THE INJUNCTION—EVIL—ITS CURE

The use of the injunction in labor matters is upon the increase today. It is no longer the negro who is the object of the injunctive order but the white worker. The effect of the injunction has been felt far and wide, in all parts of the country. It requires no imagination to say that the influence of the injunctive order upon the laboring man is for the worse.

In this instance the considerate and thoughtless employer considers the servile laborer as an unhappy, garrulous, indolent and dirty brute, and with a scowl on his face he orders his workmen to work at the end of his long nose. The result is that the laboring man is forced to work at the end of his long nose, and the result is that the laboring man is forced to work at the end of his long nose.

In conclusion, therefore, let me say that the injunction is a great evil, and it should be abrogated.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

To all members of the Executive Board of the National Labor Union, and all other officers of the same:

The Annual Meeting of the National Labor Union will be held on the 1st day of July, 1865, in the Town Hall, New York City.

The officers of the Union will be present and all members of the same are requested to attend.

The meeting will be held at the usual place of meeting, and all members of the same are requested to be present.

The following officers will preside:

President: John Green.

Secretary: James Green.

Treasurer: William Green.

The meeting will be opened at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Upon the adjournment, the following officers will be elected:

President: John Green.

Secretary: James Green.

Treasurer: William Green.

The meeting will be adjourned at 12 o'clock in the afternoon.

The following officers will be elected:

President: John Green.

Secretary: James Green.

Treasurer: William Green.
Look about again! All stores where these things can be gotten are filled with them at the breaking point. The owners would gladly sell them.

Are you short of wholesome and nourishing food, are you dreading about hungry, etc.? Ask your grocer, when he has to lock his doors because he has no more stock. He will have no more stock, for he needs what you need—food!

Since it is possible in these days to import fresh meat from Argentina and raisins and sugar from India, and in other ways to supply the constant crises: "Father, bread, is he even dry?"—where is the need for these?

Shady deals—go on, don’t give us that fools’ story—there is plenty of cliques, and unjust and overly generous action. You are now going to the scene of the crime; you are now going to the scene of the set-up; you are now going to the scene of the issue.

Well, we’re glad that all the bad ones are calling for more leisure time; as to enjoy a little more, to spend your money in features of art, of science, of beauty, and to have a vacation once in a while from the long toil in the hard work of labor for wages! So much for the short of leisure.

Well, the vacation army numbers millions now, on the high ways, byways, country roads, in the dark corners of the alleys, on the plains and along the railroad tracks. There you find them, in all of these, and through all the leisure time they were longing for is given them, they are then dissatisfied with the labor which scattered and fast they had to do for their work and earning skill—what an inordinate indeed.

Isn’t there another, isn’t there food, isn’t there clothing, isn’t there leisure and free or all you want at your disposal? An admission that could not make more explanation than they are.

Can you have all the happiness and all pleasures that make life really worthwhile? Can you have all the freedom and relaxation that you desire?

Just as the political freedom of a people has its foundation in soil, labor, and national strength, so the economic freedom depends on and is possible only through ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE.

No real political freedom is possible for the workers without economic independence. This is the key to the solution of the problem of the workers in the world. Only a political freedom can be gained, if the workers are free to support their political movements, and if they are able to organize and to act as a whole, as a mass, as a nation, as a people.

And so the political freedom of a people has its foundation in soil, labor, and national strength, so the economic freedom depends on and is possible only through ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE.

No real political freedom is possible for the workers without economic independence. This is the key to the solution of the problem of the workers in the world. Only a political freedom can be gained, if the workers are free to support their political movements, and if they are able to organize and to act as a whole, as a mass, as a nation, as a people.

And so the political freedom of a people has its foundation in soil, labor, and national strength, so the economic freedom depends on and is possible only through ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE.

No real political freedom is possible for the workers without economic independence. This is the key to the solution of the problem of the workers in the world. Only a political freedom can be gained, if the workers are free to support their political movements, and if they are able to organize and to act as a whole, as a mass, as a nation, as a people.
THE MINISTRY OF THE INDUSTRIAL UNION

A Meeting in the Victoria Room of the Ministry of the Industrial Union was held in Chicago to discuss the current state of the labor movement and the need for unity among trade unions. The meeting was attended by representatives from various unions, including the American Federation of Labor and the Knights of Labor. The discussion centered around the need for stronger collective bargaining and the importance of organizing new workers into unions. The meeting concluded with a call for action to improve working conditions and fight for better wages and benefits.

THE AFTERMATH

The meeting in the Victoria Room ended on a high note, with plans for further organizing drives and collective bargaining efforts. The attendees expressed optimism about the future of the labor movement and the potential for greater prosperity and social justice. The mood was one of determination and resolve, with a strong sense of camaraderie among the delegates.

SATURDAY, AUG. 22, 1908

INDUSTRIAL UNION BULLETIN

THE MINISTRY OF THE INDUSTRIAL UNION

A Meeting in the Victoria Room of the Ministry of the Industrial Union was held in Chicago to discuss the current state of the labor movement and the need for unity among trade unions. The meeting was attended by representatives from various unions, including the American Federation of Labor and the Knights of Labor. The discussion centered around the need for stronger collective bargaining and the importance of organizing new workers into unions. The meeting concluded with a call for action to improve working conditions and fight for better wages and benefits.

THE AFTERMATH

The meeting in the Victoria Room ended on a high note, with plans for further organizing drives and collective bargaining efforts. The attendees expressed optimism about the future of the labor movement and the potential for greater prosperity and social justice. The mood was one of determination and resolve, with a strong sense of camaraderie among the delegates.

SATURDAY, AUG. 22, 1908

INDUSTRIAL UNION BULLETIN

THE MINISTRY OF THE INDUSTRIAL UNION

A Meeting in the Victoria Room of the Ministry of the Industrial Union was held in Chicago to discuss the current state of the labor movement and the need for unity among trade unions. The meeting was attended by representatives from various unions, including the American Federation of Labor and the Knights of Labor. The discussion centered around the need for stronger collective bargaining and the importance of organizing new workers into unions. The meeting concluded with a call for action to improve working conditions and fight for better wages and benefits.

THE AFTERMATH

The meeting in the Victoria Room ended on a high note, with plans for further organizing drives and collective bargaining efforts. The attendees expressed optimism about the future of the labor movement and the potential for greater prosperity and social justice. The mood was one of determination and resolve, with a strong sense of camaraderie among the delegates.

SATURDAY, AUG. 22, 1908

INDUSTRIAL UNION BULLETIN

THE MINISTRY OF THE INDUSTRIAL UNION

A Meeting in the Victoria Room of the Ministry of the Industrial Union was held in Chicago to discuss the current state of the labor movement and the need for unity among trade unions. The meeting was attended by representatives from various unions, including the American Federation of Labor and the Knights of Labor. The discussion centered around the need for stronger collective bargaining and the importance of organizing new workers into unions. The meeting concluded with a call for action to improve working conditions and fight for better wages and benefits.

THE AFTERMATH

The meeting in the Victoria Room ended on a high note, with plans for further organizing drives and collective bargaining efforts. The attendees expressed optimism about the future of the labor movement and the potential for greater prosperity and social justice. The mood was one of determination and resolve, with a strong sense of camaraderie among the delegates.

SATURDAY, AUG. 22, 1908

INDUSTRIAL UNION BULLETIN

THE MINISTRY OF THE INDUSTRIAL UNION

A Meeting in the Victoria Room of the Ministry of the Industrial Union was held in Chicago to discuss the current state of the labor movement and the need for unity among trade unions. The meeting was attended by representatives from various unions, including the American Federation of Labor and the Knights of Labor. The discussion centered around the need for stronger collective bargaining and the importance of organizing new workers into unions. The meeting concluded with a call for action to improve working conditions and fight for better wages and benefits.

THE AFTERMATH

The meeting in the Victoria Room ended on a high note, with plans for further organizing drives and collective bargaining efforts. The attendees expressed optimism about the future of the labor movement and the potential for greater prosperity and social justice. The mood was one of determination and resolve, with a strong sense of camaraderie among the delegates.

SATURDAY, AUG. 22, 1908

INDUSTRIAL UNION BULLETIN

THE MINISTRY OF THE INDUSTRIAL UNION

A Meeting in the Victoria Room of the Ministry of the Industrial Union was held in Chicago to discuss the current state of the labor movement and the need for unity among trade unions. The meeting was attended by representatives from various unions, including the American Federation of Labor and the Knights of Labor. The discussion centered around the need for stronger collective bargaining and the importance of organizing new workers into unions. The meeting concluded with a call for action to improve working conditions and fight for better wages and benefits.

THE AFTERMATH

The meeting in the Victoria Room ended on a high note, with plans for further organizing drives and collective bargaining efforts. The attendees expressed optimism about the future of the labor movement and the potential for greater prosperity and social justice. The mood was one of determination and resolve, with a strong sense of camaraderie among the delegates.

SATURDAY, AUG. 22, 1908

INDUSTRIAL UNION BULLETIN

THE MINISTRY OF THE INDUSTRIAL UNION

A Meeting in the Victoria Room of the Ministry of the Industrial Union was held in Chicago to discuss the current state of the labor movement and the need for unity among trade unions. The meeting was attended by representatives from various unions, including the American Federation of Labor and the Knights of Labor. The discussion centered around the need for stronger collective bargaining and the importance of organizing new workers into unions. The meeting concluded with a call for action to improve working conditions and fight for better wages and benefits.

THE AFTERMATH

The meeting in the Victoria Room ended on a high note, with plans for further organizing drives and collective bargaining efforts. The attendees expressed optimism about the future of the labor movement and the potential for greater prosperity and social justice. The mood was one of determination and resolve, with a strong sense of camaraderie among the delegates.

SATURDAY, AUG. 22, 1908

INDUSTRIAL UNION BULLETIN

THE MINISTRY OF THE INDUSTRIAL UNION

A Meeting in the Victoria Room of the Ministry of the Industrial Union was held in Chicago to discuss the current state of the labor movement and the need for unity among trade unions. The meeting was attended by representatives from various unions, including the American Federation of Labor and the Knights of Labor. The discussion centered around the need for stronger collective bargaining and the importance of organizing new workers into unions. The meeting concluded with a call for action to improve working conditions and fight for better wages and benefits.

THE AFTERMATH

The meeting in the Victoria Room ended on a high note, with plans for further organizing drives and collective bargaining efforts. The attendees expressed optimism about the future of the labor movement and the potential for greater prosperity and social justice. The mood was one of determination and resolve, with a strong sense of camaraderie among the delegates.

SATURDAY, AUG. 22, 1908

INDUSTRIAL UNION BULLETIN

THE MINISTRY OF THE INDUSTRIAL UNION

A Meeting in the Victoria Room of the Ministry of the Industrial Union was held in Chicago to discuss the current state of the labor movement and the need for unity among trade unions. The meeting was attended by representatives from various unions, including the American Federation of Labor and the Knights of Labor. The discussion centered around the need for stronger collective bargaining and the importance of organizing new workers into unions. The meeting concluded with a call for action to improve working conditions and fight for better wages and benefits.

THE AFTERMATH

The meeting in the Victoria Room ended on a high note, with plans for further organizing drives and collective bargaining efforts. The attendees expressed optimism about the future of the labor movement and the potential for greater prosperity and social justice. The mood was one of determination and resolve, with a strong sense of camaraderie among the delegates.

SATURDAY, AUG. 22, 1908

INDUSTRIAL UNION BULLETIN

THE MINISTRY OF THE INDUSTRIAL UNION

A Meeting in the Victoria Room of the Ministry of the Industrial Union was held in Chicago to discuss the current state of the labor movement and the need for unity among trade unions. The meeting was attended by representatives from various unions, including the American Federation of Labor and the Knights of Labor. The discussion centered around the need for stronger collective bargaining and the importance of organizing new workers into unions. The meeting concluded with a call for action to improve working conditions and fight for better wages and benefits.

THE AFTERMATH

The meeting in the Victoria Room ended on a high note, with plans for further organizing drives and collective bargaining efforts. The attendees expressed optimism about the future of the labor movement and the potential for greater prosperity and social justice. The mood was one of determination and resolve, with a strong sense of camaraderie among the delegates.

SATURDAY, AUG. 22, 1908

INDUSTRIAL UNION BULLETIN

THE MINISTRY OF THE INDUSTRIAL UNION

A Meeting in the Victoria Room of the Ministry of the Industrial Union was held in Chicago to discuss the current state of the labor movement and the need for unity among trade unions. The meeting was attended by representatives from various unions, including the American Federation of Labor and the Knights of Labor. The discussion centered around the need for stronger collective bargaining and the importance of organizing new workers into unions. The meeting concluded with a call for action to improve working conditions and fight for better wages and benefits.

THE AFTERMATH

The meeting in the Victoria Room ended on a high note, with plans for further organizing drives and collective bargaining efforts. The attendees expressed optimism about the future of the labor movement and the potential for greater prosperity and social justice. The mood was one of determination and resolve, with a strong sense of camaraderie among the delegates.

SATURDAY, AUG. 22, 1908

INDUSTRIAL UNION BULLETIN

THE MINISTRY OF THE INDUSTRIAL UNION

A Meeting in the Victoria Room of the Ministry of the Industrial Union was held in Chicago to discuss the current state of the labor movement and the need for unity among trade unions. The meeting was attended by representatives from various unions, including the American Federation of Labor and the Knights of Labor. The discussion centered around the need for stronger collective bargaining and the importance of organizing new workers into unions. The meeting concluded with a call for action to improve working conditions and fight for better wages and benefits.

THE AFTERMATH

The meeting in the Victoria Room ended on a high note, with plans for further organizing drives and collective bargaining efforts. The attendees expressed optimism about the future of the labor movement and the potential for greater prosperity and social justice. The mood was one of determination and resolve, with a strong sense of camaraderie among the delegates.

SATURDAY, AUG. 22, 1908

INDUSTRIAL UNION BULLETIN

THE MINISTRY OF THE INDUSTRIAL UNION

A Meeting in the Victoria Room of the Ministry of the Industrial Union was held in Chicago to discuss the current state of the labor movement and the need for unity among trade unions. The meeting was attended by representatives from various unions, including the American Federation of Labor and the Knights of Labor. The discussion centered around the need for stronger collective bargaining and the importance of organizing new workers into unions. The meeting concluded with a call for action to improve working conditions and fight for better wages and benefits.

THE AFTERMATH

The meeting in the Victoria Room ended on a high note, with plans for further organizing drives and collective bargaining efforts. The attendees expressed optimism about the future of the labor movement and the potential for greater prosperity and social justice. The mood was one of determination and resolve, with a strong sense of camaraderie among the delegates.

SATURDAY, AUG. 22, 1908

INDUSTRIAL UNION BULLETIN

THE MINISTRY OF THE INDUSTRIAL UNION

A Meeting in the Victoria Room of the Ministry of the Industrial Union was held in Chicago to discuss the current state of the labor movement and the need for unity among trade unions. The meeting was attended by representatives from various unions, including the American Federation of Labor and the Knights of Labor. The discussion centered around the need for stronger collective bargaining and the importance of organizing new workers into unions. The meeting concluded with a call for action to improve working conditions and fight for better wages and benefits.

THE AFTERMATH

The meeting in the Victoria Room ended on a high note, with plans for further organizing drives and collective bargaining efforts. The attendees expressed optimism about the future of the labor movement and the potential for greater prosperity and social justice. The mood was one of determination and resolve, with a strong sense of camaraderie among the delegates.
PREAMBLE OF THE I.W.W.

The working class and the employing class have nothing in common. There can be no peace so long as hunger and want remain the lot of the masses. The poor have nothing to lose but their chains. They have a world to win. WORK OR ELSE!

The working class and the employing class have nothing in common. There can be no peace so long as hunger and want remain the lot of the masses. The poor have nothing to lose but their chains. They have a world to win. WORK OR ELSE!

The working class and the employing class have nothing in common. There can be no peace so long as hunger and want remain the lot of the masses. The poor have nothing to lose but their chains. They have a world to win. WORK OR ELSE!

The working class and the employing class have nothing in common. There can be no peace so long as hunger and want remain the lot of the masses. The poor have nothing to lose but their chains. They have a world to win. WORK OR ELSE!