AGITATE—EDUCATE—ORGANIZE—FIGHT FOR THE EIGHT

PREPARING TO FIGHT

THE EIGHT-HOUR FIGHT IS ON.

Preparations Are Being Made by Both Sides
--Will the I. W. W. Carry the Day?

Portland, Ore., April 12.—Fifty delegates representing employers' associations of San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland, Tacoma, Seattle and Everett met here tonight for the purpose of organizing a Pacific Coast Employers' association. It is understood that one of the objects of the enlarged organization will be to combat the increasing movement for an eight-hour working day. The convention will continue its sessions to-morrow.—"Spokesman-Review."

The fight is on. The master class is organizing for the fray. It is plain to be seen from the above that every attempt will be made by the boss to offset the agitation for the eight-hour day. These fellows representing the profit-monger, or parasite, are getting organized INDUSTRIALLY to meet the issue on May 1st, 1912. These delegates are not in Portland to represent some craft like the machinists' union or the bricklavers union or the boilermakers' union, but they are in Portland to represent the employers of the Pacific Coast. They are there to fight any and all efforts that may be made for the EIGHT-HOUR DAY. They are op-posed to the eight-hour day. WHY? Because the shorter work day is in the interest of those who have to make profits for the other fellow. The fact that the boss is op-posed to it is all the argument an intelli gent slave wants to inform him that it is a good thing to have. The fact that these delegates at Portland are representing the employers and mot a part of the employers not any craft of employers, is all the argument necessary to present to a craft unionist that his craft that will fight against an EM-PLOYERS' ASSOCIATION is a fraud and is being kept up for the express purpose of CHARGED WITH ATTEMPTED MURfurnishing some grafting leader with a meal ticket. A craft union against such an association that is being formed on the Pacific Coast is like unto a mosquito that tries to sting to death an elephant. When will workers meet in some city on the coast or some other place to represent ALL the battle is open. It is as plain as the nose on your face. The master class will fight ALL the workers. It's for ALL the workers to now rally to the standard of freedom and hattle together for their common cause, the shortening of the bread line, the abolition of the unemployed army and the misery and starvation that is rife in the country as a result of PART of the workers working too long and too hard, while another part is standing at the workshop door ready to standing at the workshop door ready to scab or starve. The I. W. W. is the only scab or starve. The I. W. W. is the only organization that stands for the principle of FIGHTING TOGETHER. We invite every craftsman to unite with us in the struggle for the eight-hour day for all on May 1st, 1912. Let us agitate and work together for this common cause, and in the meantime abolish every contract, every SACRED AGREEMENT, with these parasites who have met in Portland to fight us, so that we may be as free as the water that flows down the Columbia river, to fight to the It's the first step to our emancipation. All is quiet in the strike situation today. All is quiet in the account of the police, however, are still keeping an Vestarday afternoon the 50 eye on things. Yesterday afternoon men under arrest were arraigned before Magistrate Catss on charges varying from shooting with attempt to kill to intimidation, under section of the Criminal Code dealing with the respective offences.

Though the police have made out formal charges it is probable that some of these will have to he amended when the defendants appear again on Monday before the magistrate. Prosecuting Attorney Fisher will conduct the case for the Crown.

Some of the leaders such as Morse, Mac-Donald and King will be charged with tounselling attempt to kill.

About a dozen of the prisoners have been transferred from the old jail to the new one. Nick Pavich, shot during the riots on Thursday, is recovering in the General Hospital.—"Prince Rupert Optimist."

Roosevelt not to stop at a SCAB house while in Spokane. As greater part of the mines in British Columbia and Alberta, Teddy is an HONORARY member of the Brotherhood of although there are several companies who have contracts with Mind His Own Business, Says Spokane Firemen, he has taken cognizance of the WARNING and the miners to run after that time, among them being the PROTEST, as well as a few RESOLUTIONS, by staying at Corbin mines, with a capacity of 1,000 tons a day, which will the biggest scab dump in town. The slaves will get the operate until May 8. "come-backs" which Teddy leaves, after he has munched around his $7.50 plate of food. Pretty good for a slave at that, when he does not want anything better. It's a wonder that the WARNING from such a powerful organization as the A. F. of L had not scared the ex-president to death. He came in grinning just the same, and the craft union has done its duty. They protested. Join the union of your craft and the party of your class. Ah. Ah.

THE REASON.

Taft says the reason that the United States army was sent to the Mexican border was to stop the Japs from invadpublic likes to be humbugged"-Barnum. No people in the world are so easily gulled in as the smart Americans.

A CAPITALIST TOOL.

The statement signed by an organizer of the A. F. of L. in San Diego, and which was used against the I. W. W last fall when we were battling for better conditions, lays bare the aims and objects of a great number of labor fakirs that are drawing a salary from the toilers of America. It is not the first time that these capitalist stool-pigeons have rushed to the aid of the boss and have publicly sworn allegiance to the profit-monger, at a time when workers were trying to get more of the good things that they have produced. It was done in Portland, Missoula, Brooklyn, Buffalo, Goldfield and scores of other places. It is nothing new The army of workers that allow such fakirs to fasten themselves onto them are not worthy to carry a banner in a labor parade. They are surely devoid of reasoning. This bloodsucker says, "Unions are not for the purpose of raising wages or shortening the hours of labor. They are to be used to look after the sick and disabled." What a gem! We will admit that unions should look after people who are sick (in the head) and this guy should be the first to be admitted to the hospital and then the followers that will allow this tool to fatten on them should also be given a straight jacket if they are unable to understand the Preamble of the I. W. W. GET MORE THAN YOU EARN, EH! Jesus save us! Where is it! If teamsters are getting the full product of their toil in San Diego, put us wise and we will could get on his knee-pads. This geke Patton has a fine job seeing that the teamsters do not get more than they earn. The "Worker" will give a six months' sub free to the man in San Diego who will take a picture and send it in here for reproduction, showing one of these teamsters who assists in paying a wage to this fakir. Don't take the picture of the fellow in front with the long ears. The animal we want is the fellow with the two legs.

STANLEY DEAD.

Captain Stanley, a member of the I. W. W., a Spokane Free Speech fighter, a deserter from the United States army, express purpose of defending the private interests of a lot of together.

multi-millionaires, was an honorable act. To join an army that was fighting for the right to live on nature's soil was creditable. To die an I. W. W. man was proof of the recognition of the class struggle and that the interest of one worker was the interest of all workers. When enough workers can say that they would follow in the footsteps of William Stanley, it would be to say that the days of murdering each other would be over and a brighter day ushered in for the toiling millions. We doff our hat to our dead fighter and to all the workers who were with him in his memorable charge of the brave 80 reds.

EIGHT HOURS NO GOOD.

The eight-hour law for women in the state of Washing ton, which has recently been passed, is being opposed by the women barbers of Spokane, and no doubt by the other workers in the state where they have to compete against men for a living. The women barbers complain justly that they will be forced to close their doors when the eight hours are up, while the men will carry on the work for any number of have been almost shot to pieces. He was hours they deem fit. This makes it impossible for the woman one of the Spokane priseners, one of the first hours they deem fit. This makes it impossible for the woman barber to compete against the men, therefore their opposition to the law. The men, being members of craft unions, as well as the women, does not say that they will decide to close brave and sincere as a revolutionists, genial their doors when the eight hours are up; but, being true to eraft scabbery, they will scab on the own members of their been commissioned as a general, having own craft. The women know this to be a fact. Therefore the opposition to the law. All this political "bunc" goes to show that the workers must make their own laws on the economic field, and to do this they must recognize the class struggle and the necessity for only one union of the workers.

SOME HAVE CONTRACTS.

Nelson, B. C., March 29.—(Special.)—"The Alberta Miners Union is in better shape to fight this thing to a finish than it has ever been before and unless our demands are met and complied with we certainly intend to hold out." is the statement given out by Clem Stubbs, vice president of the union. Unless some agreement is made between the operators and The Spokane A. F. of L. Labor Council warned Teddy the miners the strike will go into effect on April 1 in the

It's the same old story. Some of the miners have contracts with the boss and these will stay and work when their fellow workers in the same union will be on strike. When one-half will be on strike the other half will be assisting the boss to cinnati street. "Teddy Roosevelt is a mili-supply the orders. Probably they will not be able to supply all the demands for coal, but they will supply all they can and they will do their little part to assist the master class to whip the miners on strike. While the men are on strike the union will see that no harm will happen to the mines. They will protect the property of the boss while they are fighting him for better conditions. This kind of "stuff" is called Industrial Unionism. It is referred to by leaders in other unions as a great Industrial Organization. So it is a Great ing Mexico. Wouldn't that jar you? "The American Industrial Union (FOR THE BOSS). The article in this issue that was especially written by our General Secretary on request, to show the difference between Capitalist Industrial Unionism and the I. W. W., lays bare the scheme of getting the miners and engineers into one union, NOT TO HELP THEMSELVES, but to assist the boss by all being contracted together so that no few or part of them could shut down the mines. The boss grants the closed shop or check-off system in return for this contract that enslaves the worker and ties him hand and foot so that he cannot strike in any direction. even to the extent of petitioning the congressmen to pass LAWS in his favor. There is as much difference between a union where the master collects the dues and the workers agree to enslave themselves and the I. W. W. as there is between night and day. The boss wants the CONTRACT with the slaves. He paid Mitchell $6,000.00 a year for the express purpose of getting the workers into these contracts and thus insure PEACE to the boss and HELL to the workers. Would the I. W. W. agree to keep pumpmen and engineers at work in time of strike to protect the mine for the boss? It's laughable to think of such a think. Would the I. W. W. agree to work for a certain wage for years at a time when the hoss would be free to raise the price of coal and other hosses to raise the price of everything else? Not on your life. Any I. W. W. man would laugh at such a thing. The organizer in the I. W. W. that proposed such a thing would be kicked out of the organization. Would the boss collect the dues off the members of the I. W. W. and turn them over to the secwould have lost its "sting" and would be usedom to still worker. Such a thing will never happen. The boss will doubt that insecurity of livelihood is more widespread now than ever before in history. From his veins for the sum of $25.00! The from his veins for the sum of $25.00! The student of social problems cannot be added to flow widespread now than ever before in history. be "skinning" a team of mules quicker than a labor fakir never collect the dues for an organization that is really in widespread now than ever before in his italism through united action on the economic field. The in all civilized centers, a vast mass of povworkers must be so organized that they will be a POWER erty, want and degradation; while during the every day, and until we have such an organization that is frequently recurring depressions of trade, feared by the boss we have nothing. It's to build such as feared by the boss we have nothing. It's to build such an tion. The wealth created by the producers organization, based on the class struggle, free to fight any is not retained by them; the process of tradminute, feared by the master class, and some time strong ing class industrialism divert a great part of enough to free the workers, that we are striving for. Help it into other hands. Fraud and deception us and we will do it.

BUCCAFORI SENTENCED TO TEN YEARS IN SING SING

I. W. W. Shoe Werkers Trying to Secure a New Trial-Assistance Is Needed.

Fellow Worker Buccafori, a member of the striking shoe workers in Brooklyn, has been sentenced to 10 years in Sing Sing prison in New York state.

In an act of self defense Fellow Worker Buccafori shot his master's hired slugger down to save himself from being beaten to death. It was purely an act of self-defense, and if a man has not the right to protect his body from the blows of the hired tool of the master, then he has no rights whatever. "Self-preervation is the first law of nature." and it is certainly a natural act to defend the person Fellow Worker Bucaffori is either guilty or, murder or he is innocent. If he defended himself against a slugger of the capitalist class, he is innocent. Had he been guilty of murder he would have been hung or burned to death in the electric chair, as the news from the scene of trouble is to the effect that Fellow Worker Buccafori was before a capitalist jury and had a prejudiced judge to boot.

Ten years in Sing Sing means death. "Sing Sing" is a "silence" pen. Prisoners are not allowed to speak to each other. Imagine what this terrible silence means to an active man in 10 years. If a man is not a corpse before the time expires he is a gibbering idiot. Fellow Worker Buccafori was sentenced to this lingering death simply for trying to preserve his honor and manhood. He was not the first man who had been beaten by a brutal foreman, but he was the first man to rebel like a man should and show to his fellow workers that, although a man is a slave to a shoe manufacturers' association, he has yet something to defend and something to rebel against, even if it is the day will surely come when such gross injustice can be met with a united working class that stands for all the working class.

There is nothing we can do in our present state but try by the use of attorneys to secure something like a semblance of justice for our fellow worker. The "Worker" urges its readers to rally to the defense of Fellow Worker Buccafori and send in funds to be used to try and secure a new trial. Send all donations for this worthy cause to Chas. healthy slave is now of some importance. the blood in them is good and pure (and it mostly is) they can furnish blood to the veins of the capitalist when the blood hecomes rotten through fast living and debauchery. The "lule Rich", (and that takes them about all) can now stock up with a new flow of pure blood for $25.00 each. After the slave is bled half to death he can be sent to furnish blood on the battle field so that the "holdings" of Rockefeller, Morgan & Co. can be extended. Who said there was no class struggle? Who said the interests of capital and labor were identical? blathering slave who gets off this capitalist slush that was rammed into him at childhood is a mental cripple and should be sent to a factory for the restoration of intelligence. #### FROM YUKON CROSSING.

The Alaska "Labor scarcity fakes" are now on, I suppose, in the various leading (?) papers outside. Now I will try and tell of conditions on the Canadian side. There is little work to be done till May of June and there are plenty of men to do all that shows up. It costs about $150 to reach Daw- assist in getting all workers organized under son from Seattle, unless you walk from Skagway. Alaska, 440 miles.

The dredging and hydraulic mining going on now in Yukon District does not take many men. Wages for mining are $4.00 and board up; not very high up, though. The hours are always ten or more. Grub gen

It's an unorganized country, and lots o men are proud of it . Some men here get mad if you mention W. F. M. or J. W. W. You also hear lots of praise for the Guggenheims and from the Yankees some praise for "Fatty" Taft.

My advice is for all who are thinking of coming north this spring to come early; by doing so those who are not industrial union ists may get the idea into their heads that liberty loving workers are coming to his de machinery is taking the place of the "shovel stiff" and the only hope for the worker is to DEATH, and they want to save this fighting organize so that the working class can contgol the output of the machine; also we need a few good I. #### FROM HONOLULU-"HELL ON AN ISLAND." You may talk of slavery in the States, but if you want to see slavery in the third degree just take a trip to Honolulu and you can see capitalism and the church in the height of their glory. The Catholic Church has full sway over here. You can see more prostitutes in Honolulu than you can see in the city of Spokane. The working class over here is very ignorant and are kept so by the priests Common labor over here gets from $1.00 to S1.50 per day. They have 12 pound hammers to drill with and they use coal scoops to muck with. It may sound strange to the wage slaves over there, but it is a fact. Living is higher over here than it is in Spokane, so you can see the condition of the

I have met three of the fellow workers who were with me in the Spokane jail, but they did not stay here long. I am leaving today for Ililo, a town up on one of the other islands. There is a big job up there, but wages for labor is low. I am going to run a steam drill. All they pay for that job is $3.00 per day. All the laborers are Japs. They get $1.00 per day for 9 hours, and it costs 75 cents per day for board.

The slaves over here are very patriotic and they love their masters very much. If you say anything about the boss or the government, some poor ignorant slave is liable to give you a swat on the mouth. This country is what I call hell on an island.

Yours for the I. W. W., ROBERT ROSS.

Debs as speaker, surrounded with glass show cases, containing guns and glittering bayonets and guarded by the militia. When we got wind of the meeting we thought we saw an opportunity to collect a substantial sum of money for our persecuted fellow worker. Vincent Buccaffori. Accordingly we went up to their business meeting on the night previous, where we managed to get the floor for five minutes. Longshoremen appeal for funds TO DEFEND PRINCE RUPERT STRIK-ERS-ALL ENGLISH SPEAKING MEM-BERS IN JAIL - MANY I. W. W.'S ARRESTED.

Prince Rupert, B. C., April 8, 1911. Dear Sir and Brother:

The Prince Rupert Industrial Association, an organization composed of all classes of workers, except longshoremen, have been on strike for some time. At a peaceful demonstration on the 6th inst. they were fired upon by contractors' special police, and one or two citizens, resulting in several of the strikers being wounded seriously. (After this more than 50 members were put under arrest. A good many of the men arrested were not near the scene of the conflict; in fact, some of them were at work in another part of the city. The police went to the strikers' hall and arrested everyone within. Then they confiscated everything, including several hundred dollars' worth of groceries. After this they boarded up the hall. The mayor has been requested to reopen it, but has flatly refused. As the majority of the members cannot speak or write English, and all the leading English speaking members are in jail, we have taken hold of things for them and have secured legal advice, to try and get them justice, as there seems to be a determined effort on the part of the authorities to crush labor organizations in general. The methods used in Spokane are being duplicated here, and we want funds badly to combat them. Anything your members or friends can do in the way of voluntary contributions will be greatly appreciated, as we feel that it is a life or death struggle for all organized labor in this country. Thanking you in anticipation, I remain, Yours fraternally, C. F. KELLIHER,

Secretary No. 38-41, International Longshore

DER TO THE ARMY IS EXPOSED. THE WORKERS MUST TAKE MORE PRECAUTIONS.

(Translated fro "La Guerre Sociale" by F... Sulzer.)

If the revolution is near, it is about time that we should examine closely the military problem, just as it looks to the revolutionists. For many years we have had the custom, especially in syndicalist circles, to consider the "general strike" as a revolutionary tactic par excellence.

It is correct, of course, if we mean that it is more than probable that a strike more or less general will start a revolution. But we are mistaken if one thinks that a general strike is all sufficient, and that we can dispense with the "elastic" insurrection of our grandfathers, for which many revolutionists profess more or less aversion and call "romantic."

There are two periods which we must keep in mind. First, there will be a general strike, which will create disorder. It will have to fight the soldiers who have remained faithful kind of an organization we should have, so we to the hourgeois government, or else supposea hope which has no chance to be realizedthat the army will desert and melt away as it by magic in the masses of the people.

What would be foolish is to think that a revolution can take place, because we have ceased to work, without the necessity of com ing to blows. Let this be a warning to all! The capitalist class will not let itself be ex propriated without a fight, and will commit every crime to keep and maintain its privileges. And know that in prevision of a civil war there must be a plan of mobilization as if tor a foreign war, the ruling class, in anticipa tion of a coming revolution, has a "war plan already prepared, under the name of "Specia Mobilization." The war department, acting in unison with the department of the interior, has already a plan to break up a "general strike." It is Clemenceau who first took the initiative in that respect, while he was a cabinet minis ter, and who had occasion to use it partially tie the dog up while administering it or on the first of May, 1906, by bringing 40,000 troops into Paris. This plan has been completed under the present prime minister, M Briand. Naturally, as soon as it was finished, this plan fell into the hands of our men. And the money.-Editor. the proof of it is, that we are in a position to describe the main points as far as Paris is concerned, which the government considers al- fighting each other for the benefit of the ways, and rightly so, as the main revolutionary capitalists?

center. Didn't we tell our readers, more than a hundred times, that the ministry of war couldn't keep a secret from us?

All the commanders of the garrison of Paris (including Versailles and Vincennes) have received a sealed envelope named "interior mobilization," with the following instructions:

"On the first day that serious trouble breaks out in Paris, the captain commanding the company, battery, cavalry, in case he should not receive any special orders, the means of communication being stopped by the strikers, the commander shall give orders to distribute immediately to his men, cartridges called mobilization special, or the necessary ammunition for the artillery. He will then send his men by the quickest way which shall remain open, to a special rendezvous, where he will receive

It is compulsory on the part of the com manders at the time the soldiers are receiving their distribution of ammunition to make a PATRIOTIC APPEAL TO THEIR MEN, This theory was used called "moral theory:" on the first of May of last year at a time when a partial mobilization was executed in prevision of a manifestation to the "Bois de Boulogne."

As is to be expected, those in charge of the special mobilization have prepared a list of all known militants, their addresses, etc. They are to be arrested before the order of mobilization is sent out, given the semblance of a trial before a court martial and shot. The plan of special mobilization contains four points which will be useful to be known to the comrades:

First, All the troops of Paris are to be armed with the latest improvements in military warfare. This accounts for the fact that the first quick firing guns were affected to the capital.

Second. All the forts surrounding Paris are to be on a war footing, so they will be able, on short notice, to bombard certain quarters of the capital-the usual abode of the revolu-

Third. The troops of the garrison of Paris are to be composed of nothing but picked men called "faithful." In the first place, the cav-alry, being animated with the best "spirit," will be ordered out first, especially the cuirassiers, whose officers are all nobles. Next will come the colonial troops who are used to the massacre of the natives of Asia and Africa, and consequently are an excellent army for the work cut out for it. This is why a colonial brigade has been consigned to Paris and the surrounding forts. When a black army shall be an accomplished fact in Algeria, you will not have to wait long to see Algerian regiments in Paris, and these troops, as is well known, are still better than the colonial army.

Fourth. The artillery is not so "faithful" as the cavalry. This is why the men compos ing that branch of the service are recruited with particular care.

Now as ot the infantry. It is animated with "bad spirit." Its recruiting is tended to with more care, if that is possible, than that of the artillery. All Parisian working men, and especially the "leaders," are sent to the eastern garrisons, where discipline is more strict. Finally, Paris is to be garrisoned with special troops who can maintain, in case of a general strike (even peaceable) the economic services re quired by the capital. The electricians are now garrisoned in Paris, while others are in the Fort Valerien, right close by. The railroads will be tended to by troops especially trained for that branch of the service. Tomorrow, we shall see permanently established in the capital, under the pretext of national defense, picked men from the arsenals of France, the commissary department, as well as the telegraphists of the army and the engineers and firemen of

To break, if possible, a strike of the postal employees and the railroad men an automobile and carrier pigeon service is today almost completed. Communication of wireless telegraphy between the Eiffel Tower and the departments are nearing completion.

In conclusion, the capitalist class has taken every military precaution against us, through the medium of its politicians, placed at the head of the state by the financers. As we are always talking of a general strike, have we taken the necessary "military" precautions, so that in case of a rebellion there shall not be a uscless slaughter? Have we "general strike organization" to oppose the "special interior mobilization" of our enemies?

We will conclude today by asking all the revolutionists, syndicalists, socialists or anarchsts to consider these questions, and next time we will tell, in the "Guerre Sociale" what will not he taken our guard by are merely surface indications of the more deep-seated reasons for its rejection. They are, nevertheless, worthy of note.

These consists of the many means of working class disfranchisement as seen in property qualifications, partisan educational tests, primary laws, high filing fees, poll taxes, and so forth. Also, in many places, wage-working women have no franchise, yet when organized are a power in industry. Children, too, can have no vote; yet many thousands of them are workers, and as such possess economic strength. Last, but not least, there are the migratory workers, daily growing in numbers and increasing in proportion to the whole body, who, because of the very nature of their labors, can not gain a residence and thus are debarred from casting a ballot. This its enemies. growing class at present comprises the bulk their objection to political action is certainly well founded economically. Industrialism is non-political and non-geographical as well, and its members are concerned with such things as jobs, hours of precincts, wards, counties, states or countries, so also with industrial unionism. Granting also that at some time a majority of the votes cast were for socialism, is there not good reason and precedent for believing that the owners of ension within the ranks of the socialists it the jobs would threaten starvation if the decision were not reversed? Republicans have fought democrats with that weapon with admirable success. Four months of starvation may elapse between election and inauguration; and a yet longer time before congress convenes to take proper action.

Votes, as well as laws upon the statute books, require an economic organization for their enforcement, and industrialists are prope to remark that if their union has power to enforce the desires of its membership they care not to wait four years to vote; nor do they care whether their demands be upon This break in the socialist movement lies the statutes of the state. Even the political socialists hold that laws are made and administered on behalf of the ruling class because these rulers possess the means of proently advocate the notion that a change in It is a laws will shear them of their power.

Finally industrialists oppose political acposition to be at fault and because they realize their own self-sufficiency. The class struggle exists in the mines, mills, factories and workshops, on the farm and in the forests; not at the ballot box. It exists continually: not once every two or four years. Political parties are formed because of a similarity of opinion; the industrial union is based upon the identity of interest of all wage-workers.

A socialist political party must necessarily, because of its construction and tactics, become less radical in time. Recruits are sought from every region of discontent, regardless of their knowledge of socialism. These new members modify the program so that it may serve as bait to those who are slightly less radical than themselves. This continues until the party is committed to the defense of every decaying institution and is to make socialism respectable in the eyes of
