When a gang of Direct Service and CIO thugs slammed two 972 pickets who were banding Direct Service strikers outside the Coshocton garage, the Executive Board of the CIO and its armed pickets were unhinged.

Skier Saturday, following a week of negotiations, skiers ratified a new working agreement which gives them most of the work for which they fought. On this week, all skiers were back on skis.

Workers inspired. The whole team of New Richmond ski teams was jolted at the ski season. Already, other workers have been inspired by the pact through area union negotiations.

Getting Jobs For Our Jobless Boys and Girls

By Oscar Kohler, Youth Secretary

What will happen if the young people do not obtain any work? We need not worry too much about that. By the time the young people are ready to go out into the world, much longer will the millions of jobless young American boys and girls stand near the mouths of despair. The boom class makes a mockery of the "right to work." Looked out of private industry, the jobless would have to appeal to the government, knowing that the future is one of unemployment. Young people today are making no provision for sometime in the future. Much longer will the young people remain plants for the unemployed.

One fact gives us a hint as to how these young people can be saved. It is that a large number of them--forty percent increase in the number of crimes committed by young persons between the ages of 10 and 18--certainly should be no excuse for wonder as to why this increase has taken place.

With hundreds of thousands of out of work, quickly and constantly becoming despondent, inefficient and de-moralized, it is not at all surprising that many of them should turn to crime--which they are as the only way they can "get some fun out of life." No one will dare to make the charge that these boys and girls are criminals by "nature." It is obvious that their economic position in society, their opportunity to earn the money they need, is the force that drives them to crime.

If the experiences of the young people in other countries can teach us anything, there is a far worse danger ahead for the young people. Hopeless and demoralized, these young people are ripe material for the despot.

Where did Hitler's gang come from? From proclaimly these same kind of money and streets. These young people were not culled out in any way. They were not given an opportunity to live a life, Hitler's demagogue had total control and made the young people do what he wanted them to do. This is the only way he could gain the control. The young people who are under the influence of any kind of despot cannot live a life free from the influence of this despot.

Unions Must Lead the Youth

This factor is the main reason why the trade union movement, since the first objective of the fascists is to destroy the trade union movement and the mass organizations of the working class, is the one that attacks the working class. The fascists use the working class to bring about their own destruction. They use the working class to destroy the working class.

The trade union movement must be able to stand up to this attack. If it cannot stand up to this attack, the trade union movement will be destroyed. The trade union movement must be able to stand up to this attack. If it cannot stand up to this attack, the trade union movement will be destroyed.

The youth people today are a mighty reservoir of strength, if they can be controlled and the young people will be able to protect themselves from the influence of this despot. The youth people today are a mighty reservoir of strength, if they can be controlled and the young people will be able to protect themselves from the influence of this despot.

Union Bill Demands State-Owned Industries

St. Paul Unions Back Bill Calling for Million Dollars to Establish Red Cross Factory

Would Give Unemployed Chance to Produce for Needs of Government

Workers throughout the United States are to have a chance to make the products of private industry for the benefit of the public industries if the state-owned bill is put into effect, according to the Progressive party, which on Saturday unanimously endorsed August 12, by the legislative convention. Republican, H. S. Paul Trades and Labor Assembly.

Supposedly the bill was originally drafted by William Molitor, of Minneapolis, who hopes to introduce it to the Minnesota assembly in the fall. It was taken up by the convention at the request of the labor committee.

The full text of the public industries for the purposes of private industry.

The convention is expected to work on a line of cooperation in the production of commodities for the benefit of the public, the purpose of which is to prevent the formation of combinations or monopolies in the production of commodities, or of other businesses.

Two of the public industries which the bill may be used to establish are a tobacco and a power company. The bill provides for the purchase of tobacco and power for public use.

Union Bill Demands State-Owned Industries

The bill is a long time coming. The bill was introduced in the state legislature in 1912, but was never passed. The convention, however, is to have another chance to consider the bill in the fall.

"America's Sixty Families"

How the Rich Use "Philanthropy"

VIII

Whenever some rich freshwater eel dies, the gore comes out for this. Weekele Phillipson

Power, gave 100,000 to Nooty, Build

Poe...Rlous. Every time a millionaire gives some money to charity, the piece is reprinted from newspaper space. Entertainers, the mixture is haunted by the press as evidence of the social conscience of Millionaires. It is no wonder, then, that the author, author of "America's Sixty Families," tears off the mask and analyzes the use of "philanthropy" in America. Here are a few of his conclusions:

Pay for the Public

1. "Very little philanthropy actually helps people, but the solicitude of millionaires for the public interest has made them seem to be a class of people who publicly fight all public criticism. The philanthropists provide people with money for organizing, building, and running hospitals, schools, and industrial control.

2. "Philanthropy for the Poor..."

America's style exposes upon their papier a sure and certain class of people interested in the poor. The money which we employ to help people is not likely to make them better off. It is a means of keeping them in poverty and making them work harder.

3. "Many philanthropists are rich people who use their money to show that they are rich people who care about the poor. What a startling contrast these professionals present to the humble self-sacrificing poor who are trying to make a living!

Easy to See Why

These rich laborers, whose work is unknown and unpaid for, need some way of compensating for the suffering of the people. They need their money and their power to help them. Their psychology and their knowledge of the poor is a key to their lives. If they attempt to help, they will be in the wrong. It is an impossible person who will try to help others. He will try to help his own kind. He will try to help his own people. He will try to help his own class.

How large these classes are,

the amount they contribute to the poor, and the extent of their influence, are the very things of which these foundations are the very poor. These facts, the history of these

Charles M. Hoy who were left in the streets.

This example is typical. The free men are the owners of all,

and all of them have their interests. They are the owners of all the other interests. They are the owners of all the philanthropic interests.

The Pay Off

The author of "America's Sixty

Families" arrives at the point of the question: what is the Philanthropy and Philanthropists. The idea in 1881. However, it is the end of the story. The Full Support to the State Civil Service Bill

Effects of the Minnesota State Employers Union Local 16, AFL, on behalf of the State Civil Service Bill deserve full support. About a year ago, the employers union involved in this question a fundamental principle of organized labor: the right of a union to fight for justice for its members.

Exactly as all real unions fight for working agreements with the employers, so Local 16, in pushing the State Civil Service Bill, is fighting for an "agreement" with the State itself.

The unique position in which unions of public employees find themselves is not due to any defect in the principle involved. Public officials have no authority to sign agreements, nor can they force employees to go on strike to enforce their demands. Under such conditions, the only means left to the State Civil Service Board in the struggle for the adoption of the Civil Service Bill is the passage of a bill by the Legislature. This is the means which the Minnesota AFL has taken to protect its members. In doing this, the Minnesota AFL has shown that it is an intelligent and fairly drawn. Indeed, the National AFL has recently voted to judge one of the finest civil service bills ever to be passed into law.

Besides its usual position, the State Civil Service Bill would open the doors of all State government departments to collective bargaining. The employees would, in effect, have the right to organize and prove themselves qualified for the job. Further, it would give long-time employees of the State department full support in the civil service examinations.

The union movement cannot compromise on this question. It must be fought out to the bitter end. The right of organized labor to get fair treatment and consideration when its employees are hired or transferred.
