FROM FRISCO TO DENVER

The start was attended by the usual amount of commotion with those who are always the most excited and belligerent. The personnel of this free speech crew are all young men, most of them long-time unionists who have undertaken many of the violence of the Salvation Army, Socialists and other political organizations.

Many have been living in Frisco, while as many more have been in Denver for some time. The Frisco men made quite a show with their Union flag, and the Denverers with their American flag.

The Denver contingent consisted of a group of about ten men, who appeared to be well prepared for the trip.

LITTLE PARIS Defense Committee, Box 406, Little Falls, N.Y.

Dear Sir: I am at this time on my way to Frisco, where I am to arrive to-morrow. I am going there to visit the prisoners, and to assist in the work of the Defense Committee. I shall be there for about three weeks. We expect the trial of the case to be held in that city. We have a good defense, and we are confident of a favorable decision.

Yours truly,

RECENT NEWS FROM PORCUPINE

from the Porcupine Post, Porcupine, S.D., Oct.

The terriest says all the miners are in a good humor and they are quite egotistical and they are glad to hear that the strike is going well. The miners are well satisfied with the management and they are prepared to continue the strike as long as it lasts.

The Intelligence says that the miners are determined to hold out until the company gives them a fair deal.

The miners are quite satisfied with the management and they are determined to hold out until they get what they want.

COURT-RAPID LAWLESSNESS

After the trial, the jury found no other evidence than that which was produced in court. The jury was composed of six men, who were selected by the company, and the court was presided over by Judge A. B. White.

The lawlessness of the miners is the result of the fact that the company is not willing to recognize the union.

DID YOU GET THE NEWS OF THE LITTLE FALLS PRISONERS?

LITTLE FALLS, NEW YORK, April 17, 1913

The news of the Little Falls prisoners has reached us. They are all doing well and we are confident that they will be released. We are glad to hear that the company has settled the case with the union.

We are all very much disappointed to hear that the union has been expelled from the company. We are sure that the union is working for the benefit of the miners and we are confident that it will be re-established.

AN INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS

Now that the transport workers of the Atlantic and the Gulf coast have joined the I.L.W. in the South, it becomes evident that the people who participate in the International Syndicalist Congress probably to be held in London, Eng., in the latter part of April, will be able to hold a discussion covering both the growing and the vitalizing international solidarity and their present attitude that of the world.

In preparing for the congress, however, the I.L.W. have to be on the look out for some of the best able defenders of the congress plan. We are referred representation in the present Secretariat; from these there should be a well trained and well-organised congress plan. When the congress is started the trade union movement will be big enough to make up an I.W.W. delegate.

The congress will be held in London, England, to be held for four days, the 20th of May, the time of the meeting is being determined by the local managers. The congress will be held on the 20th of May, the time of the meeting is being determined by the local managers.

SPRING HATS FOR SOCIALIST VOTERS

By Paul Seligman

The following is a situation in which we see a number of significant developments. First, there is the situation in which the workers are voting for socialist candidates. Second, there is the situation in which the workers are not voting for socialist candidates. These two situations are closely related and interdependent.

1. The situation in which the workers are voting for socialist candidates: In this situation, the workers are voting for socialist candidates because they believe that the socialist candidates will represent their interests better than the candidates of other parties. The socialist candidates are perceived as being more progressive and more committed to the workers' welfare. The workers are thus voting for socialist candidates in order to ensure that their interests will be represented.

2. The situation in which the workers are not voting for socialist candidates: In this situation, the workers are not voting for socialist candidates because they believe that the socialist candidates will not represent their interests well. The socialist candidates are perceived as being too radical and too committed to the workers' welfare. The workers are thus not voting for socialist candidates in order to ensure that their interests will be represented.

The two situations are closely related and interdependent because the workers' decision to vote for socialist candidates is influenced by their perception of the candidates' commitment to their interests. If the workers believe that the socialist candidates will represent their interests well, they will vote for them. If they do not, they will not vote for them. Therefore, the workers' decision to vote for socialist candidates is a direct consequence of their perception of the candidates' commitment to their interests.

How the Magons Were Convicted

We reproduce here a few affidavits showing the manner in which the conviction of the defendants of the Mariano Library case was procured. The case is one of the latest in the history of political police in this country. The affidavits are sworn to by persons who were present at the trial and who have access to the original records of the case.
