The WORKERS ON STRIKE AND IN REVOLT

To the People:
The strike of the machinists, blueprinters and blacksmiths is not in the city of Los Angeles, but in the universe. The struggle is not between wage-earners and employers, but between all workers against all employers. The strike is not upon one railroad, one factory, one dock, but upon the whole system of power and wealth in this country. The strike is on all the railroads, in all the factories, in all the shops, in all the docks.

The working men have had no trouble in getting their messages to the public. They have not had to shout, to strike with their fists, to make their demands known. The strike has been carried out quietly and peacefully, but with a force that has broken the chains that held the workers in slavery.

The workers have realized that they are not alone, that they have the support of the working class all over the world. They have seen that they can stand up to the employer and win.

Two workers were murdered yesterday during parades held to protest against the actions of the Canadian Employers' Association. Two others were beaten and one was shot.

Singled out for persecution.

STRIKE TIES UP WORK IN CHICAGO.

The strike of the machinists and blueprinters in Chicago has brought the city to a standstill. All the factories are closed, and the workers have refused to return to work. The strike is supported by the workers all over the United States.

The employers have tried to break the strike by offering higher wages, but the workers have refused to accept them. The strike is a struggle for the rights of all workers.

WE ARE THE PROFIT MAKERS.

The employers have tried to persuade the workers that they are the profit-makers, but the workers know that they are the ones who create the profits. The workers have the right to share in the profits they create.

The workers are demanding the eight-hour day, the minimum wage, and the right to form unions. The employers are trying to break the strike by force, but the workers will not be defeated.

THE INDUSTRIAL WORKER, SATURDAY, JULY 20, 1910

THE DRAMA OF WORK

By Ralph Glidden

I have been requested to write a few words on the subject of what is known as the "labor movement." I have studied the matter in detail and will endeavor to give an impartial report on the conditions of the industrial workers of the United States.

The working man today is in a state of constant anxiety and fear. His life is a succession of toilsome tasks, often performed under conditions of great hardship and danger. In many cases his wages are insufficient to provide for his necessities, and he is forced to toil long hours in unhealthy and unsanitary conditions.

But the working man is not alone in his struggle for existence. His wife and children share in the burden of his toil, and they too suffer from the lack of proper care and attention.

The labor movement, therefore, is a noble and worthy cause. It seeks to improve the conditions of the working man, to secure for him a fair share of the fruits of his labor, and to give him a chance to develop his full potentialities as a human being.

It is not easy to bring about a change in the conditions of the working class, but progress is being made. The labor movement has won many victories, and it is making steady progress towards its goal.

In conclusion, let us remember that the labor movement is a natural and necessary part of the evolution of mankind. It is the struggle of the classes for existence, and it must be fought with all the resources at our command if we are ever to secure a just and equitable distribution of the wealth of the nation.

OUR FRIEND THE ANARCHIST

Anarchism is a movement, the aim of which is to abolish all government, all law, and all authority. It is based on the theory that man is free and equal by nature, and that all men are entitled to equal rights, privileges, and opportunities.

Anarchists believe that the state, with its system of taxation, is a means of oppression and exploitation. They maintain that the state is a form of domination, and that it should be abolished in favor of a society in which all men are free and equal.

Anarchists believe that the only legitimate authority is the free will of the people, expressed through the ballot box. They advocate the abolition of all coercion, both political and social, and the establishment of a society in which all men are free to pursue their own interests.

In conclusion, let us remember that the anarchist movement is a noble and worthy cause. It seeks to establish a society in which all men are free and equal, and in which they are able to develop their full potentialities as human beings.

INTEREST OF WHITE WORKERS

ROSEBROOK, WASH.

Mussel beds are getting to be scarce.

This result has not been the waves of their population who have been coming to the coast but not acceptable to the harvesters. I went to the coast with some of the white workers and they all agreed that the mussel beds were getting to be scarce because of the all-out effort of the harvesters to get them before the tide comes in.
