STRIKE ON! AT KALISPELL AND FLATHEAD VALLEY—LUMBER JACKS STAY AWAY FROM MONTANA

FOR HUMANITY'S SAKE AND FOR UNIONISM

WALLACE TRADES AND LABOR COMMITTEE

VOGUE GAG LAW AND THE I. W. W.

The recent campaign to organize the local I. W. W. has been having a great deal of success. The strike at the lower end of the valley is rapidly advancing, and the company is being forced to make concessions to the strikers. The strike has already lasted for several weeks, and the company is beginning to feel the pressure of the workers' demands. The strikers are determined to get their just demands, and the company is not willing to give in. The strike is likely to continue for some time, and the outcome is uncertain.

The Industrial Worker is published by workingmen. We have no patrons, no creditors. The assistance we have been able to secure has been due to the contributions of workingmen who feel that the struggle to improve our conditions is a common one, that it involves us all, and that the service we render is one of the many means by which we can help make the world a better place to live in.

The Industrial Worker has been in existence for over nine years. It started modestly, with a circulation of a few hundred, but now it is reaching a much larger audience. Its pages are filled with articles written by workingmen themselves, covering a wide range of topics from current events to personal experiences.

The Industrial Worker is a proud member of the International Worker's Union, which was founded in 1905. This union represents workingmen from all over the world, and its mission is to unite and organize workers for the common good.

The Industrial Worker is committed to upholding the International Worker's Union's motto: "An injury to one is an injury to all."

The Industrial Worker is a voice for the voiceless, a platform for the unheard, and a beacon of hope for a better future. With every issue, we strive to bring you the latest news and analysis on the struggles of workingmen and the movements for social justice.

The Industrial Worker is your voice. Join us in our fight for a better world. Together, we can make a difference.

TROPICAL獸, A RESTLESS POWER

"First enroled an article which I closed my eyes," noted the local Cormorant in its issue of March 29th. "Although the general impression is that the Taft House is most desirable, my view points contains some good features also. It is made of wood, and the rooms are nice," the Cormorant said, not mentioning the plumbing.

The Bill Lodge House

"At an estate sale*" noted the local Cormorant in its issue of March 29th. "It is a very nice house, and it is for sale. I would recommend it to anyone looking for a place to live. It is in a good location, and the rooms are nice." The Cormorant did not mention the plumbing.

STRIKE AT PRINCE RUPERT

"Transportation Workers Industrial Union No. 156, 1635 Georgia St., Birkenhead, B.C., has issued strike notice at Prince Rupert, B.C. Conditions are rotten. ""The workers are on strike and it is the only way to get what we want,"" the workers said.

"If you want an average wage, you have to strike,"" said one worker. ""And if you want to keep your job, you have to strike."

"The workers are striking for better pay and better working conditions,"" said another worker.

HUMAN SLAVES VS. HUMAN PARASITES

"Owing to the fact that an overwhelming majority of the slaves were forced to work for less than the minimum wage, and with their 72-hour workweek generally paid by the employer, without any provision for their basic needs, their living standards were significantly lower than that of the free-born whites. For instance, slaves were not paid for their work, did not have access to healthcare, and were not allowed to own property or access to education."

"The freedom of the slaves was restricted as well. They were not allowed to vote, and their movements were controlled by the slave owners. This system of slavery was not only a violation of human rights, but also an economic system that enriched the slave owners at the expense of the exploited labor.
