CIO Leaders Leave Mediation Board

Morgan-Inspired Decision in Captive Mine Dispute Is Last Straw—All CIO Men Pull Out of Board—Is Blow to Roosevelt Plans to Halt Labor

Denouncing the pre-Steel Strike Demand of the Nation- al Labor Defense Board in the captive mine strike as an action that has "made it impossible for those who wish to retain any confidence in the Board to future actions," all CIO men of the Board resigned this week.

The seven CIO leaders who have resigned are CIO President John L. Lewis, CIO Secretary-Treasurer Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the United Miners Workers; John Bagby, CIO director; Clinton T. Devery, a general director of the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee; James Casey, CIO secret- ary, Hugh H. L. Dunbar, the regional director in New England, and Shadrack Ramsey, president of the United Steel Workers of America.

The resignations of the labor leaders were a result of a secret meeting of the boilermakers, tin and copper workers and the officials of the United Mine Workers, who have announced their intention of joining the strike of West Virginia miners.

That the decision of the CIO leadership is to leave the Mediation Board would affect the settlement of the steel strike, says President J. R. Thompson of the United Steel Workers of America, "is a matter of national importance to labor and to the country." The statement was made Monday night during a meeting of the officers of the United Steel Workers of America.

FBI Helped Tobin Organize “Committee of 99”

FBI Joined Tobin Agents Last Spring to Smash Union—

Government Offered To Take Care of Karl Skoglund

The FBI has admitted that Daniel J. Tobin, an agent of the government, was a member of the so-called "Committee of 99," a group of CIO leaders who were involved in the anti-union activities of the early 1940s.

FAMOUS AMERICAN LABORIALS
100 IWW Militants Victims of War-time Persecution in 1917

Jury Took Only One Hour to Decide Fate of 100 - Judge Handled Out Sentences Amounting to 2,081 Years

The great industrial trial now taking place in Minneapolis has reawakened the interest of many trade unionists in labor trials throughout the country. The INDUSTRIAL ORGANIZER has a recent issue devoted to the story of the trial of 100 IWW leaders and members who were convicted at St. Paul in 1917.

The famous Chicago trial of one hundred members of the Industrial Workers of the World was opened on April 1, 1917, before Judge Kenyon Mountain. The defendants, charged with conspiracy to second the activities of the IWW, were convicted by the jury in only one hour.

Armistice Day

Baldwin Denounces Witch Hunt

On the National Picket Line

Merril Rahn

Yesterday a new and more effective method of picketing was introduced on the picket line at Chicago. The picketing was done by Negro women, mostly seamstresses, who presented themselves at the various picketing points with a baby in a carriage. They also assembled in front of the two Frankfurter stores and held a banner with the slogan "Witch Hunt." The picketing was peaceful and orderly, and the women were well received by the public.

The railroad controversy, which has been one of the most serious in years, has reached a new phase. The railroad workers have threatened a strike and the situation is tense. The government is under pressure to negotiate a settlement.

FLASHES from the Courtroom

Highlights from the Minneapolis "Sedition" Trial

Two women of the Minnesotta Woman's League of Congress were arrested yesterday for their activities in the labor movement. They are charged with inciting labor disturbances and violating the Sedition Act.

As the government's case against them unfolds, it is clear that the charges are based on their opposition to the war and their support for workers' rights.

Nailing a Tobin Lie

Government witnesses, Mr. Tom Williams, wife of a famous 544-CIO organizer who was in opposition to the defendants in the 544-CIO case, testified that she was in Mexico at the time of the trial. The government also presented evidence that there was no evidence of any connection between the 544-CIO and the defendants.

Further discrediting of the defense is the disclosure in the records of the 544-CIO that the defense has been active in the labor movement for many years. The defense has been supported by the local unions and has been active in the labor movement for many years.

The papers of information is only one of a long series of disclosures about the 544-CIO. The 544-CIO has been accused of all sorts of activities, but it is clear that the defense has been active in the labor movement and has supported labor and workers' rights.
