STRIKE WON ON BRYANT AVENUE

Landlord Gives in on Demands

NEW YORK .- The rent strike at 1045 Bryant Avenue has been won! The stubborn resistance of the tenants to the continued brutality of he "blue coated guardians" - of l'ammany, and the mass picketing and flery mass demonstrations led by the Unemployed Council forced landlord Harrison to call a halt to the militant rent that has been raging n his house for the past two weeks. During this time Harrison has been breaking promises right and left, and ucceeded in evicting two tenants. King and Rosen, leaders of the House Committee, reported that the andlord had accepted all the conditions that the tenants had put before him. They are:
1. Recognition of the House Com-

2. Reduction of 10 per cent in

3. No evictions of unemployed te-

4. Expenses for expressage of the evicted tenants to be paid by him. This important and timely victory should serve as a concrete example of what mass struggle and organization can do, especially to the striking tenants of 1484 Hoe Avenue, which house is owned by this same landlord Harrison.

Evicted Tenant Beaten Rent Strike Continues at 2027 Monterey Ave.

NEW YORK .- A tenant was beaten and clubbed by the police when he protested strenuously against his beapartment at 2027 Monterey Ave., the Bronx, where a rent strike has been in progress for the past four weeks.

About two hundred workers booed the cops lustily and were chased all over the block but continued to come back for more.

MARCHTODAY A Fighting Fund for ALL Class Battles! AUTO PROTEST

The AUTO WORKERS STRIKE IN DETROIT gives and its efforts to demoralize and strangle the struggles of the working were 300 street car men at the meeting where this sell-out took place. FIRM I reason enough for mass support of the DAILY WORKER.

First, do not forget that the workers at the Briggs Vernon Highway plant and the Motor Products Corp. had already defeated wage cuts and only the Daily Worker had told the workers of this important fact.

Then, spurred on by the confidence gained in the victory, the workers in other plants, showed determination to resist the brutal offensive of the bosses. And now a great class conflict is taking place in Detroit—the decisive center of the automobile industry-the paradise, until 1929, of the "mass production and high wages" scheme which was supposed to "bring the millenium" to America -under capitalism.

Class forces are sharply aligned around the heroic strike struggle of the Briggs Plant workers. On one side are the masses of hungry strikers, led by the Auto Workers Union, supported by the Unemployed Councils and the Communist Party.

On the other side are the federal government, represented at the moment by Pilkington, department of labor "conciliator," the powerful employers of the auto industry, the banks which finance them, the Michigan state government, the Murphy government of Detroit and the camp followers of this array of reaction—the leaders of the Socialist Party, represented by Norman Thomas, who comes to Detroit to act as a "socialist" cover for bosses' agents like Frank X. Martel, head of the Detroit Federation of Labor. Yes, these are all on the side of the bosses. The ragtag and bobtail of misleaders of the I.W.W. and the Proletarian Party have also been recruited to add their mite to the task of confusing and disrupting the strike. Yes, these too! State and City Police, Department of Justice agents, spies of the Department of Labor and Immigration, gangsters from the underworld all have been mobilized against the strike and its militant leadership.

The Daily Worker as the central organ of the Communist Party, is the only daily paper that replies to the enemies of the working class and their press. Only in the Daily Worker is to be found the truth about the heroic struggles of the Detroit auto workers and the call for ministration of 505 is as follows:

into one.

It is the only daily paper which exposes the lies of the enemy press

It is for these reasons that the Daily Worker must in turn be supported by the working class. The Daily Worker must be made more capable of fulfilling the tremendous demands made upon it by the starvation and war drive of the bankers, bosses and their government and the entry of huge new battalions of the working class into the class struggle. The Daily Worker has as its most urgent task the reaching of these new contingents of workers, working farmers and Negro masses.

The Daily Worker is needed as never before. A whole new series of militant class battles is beginning. The strike of the Briggs Company Auto workers, led by the Auto Workers Union and an elected Rank and File Strike Committee, is of historic importance. Previously unorganized, and robbed and beaten down in every way, betrayed by the A. F. of L. leaders, these workers have revolted against further wage cuts in their starvation rates. They are supported by great masses of unemployed and employed workers. There have already been as many as 15,000 men, women and children on the Briggs picket line.

There is the greatest sympathy for the strike among the Ford workers, 40,000 of whom have been locked out by Ford in an attempt to turn them against the Briggs strikers. But this sympathy is not

The Briggs workers and the masses now in struggle must be strengthened in order to deliver a decisive defeat to the capitalist offensive in its drive for a new series of wage cuts in the auto industry, in steel, on the railroads. The decisive reserves of Ford workers must be won for the struggle in support of the Briggs strikers and for their own demands.

The Briggs strike can and must be won. The victory in the Motor Products Corporation plants, where the wage cut was defeated, must be repeated. It can be done only by smashing the circle of strikebreaking forces which the employers and their government are trying to draw around the workers. The sell-out policy of the American Federation of Labor leaders can be carried through today only when it cannot be exposed by the Daily Worker and the press of the militant unions. These bureaucrats work hand in hand with the capitalist press.

Here is an example: In Detroit, just after the strike of the Motor Products workers had defeated a wage cut, Mr. Mahon, president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes were 300 street car men at the meeting where this sell-out took place. We quote from a Detroit dispatch of Feb. 1 published in the Daily

"But hardly a man of the 300 had heard of this great victory due to the fact that at that time the capitalist press here was keeping the lid shut tight on all news of the struggles in the auto industry. No such news is printed without the sanction of the Chamber of Com-merce, the Merchants and Manufacturers Association and Frank X.

The "labor and socialist" cover for such vicious measures is furnished by the leaders of the Socialist Party and the American Federation

No working class struggle of any kind can be won in the United States today without the exposing and defeating, first of all, these "socialist" and "labor" vultures who hover over every class battle, picking at the eyes of the workers as the employers, their government and their police and spies attack them.

The Daily Worker stands in the forefront of the class battles. It is the voice of the Communist Party advance guard and the weapon of the entire working class.

The mass struggle against starvation wages and for the right to organize in Detroit is a decisive struggle, yet it marks only the beginning of the mass struggles of 1933, the fourth year of the worst crisis in the history of American capitalism, the period of the most sweeping and ruthless attack on the living standards of the masses ever wit-

Enable the Daily Worker to extend its already powerful influence; enable it to reach the new section of the working class wheeling into battle array. Enable it to establish itself so firmly in the ranks of the working class that no assault of its enemies can uproot it. Enable the Daily Worker to pursue the enemy agents in the ranks of the working class and bring their perfidies into the light of day.

Support every struggle of the American workers by supporting and building the Daily Worker! Mobilize mass financial support for the $35,000 fighting fund of the Daily Worker!

Tomorrow we will discuss with you some further reasons why the working class must, in its own interest, support the Daily Worker. lition of piece work, of the "insur-

RED ELECTION VICTORY COLOGNE, Jan. 15. (By Mail). In the municipal elections in the industrial town of Bruehl, near Cologne, the German Communist Party was the only party to make appreciable gains. Although the total vote fell below that of the last Reichstag elections, the Communist vote rose to 24 per cent of the total poll. The Socialists polled 15 per cent and the Nazis 12 per cent of the total. The Catholic Center is the biggest party, with 40 per cent of the vote, a steep drop from its Reichstag vote, when t had 47 per cent of the total. ### New Bill to Aid Farmers' Enemies

Relief" for Banks Is Aim of Hull Bill

WASHINGTON. Feb. 2 .- Clearly the result of the farmers' mass resistance to foreclosure sales and fearing outright repudiation of all formal indebtedness. Congress moved today to put over a fake "mortgage relief" measure sponsored by Senator Cordell Hull of Tennessee.

During the week the militancy of the farmers had resulted in six of the leading insurance companies of sales against mortgages totalling nearly $2,000,000. While representing a partial victory for the farmers and a vindication of their militant tactics, the concessions by the insurance companies does not substantially lighten the terrific burden on the shoulders of the farmers, inasmuch as nearly $10,000,000 in mortgages is still held by local banks, the Jay St. and the waterfront. majority of them direct agents of Eastern financiers.

Arbuckle Sugar Company | Chats with Our Cheats Ruptured Worker of Compensation and Job

NEW YORK .- While organizing a block committee on Hudson Avenue, we came across an unemployed and sick worker who has worked for the Arbuckle Sugar Co., which is known among workers for its accidents and ruptures because of the nature of the work. He was ruptured about seven months ago and was laid up in the hospital for an operation. During the first ten weeks he received $10 a week compensation from the Arbuckle's NEGRO WAITER DIES own insurance fund. After that the doctor said that he was alright and he could go back to work.

Immediately, the compensation was stopped, but this worker was unable return to work as his condition vas too weak. He reported to the State Labor Department whose doctor said he is able to do light work though he himself felt that he could However, through necessity he went back to Arbuckle and they refused to give light work claiming that they had none. Now, he is out of his compensation and a job and e feels quite sure that Arbuckle and the state department work hand in hand against the workers.

Not only must the working class organize block committees to fight against high rents and for relief, but also for genuine compensation laws unemployment insurance and the the country suspending foreclosure ultimate overthrow of the capitalist system of oppression.

THE 50TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE DEATH OF KARL MARX

There is a letter in this section or Karl Marx, in which the worker proves by his own experience, in working for "Stewarts" and the "Willow" Cafeterias, how correct Karl Marx is. ## Mass Struggles Only Bring Victory

THE move initiated early this week by the Prudential Life Insurance Company to suspend foreclosure activities on farm mortgages now embraces practically all leading insurance concerns

This is of great significance and is certainly a partial victory of considerable proportions for the farmers. Most important for the moment is to drive home the fact that this partial victory did not come because of those blow-hards of the "farm bloc" in congress who use all sorts of deceptive talk to keep the farmers tied to the capitalist parties. Ie came because masses of farmers no longer take the advice of these misleaders who capitalize their misery and are in ever larger num-bers taking matters into their own hands and by organizing united action on a large scale, they made it impossible to collect on these mortgages.

These insurance companies, holding some 22 per cent of the total farm mortgages of the country, are owned by the biggest Wall Street magnates. Hence it goes without saying that the suspension of fore-closures is directed from Wall Street and is dictated by the fear of being faced with a nation-wide farm revolt, coinciding with the new rise of struggles of the unemployed and part-time workers in the industrial centers against hunger and wage cuts. More alarming for Wall Street is the growing unity of workers and farmers as manifested in Iowa and Pennsylvania where recently there have been organized expressions of

But this will not stop the farm revolt. There are still billions of dollars in mortgages held by small banks-55 per cent of the total farm mortgages in the country. These must be set aside by continuing and intensifying the mass struggle against forced sales and evictions.

MAR from slowing up the growing revolt of the farming masses, this partial victory will spur the farmers on to more determined struggles. Not only must there be established the right to stay on the land, but the capitalist bandits and their government must be compelled to grant the demands of the farmers put forth in the program of the Communist Party which calls for immediate emergency relief for the impoverished farmers without restrictions by government or banks.

Such a struggle must embrace vast sections of the farming population and unite against the common enemy, the revolt of the farmers in the wheat and corn regions of the Middle West and the upsurge of the Negro and white sharecroppers and tenant farmers in the cotton belt of the

THIS development in the farm struggle, and the whole series of partial victories of workers fighting against wage cuts (steel workers of Warren, O., Briggs Body, Detroit, etc.) and the struggles of the unemployed which have wrested concessions from the capitalists and their local and state governments, give the lie to those Socialist Party, Musteite and A. F. of L. leaders who traduce and betray the toiling masses by saying they will not fight and if they do fight, cannot win, in periods of economic crises. These reactionary leaders try to blame the masses for their own policy of servile crawling before their capitalist masters. The action of the workers in the cities and towns and the farmers on the land proves that the toiling masses of the United States are with greater energy carrying on the defensive struggle that, in the course of its development, must be turned into a counter-offensive CLEVELAND, Ohio. — The last chapter in the unsavory history of "labor banking" has yet to be written. The Standard Trust Bank, last of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers' ventures into the banking field, failed in December, 1931. But only now are some of the facts behind the failure beginning to leak out. They reveal what the Cleveland press describes as "the looting of the Standard Trust Bank by insiders.

These "insiders" are a little clique of Brotherhood officials, lawyers, bankers, open shop emthe Democratic and Republican

Some 37,000 small depositors lost about $13,000,000 in the bank crash. They are mostly Brotherhood members and workers belonging to Cleveland trade unions who were induced to leave their money in a 'labor bank'

"INSIDERS" TAKEN CARE OF.

While these workers have not received a cent of their savings since the Standard Trust closed, and have little chance of ever receiving more than a few cents on the dollar, the "insiders" have been well looked after. The little group of capitalists and labor officials who controlled the bank borrowed millions of dollars from it on questionable security while they had the chance. And now they have been permitted to offset their deposits against their indebtedness.

COMPARE the case of Joseph Kodrich, union carpenter who put his life savings of $6,500 in the Standard Trust, with that of Judge Newcomb, legal adviser of the B. of L. E. Grand Officers, and the

The firm of Newcomb, Newcomb and Nord, on the other hand, has already been given a credit of 100 cents on the dollar for its deposits, by virtue of a settlement which wipes off its indebtedness, pays in full for "legal services" and relieves it of stockholders' liabilities. Our Fortress'

Establish Intimate, Permanent Contacts With the Workers.

"The successful accomplishment of this task (winning the major-ity of the working class) requires that every Communist Party shall establish, extend and strengthen permanent and intimate contacts with the majority of the workers, wherever workers may be found."-From the 12th Plenum

By G. R. (Conclusion)

NOTHER example. We made A contact with a worker, an engineer, who was interested in our paper and movement. Now after four months, when I am a personal friend of his, he tells me, "you know how I came into this movement. I thought it was pretty I wrote to a friend of mine in Chicago. He told me he thought it was O. K., so I came in". Before he came into the movement he wanted to find out who we were and he never came to us but wrote to a friend of his to find out. This fellow was "against the reds, and Foster in particular." But after doing a little bit of work there he came and told me that one of the fellows he had lined up as a Red, who reads the Daily Worker. He had subscribed to the Daily Worker for one or two years. I went to see him a few weeks ago and found that there were three railroad workers reading the "Daily". One of these fellows, I think, still belongs to the Knights of Columbus He likes the "Daily" and I think if we do real work, we could get them into the Party. This fellow who is "against the Reds" has changed since he is working among

THE next question is, after you have the groups, what do you do with them? When the workers start work with us, they are very soon found out by the companylet's not fool ourselves-if we really do work, they are going to find out very soon. If we permit these workers to become isolated, they are picked out, fired, terrorized and the group breaks up.
This brings me to the problem of leading the work in the shops in such a way that the small groups we have are merged in actions and are not picked out by the boss. If we do this we can build strong and solid organization everywhere. And I don't mean we need 30 or 40 workers before we can start. When I speak of struggle, I don't mean only strikes; even if a leaflet wins a demand for a worker, that is a form of struggle. I want to illustrate with a concrete experience. We got connected with a certain worker who has a lot of influence in his shop. After a talk with him, he felt that the question of the speed-up was a burning question, and we felt that if we got a large group around this issue, we would not need a strong union organization. This worker began to approach the workers to discuss ways and means of stopping the speedup two months ago. We got seven workers together and we used to meet right after work on the street corner around midnight—we had no other place to meet in, no hall, etc., because of the late hour. These fellows began to spread the word that we have to stop the speed up and slow up a little. This began to take effect, to an extent. All the workers began to slow up. The company soon became aware of this slowing up, and they also knew we had an organization. For a period of a month and a half they were able to stop the speedup and the foremen were pretty much stumped and couldn't get very far, because we had a solid Well, we still have seven or eight workers who meet at midnight, outside the place, but because we were able to develop a movement which didn't involve only a small group, we were able to win the sympathy of these workers and show them that we can get somewhere.

ART EXHIBITION AT THE JOHN REED CLUB

EW YORK .- When Ralph Pearson, NEW YORK.—when reason lecturer, artist and critic, the first speaker at the John Reed Club Revolutionary Art Exhibit, which opened Jan. 26, said, "This is one of the best and most significant art exhibits I have ever seen," a burst of applause from the 500 listeners showed that they fully agreed with him. This exhibit, which marks a defi-nite departure from the usual 'art for art's sake" show, is a collection prints, drawings, pictures and sculture which depicts the class conscious artist's reaction to the contemporary social scene. More and more, artists are coming to feel that social art speaks a language, that social art is the most important art, and this exhibit shows this change in thought which is daily growing greater.

Jacob Burck, cartoonist for the Daily Worker, spoke on the future f revlutinary art. He said, "This art is only in an embryonic state. It will become more living, then it will become really great. Then will come a new, a true renaissance in art. There can come no such rennaisance as long as art is based on a moneyed class which supports it."

The exploitation of the masses, in its extremest and most barbarous form, has been systematic and uninterrupted throughout the history of Haiti; but Yankee Imperialism has brought it to the limit of human endurance. For sugar central of any importance the property of the Yankee Haiti-American Sugar Co. (HASCO), slave under horrible conditions. This enterprise employs close to 3,000 workers, of whom 500 are industrial workers and the others agricultural. A skilled machinist ing 13.4 cents an hour.

Other workers also toiling 18 hours a day, getting 7 or 8 cents plant start at six in the evening, and work till six the next morning. During this period they are not permitted recess nor time off to eat. For this long, hard day's work, they get 60 cents a day.

Agricultural workers are even more miserably paid. A cane cut-ter working 11 hours a day col-lects 16 cents for her entire day's work. The job of building a-loading cane on carts is done by women who earn a total of twelve cents for twelve hours work. The other Haitian toilers suffer from similar or even worse conditions.

STRUGGLES OF THE

VORKERS AND PEASANTS

THE general crisis of capitalism and the deepening of inter-imperialist rivalries, which increase tremendously the oppression and exploitation of colonial and semicolonial peoples, are becoming sharper each day in the Negro Republic of the Caribbean, Haiti.

The intervention of the United States through the armed force of American Marines (June 14, 1915), and the rapid penetration of Yankee commercial enterprises and of the National City Bank, bear witness to the increasing exploitation of the masses; to the growth of the plantation system and the theft of the soil from the poor and middle farmers by imperialist enterprises. Agriculture in Haiti-mainstay of the colony's economy -has dropped very much since SEVERE EFFECTS OF CRISIS The sharp drop in the price of coffee, cotton and other principal products of the country, has resulted in deficit after deficit in the budget. An exceptionally sudden decline in customs receipts has brought the total national income, from all sources, to a figure con-siderably below the corresponding figure of 1930-31.

IMPERIALIST REPRISALS In April, 1932, there was an enormous drop in exports, which was the chief factor in the drop in income, directly traceable to the fact that France, Italy and England have ceased buying from Haiti as an act of reprisal against the policy of American imperialwhich raised the Haitian tariff sky-high in order to maintain it-

YANKEE TAX LOOT

In order to assure the principal and interest on loans by the National City Bank, the Yankee imperialists, using as a mouthpiece their Financial Adviser and General Customs Receiver of Haiti, Sidney D. Larue, continue to raise taxes, thus putting greater burdens on the masses.

This policy of banditry by Yankee imperialism, which throws all the weight of the crisis on the exploited masses, is not only supported but carried out by the bourgeois-landlord government of Stenio Vincent, who has served as President of Haiti since November 18, 1930

Vincent rose to power in Haiti with the direct help of Yankee imperialism acting through the Forbes Senatorial Commission and the reformist leaders who, headed by Morton, visited Haiti. This Morton Commission was supported by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the League for Industrial Democracy and other organizations of a similar character.

MARINES AND NATIONAL CITY BANK

In view of the fact that the treaty signed between Haiti and the United States in 1915 was to expire in 1936, the imperialists presented to the Vincent government another agreement known as the "New Treaty." In it, Washington promised to withdraw its marines in December 1934 on condition that peace be maintained and that regular payments be made to the National City Bank. But another article of the New Treaty provides, despite the promised re tirement of the U.S. Marines, that they may be reshipped to Haiti at any time up to 1952 if the stipula-

Until now these struggles have been spontaneous and have lacked organiza-

EARLY ORGANIZATIONS

. Toward the end of 1931 the first revolutionary organizations of the working class made their appearance, growing out of the widening struggle of the masses. In December of that year, the General Workers' League of Haiti was organized. Shortly thereafter, other organizations were established, including the League for Defense and Popular Culture.

Recently, the General Workers' League of Haiti took the first steps for organizing the workers of the Haiti-American Sugar Company, wich is linked with the National City Bank.

It must be led along serves them as a mutual insurance organization. Since social help is this road. The task to lead them along this road is the task of the Communist Party. Revolutionary leadership does not begin at the end of this road, exercised only over the revolutionary workers, it begins at the start of this road, exercised upon the broadest possible working masses, irrespective of their degree of vevolutionary development. The strength of the revolutionary movement, therefore, depends on the success the Comer, we ask him to help himself through collective efforts. The

I.W.O. is our contribution to such a collective effort. It represents our effort to solve, by means of mutual insurance, the problems for the American worker by the non-existence of social insurance. That is really in itself a service to the whole working class, not only to the individual members of the Order. But it is not enough of a service. While we organize the workers within the I.W.O. to insure each other we still emphasize the right of the workers for social insurance.

That is why the International Workers Order not only pays benefits to its members but it also or-ganizes them, and, as far as possible, the workers as a whole, to fight for social insurance. This struggle for social insurance is directly connected with the purposes of the International Workers Order

Too often, our comrades in the non-party mass organizations are complaining of the hesitancy with which non-class conscious members in these organizations approach the workers. Much of this hesitancy is of our own making. It is caused by our not making any efforts to connect up the struggles into which the purposes for which these workers joined our organization. We desire to win the masses for membership in the International Workers

Order because such membership supplies a measure of economic security which is not supplied by society itself. In all activities, therefore, the Order must prove that this

(to supply some measure of eco-nomic security to its members) and in the main, this only, is its concern. The Order must therefore lead its members into such struggles that develop directly out of the reasons that made the workers join the Order. The further development of such political activities beyond the scope of the Order must be the result of good leader-ship. For instance, when members of the Order because of well di-rected struggles for social insur-ance become Communists, it would be wrong for the Order itself to take on the functions of the Communist Party; such revolutionized members of the Order will then join the Communist Party. Or if members of the Order, because of well-led struggles for social insurance become convinced of the necessity of economic struggles, the I.W.O.

surely cannot take on the functions of a militant labor union for members will be directed to join the revolutionary union.

The International Workers Order remains what it set out to be an active proletarian Mutual Benefit Society. The development of its members into militant trade unionists or into Communists thus becomes a natural result of a correct functioning of the I.W.O. as an ac tive workers' mutual benefit so-ciety. It is necessary, for example, to show the members of the Order how working conditions and wages are determining factors in their health, in their continuous ability or disability to work and to earn a living, are factors in the soundness and efficiency of their proletarian mutual aid society. From this, revolutionary leadership can easily develop in these members an understanding of the need of improving

From this it is easy to lead these workers to an understanding of the

Without a struggle for immediate improvements of the workers' con-ditions there can be no revolutionary struggle for power. The workers learn the necessity of struggle because of their immediate needs; and they learn the necessity and methods of revolutionary struggle in the struggles for their immediate needs. His immediate needs teach the worker the need of fight; the need of fight teaches him the and on the ability of the Com-munists to transform the experiences of these struggles into greater class consciousness of the workers It is clear from this that the question is not at all who prefers revolution to immediate achieve-ments of the workers. The Communists, rather, develop and lead struggles for immediate achieve-ments because they are concerned with creating a revolution. The Socialists, on the other hand, want to save capitalism from a proletarian revolution and therefore try with all their might to prevent workers' struggles for immediate improvements.

munists have in organizing and leading mass struggles of the workers for concrete immediate issues

Communist theory and practice are workers' struggles; Socialist theory and practice are workers' paralysis. The Communists stimu-late the action of the masses; the Socialists prevent where they can or paralyze where they cannot prevent, the action of the masses. The Communists start from the premise that the emancipation of the working class can only be achieved by the struggles of the workers themselves, the socialists, on the other hand, teach that the emancipation of the workers will be achieved by parliamentary representatives. The Communists or-ganize mass economic strikes by the workers themselves, mass picketing by the workers themselves, mass demonstrations by the work ers themselves, mass defense by litical strikes by the workers themthe workers themselves, mass poselves, mass political action by the workers themselves; the Socialists preach action of the parliamenta-rians in the name of the workers and condemn workers' mass action as interfering with the plans of the parliamentarians; they preach negotiations with bosses by bureaucrats and condemn workers mass action as interfering with the skillful manoeuvers of the bureaucrats; they appeal to capitalist courts for "just" action toward workers persecuted by capitalist justice and condemn workers' mass action on behalf of their perse-cuted class brothers. The Communists at all times call for work-

From this we can conclude, that the more serious the Communists take the immediate struggles of the workers, the more successful will be their revolutionary leadership, the more effective will be the Communist challenge of the influence of social democracy over the workers' action against the capitalists to counteract and defeat the continuous action of the capitalists against the workers; the Socialists call for inaction of the workers against the capitalists, to secure the victory of the continuous actions of the capitalists against the workers.

THE immediate issue on which the I W.O. is being built is the economic insecurity of the workers. To meet this issue the I.W.O. organizes mutual insurance fights for social insurance. In the course of struggle for social insurance to replace the, at best in-adequate, mutual insurance, effective revolutionary leadership can teach the members of the International Workers Order the political character of their problems. It can teach them the need of political struggle. It can show them the need and the meaning and the functions of a revolution ary party as the organizer and leader of the masses in their political struggle for emancipation.

Within these boundary lines, the International Workers Order, although really only a mutual benefit society, can develop tremendous class struggle activities with a revolutionizing effect on its membership. There is practically no limit to the degree of class consciousness which the I.W.O. can develop among its membership without, even for a moment, abandoning the premise that its members joined only for the purpose of securing aid in case of sickness, disability or death, and the premise that the membership can be activized only around this purpose. Such activities will not estrange the backward workers from the Order. On the contrary, they learn to understand that the individual problem of help in case of need, the individual problem that made them join the Order to secure be-nefits, is really a class problem and requires political action for a final solution. They become class conscious. The backward workers develop into advanced workers.

The International Workers Or der is a most important link in the chain of militant workers' organizations in America. It has a right to demand from all Communists energetic efforts to build it into broad mass organization. Its very immediate purpose makes it pos-sible to bring to it even the most backward workers. It is an organization that allows Commun leadership to drive its roots into the uncharted depths of the American working masses, where class consciousness has not yet penetrated. The building of the I.W. O. is therefore, one of the most important tasks of the mass work of the Communist Party,

Los Angeles, Cal. Editor of Daily Worker, Dear Comrade:

The strongest points against technocracy can probably be obtained by quoting the "technocrats" themselves, as comrade Dunne has Permit me to quote just one exponent of this brilliant scheme. John A. Gray is speaking.

"A large proportion of the capitalist class would accept the new system if they were assured that its superimposition upon all wealth and energy would give them plenty with security and plenty in perpetuity." Now the cat is out of the bag.

Technocracy is presumed to be some sort of planned economy, yet by no means does it stand for the elimination of parasitic classes, age old prejudices, exploitation and wage slavery. On the contrary, it is supposed to preserve the "sanctity" of our capitalistic institutions and even entrench them more securely against any possible onslaught of the proletariat.

Wishing you the best success in your campaign for funds, I am enclosing my contribution. Comradely yours,

-Jack Ginsberg.
