FREE SPEECH FIGHT IS ON IN SPOKANE

THE I. W. W. WILL ENFORCE THE NATURAL RIGHTS OF THE WORKERS AGAINST GOVERNMENTAL OPPOSITION

EMPLOYMENT SHARKS ARE WORKERS' ENEMY

The following is a list of the laws, regulations, and agreements in Washington State, which have been found to be in conflict with the principles of the Industrial Workers of the World (IWW). These laws are known as the "Employment Shark Laws." They are designed to protect the interests of employers and exploit the workers. The IWW believes that these laws are unjust and oppressive. The IWW therefore demands the immediate repeal of these laws.

EMPLOYMENT SHARK LAWS

1. The "Wage and Hour Laws," which require employers to pay workers a minimum wage and to keep accurate records of hours worked. The IWW believes that these laws are ineffective and lead to the exploitation of workers. The IWW demands the immediate repeal of these laws.

2. The "Minimum Wage Laws," which require employers to pay workers a minimum wage. The IWW believes that these laws are ineffective and lead to the exploitation of workers. The IWW demands the immediate repeal of these laws.

3. The "Overtime Laws," which require employers to pay workers overtime pay for work in excess of 40 hours per week. The IWW believes that these laws are ineffective and lead to the exploitation of workers. The IWW demands the immediate repeal of these laws.

4. The "Child Labor Laws," which prohibit the employment of children under the age of 16. The IWW believes that these laws are ineffective and lead to the exploitation of workers. The IWW demands the immediate repeal of these laws.

5. The "Health and Safety Laws," which require employers to provide a safe working environment for their employees. The IWW believes that these laws are ineffective and lead to the exploitation of workers. The IWW demands the immediate repeal of these laws.

The IWW demands the immediate repeal of these laws and the implementation of just and fair laws that protect the interests of workers.

SPOKANE POLICE ARE INHUMAN MONSTERS

Fred M. Mann, Secretary of the Spokane Police Department, has issued a statement accusing the IWW of being a group of "inhuman monsters." The IWW demands that Mr. Mann retract his statement and apologize for his irresponsible behavior.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT DECLARES THE OLD-ORDER CHANCELLORS, IN EXCESS OF THEIR AUTHORITY

President Roosevelt has declared that the Old-Order Chancellors, a religious group, have exceeded their authority. The IWW demands that President Roosevelt hold the Old-Order Chancellors accountable for their actions.

EMPLOYMENT SHARKS AND FREE SPEECH

This matter of free speech is not one of sentiment. It is not a question of obtaining a star upon the spars of every laborer's cap, nor is it whether we are better represented on the higher branch of the tree of life than the wage earner. It is a question of principle, a question of absolute justice. The same rule holds in the case of free speech. It is not the question of the absolute amount of speech. That may be too much. We have had the great mass of the population in the United States under the most freest system of speech in the world. They have been allowed to talk as much and as fast as they could. But the principle is the same. The principle is the freedom of thought and subject matter. The principle is the right of the individual, under the laws of the land, to talk as he pleads. It is not the question of the amount of money. The same rule holds in the case of the freedom of labor. The principle is the freedom of labor. The principle is the right of the individual, under the laws of the state, to work as much and as fast as he likes. It is not the question of the amount of food. The same rule holds in the case of the freedom of the citizen. The principle is the freedom of the citizen. The principle is the right of the individual, under the laws of the state, to eat as much and as fast as he can. It is not the question of the amount of water. The same rule holds in the case of the freedom of the miner. The principle is the freedom of the miner. The principle is the right of the individual, under the laws of the state, to have as much water as he needs. It is not the question of the amount of light. The same rule holds in the case of the freedom of the student. The principle is the freedom of the student. The principle is the right of the individual, under the laws of the state, to study as much and as fast as he can. It is not the question of the amount of work. The same rule holds in the case of the freedom of the worker. The principle is the freedom of the worker. THINGS TO KNOW WHILE ON THE FIRING-LINE

These nationally recognized experts offer you this valuable advice:

1. Always keep your eyes open. Be alert to any signs of danger.
2. Always wear protective gear, including helmets and safety glasses.
3. Always follow the safety procedures outlined in your company's manual.
4. Always be aware of your co-workers' positions at all times.
5. Always be prepared to react quickly in case of an emergency.

YOU ARE SAFE!

THE REAL CAUSE

The only solution to the current economic crisis is a "New Deal" government. The New Deal will bring economic stability and prosperity to all Americans. It is time to support the New Deal.

FASE

The Federal Anti-Sweatshop Act of 1912 was passed by the United States Congress. The act was designed to prevent the use of child labor in manufacturing establishments. The act was a response to the growing concern over the conditions of children working in factories. The act prohibited the use of children under the age of 14 in manufacturing establishments. The act also required the use of a "sweatbox" to control the amount of sweat that could be collected from the child's body.

"SOLIDARITY"

In solidarity with all workers fighting for their rights, we call upon all I.W.W. members to join the National Women's Strike for Equality. It is time to stand together and demand equal rights for all women.

"SOLIDARITY"

The new paper, "Solidarity," will be on sale at A. J. Swift's store, 102 and 104 Main St., Sparks. It will be available for purchase.

The Adventures of Gil Blas

I determined to make myself in the way of the Spanish road to Seville, and to live in that city some years, and to have nothing more to do with the English, who I had always considered the most indolent of men. I was going to try the life of a merchant, and to acquire a fortune. I had the intention of marrying a widow, who was rich, and to settle my affairs, and then to retire to a life of ease. I had no particular object in view, but to enjoy myself. I had been to Spain before, and I knew the country well.

I arrived at Seville, and I went to the best hotel. I was looking for a good place to live, and I found it. I rented a house, and I settled down. I had no difficulty in making a living. I had the reputation of being a good businessman, and I was able to get the best of everything.

I married the widow, and we lived happily together. I was able to enjoy myself, and I was able to make a fortune. I lived in luxury, and I was able to do as I pleased. I was the envy of all the other Spaniards.

I had a man who was to look after my business, and I never had to worry about anything. I had a great deal of money, and I was able to do as I pleased. I was the happiest man in Spain.
