THE BIG RAILROAD STRIKE IN FRANCE

The long-threatened railroad strike has finally broken. There have been no signs of violence, but the strikers have not been satisfied with the wage increase of 50% that was granted them. The French government has declared a state of emergency and has sent troops to keep the peace. The strike has now entered its third week, and there is no end in sight.

THE CANADIAN WESTERN LUMBER CO.

The Canadian Western Lumber Company, camp manager, has reported on the current state of the camp: the oaks are brown, plenty of snow on the ground. The lumber is not a problem, but the weather has been very cold. The camp is located near Lake Superior, and it's a harsh winter environment. The workers are insulated well, but they still need to be careful about frostbite.

BOY SCOUTS

vs.

WORKERS

(By Frank Higgins)

Let the full significance of the Boy Scout movement be realized. It is the most powerful educational influence in the world today.

There are many reasons why the Boy Scout movement is so important. The following are some of the most compelling:

1. The organization reaches millions of young people through its schools, camps, and meetings.
2. The organization is based on a set of principles that are universally accepted and fosters values such as cooperation, hard work, and respect.
3. The organization provides a supportive community for its members, fostering a sense of belonging and belonging.
4. The organization offers opportunities for personal growth through challenging activities and a focus on community service.
5. The organization has a long history of success, with millions of young people benefiting from its programs over the years.

In summary, the Boy Scout movement is a powerful force for good in the world today, and its impact is unparalleled. It is an organization that should be supported and celebrated by all who care about the future of our young people.
CONVENTION OF THE C.G.T.

Harvey S. Shipman, Toronto, Fellow Worker and Friend.

Two days ago, the Second Congress of the C.G.T. (of the C.G.T. of the L.F.T.) opened Monday, October 3, in the city of Toulouse. There were about 300 delegates present, representing the delegates from the countries of Europe on which the C.G.T. is organized, representing the Federal Trade Union of France, the European Federation of Labor, the British Federation of Labor, the German Federation of Labor, the Belgian Federation of Labor, and the Italian Federation of Labor. The French delegates were the most numerous, representing the Regular and the General Confederation of Labor, the Confédération Générale du Travail and the Confédération Générale des Syndicats Unis, which constitute the French Federation of Labor. The British delegation was the second largest, representing the British Federation of Labor, the General Confederation of Labor, and the Trades Union Congress. The German delegation was smaller, representing the General Confederation of Labor in Germany. The Belgian delegation was the smallest, representing the General Confederation of Labor in Belgium. The Italian delegation was the smallest, representing the General Confederation of Labor in Italy.

The meeting opened with a speech by M. Berthelot, the General Secretary of the French Federation of Labor, who welcomed the delegates and introduced them to the proceedings of the congress.

After the opening speeches, the congress proceeded to consider the various reports submitted by the various departments of the C.G.T. These reports were considered by the appropriate committees and then presented to the congress for approval. The congress also considered and adopted a resolution condemning the use of violence by the employers in the class struggle.

The congress adjourned on October 7th.

The work of the congress was continued in Toulouse City Hall on the 8th and 9th.

The congress was attended by delegates from 29 countries, representing the labor movement in Europe. The proceedings were conducted in French, with translations into Spanish, Italian, and English.
