Welfare Board Secret Plan Attacks All Living Standards

The employers' offensive against union wage standards is now in full swing, and although the Minnesota Board of Public Welfare is using all means possible to publicize it, the workers' organizations and their constituents must take a more direct action.
The campaign of the employers is not new. It has always been their policy to keep wages down to the point where the workers cannot live.

The Minnesota Board of Public Welfare is doing all it can to prevent the employers from success.
