WAGES AND PRICES

BY JAMES CORKIN

The Fellow-Workers Bear and Share the Cost of the Wage-Cutting Process

The result of capitalism is a struggle among the workers for higher wages. When the wage-cutting process is complete, the workers are left with nothing to live on but the bare necessities of life. This is the result of the capitalist system of production and distribution. The workers are compelled to accept lower wages in order to keep their jobs. When the wage-cutting process is complete, the workers are compelled to accept lower wages in order to keep their jobs. This is the result of the capitalist system of production and distribution. The workers are compelled to accept lower wages in order to keep their jobs. When the wage-cutting process is complete, the workers are compelled to accept lower wages in order to keep their jobs. This is the result of the capitalist system of production and distribution. The workers are compelled to accept lower wages in order to keep their jobs.

ADDRESS TO LONGSHOREMEN

Fellow-Workers. We want to discuss with you the importance of the work of the Union. The Union is the only organization that can protect the interests of the workers. It is the only organization that can provide a means for the workers to resist the wage-cutting process. It is the only organization that can provide a means for the workers to resist the wage-cutting process. It is the only organization that can provide a means for the workers to resist the wage-cutting process. It is the only organization that can provide a means for the workers to resist the wage-cutting process.

TOLNAP MINERS OUT FOR UNIONISM

The following resolution from the Tonapah Miners' Union was adopted by delegates from the Tonapah Miners' Union:

The Tonapah Miners' Union, on motion of F. C. M., has been incorporated in the Tonapah Miners' Union under the laws of the State of Nevada, and its objects are the protection of the miners and the promotion of the general welfare of the miners. The union is composed of all mining employers and employees in the Tonapah mining district. The union is composed of all mining employers and employees in the Tonapah mining district. The union is composed of all mining employers and employees in the Tonapah mining district. The union is composed of all mining employers and employees in the Tonapah mining district.
AS TO THIS, OUR LABEL

There is only occasionally at General Headquarters something which the members may read and hear of a strike which results in it that is of real interest to the working men of the country. There is always a certain amount of interest in the strike of the members of the great labor movement that is going on. I am glad to say that there is not only steady and sure for more but is also better for the men and the women who are engaged in this great labor movement, and that is in the land of the free and the home of the brave.

If we want to make the best of our work to any advantage the success of the labor movement, it is necessary to understand what the rights of the working class are. It is necessary to understand how the working class can protect itself. It is necessary to understand how the working class can be made to work under proper conditions.

We must understand that the strike is not only a struggle for wages. It is a struggle for the rights of the working class. It is a struggle for the rights of all the working class. It is a struggle for the rights of every man and woman who works for a living.

The strike is not only a struggle for wages. It is a struggle for the rights of the working class. It is a struggle for the rights of all the working class. It is a struggle for the rights of every man and woman who works for a living.

The strike is not only a struggle for wages. It is a struggle for the rights of the working class. It is a struggle for the rights of all the working class. It is a struggle for the rights of every man and woman who works for a living.

The strike is not only a struggle for wages. It is a struggle for the rights of the working class. It is a struggle for the rights of all the working class. It is a struggle for the rights of every man and woman who works for a living.

The strike is not only a struggle for wages. It is a struggle for the rights of the working class. It is a struggle for the rights of all the working class. It is a struggle for the rights of every man and woman who works for a living.

The strike is not only a struggle for wages. It is a struggle for the rights of the working class. It is a struggle for the rights of all the working class. It is a struggle for the rights of every man and woman who works for a living.
Competition and Exploitation in the Railway Service

BY W. J. PIMPERTON

(This Article is Copyrighted by the Author)

(unknownd)

The Baptists of Indianapolis, who have been noted for their vigorous advocacy of the principles of the American labor movement, have issued a weekly bulletin, the Industrial Union Bulletin, which is devoted to the dissemination of information concerning the working conditions of the railway service. The bulletin is published by the Union of American Railway Employees, and is issued on the first day of each month. The union has been active in organizing railroad employees, and the bulletin serves as a means of informing the members of the union of the various issues affecting their working conditions.

In the first issue of the bulletin, the following statement was made:

"The purpose of the Industrial Union Bulletin is to bring to the attention of the railway employees the various issues that affect their working conditions. The bulletin will be devoted to the dissemination of information concerning the working conditions of the railway service, and will be published on the first day of each month. The union has been active in organizing railroad employees, and the bulletin serves as a means of informing the members of the union of the various issues affecting their working conditions."

The bulletin covers a wide range of topics, including labor disputes, working conditions, and the impact of technology on the railway industry. The union has been active in organizing railroad employees, and the bulletin serves as a means of informing the members of the union of the various issues affecting their working conditions.

In the first issue of the bulletin, the following statement was made:

"The purpose of the Industrial Union Bulletin is to bring to the attention of the railway employees the various issues that affect their working conditions. The bulletin will be devoted to the dissemination of information concerning the working conditions of the railway service, and will be published on the first day of each month. The union has been active in organizing railroad employees, and the bulletin serves as a means of informing the members of the union of the various issues affecting their working conditions."

The bulletin covers a wide range of topics, including labor disputes, working conditions, and the impact of technology on the railway industry. The union has been active in organizing railroad employees, and the bulletin serves as a means of informing the members of the union of the various issues affecting their working conditions.