With the Readers

ONE of our earliest resolutions was to see that our readers are kept well informed. Not only a professional fight fan, but any reader will find the following books helpful.

The Contributors

HARRY T. WARD, head of the American League Against War and Fascism, president of the American Civil Liberties Union, has been active in various peace movements, but most recently in those of the Cio, the National Advisory Council on Education, the National Council on Religious Freedom, and the national secretary of the Manufacturers' Legal Defense Committee of the U.S. League for Industrial Peace. He is a member of the National Academy of Political and Social Science, the American Association of University Professors, and the American Academy and Institute of Arts and Sciences. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Federation of Peace, The League Against War, The New Social Order, and the Committee of Peace, Progress and Prosperity, etc., etc.

GEORGE SELDIS: we cannot meet enough of him and we have used many of his books. He has written so much that we would make him a member of the League to agree. He is a man who understands the social forces at work.

FIGHT, January 1
Are You Afraid to Face the Truth About Yourself?

THERE are occasions in the life of every man when he realizes how miserably he has fallen below what others had expected of him and what he had dreamed for himself. The "big" man faces the truth, and does something about it. The "little" man finds an excuse for his failure, and does nothing. What are YOUR answers when you ask yourself questions like these:

Am I not drifting along aimlessly?
What, after all, is my purpose in life?
Once I had real ambitions—are they unattainable?
Am I trusting too much to chance to bring me success?
What is my greatest weak point?

How 750,000 people have "found themselves" through Pelmanism

If you are in a "blind alley" of life trying to find your way out, you should find out what Pelmanism has done for over 750,000 people.

Pelmanism, teaches the unsung powers in you. It is a scientific system of mind training; it takes the well-established principles of psychology, simplifies them so that they can be understood by everyone, and arranges them into a really remarkable system, which is designed to increase and perfect certain mental faculties, which in most of us are absolutely dormant and neglected.

What It Has Done

Pelmanism originated in Great Britain. Members of the royal family, leading statesmen, distinguished military and naval officers, world-famous scientists, artists, actors, writers and publicists, leaders in industry and finance, people of the highest distinction in the Empires, statesmen, just as outstanding men in commerce, science, and politics. When the movement spread to America, the same group was represented—experts of industry and finance, men of affairs, jurists, writers, leading business men, professional people of all types—adopted Pelmanism as enthusiastically as wage-earners and college students. And, now, over 750,000 people in every part of the world, men and women of the highest types of intelligence have adopted and use Pelmanism to help them "find themselves" and bring out all their latent ability.

FREE—
"Scientific Mind-Training"
You are advised by some of the most eminent scientists in the world to get the story of Pelmanism.

The Kind of People Whose Lives Have Been Changed by Pelmanism

It is not true that these men need something else at all. In Pelmanism, they have discovered a method which has made them happier and more prosperous than they ever thought possible. Here are a few of the people who have been changed by Pelmanism:

General Sir Robert Borden, former Prime Minister of the Canadian Commonwealth.
Frank P. Walsh, President of the American Railway Association.
Major General Sir Frederick Robe, Director of the Royal Artillery of Great Britain.
Joseph J. Jenkins, author and editor.

When such leaders as H. G. Wells, Sir Robert Baden-Powell, Prince Charles of Sweden, Edgar Wallace, famous novelist, Frank P. Walsh, and hundreds of others equally famous have praised this simple method for increasing brain power over you offer to ignore its possibilities for VOL.

We will be glad to send you, without charge, a book, called "Scientific Mind-Training." This lists the complete story of Pelmanism, what it is and what it does. It is filled with stories—what of them almost unbelievable—of people whose lives have been completely made-over by Pelmanism.

To send for this book involves in no obligations; nor will you be harassed by salesmen. It will be left to you at your own discretion whether you do not need a book—Scientific Mind-Training. In most of the places you cannot get it—just ask for the book now, before you forget.

The Fascist International

What is the meaning of this alliance between Hitler, Mussolini and Japan? Are we in a new era of international conflict and military alliances? Has the end of the Cold War brought a new era of global politics?

By Harry F. Ward

Illustrated by M. Pass

The Fascist International

The Fascist International has been formed. Its objective is to extend its influence to other nations, to spread fascist ideology and to promote the expansion of fascist regimes.

The Fascist International is a group of nations that have formed an alliance to promote fascist ideology and political power. The alliance includes fascist regimes in Europe, Asia, and the Americas. The goal of the Fascist International is to spread fascist ideology and to promote the expansion of fascist regimes.

The Fascist International is a response to the weakening of the Soviet Union and the end of the Cold War. The disintegration of the Soviet Union has created a vacuum in the international system, and the Fascist International is seeking to fill this vacuum.

The Fascist International is a powerful and dangerous force, and we must take action to prevent it from spreading. We must work to prevent the spread of fascist ideology and to promote democratic values and principles.

The Fascist International is a threat to the stability and security of the world. We must work together to prevent the spread of fascist ideology and to promote democratic values and principles. We must work to prevent the spread of fascist ideology and to promote democratic values and principles.

The Golden Gate City
By Redfern Mason

A MAD city, my master, but its masters has methad in it.
That is what you would ask of San Francisco on the night of the opening of the great bridge which carries the Bay and reaches the city of Oakland.

As a matter of fact, the entire city of San Francisco has been paved with asphalt and the streets are now covered with snow. The rain which has been falling all day has made the streets very slippery, and the traffic has been very slow. The city is now in the midst of a cold spell, and the weather is very cold and damp.

The Golden Gate Bridge

The Golden Gate Bridge is a marvel of engineering. It is a steel suspension bridge, 4,200 feet long, with a central span of 1,280 feet. The bridge was completed in 1937 and is one of the world's most famous landmarks.

The bridge was designed by the American engineer Leroy Stinson, who also designed the Golden Gate Tunnel, which runs underneath the bridge. The bridge was built by the Public Works Administration, which was created by President Franklin D. Roosevelt to provide work for unemployed Americans during the Great Depression.

The bridge is a symbol of the city of San Francisco, which is known for its vibrant culture and its love of the outdoors. The bridge is a popular tourist destination, and it is a symbol of the city's spirit of innovation and progress.

A scene from "Wanderers," based on the book by Twain and Van Zandt

DARRYL FRANCIS ZANUCK has abandoned plans to film The Bridge of the River Kwai. Victor McGaughlin's film will be threatened with a boycott because of the inclusion, Fascist "Light House Troops." And the mighty Mann-Goldwyn-Mayer studios are in the process of bringing Robert Sherwood's "Mr. Skid." The entire movie industry is in a state of turmoil and anti-Fascist organizations. The story would be too potent, said Mr. Zanuck, and the producers, it seems, are not prepared to make the film.

The news was disclosed in the United States Press, the leading film trade publication. According to that, distinguished opinion, a strong pro-Fascist movement was in the air. A number of leading figures in the movie industry, including producers and directors, were on the verge of a strike.

The news was received with consternation and disbelief. "We have been on the verge of a strike," said Mr. Zanuck, "but we have been pounded into submission by the opposition." The government has spent $8,000,000 for each Empire broadcaster during the past three years, despite the lack of a market. At Christmas headquaters it has short wave equipment valued at $1,500,000 and consisting of six transmitters with 22 directed area capable of sending out parts of the earth at any hour of the day or night.

A great deal of good is done over the BBC short wave service due to the mass of program material involved, but the average quality is fairly high, and the propaganda is well disguised. It is interesting to note that the American service is still a mass of programs, while the Empire service is better established by now. American programs are broadcast to the United States by BBC, and are far superior to the popular exchange of programs between the two countries.

The great success of the BBC over the short wave service has been due to the success of the Empire service. The United States has a very strong broadcasting service in Latin America, and the BBC has been able to build up an audience in that area. The BBC uses a network of American radio stations to broadcast its programs, and is able to reach a much larger audience than the United States.

Germany today is organized as an economic unit that is bound upon the principle of self-sufficiency. This means that Germany is supposed to be capable of supplying all the needs of her people and to be able to produce all the goods that she needs. The government has introduced a system of food stamps and clothing, and is preparing for a war of scarcity. The German government is capable of obtaining all the goods that it needs, and is able to produce all the goods that it needs. This is why Germany is able to withstand the economic war that is being waged against her.

Hitler's War Cry

The Nazi dictator would like to annex the world. His idea of peace is an all German Europe

Illustrated by William Westley

By Johannes Steel

Generally speaking, the German policy was so conceived as to take advantage of the situation existing in 1936, which was built up during the past years, with the help of the Second World War. The Illustrious Enterprise, whose first step was the acquisition of the Empire of Austria, was able to become more powerful. Germany was able to strengthen its position in the international community, and was able to gain the respect of other countries. The German government, through the agency of the Ministry of Propaganda, supported Nazi and Fascist organizations in the international community, which eventually began to dominate the international influence upon the governments of other countries during the later half of 1936. The policy was a very delicate one. The real goal of Germany today, such as Dr. Schleicher, believes, is to spread the doctrine of 'internationalism' or to bring about the domination of all the powers gathered in the world by a policy of Fascist domination. This is not to say that the acquisition of colonies is not an important goal for Germany, but it is a secondary goal, and the main goal is the domination of all the powers gathered in the world by a policy of Fascist domination.

Our press has recently played up the new Nazi gay laws on criticism of the theatre, books and art. But do you know what has happened to the great German artists? What are they doing? Where are they?

By Elizabeth Noble

Criticism is the most basic tool of the critic to infuse the content of his work with a sense of outrage against the existing social order. It is this outraged spirit that gives rise to the great German artists. In a country where the press is controlled by the state, speech is stifled and creativity is suppressed, the role of the critic becomes even more important.

Jude Staeck, the famous German artist, was arrested for his critical writings and is now in a concentration camp. His works, however, continue to inspire a generation of young artists who are determined to continue his legacy.

South America - Two conferences to discuss ways and means to keep peace in the world... The writer here reports on what she witnessed at both conferences and on the streets of Buenos Aires... "Keep your Democracy," the people said, "fight for it. That is the way to peace.

By Dorothy Moorish

Illustrated by Harrison Moore

The Presiding Officer of the South American Conference was President Juarez of Mexico. The delegates were from Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, and Uruguay. The President opened the conference with a speech in which he emphasized the importance of peace and the need for cooperation among the nations of South America. He called for a united front against any external threat and urged the delegates to work towards a more stable and prosperous region.

The first session of the conference was devoted to the discussion of economic and social issues. The delegates debated the need for cooperation in the areas of trade, finance, and education. They also discussed the importance of protecting the environment and ensuring the welfare of the people. The president of the conference, Mr. Juarez, emphasized the need for the member countries to work together to achieve these goals.

The second session of the conference dealt with political issues. The delegates discussed the need for a strong and stable government and the importance of democracy. They also debated the role of international organizations in promoting peace and stability. The president of the conference, Mr. Juarez, reminded the delegates of the importance of respecting the sovereignty of each country and the need for peaceful resolution of disputes.

In the final session of the conference, the delegation of the United States was represented by Mr. Jackson, the ambassador to Argentina. He spoke about the importance of maintaining peace and stability in the region and the need for cooperation with other nations. The president of the conference, Mr. Juarez, thanked the delegates for their participation and expressed hope for a more peaceful and prosperous future for South America.

After the conference, the delegates returned to their respective countries to implement the decisions made. They worked towards economic and social development, strengthening democratic institutions, and promoting peace and stability in the region.

Building the League

A United Movement in Common Resistance to War and Fascism

By Paul Reid

NEW YORK—The Jones City League held a rally last week for war and Fascism, under the leadership of the Socialists. The rally was held in Jones City and was attended by over 2,000 people. The rally was organized by the Socialists and was attended by many different groups, including the Communist Party, the American Labor Party, and the Anti-Fascist League. The rally was a success and was attended by many people who were opposed to Fascism and war. "But all the people... That's the best way to have anybody's heart set on these three letters against. What they get known is that even if the little things don't go right sometimes, they'll keep you up in the air. The glitter gets up in anyway. I turn them over and see the kind of trouble and in the end it's the same now. In the end the world's peoples get won, cause it's the only right there is. But it isn't easy. They's some take a little more than they get from the world. But they stick around here, and they stick together.

In recent years, youth has become a very popular subject. Youth movements, sexual activities while other activities are on the rise. However, the majority of our population is not paying due attention to these changes. The youth movement is something new and exciting. The youth are no longer content with what they have been given. They want more and they want it now. As a result, the parents are left to wonder what they can do to help their children grow into responsible adults.

In the future, we can expect to see a greater emphasis on education and training programs for young people. The focus will be on preparing them for the workforce and teaching them the skills they will need to succeed in life. The government will continue to support programs that promote these goals. In addition, there will be increased efforts to improve the quality of education at all levels.

The representation of the Youth Front at the meeting was excellent. The Youth Front is an organization that is dedicated to promoting the interests of young people. It is a movement that seeks to empower youth and to give them a voice in determining the future of their nation.

The meeting was well attended, with hundreds of young people in attendance. The discussions were lively and engaging, and there was a strong sense of commitment to the cause. The group decided to organize a series of workshops and events to promote awareness and understanding of the issues affecting young people.

NEW YORK youth is the answer. To do this, we need to bring together the smaller cities and towns who share the same goal. This goal must be completed by September 15th, and no later than March 15th. The group should come together to work on this project and to share their ideas and strategies.

In new York youth, there has been a focus on the development of a strong national youth movement. The group has been working to build a strong network of youth organizations across the country. They have been meeting regularly to discuss strategies and to share resources.

In conclusion, the youth movement is a force to be reckoned with. They are young, energetic, and committed to making a difference. They are the future of our country, and we must support them in their efforts.

The Reaction Speaks

Hitler, who was zealously opposed to the spread of communism and socialism, is often depicted as a warmonger and a master of propaganda. Yet, as the essay suggests, his actions were driven by a desire to preserve German culture and prevent the spread of communism.

"Folk Soul" by Dorn

Dorn, who was a celebrated poet and journalist, wrote extensively on the theme of the "folk soul," or the essence of the German people. He believed that the folk soul was threatened by the spread of communism and that it was important to preserve it.

The Call to Action

The essay concludes with a call to action, urging readers to stand against the forces of communism and to work to preserve German culture. The essay is a testament to the enduring influence of National Socialism and the legacy of its leaders.

The.erb" is a satirical novel written by Aric Dorn, who was a member of the Nazi Party. The novel was written in 1938 and was published in 1939. It is a critique of the Nazi regime and its policies, and it is often cited as an example of the propaganda used by the Nazi Party to justify its actions.

The novel is divided into two parts. The first part is a series of satirical essays on the Nazi regime, and the second part is a longer, more sustained critique of the Nazi Party and its policies. The novel is known for its imaginative and satirical depiction of the Nazi regime and its leaders.

The novel was banned in Nazi Germany and was not published until after the war. It was first published in the United States in 1945, and it was subsequently translated into several languages. It has been praised for its wit and its biting criticism of the Nazi regime.
