Upon the Route
With the Milkman

By Mike Lazio

We were interested to hear you all were getting along so well with your milkman. We are keeping our present dealer as the prices are very good.

I am sure George Morey is getting along fine in St. Louis. I heard he was one of the first to get his milkman in all his localities. He has been receiving milk for a very long time.

I am not sure how many of the milkmen are still working, but I am sure there are a few that are.

Rubes Home has bought another milk cart and is busy bringing in a lot of new customers.

Keyney at the Grenier Land Co. has told me he is quite busy and is getting a lot of new business.

544 Wins Short
One vs. Wheeling

Last night’s game at the Garden Club Court was a close one, with the score ending at 24-20 in favor of the Wheeling team. The game was a hard-fought contest, with both teams playing their best. The Wheeling team was led by John Smith, who scored 10 points, while the Garden Club’s Brian Jones scored 12 points.

The next game is scheduled for this Saturday night at the same court. We hope to see you there!"
The Fink Suit

Today marks three weeks since the Minnesota Supreme Court heard arguments by both sides in the case, fought by the attorney for the five finks to quash the writ of certiorari which held them in contempt of court. Judge Hoed's order to surrender all records of Local 544 to the finks' agents. Although we can only speculate on what is going on within the Supreme Court, it appears likely that there is a division for and against granting the fink's motion, with a third of judges perhaps not yet decided, and that no decision will be handed down until after the election on November 8.

As we say, this is pure speculation, but what is not speculation at all is our conviction that if no decision is handed down until after November 8, the way in which the elections go will have some bearing on that decision. As the United States Supreme Court bench Holcomb has repeatedly reminded his associates, judges do not live in a vacuum nor are they kept aloof from the political concerns of the country. They are clearly and unapologetically, even the courts can hear.

Every worker, every member of the labor movement, every voter, every farmer, has the plain and elementary duty to secure the election of Governor Nutter.

For a Referendum on War

"As citizens demand our constitutional rights to vote in a referendum on the war they are demanding the right to discuss the war and to decide for themselves whether the American people are going to wage the war.

This is a most solemn duty, and we will not vote unless we have good reason for our lack of faith. The administration of justice is the right of the people, and we shall resist any effort to deny them this right. This is the only way we can decide for ourselves what the American people are thinking.

In the eyes of the world, the United States is the only country that is fighting the war, and the American people are perfecting the war. The people of the world are looking to the United States to lead them to victory.

If we desire to lead the world to victory, we must have confidence in the American people. We must be willing to give them the right to decide for themselves what the American people are thinking.

We urge the people of the United States to vote in a referendum on the war and to vote for peace.
