Frisco L. W. W.

After a week's agitation in the Pacific Northwest, the steel captains in the Portland and Seattle districts are now waiting hopefully for the orders to break out the tools. The strike, which was called upon the advice of the Trade Union Congress, is now in its third week and has been a great success. The workers have stood firm and the strike is now in full swing.

Organizer Foote and Frisco L. W. W.

A strike in the Northwest is in progress, and the workers are now demanding higher wages. The union is not satisfied with the conditions and is demanding a 10% increase in wages. The strike is in full swing and the workers are determined to get their demands met.

SUNNY CALIFORNIA WORK IN REDLANDS

In view of the conditions in Redlands, a strike is being prepared. The workers are demanding higher wages and better working conditions. The strike is expected to begin at any moment and the workers are determined to get their demands met.

POVERTY—THE CAUSE OF CRIME AND LIBERTY

By Dr. E. E. Loomis, M.D., New York.

The industrial unions are doing a splendid work in the direction of improving the moral and physical conditions of their members. The movement is a healthy and beneficent one, which must have a far-reaching influence upon the social and economic life of the nation. The industrial unions are doing what the church and the state have failed to do. They are educating the workers to think and act for themselves. They are teaching them the value of work and the value of men. They are teaching them to respect themselves and to respect others. They are teaching them the value of education and the value of knowledge. They are teaching them to be independent and to be self-supporting. They are teaching them to be free and to be equal. They are teaching them to be just and to be fair. They are teaching them to be patriotic and to be loyal. They are teaching them to be sensible and to be wise. They are teaching them to be moral and to be honest. They are teaching them to be brave and to be strong. They are teaching them to be truthful and to be just. They are teaching them to be patient and to be longsighted. They are teaching them to be kind and to be compassionate. They are teaching them to be cheerful and to be contented. They are teaching them to be happy and to be satisfied. They are teaching them to be morally right and to be morally good.
