FARM HANDS STRIKE AT NORTH YAMHILL

A number of farm hands have been on strike here for about two weeks. The strike was caused by a rate cut ordered by the manager of the farm. The strikers are demanding a wage of $1.50 per day, whereas the manager is offering only $1.00 per day. The situation has been tense, and there have been occasional clashes between the strikers and the managers. The strike is supported by the local union of the Agricultural Workers of America.

WASHINGTON, D.C.

Farm Hands Strike at North Yamhill

A bitter strike is now in progress among farm workers at the North Yamhill farm near Portland, Oregon. The workers, who are members of the Agricultural Workers of America, are demanding a wage increase to meet the rising cost of living. The management, however, is offering only a small raise, which is insufficient to meet the demands of the workers. The strike has been going on for about two weeks, and tensions have been high.

SPOKANE POLICE STILL FAKING

Reports of a police cover-up of the Farm Hands Strike at North Yamhill continue to circulate. The police department is under intense pressure to suppress the workers' demands, and there are suspicions of complicity in the workers' efforts to organize. The police have been accused of using violent tactics to break up the strike, and there are reports of injuries to both workers and law enforcement officers.

IN-H-L, he built the road.

The following is a clipping from a farmers' union bulletin:

Boise, Idaho, April 15—(AP)—B. E. Sullivan, president of the farmers' union, said today that the union's strike at the North Yamhill farm had been settled. He said that the workers had agreed to return to work under the terms of the union's contract. The settlement includes a wage increase and the reinstatement of workers who were fired during the strike.

The workers are to return to work on Tuesday, and the union has agreed to call off the strike. Sullivan said that the union would continue its efforts to improve the working conditions of farm workers across the country.

WORTHY OF NOTICE

It is interesting to note that the killing of the workers by the company was carried out in a matter of hours, and with the cooperation of the local authorities. The police department was called in to quell the workers' demands, and the workers were arrested and taken into custody. The workers were then forced to sign forms waiving their rights, and were later released. The company then took over the operation of the farm, and continued to exploit the workers.

The workers are fighting for their rights, and their struggle is gaining momentum. The company has been forced to concede to some of the workers' demands, and the union is continuing its efforts to organize the workers. The workers are determined to fight for a better future, and they will not be silenced. The company's actions are condemned by the international community, and the workers' struggle is being supported by workers' rights organizations around the world.

OUR FELLOW WORKERS

INDUSTRIAL WORKER

Published by the Local Unions of the Industrial Workers of the World

Vol. 5, No. 59

Tuesday, April 22, 1913

The workers will not capitulate until they win. We have shown that we have a form of organization and that we are prepared to use it in every detail of contract and strike.

A Bill has been introduced in the Congress which would accomplish a most disastrous effect, for it would make us all into serfs. The Bill is called "The Anti-Labor Bill." It would prevent the formation of labor unions, and it would make it a crime to belong to a labor union. It would also provide for the imprisonment of labor union officials and for the abolition of labor unions.

How do you vote? Have you any pupils who are going to vote? If so, will you let them know the importance of this measure? Will you not do all you can to keep the movement of repressive labor legislation from losing its strength? Will you not do all you can to make your pupils realize that the Bill is a menace to the free movement of labor unions? Will you not do all you can to keep your pupils from being misled by the false arguments of the friends of the Bill?

INTERNATIONAL LABOR NOTES

The French press has recently decided that there is a fear of a strike which, as we know, is a normal event in the history of labor. The actual number of laborers in most countries seems to continue to increase, but there are also reports of decreases in the number of those employed. The situation is particularly critical in France, where the number of workers employed in the textile industry in March was reported to be down by 10%. This is due to a combination of factors, such as increased automation in the industry and changes in consumer behavior.

LABOR EXCHANGE NEWS ITEMS

All members of the I.W.W. especially those employed in the mines, should be ready to report at any time for strike purposes. A meeting to decide on the strike is to be held in the Y.M.C.A. this evening in the auditorium. It is reported that the strike is to be called off, but this is not the condition ordered under which we are working. Those present are asked to report the same. You may still be here to report to the committee on the strike.

LEADING LABOR CASES - DIRECT ACTION

(Author of "The Social Revolution in America")

Transcendentalist Labor Union Tactics.

By John Reed.

The most advantageous course of action is the direct action. The social revolution has been in full swing for a half-century in the Sudetenland and the American Federation of Labor, and it has been given active licentiousness to carry out social revolution as other great social revolutions. The machine that is now being worked is called a social revolution. The social revolution is a revolutionary labor union movement, which seeks to accomplish social revolution by the use of direct action.
