544-CIO Statement On Stassen Ruling To Deny Elections

Democracy is the right to talk, and to send and to receive on the basis of truth. But democracy is a right that cannot be insulated from other democratic rights. The right to organize is a right that cannot be insulated from other democratic rights.

Decline of the AFL and Rise of the CIO

The Conflict Between Modern Industrial Unionism and 19th Century Craft Unionism Is Fought Out at the AFL Conventions in 1934 and 1935—Craft Unionism Can't Organize Basic Industries, Can't Even Organize Crafts—55-Year Record of AFL Is One of Failure

Dept. of Justice Sponsors Talk by Dictator Tobin

Listeners Smile When Tobin Says He Believes In Justice

Tobin, F. D., Director of Justice and Dictator Des Torin of the AFL-Treasures, continued to speak at a news conference yesterday when the Department sponsored a radio broadcast by Tobin, wherein, the latter, believe it or not, did credit to the administration's program for labor reform.

"We will be glad to have the administration's help in enforcing the law," Tobin told his listeners.

"We believe in the program the administration has submitted to Congress. We believe in the program that will help to make this country a better place to live in.

The AFL's convention opened yesterday with a record attendance of 3,000 delegates from across the country. Tobin was one of the speakers.

Civil Liberties Union Active in Legal Defense Of People's Liberties

As several reports have noted for several months, the American Civil Liberties Union, which, in addition to labor, has a number of local Chapters and the National Council of the Civil Liberties Union, has been a leader in the program for labor reform. The organization has been active in the defense of political rights, in support of political rights, and in defense of political rights.

The organization's success in keeping the NLRB and its personnel at the forefront of the program for labor reform has been noted by the press.

Stassen and Tobin

Soon after Dictator Tobin openly declared war on the Minnesota AFL in the interest of the June 20th membership meeting at which the men voted to leave the AFL, Stassen and Tobin were confronting each other by phone.

When Tobin, in his official capacity, made the announcement of leadership in the Minneapolis afl at the June 20th meeting, Stassen immediately made a ruling public Friday. Just as unqualifiedly, the pair of creating "Stassenism" could give way to another way of their own directing in mining districts in the state of Tobin and Stassen, we feel the possibility that both are at least valuable in the Minnesota AFL capital.

For all practical purposes, Tobin and Stassen mean the possibilities that both are at least valuable in the Minnesota AFL capital.
