There will be a terrific campaign of speed-up in keeping with the lowered actual value of the profits follow-working-class did not benefit to any extent from the cataclysmic fall in commodity prices. Similarly, the rise in inflated commodity prices will take place in the wholesale market. Since retail prices always increase in proportion to wholesale prices, the inflated commodity prices will cut more deeply than ever into the living standards

This must not be interpreted as being the beginning of an inflation boom. Under present conditions a rise in prices can occur only in the sphere of consumption articles. This rise in prices will not stimulate productive investments inasmuch as the world stock of commodities is even slightly higher now than it was at the beginning of the crisis. Before any escape from crisis to depression can ensue, the world stock of commodities must be cut down tremendously. Thus inflation will cause a rise in prices without causing a revival of production. Only continued and deeper unemployment is in sight to aggravate for the working masses the suffering and misery following from inflation.

Nor is this all. Inflation means further burdens upon the working-class in the form of every possible variety of taxation. Secretary of Treasury Mellon's tax measure proposals to Congress is a good indication of the new burdens that the working-class will be forced to shouldrer as the government tries to overcome its budgetary deficit.

Says Secretary Mellon:

"In view of the marked contraction in corporation and individual incomes, in recent years the principal source of taxation, it seems essential that as under the Revenue Act of 1924, substantial revenues be provided by mis-

These "miscellaneous taxes" are none other than the taxes which cut into the income of the working-class in the form of stamp taxes, increased postal rates, amusement taxes on all admissions above ten cents, a whole series of "nuisance taxes," taxes on tobacco and cigarettes, etc. Mellon's statement indicates clearly the policy of the capitalist class of placing the burden of the crisis on the shoulders of the workingclass. Those increased taxes which corporations will have to pay, will also be in turn passed on to the working-class in various indirect ways, all of which will have the ultimate result of height-

All these developments place mighty tasks before the revolutionary working-class. The increased attack upon the working and living standards of the masses opens up even more than before the perspective of sharper class battles. The working-class which is now at a starvation level will not quietly accept the edict of further lowering of living standards. The objective conditions for the organization and leading into struggle of the famished millions grow increasing favorable as the necessity for offering that leadership also increases. The Communist Party, the Young Communist League and the revolutionary trade unions are confronted with the task, more than ever before, of giving organized leadership to the mighty class battles that will inevitable mark the resistance of the working-class to the imposition of ever greater burdens of the crists upon the already starving

Detroit League of Struggle for Negro Rights

By RENELDA GUMBS

FOR a long time the work of the League of Struggle for Negro Rights here in Detroit had been entirely dead. Efforts made for its revival were very difficult. Upon analyzing the reason the discovery was that the workers who were members of the League of Struggle for Negro Rights had almost no idea of the full aims and policies of the L.S.N.R. They had no theoretical understanding whatever of the Negro question so as to be able to answer the arguments of the enemies of the L.S.N.R. and in general were ignorant how to carry on the L.S.N.R. work.

In order to remedy this a functionaries class for the functionaries of the various L.S.N.R. groups was formed. The classes, which are being held every Thursday night in the L.S.N.R. District Headquarters, between the hours of 8 p.m. and 10 p.m. started on November 19, 1931, and was the first effort of Detroit to develop the functionaries of the L.S.N.R. All of the L.S.N.R. groups except Pontiac are represented in these classes which consist of 20 students, 4 women and 16 men, 5 white and 15 bers, but all are the most active elements in the L.S.N.R. groups of the Michigan District.

The following are the schedule of subjects that are being taken up within the scheduled six weeks of the class:

Class 1.—Policies and organizational structure of the L.S.N.R.

Class 2.-How the L.S.N.R. membership meetings are to be conducted, the duties of the various functionaries, duties of a chairman, conducting of mass meetings, making of motions, min-

Class 3.-Fundamentals of the Negro Question. (Beginning with the colonization of the U. S. with white slavery, the introduction of Negro slavery up to the present status of the Negro workers in the United States. Class 4.—The Negro Question as a National

Question and Self-Determination. Class 5.-The role of the L.S.N.R. in the present day struggles of the Negro and white workers; the history of the Liberator and its role as chief organ of the L.S.N.R.

Class 6.—The Negro and Imperialism and the relation of the Negro Liberation movement to the revolutionary movement of the world pro-

Also the struggle against the Negro bourgeoisie reformists is taken up at great length in this class.

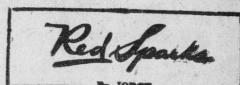

There are many shortcomings in this class, such as lack of sufficient reading material, not enough white workers attending, the classes being taught so far only by Comrade Gumbs, the District L.S.N.R. Organizer, etc. (This latter shortcoming is being remedied by other leading comrades of the District taking the future classes). But on the whole they can be said to be a grand success, as they are proving very interesting to the students and very beneficial. Due to the shortness of the classes and the intensity of the subjects being taken up, the method used is through short lectures and questions and answer periods. Reading material which is for the most part out of the reach of the students is mimeographed and given them for further reference.

Because of the distance of Pontiac from Detroit, the functionaries of the Pontiac group have not been able to attend the classes, but material and instructions will be sent to them to enable them to hold classes there as well.

The ultimate aim of these classes is not alone to train the functionaries how to carry on and lead the activities of the L. S. N. R. groups but also that these functionaries can organize and lead the study groups or classes for the rank and file members of their groups so that each and and every member of the L. S. N. R. may become developed, theoretically and practically, and actively be the organizers of the masses of Negro and white workers in the struggle for the rights of the oppressed Negro toilers and the freedom of the entire working-class.

With the ever rising tide of persecutions of the Negro masses of the United States, the increase of boss lynchings in the south, the growing intensity of discrimination and jim-crowism of Negroes, it is vitally necessary that we increase our development of workers to take their places as leaders in the struggle for Negro rights and

The Tail Waggers Are For War

One of the dog-gonedest things we have met up with recently is the fancy way the imperialists are mobilizing all hands and the cook for war on the Soviet Union. The latest being one contained in a British magazine, "The Tail Wagger," a journal about dogs.

The first and leading article in the issue for May, 1931, which a comrade has just sent us, is a unique variation on the "Soviet dumping" canard. The editor is writing and gets all steamed up over a supposed "order of the Supreme Economic Council in Russia" which has according to the article, "demanded the slavet ter of 950,000 dogs."

And for what? Why-"In order that the markets of Western Europe may be flooded with cheap gloves . . . in order that Russia may knock the bottom out of all the markets of Europe, and cause widespread unemployment About this, the "Tail Wagger" editor rises in forensic wrath. "Let it be clearly understood," he says, "that the Tail Wagger Magazine is in no wise concerned with politics." And from then on he proceeds to say: "It can hardly be gainsaid that today the Russian people have many of the qualities of a slave state, in that they have been robbed of most of their independence of thought and action and must obey the dictates of their rulers." That, my boy, sounds kind of humorous after what has been done to the wages and the dole of the workers and jobless of Britain. But you will notice that the editor has shifted from dogs to people, so it's his own fault if we take him

In another place he spouts: "Our feelings would have been the same and we should have adopted the same attitude, if the offending proposal had come from one of the British domin-

But such an "offending proposal" could, of course, not originate under the Union Jack. Why should the Viceroy of India, for example, order dogs to be killed when there are so many Indians to be slaughtered? Indeed it is better, for the purposes of war propaganda against the Soviet Union, that every one of the 300,000,000 natives of the Indian peninsula be murdered-and the "Tail Wagger" say nothing about it—than tha the hair of one Russian dog be touched!

Meanwhile, we haven't noticed any "flood of cheap gloves" - and we guess that you can put the "Tail Wagger" down as another of those damned liars who wag their tails like Matthew Woll, every time a banker throws them a bone

Bull Fights and Things

In some of "our" illustrated Sunday papers we noticed recently the picture of a bull fight in Mexico, where the toreador was being gored to death, and the caption written by the Yankee editor said something about the "barbaric" nature of bull fighting.

No doubt the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Bulls has a special seance over that picture. But right here in "civilized" America we have had 42 football players killed so far this season. Also we have had the fact revealed that ollegiate" sports are put on by hired playersand in general an expose of capitalist sports.

All of which reminds us that for sports that are on the square, and come from the wholesome desire of the masses to play and wage contests in skill, you have to go to the Labor Sports Union. We think that the L.S.U. is doing a fine thing in developing the Metropolitan Soccer League games that are played every Sunday in New York at the Dyckman Oval, and soccer football is free from the useless fatalities of the Rugby game played by capitalist outfits.

The L.S.U. is also following a good line by helping the class struggle, the proceeds of next Sunday's games at Dyckman Oval going to the "Young Worker," just as previous games have gone to the Hunger March.

The Young Communist League, we hope, beginning to tumble to the importance of workers' sports. One Y.C.L. unit out West recently wrote that it was organizing a L.S.U. branch; as the comrades "believed it necessary" to "get in touch with non-members of the Y.C.L."

This is, indeed, a happy thought. One might ask why they haven't made the discovery before. But many units haven't got that far yet, and generally the Y.C.L. is even more sectarian than the Party-and that's saying a lot.

To us, it appears that when workers who are in the Party and League get so wound up in themselves that they scorn to talk to so-called "backward" workers, they not only restrict the movement, but they show that they themselves lack that theoretical development which would give them assurance in their own supposed convictions. And they have to cohabit with other members exclusively as a sort of support for their own inner weakness which is due to lack of THEORETICAL STUDY. The mere holding of a Party or League card qualifies nobody as a Communist. And "practical work" without theoretical development is a dull and fruitless thing, done-if at all-only by heroic and usually repulsive "discipline." If members say they cannot talk with non-Party workers, make friends with them and gain their sympathy and support for some phase of the Communist movement, there's something wrong with such members-and not with the non-Party workers.

freedom. As Lenin said, "without revolutiona theory there can be no revolutionary practice The Detroit League of Struggle for Negro Rights is endeavoring to make the above slogan a reality in all ways. However there is one setback and that is finances. The League of Struggle for Negro Rights is in a bad financia
