Drivers, Who Know Him Best, Asked to Support His Appeal

Local 544 In New Quarters

The intake of 10 new quarters adds to the magnificent reception room of the 544 CIO headquarters located at 539 N. Michigan Avenue. The new quarters provide more space and comfort for the members and staff of Local 544.

Many Central Labor Bodees Support 18

The list of central labor bodies that support the 18th amendment includes the following: the American Federation of Labor, the Congress of Industrial Organizations, the United Mine Workers, the United Automobile Workers, the Painters and Allied Trades, the Retail Clerks, the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, the Bakery Workers, the Textile Workers, the Loyal Order of Moose, the Knights of Columbus, and the American Legion.

Local 544-CIO Contract $1-a-Day Better than Tobin AFL Contract

This is from the 544-CIO to the members: the contract with the 544-CIO is better than the contract offered by Tobin's AFL. The contract provides for hourly wages of $1 for the driver, $1.50 for the helper, and $2 for the warehouseman. This is a significant improvement over the previous contract.

Drivers for Appeal in Sedition Case

The record of the 544-CIO in the sedan case is one of dedication to the defense of our comrades. The union has consistently stood up for the rights of its members and, in this case, has taken on the challenge of defending one of its own.

An Innocent Union Leader Must Not Be Sacrificed to Tobin's Despotism; Kelly's Only 'Crime' Is His Belief in Honest Democratic Unionism

Under the guise of fighting for a better America, the bosses and their henchmen are seeking to destroy the very foundation of our working class movement. The trial of Judge Albert W. Soler, the district court judge in the sedan case, is a gross injustice and a cruel attack on the rights of the working class. The bosses must be stopped in their tracks. We must stand up for justice and fight for the rights of our comrades.

N. Y. Railroad Council Votes Support to CIO Defendants

Support for the 18 leaders and workers of the 544-CIO by the N. Y. Railroad Council is a significant step in the fight against the bosses. The council has voted to support the defendants and their struggle for justice.

V. R. Dunne Touring West Coast

V. R. Dunne is making a tour of the West Coast to speak on the issues facing the working class and to support the struggle against the bosses. His speeches are a call to action for all workers to stand up and fight for their rights.

Recent Developments In Fight for Unionism

The last time Local 84-B-C addressed the Minneapolis men through a union meeting, the Minneapolis Organizer was on February 9th, following the meeting at the Labor Relations Board election at the Waterman-Waterbury plant. By bringing leaders up to date on the struggle for democratic industrial unionism, we briefly list developments that have occurred:

1. In December, the new St. Louis Newspaper Labor Relations Board upheld the finding of the UAW that the Waterman-Waterbury plant was an unfair labor practice.

2. In February, the 84-B-C held a union meeting at the Waterman-Waterbury plant.

3. The 84-B-C, under the leadership of its executive board, composed of leaders from various local unions, has been organizing efforts in the field.

In closing, the question of the need for a stronger union is a critical one. A strong union is essential for the success of any movement for industrial democracy.

Democracy Is the Issue

Does the membership of Local 544 have the right, by a democratic majority vote, to decide what international union it shall be affiliated with? We submit that this is a fundamental question which must be answered if there is to be a strong union. The answer is in the affirmative. The membership of Local 544 has the right, by a democratic majority vote, to decide what international union it shall be affiliated with.

That was not a new idea in the "emancipation" era. It was one of the principles of the labor movement that members of local unions shall be free to decide for themselves what international union they shall belong to. This principle was enshrined in the constitution of the American Federation of Labor and has been accepted by all the major labor unions of the country.

The answer to the question of whether democracy is the issue is a "yes." We submit that this is a fundamental question which must be answered if there is to be a strong union. The answer is in the affirmative.

Tobin, Breakthrough

If you are a member of Tobin's AFL-Stewardship, and you want this issue of The INDUSTRIAL ORGANIZER to be of value to you, read on. This issue is designed to provide you with the information you need to become an effective and influential steward.

"The general postulates the attention of all local stewardship committees of the AFL to the subject..." (The INDUSTRIAL ORGANIZER, May 1933)

Tobin himself has written that the purpose of the AFL is to provide the means for the advancement of the interests of the working class. He has said that the AFL is "the means by which the working class can control its own destiny." (The INDUSTRIAL ORGANIZER, May 1933)

The AFL is not perfect, but it is the only vehicle available to American workers for the protection of their rights. The AFL is the only way in which American workers can fight for their rights. The AFL is the only way in which American workers can fight for their rights.
