INDUSTRIAL FORCE RULES THE WORLD

Japanese in Hawaii Fight the Enemy

A BRAVE BURGEE

Budda A. F. I. of Japanese Girl

The brave Burgee, as he often called himself, was one of the oldest workers in the Hawaiian plant. He had been with the company for over ten years. He was a tall, muscular fellow, with dark hair and deep-set eyes. His face was lined with years of hard work, but he had a friendly expression and a ready smile.

"This is my land," he said, "and I will defend it with my life. But I cannot do it alone. I need the help of my fellow workers." He looked around at the other Japanese workers, who were busy at their machines, and nodded his head in approval.

INDUSTRIAL FORCE RULES THE WORLD

Industrial workers have long been fighting for their rights in this country. They have struggled against low wages, long hours, and dangerous working conditions. But they have always been able to hold their own, for they are united in the International Workers of the World, or the IWW.

The IWW is a union of all working people, regardless of race, religion, or nationality. It is not just a union of workers in one particular industry, but of workers everywhere. It is a union of all who are oppressed by the capitalist system.

The IWW has fought hard for its members, and has won many battles. It has won better wages, shorter hours, safer working conditions, and more rights for workers. It has fought against discrimination, and has won for workers the right to be treated equally.

The IWW is not just a union of workers, but a union of people. It is a union of all who are fighting against the capitalist system. It is a union of all who believe in the power of working people to change their lives and their world.

The IWW is a union of all who believe in international solidarity. It is a union of all who believe in the unity of workers everywhere. It is a union of all who believe in the power of working people to build a better world.

ELIZABETH G. FLYNN
ADDRESS TO WORKERS

ALICE T. BONHAM

A WEEK or two ago I called your attention to the sorry condition of the food industry in this country, and to the unsatisfactory conditions under which men were denied the basic necessities of life, the food that they eat and the clothing they wear. In a recent address to the Western Federation of Miners, I pointed out that the workers in this country are suffering from a stunted growth in the food industry, and to the very low wages that they receive.

The workers in the food industry are suffering from a condition of unsatisfactory conditions under which they are employed. They are employed under conditions that are unhealthy, unsafe and insanitary. They are employed under conditions that are unsanitary and insanitary. They are employed under conditions that are unsanitary and insanitary. They are employed under conditions that are unsafe and insanitary. They are employed under conditions that are unsafe and insanitary. They are employed under conditions that are unsafe and insanitary.

I want to bring before you the condition of the food industry in this country, and to call your attention to the unsatisfactory conditions under which men are employed. They are employed under conditions that are unhealthy, unsafe and insanitary. They are employed under conditions that are unhealthy, unsafe and insanitary. They are employed under conditions that are unhealthy, unsafe and insanitary. They are employed under conditions that are unhealthy, unsafe and insanitary. They are employed under conditions that are unhealthy, unsafe and insanitary.
